Gertrude Coglan.

Gertrude Coglan.

What is promised to be one of the most attractive offerings of the present theatrical season is the announcement of the forthcoming appearance at the Academy on Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee, of the favorite and heaultful young emotional actress, Miss Gertrude Coghlan.

Jrrespective of her vehicle, Miss Coghlan's art is so universally conceded to be a high form of stage genius that the mere announcement of her engagement is always sufficient of itself to crowd our theatre. When to this certainty the further magnet, "The Sword of Justice," the great emotional play, written by her father, the late Charles Coghlan, is added, it is a reasonable assumption that seats for Miss Coghlan's coming performance will be at a premium. The drama will be elaborately mounted with beautiful new scenery and appropriate stage investiture.

Wills a Virginian.

Nat M. Wills, who will be seen here Monday night, is a young Virginian, whose boyhood and college days were passed in the old F. F. V. State and whose love for his native heath is so strong that he has bought himself a charming residence in Fredericksburg. "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home" will be the attraction at the Academy Tuesday, Wednesday and Wednesday matinee. November 10th and 11th. There a distinctly military atmosphere per-meating the entire opera. With the finale first act, comes the "Suwanee Six of the principals sing it

Mother-in-Law.

The audience at the Bijou Theatre last night showed an increase over the previous nights, the lower floor being better filled than at any other time. Several new people have been put on since the company came here, and they are fitting in splendidly. There will be a matine to-day, with the usual night performance.

The Night Before Christmas.

The Night Before Christmas," to be presented at the Bijou Theatre next week seems to appeal to the clientelle of the popular priced houses. The question of law involved, while somewhat improbable, has been pronounced perfectly legal by expert authority.

BOY SHOT TO DEATH.

Lad With Broken Arm in Hands of Faith Curists.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BLUEFIELD, W. VA., Nov. 4.—A mys terious shooting occurred here last night, in which a twelve-year-old colored boy, Robert Watson, was instantly killed. The shot was fired by a negro man, Edward Watkins. The boy was in a bed room watkins. The boy was in a bed room in the lodging house of Lee Goodwine and the shot was fired through a window. It took effect in the forehead and spattered his brains out.

The murderer made his escape. No reason can be assigned for the killing. Several days ago the little son of James H. Pearson had the misfortune to broak his arm. Mr. Pearson being a "Holiness" disciple, and not believing in the efficacy of the physicians' art, straightway summoned some of his friends and together they engaged in prayer for the little fellow's recovery. Some of those assembed lost faith and dispatched a messenger for a doctor. The doctor responded but he was not allowed to set the broken bone. Friends of Mr. Pearson now assert that the little boy is recovering and that the has never suffered from the fracture, sleeping as soundly the night after the accident as before. There are a number of rumors current to the effect that the little one is being allowed to want for the attention of a physician, and that something should be done by the authorities. of a physician, and that something should be done by the authorities.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The Richmond local Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet in the lecture room of Grace Church tonight at $1.5. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and then will be addresses by Dr. John Moncure and Mr. J. C. Astredo, of San Francisco. The delegate to the Denver convention will also make his report.

Repeat the Recital.

Mr. Leo Wheat will repeat his plano recital of last week at Manly B. Ramos' next Friday afternoon, November 6th, at 4:30, with an entire change of programme. As Mr. Wheat expects to leave the city soon, those who love good music would do well to attend his ferewell concert.

Naval War Records.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—In his annual report to the Secretary of the Navy, Charles W. Stuart, superintendent of library and naval war records, recommends when Consress shall decide to increase the number of volumes issued, that sets be supplied for the Confederate officers and Union volunteer officers. In the new volumes, he says, operations of the Confederate navy are completely presented for the first time in history.
