THE REVISION WORK BEGUN

Considerable Progress Was Made by the Senate at Yesterday's Session.

ONE DOG FOR EACH FAMILY

Mr. Gravely Seeks to Amend the Law to That Effect—Senate Quorum Hard to Get.

Both Senate and House yesterday got to work on the consideration of bills embraced in the supplementary report of the Joint Committee on Revision. The failure of the two bodies to agree on any joint resolution was each to proceed as pleased, the Senate with a Steering Committee and the House without one.

In the House of Delegates, Mr. Henry E. Lee, of Nottoway, was seated as member from the district of Amelia and Nottoway for the unexpired term of Congressman Southall, on recommendation of the committee.

Senate of Virginia.

The Senate convened at 11 A. M. yesterday, pursuant to the resolution of Mr. Anderson, adopted Thursday, but the body was unable to accomplish anything owing to the failure of a quorum to appear.

After Dr. Cecil had offered prayer and the reading of the Journal dispensed with as usual, Mr. Ople offered the report of the Committee for Court of Justice, the printed volume embracing 104 Senate bills reported from the Revision Committee, and again reported by the Committee for Courts.

The chair was vacated for an hour, owing to the failure of a quorum, and the fact that the printed calendars had not reached the body. Mr. Ople who made the motion to vacate the chair, explained that there was apparently some misunderstanding as to the hour of meeting.

Thereupon Mr. Braxdale, of Halifax, delivered a bit of a lecture and served notice that unless a quorum was present on any day hereafter he would demand a call of the Senate and enforce their attendance.

When the chair was resumed at noon, Mr. Mann, of Nottoway, offered this resolution relating to procedure, and it was adopted without dissent:

Resolved, That the following procedure on the passage of the bills reported by the Committee on Revision be adopted: 1. When such a bill is reached on the calendar, it shall be read in full, and the constitutional reading will be made; but when the bill comes up on its second reading, it shall be read at length, second by section, for the purpose of amendment.

2. Such recommendations will be made from time to time in response to debate, calling or pending questions, and other procedure as may be required. 3. The first bills to be considered and acted on are Senate bills 393 to 404, inclusive.

The Senate thereupon took up and read the first bill reported from the committee for Courts, Senate bill relating to reappointment of representation, as amended. An amendment was offered by Mr. Anderson and further action went over until to-day.

The next bill, one relating to the franchise and designed to carry out the provisions of the new suffrage clause of the constitution, was read for amendment and sent to its second reading.

Altogether eleven bills covering eighty-eight printed pages were read and advanced toward passage.

At 12:30 o'clock, after a very dull session, the Senate adjourned until 11 A. M. to-day.

The House.

The House was called to order at 11 o'clock by Speaker Ryan, and prayer was offered by Rev. William Meade Clark, of the Episcopal Church. The following bills were offered: To permit the netting and trapping of partridges in Henry county.

By same: To amend the dog law so as to exempt from taxation one dog for each householder or head of family.

By Mr. Weaver: To repeal a law relating to the shipment of quail killed in the counties of Carroll, Grayson and Giles.

By Mr. Stearnes: To provide that all party primary elections be held under the general election law.

By Mr. Woodard: A resolution from the Board of Trade of Norfolk praying that protection be afforded the fish industry of Virginia.

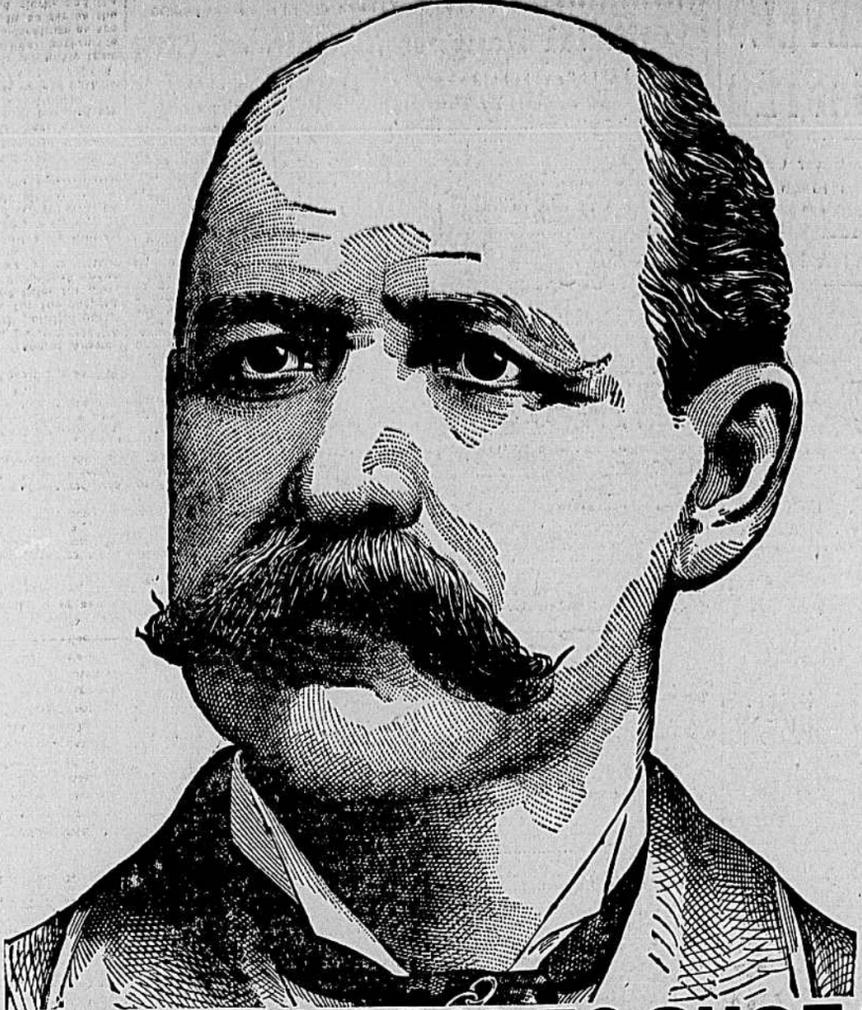

A large number of bills were reported from the Committee on Roads, Courts of Justice and General Laws, among the accompanying were unanimously adopted, and Mr. Lee was sworn in as a member of the House, amid great applause.

Constitutional amendments were reported and a number of bills reported from the Revision Committee were ordered engrossed, Mr. Boas, of the committee, explaining the changes in the present law.

Bills Passed.

It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of producing scrofula, completely cures catarrh and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can get off taking the medicine in the present extensively published record of the radical and permanent cures. TO ALTER THE SYSTEM

Mr. Stearnes Offers a Bill Changing the Primary Method Now in Vogue.

WILL ALSO LEGALIZE IT Follows State Primary Plan and Applies Present Election Laws to Nominations Made.

The apparent dissatisfaction with the viva voce system of voting in primaries in Virginia is likely to receive attention from the Legislature through a measure offered by Hon. L. P. Stearnes, of Newport News, in the House on yesterday.

The bill of Mr. Stearnes, which was referred to the Privileges and Elections Committee, provides for legalizing primaries held for all officers named in the State Democratic Committee's plan, and further that in such primaries the present election laws shall govern. This means that the voting shall be by secret ballot, rather than under the viva voce system.

The bill follows the State primary plan, and leaves it optional with local committees as to whether local officers shall be nominated by primary or in convention.

Mr. Stearnes said he had offered the bill in good faith, and that he would simply let it stand on its merits, without making any fight for it.

The bill will likely cause something of a fight in the committee, and efforts will be made to amend it in many particulars.

THE BILL IN FULL. The full text of the measure is as follows: Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That all party primaries held or conducted by any political party in the State of Virginia, for the purpose of nominating party candidates for election, shall be held and conducted under the general election laws of the State governing general elections.

The said party Executive Committee having shall appoint discreet men as judges and clerks for said election, so as to represent all the said party candidates as far as possible.

AS TO WITNESSES. In canvassing the ballots each candidate shall be allowed to have a representative present, as is now provided for political parties in general elections.

When political parties do not wish to have primaries, but prefer to hold conventions or mass-meetings to nominate their candidates, the same laws shall govern the said conventions or mass-meetings as are applicable to primaries, in so far as the appointing of judges and clerks and the canvassing of the ballots is concerned, and in no case shall any one vote except legal registered voters, who are entitled to vote in the following regular election.

ST. LOUIS BUILDINGS. Virginia People Have Subscribed $7,500 So Far.

The general subscription for the erection of the Virginia building at St. Louis is going on encouragingly, and as the time for beginning upon it approaches more and more of the people are subscribing, there being now about $7,500 pledged.

Superintendent George E. Murrell, who was in St. Louis recently, reports that the State buildings are going up rapidly, thirty-five of them being under way or about to begin. Wisconsin, the last to begin, was up and under roof in twelve days from the time the foundation was laid.

Tennessee, like Virginia, has to rely upon private subscriptions from its citizens, and they are taking a great deal of interest in it. At a meeting of the Commercial Club in Jackson, Tenn., the other day, after addresses by Major E. B. Stahman, president of the State Association, and Hon. B. A. Enloe, secretary, the business men guaranteed $1,000 for the fund, and said they would make it $2,500 rather than have no building.

Memphis has signified her willingness to contribute liberally, and now has thirty committees at work soliciting subscriptions.

WANTS TO SUCCEED MAJOR GEORGE M. HELMS

The Board of Directors of the State penitentiary will some time prior to January 1st elect a successor to the present superintendent of that institution, Major George M. Helms, of Franklin, and there are a number of applicants for the place.

Major Helms is a candidate for re-election, and the other aspirants are Messrs. S. M. Bolling, of Bedford; B. J. Wyser, of Russell; B. W. Lynn, of Loudoun, and S. M. Newhouse, of Culpeper.

The new term is for four years, and all the aspirants are well known. Dr. Charles V. Carrington, the surgeon to the institution, is understood to have no opposition.

Both Accused Acquitted.

Honolulu County Court, Judge Wickham presiding, disposed of two cases yesterday, acquitting both prisoners.

George Patterson was charged with grand larceny. The jury was out but a few minutes and brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Lynn Newmann, a white boy, accused of breaking into a dwelling at Fair Oaks, and stealing $2, was also promptly acquitted.

Is Getting Better.

Assistant Clerk of the House Thomas J. Biggar yesterday received a letter from Capt. A. O. Sullivan, who is ill at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, in which he stated that he was improving and hoped to be at his post as door-keeper of the House in a short while.

JUSTICE JOHN GOES TO NEW YORK

Wants to See His Doctor—Nothing Serious—Police Court.

'Squire Grave appeared once more upon the scene in the Police Court yesterday in the absence of Justice John, who took a flying trip to the metropolis to see his old friend, the doctor.

The two boys, Nobby Stratton and Harry Penny, charged with assaulting and robbing H. A. Bushnell of $1, were each placed under security for six months. Mack Douglas was given sixty days for taking a coat belonging to J. W. Thompson.

There was a line of drunks and the usual small disorders, each one of which was attended to in the right way. The civil docket was a long one, but it was in the afternoon before the 'Squire had a chance to go out and breathe some pure ozone.

SAM HALL GOES.

Not a Single Report of Robbery Received by the Police. Captain Tomlinson escorted 'Samuel of Posen,' otherwise known as Sam Hall, the veteran pickpocket, to the depot, and told him to go hence yesterday.

Samuel had been arrested by Captain Tomlinson the morning the circus got to town, and he was detained in jail until it went away.

This good work on the part of the Captain in all probability saved many watches and pocketbooks to their lawful owners, as not one theft was reported.

S. A. L. Stock Higher.

The sudden rise in Seaboard stock yesterday was the feature of chief interest in the local market. The Seaboard securities opened strong and soon went up two or three dollars a share. No specific reason is assigned by representatives of the system here, but it is learned from New York that reports are being circu-
