

PROMINENT LAWYER WAS FOUND DEAD

Danville Community Shocked at Sudden Death of Landon Carter Berkeley—Funeral Here.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, VA., March 28.—Mr. Landon Carter Berkeley, senior member of the law firm of Berkeley and Harrison, was found dead by his wife when she went to his room early this morning.

Mr. Berkeley was comparatively well and on the street yesterday, although it is believed that he had been ill for some time. The body was still warm when discovered, although life was extinct. Death was due to heart failure.

Mr. Berkeley was born in Westmoreland county fifty-five years ago. His parents were the late Landon Carter Berkeley and Sarah Ann Campbell. He married Miss Annie Post Harrison in 1850, who was a daughter of Captain John P. Harrison, of Henrico county. He is survived by his wife and four children. Mr. Berkeley was recognized as one of the ablest lawyers practicing at the Danville bar, and was universally popular. The news of his sudden death has cast a gloom over the entire community. Mr. Berkeley was a lineal descendant of Governor Berkeley, of Virginia, who was famous in the old colonial days.

His eldest son Harry Berkeley, a promising young law student at the University of Virginia, and his daughter, Miss Annie C. Berkeley, who is visiting at Belle Meade have been notified. His other two children are quite small. The funeral will be held in Richmond to-morrow afternoon after the arrival of the afternoon train on the Southern.

Mr. James B. Harrison, the law partner of Mr. Berkeley, was in Richmond, in the midst of an argument in a case before the Supreme Court when a Times-Dispatch representative gave him the first intimation he had received of his partner's sudden death.

Mr. Harrison was greatly agitated, almost stunned when he announced to the court that he had just received the news. He submitted his case without further argument. In a few moments he received telegrams confirming the startling news, and at once prepared to hurry to Danville. Mr. Harrison left on the 12:30 train, expecting to return here to-day with the remains.

OBITUARY. Mrs. George Bargamin. The death of Mrs. George Bargamin, which occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, severed another link connecting the present with the past. Mrs. Bargamin was born in the city of Danville, Va., on August 15, 1820. She was the daughter of William Byrd Page and granddaughter of Colonel William Byrd, of historic fame. Mrs. Bargamin was married to George Bargamin, who died in 1859, and who is well remembered by the older citizens as the senior member of the old firm of G. and A. Bargamin and prior to his death a most prominent factor in local politics. At one time he held more important positions on Council committees than any other man has ever held. Mrs. Bargamin connected herself with the Second Baptist Church when it was in its infancy, and for more than half a century was a prominent figure in church work—and at the time of her death was the oldest member of that church. Five years ago she met with an accident that resulted in rendering her a helpless invalid, and during the entire period she bore her suffering with a Christian spirit and sublime patience rarely witnessed. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides a large circle of friends and family, three daughters, Miss Virginia Bargamin, Mrs. Henry C. Jones and Mrs. Aretha B. Biglow; a grandson, Byrd Page Dunnivant, and granddaughters, Jessie H., Mira P. and Katie B. Jones.

Her funeral will take place from the Second Baptist Church on Wednesday at 3:30 P. M. The pall-bearers will be: Honorary—Dr. William H. Scott, Dr. J. G. Trevillian, Allen M. Lyon and W. H. Freeman. Active—Theodore Elysson, Charles M. Branch, Oscar H. Berry, William J. Whitehurst, Charles E. Potts, Rolf E. Glover, William P. Knowles and John P. Tanner.

Philip Gibson. The death of Mr. Philip Gibson, one of the oldest and best known residents of Richmond, occurred Sunday at his home, No. 16 North Laurel Street. He had recently returned from Florida, where for several years past he had been spending his winters. Mr. Gibson was a native of King and Queen county, where he was born November 8, 1830. Until 1865, when he came to Richmond, Mr. Gibson was a resident of Tidewater Virginia. During the war he served as a private in the cavalry. He was captured at Yellow Tavern and was for a long time held as a prisoner of war. After the war he engaged in the mercantile and lumber business, and met with much success. He represented King and Queen county in the Legislature for two terms, in the years 1874-'8, and enjoyed the distinction of being the first Democratic representative from that county after the reconstruction days. He wielded considerable influence in the Legislature. Mr. Gibson leaves a widow, who was Miss Neale, of King William county. By a former marriage he had a daughter of rare grace and culture, who was the wife of George T. Hunley, of Matthews county. She died several years ago, leaving an only daughter, Miss Mary G. Hunley, now a student of the Woman's College.

The funeral will take place this morning at 11 o'clock from the home, No. 16 North Laurel Street. The interment will be made in Hollywood.

THE CITY'S CREDIT IS HIGHLY PRAISED

New York Firm Gives Richmond Good Name in Offering Her Bonds. Messrs. E. D. Shepard & Co., the New York brokers who purchased recently the entire issue of $500,000 of Richmond city thirty-four year bonds, have issued a circular placing these bonds on the market, in which they sound the praises of Richmond's credit in a most complimentary manner.

After reproducing the official financial statement of the city, and adding at the bottom in bold letters "No floating debt," the following statement of the city property is made: "The city owns its water-works, gas plant, City Hall, almshouse, market houses, school buildings, engine houses, parks, sewer system, etc. A conservative estimate of values would amount to $5,000,000."

The firm purchased the bonds at 102 1/2 interest, and is offering them at 110, in amounts of $100 and upwards. In another part of the circular the following appears: "The city of Richmond has never defaulted. Its bonds are of the same class as the bonds of Baltimore and Philadelphia."

The following official financial statement of the city is given: Assessed valuation for taxation, real estate, 44,560,516; personal, 37,063,707. Bonded debt, January 31, 1904, 7,280,647.60. Leaving net debt, January 31, 1904, 288,461.23 $33,246,216.37

KESWICK HUNT. Fine Sport and Famous Horsesmen in the Field.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) KESWICK, VA., March 28.—The meet of the drag hounds at "Castalia" gate on Saturday, March 26, brought out a field of sixteen happy hunters, which anticipated their followers and boistered before the appointed time, thereby throwing the dogs into the "first hair." Before getting through these, however, were glad to have reserved their luck on "Dovey" and "Wild" for the second course, which was a long and hard one, ending at the almshouse.

The only account was a backward somewhat to Mr. Leon Freeman, of New York, who in daring attempt to secure a precipice on Checkers roll over several times with the horse, but both escaped without harm. Mr. H. on Grant; Charles Middleton, first whip on Brandon; Ned Iselin, of New York, on "Dovey" and "Wild"; Mr. Woodward, of New York, on "Huntsman"; Alton Potts, on "Winston"; Mrs. Potts, on "Huntsman"; Dr. Thurman, on "Charles"; Mr. Samuel Freeman, of New York, on "Sam"; Leon Freeman, of New York, on "Jack"; Miss Maudie, on "Tony"; Frank Randolph, on "Hugh." Spectators in traps were: Mr. and Mrs. Boone, of Leesville; Mrs. Julian Morris, Mrs. Satterfield, Mrs. Allen Potts was the recipient of elegant bouquets and spectators in her performance over the "timbers" on "Enochler," Mr. Woodward, of New York, the one time owner of the famous "Dovey" and "Wild" in some good work on Morris Iselin's "Huntsman." Mr. Woodward, who is stopping at Clover Field, says the Keswick course country is good enough for him.

Mr. Allen Potts was well up to Winston's mark, but he was not in some New York, evinced his skill on Arvona. Dick Donnelly has just paid a flying visit to Keswick, bringing "Dovey" and "Wild" with him. This firm has lately purchased from Mr. Howard Bull both "Dovey" and "Wild." A special drag-hunt will be given on Tuesday to the visitors.
