

Social and Personal

According to man: Men marry by accident; women by design. Matrimony is a stratagem of the almighty inclined. The world is divided into two great classes; the women who love him and the woman he loves.

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Elliot Norton.

HONEST POVERTY.

BY BURNS.

The composition of Robert Burns, the farmer-poet, sometimes bears the title, "For a' That, and a' That." It was written in 1793, and voiced Burns' sympathy with the French revolution, as well as his desire to see his former friends, that ostracized all who deplored the crushing of the French republic by force of British arms.

S'THERE for honest poverty Who hangs his head and a' that? The coward-slave, we pass him by— We dare be poor for a' that! For a' that, and a' that; Our toils obscure, and a' that; The rank is but the guinea's stamp— The man's the gowd for a' that.

Ye see your birkie, ca'd a lord, Wha struts, and stares, and a' that; Though hundreds worship at his word, He's but a coof for a' that; For a' that, and a' that, His riband star, and a' that; The man of independent mind, He looks and laughs at a' that.

A prince can mak' a belted knight, A marquis, duke, and a' that; But an honest man's aboon his might, Guid faith, he mauna fa' that! For a' that, and a' that, Their dignities, and a' that, The pith o' sense, and pride o' worth, Are higher ranks than a' that.

Then let us pray that come it may— As come it will for a' that— That sense and worth, o'er a' the earth, May bear the gree and a' that; For a' that, and a' that, It's comin' yet for a' that, That man to man, the world o'er, Shall brothers be for a' that!

STRANDED DRAMATISTS

Left High and Dry in Petersburg Without Expected Salaries. The Ellerslie Farm Not Sold, as Reported—The United States Recruiting Office Closes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, Va., July 1.—John Fay Palmer, of Pomperly farm, left a good natured company in Petersburg when he left this city Wednesday and left personal debts and company debts to shift for themselves. Palmer is quietly resting in New York city, while the members of his company are doing the best they can to meet obligations, money for their services being wanting.

The Ellerslie Farm Not Sold, as Reported—The United States Recruiting Office Closes. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, Va., July 1.—The Council this afternoon received the petition of the newly elected members, protesting against the election by the old Council of city officers for the full term. The advice of the city attorney being that the officers of the Council could not be elected on the table and proceeded to elect the officers nominated at the recent caucus. The protesting councilmen were represented by Mr. George S. Bernard.

CORNER-STONE LAID. Interesting Exercises in Connection With New Baptist Church. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 1.—The corner-stone of the new house of worship for the congregation of the First Baptist Church of this city was laid this afternoon at 6 o'clock by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Virginia.

THE COMPANY. John Fay Palmer's company, consisting of nine members, opened an engagement at the Casino in this city, Monday night, the company being made up of some of it coming to the theatre after the players were ready to go on, and with this and other embarrassments, the company played under disadvantages, but succeeded in making a fairly good impression. The company consisted of Mr. J. B. Watson, of Atlanta, Ga.; A. F. Fory, John Paul Jones, Charles Powell, Miss Jessie E. Rogers, Miss Lois Cole, Miss Grace Lewis and Miss Amy Abbott. All of them with the exception of Mr. Watson, had contracted with Palmer for forty weeks of service, and were engaged for one week, and his wife and child came to Petersburg Monday night to see him on the first night. They decided to stay through the week, and are now with Mr. Watson at the Prospect Hotel.

FERRYMEN TRY TO STOP BRIDGE BUILDING. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINCHESTER, Va., July 1.—Judge J. W. Harrison, of the Circuit Court, today refused an injunction to restrain the Clarke county authorities from erecting steel bridges across the Shenandoah River at Castleman's and Berry's Ferry. Application for an injunction was made by attorneys and the work for Decatur, Orange and Deamont and Lindsay, owners of the ferry franchise at those points. An appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court.

A Nervy Boy Killed. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 1.—Floyd Stafford, a white boy, about fifteen years of age, from Reems Creek, N. C., was thrown beneath the wheels of a freight train, and crushed while trying to board a freight train. The boy was alive when picked up and showed a wonderful amount of nerve, but his limbs were mangled and he showed considerable interest in the nature of his injuries. His right leg was crushed and he was taken to the hospital, where he died an hour later.

Railroad Wins Suit. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHATHAM, Va., July 1.—The case of Martha N. Saunders against Southern Railway Company, involving the death of her husband, which she was awarded five thousand dollars by a jury Wednesday and demurred to by the defendants, was decided by Judge Saunders on today, sustaining the demurrer.

Cracked Depot Safe. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) SURRY, Va., July 1.—The depot at this place was opened and the safe blown open. About $100 was taken out; also the safe was damaged. The safe was blown open by a dynamite explosion. Postmaster Sheburne took out all the money at night before, very little damage was done before they were detected by a man from Mr. J. H. Seaward, and they ran off, leaving all their tools at or about the postoffice.

Broaddus—Wright. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., July 1.—Mr. Erasmus Broaddus and Miss Jennie Wright, daughter of Mr. Robert Wright, of Caroline county, were married last week at the home of the bride, in that county. Rev. Andrew Broaddus officiated. The bride is the daughter of Nellie Wright, Lizzie Broaddus, Nellie Gatewood, Blanche Smoot, of Washington, and the groom is the son of Mr. Broaddus, Homer Gatewood and Linwood Boulevard. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

A FEATHER BED WITH CHARMED LIFE. Goes Through Four Fires and Is Alone All of the Household Effects Saved. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) SUTTON, Va., July 1.—The home of Mr. Paul J. Simmons, near Hubbard, Buckingham county, Va., was destroyed by fire last night about 1 o'clock. Nothing was saved except one feather bed. The house was occupied by Mr. Willie Simmons. The family narrowly escaped, as the house was burning on all sides when they awakened. The origin of the fire is not known. Strange to say, this is the fourth time the house has been burned, and a strange still to relate, this feather bed has been saved from each preceding fire. Mr. Paul Simmons was from home, consequently his horse and clothing he wore is all he has left, while Mr. Willie Simmons and family have nothing, as they only escaped in their night clothes.
