Southern Female College in Petersburg Is Spreading Out.

TO DIVERT THE APPOMATTOX

Engineer Who Has Charge of the Work Arrives—Lightning Burns Buildings.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., July 20.—Mr. Arthur Kyle Davis, president of the Southern Female College, has purchased from Mr. Robert Gilliam the large buildings on Bynamore Street adjacent to the college, and now occupied by Messrs. Robert and C. M. Gilliam. The purchase price is $7,000, and a considerable sum will be spent upon the improvement and adaptation to its future use of the additional property.

The rapid growth of the Southern Female College necessitates an early enlargement of its grounds and buildings, and Mr. Davis has already placed his contracts for work on the newly acquired property, possession of which will be given early in August.

It is an interesting fact that these buildings were originally the home of the former Petersburg Female College, of which Mr. W. T. Davis, founder of the Southern Female College, and father of its present president, was president.

AT APPOMATTOX DIVERSION.
Mr. E. Warren Ritchie, the engineer who will conduct the work of the diversion of the Appomattox River, has arrived, and has an office in the custom house. Mr. Ritchie is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and an engineer of distinction. He has been here several times before, engaged in making a survey of the river and route of the new channel.

Mr. Ritchie has recently been employed in work for the Jamestown Exposition Company. The Appomattox River is included in the district under Captain E. E. Winslow, United States engineer, stationed at Norfolk, to whom Mr. Ritchie makes his reports on the present work, which will begin very shortly, as everything is now in readiness. The contract specifies that work shall begin within sixty days from the date of official notification to the Atlantic Dredging Company, of Philadelphia, to whom it was awarded.

It is said that the company is building a dredge specially adapted to this purpose. The new channel will be twelve thousand feet in length, about two and a half miles long. Dredging will begin at the lower end, below Old Town Creek, and the last part of the work will be the creation of the dam at the present traffic bridge between the city and Pocahontas.

LIGHTNING BURNS HOUSES.
Two small buildings of the Bonham Electric Manufacturing Company, in Blanford, were struck by lightning during a severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon. The houses caught fire and were destroyed, but entailed a loss of only $150 or $200. As the plant is never in operation during the hot months, there was only a watchman on duty, and he was not injured.

The office of city engineer, made vacant by the death of Captain T. R. Dunn, will be filled by the Common Council at its regular meeting on August 1st. No formal applications have yet been made, but it is understood that there are several candidates. The salary is $1,200 a year.

Messrs. Lane Brothers, of Scottsville, Va., have stopped work on the Upper Appomattox Canal, for which they are contractors, to await developments in the present condition of affairs of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company. The plan proposed is the building of a great dam across the Appomattox River, about two miles above Fendale Park, the enlargement of the old canal to a capacity sufficient to convey a body of water forty feet wide and eight feet deep from the dam to a point about four miles down the river, where natural conditions provide a fall of five feet, thus affording abundant power. The greater part of this work has been completed, as the powerhouse on the banks of the river is ready for work, the twelve foot flume from the canal finished, and the canal itself nearly completed.

NEW NATIONAL BANK.
Bids for the building of the new national bank were today opened by the bank committee in charge, but no announcement of award has yet been made.

Work on the four new buildings of the Central State Hospital, for which contracts have been awarded, will soon begin, and it is understood that the buildings will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

Hon. Charles T. Bland, of Portsmouth, Va., has sent a number of letters to Petersburg, soliciting support for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor of the State.

Rev. J. S. Foster, of Tabb Street Presbyterian Church, will leave during this week to spend his vacation in the North. During his absence the interior of the church will be handsomely renovated, the exterior having been already repainted and improved.

The marriage of Miss Gladys M. Boyette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boyette, to Mr. Louis F. Myer, Jr., of Richmond, took place this afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, on Fifth Street.

Miss Emily W. Danforth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Danforth, was married this morning at 9 o'clock to Mr. Oscar C. Wynn, a well known contractor.

DEEPEN CHANNEL OF RAPPAHANNOCK RIVER
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., July 20.—The $25,000 contract for deepening the channel of the Rappahannock River near this city has been awarded to the John L. Grim Company, of Philadelphia, which is now completing the work under the old contract. The work under the new appropriation will consist in moving 40,000 cubic feet of sand from the channel of the river at this place and 12,000 cubic feet from Spotswood bar, just below the city. The new work will begin soon.

ASHEVILLE PLACE FOR CONFERENCE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 19.—Asheville has been chosen as the place for the great missionary conference to be held by the Methodist Church, South, next May. The gathering will be a notable one, and will be attended by about three thousand delegates from the various conferences.

The decision to hold the meeting in Asheville was reached at a meeting held today by prominent officials of the executive committee of the missionary conference, which took place in Central Church, this city. There were present:

Dr. Seth Ward, of Nashville, assistant secretary of the General Board of Missions; Mr. B. W. Caine, assistant treasurer; Dr. James Atkins, Sunday school editor; Rev. J. W. Perry, of Addington, Va., missionary secretary of Holston Conference; Rev. W. H. Willis, missionary secretary of the Western Carolina Conference; Rev. Dr. Bumpus, of Raleigh, N. C., president of the Board of Missions of the North Carolina Conference.

It was decided that the general meeting be held in this city May 17, 1905. It will last five days and distinguished speakers and divines from all sections of the country will participate.

The members of the missionary committee were met at the station on their arrival by a committee from the Board of Trade and driven up to town in a large trolley. After the committee meeting the members of the Board of Trade tendered the visitors a drive through the city and surrounding country.

To-night at Central Church there was a largely attended missionary mass meeting, which was addressed by Dr. Seth Ward.

The Rev. Dr. Rosebro, president of the Fredericksburg, Va. College, who has for many years pastored of the Tabb Street Presbyterian Church at Petersburg, Va., is filling the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church during the vacation of the Rev. Dr. Campbell.

Mr. Lafayette Robinson, formerly of Petersburg, Va., but now superintendent of the Cannon Cotton Mills at Concord, N. C.; Mrs. Robinson and Miss Ellie Robinson, are in this city on a short visit.

Mr. Francis A. Gudger, of Asheville, has received a cablegram asking him to proceed to Panama as soon as possible to enter upon the duties of clerk to his father, United States Consul-General Gudger. He will leave in two weeks for his post of duty.

Herman Gudger has received his commission as deputy collector of customs and United States shipping commissioner at Ancon, in the canal zone.

MYSTERIOUS SUBMARINES

Newport News Shipyard Gets Orders to Rush the Work on Them.

ARE THEY FOR JAPANESE

The Keenest Interest Felt in the Little Fighters—The West Virginia.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 20.—The shipyard here has received orders from the Lake Company, of Bridgeport, Conn., to rush the work on the five submarine torpedo boats under construction at the plant. The force of men employed on the boats has been doubled, and night and day work is in progress.

The report that the little fighters are to be entirely completed and equipped at the local yard, instead of being shipped to some other point to receive their engines, torpedoes, tubes, etc., seems to have been well founded. The engines for the boats have arrived and will be installed immediately. There are ten trim little gasoline engines—two for each of the boats.

NOT NEAR THE WATER.
Those who have been watching the progress on the torpedo boats have been wondering recently what means will be employed to get them away from the yard when they are completed. The vessels are being built under a shed located hundreds of feet from the water, and which cannot be launched in the usual way. It is said that the boats are being constructed in such a way that they can be lifted and shipped in two sections, to be riveted together when they have reached their destination.

The shed is about twenty-five feet from the railroad tracks, and it is supposed that the boats will be placed aboard flat-cars and sent away by rail.

Everything that has been learned concerning these vessels has "leaked out," for all parties concerned have maintained a strict silence on the subject ever since it first became known that the boats were being built here.

THE WEST VIRGINIA.
The report that the boats are to be delivered to the Japanese government will cause their future movements to be watched with interest.

The armored cruiser, West Virginia, which has been on the dry dock for the past two weeks, will be floated out tomorrow, and on Monday her dock trial will begin. While the vessel was in the dry dock the holes for her torpedo tubes were cut and the propeller blades were put on.

The West Virginia is more nearly completed than any vessel of her class under construction, and only the finishing touches will have to be put on before she will go on her builders' trial.

Janitos Janites, the Greek, who was given nine years in the penitentiary yesterday for attempted criminal assault, will accept the sentence instead of carrying the case to the Court of Appeals. The attorneys for the prisoner held a consultation last night and decided that the verdict was satisfactory.

HEBREW ASSOCIATION.
The Hebrews of this city and Hampton have organized a young men's association, to be known as the Russell Young Men's Hebrew Association. The body will erect temporary quarters, and later will erect a brick building, to cost about twelve thousand dollars. Following are the officers of the association: D. Stein, president; L. Kohn, vice-president; S. Mirmalester, secretary; K. Millman, treasurer.

The Virginia State Fire Insurance Agents' Association will convene here tomorrow for its annual convention. The sessions will be held at the Casino Theatre, and the first item on the agenda, tomorrow morning, Friday officers for the year will be elected. The convention will be called to order and presided over by President Charles I. Luneford, of Roanoke.

DR. KENT WILL NOT LEAVE VIRGINIA

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 20.—Dr. Charles W. Kent, of the chair of English literature in the University of Virginia, who, it is understood, was offered the presidency of the University of Tennessee, to succeed Dr. Charles W. Mabey, to-day, wired the Hon. Edward T. Sanford, chairman of the Nominating Committee, that, after mature deliberation, he had decided not to allow his name to be presented to the meeting of the board to-night.

This decision is received here with much satisfaction. Dr. Kent's value to the University of Virginia is acknowledged by everybody who knows anything of the work he has already accomplished there. In the eleven years that he has occupied the chair of English literature he has had twelve hundred students in his classes—between forty and fifty per cent. of the total number of students in the academic department. The men educated under him are scattered throughout the country. Among those holding professorships are Dr. S. E. Bradshaw, of Furman University, S. C.; Dr. Edgar Dawson, of Delaware College; Dr. M. P. Tilley, of Syracuse University, New York; Dr. Robert H. Fife, of Wesleyan University, and Drs. Hudson, Abbot and Newman, of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Dr. Kent's usefulness to educational enterprises in the State, both in his private and public capacity, is rated very high. He is a member of the State Board of Education, to which position he has rendered services to the public school system of great worth.

Dr. Kent is moving out of the pavilion on East Lawn, which he has occupied for some years, and into that in which Professor Francis H. Smith has so long lived. These distinguished professors will occupy the same residence. The building from which Dr. Kent is moving is to be used by President Edwin A. Alderman for administration offices, being much more commodious than the present chairman's office, which is at present used for its present use, and for which it was not planned or intended.

CORN STRIPPED BY HEAVY HAIL-STORM

Great Damage Done by a Down-pour of the Icy Particles.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREEN BAY, Va., July 20.—A most destructive hailstorm visited the vicinity of Cary's Shop yesterday evening, completely destroying Mr. Reese Cary's crop of tobacco and doing a great deal of damage to all of the corn crops, stripping the corn stalks of every particle of husk and rendering the corn almost valueless, as some will have to be cut in the green state. Lightning was very severe at this place, but no damage of any consequence reported here.

Mr. L. D. Jones, chairman of the Leigh District School Board, has posted notices that the school board will meet at Green Bay, Wednesday, July 27th, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of appointing teachers, and locating schools.

Crops of corn and tobacco were never looking better or more promising of a fine yield than there is at present in this section.

There are a large number of farmers engaged in sowing cucumbers at their homes rather than sell their cucumbers to the pickle companies, hoping to realize much better returns for their labors by the former way of handling their crops, as they have been assured that they will have no trouble of making sale of all they can possibly sell. The salting station established at Burkeville has been securing some shipments from this place, and last Thursday over 2,000 bushels had been delivered. The price paid is 50 cents per bushel for all cucumbers up to a certain length, all of over that 25 cents per bushel.

A BRILLIANT MARRIAGE

Union of Hon. James P. Woods and Miss Susie Moon at Chatham.

THE DECORATIONS SUPERB
Attendants Composed of Well Known People—Reception Follows the Event.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHATHAM, Va., July 20.—The marriage of Mr. James Pleasant Woods, of Roanoke, Va., to Susie Katharyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Beckenridge Moon, of Chatham, took place this evening at 9 o'clock in Emmanuel Church, which was decorated in banded palms, cut flowers, ferns and pink shaded caudex; the floor was covered in white linen. Miss Bessie Ludway presided at the organ.

The bride party entered the church to the wedding march of Mendelssohn. The four ushers entered first, they were Colonel Julian S. Carr, of Durham, N. C., with Colonel James M. Neal, of Danville, Va.; Judge John W. Woods, of Roanoke, Va., brother of the groom, with Judge James L. Tredway, of Chatham, Va. They formed a broad aisle, through which passed the attendants; four bridesmaids, Miss Frances Finburn, of Roanoke, with Miss Virginia Greener, of Chillicothe, Va.; Miss Nelia Martin, of Lynchburg, Va., with Miss Almyra Tredway, of Chatham, Va.; two groomsmen, Mr. Andrew Jamison, of Danville, with Mr. John Edward Lanier, of Chatham; four bridesmaids, Miss Belle Stone, of Hurt, with Miss Mary Womack, of Nyle, Va.; Mrs. J. Overton Boatwright, of Danville, with Miss Isabelle Moon, sister of the bride, two waitresses, Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, of Chatham, with Mr. G. Scheum Bowman, of Salem, Va.

MAID OF HONOR.
The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Stone Moon, sister of the bride, came alone. Her gown was pink chiffon, over pink tulle, and carried a large bouquet. The ring-bearer, little Ellie, youngest sister of the bride, wore pink mull, and preceded the bride, who entered on the arm of her father. They were met at the altar by the groom and his man of honor, Mr. Edward W. White, of Roanoke, Va., law partner of the groom, who entered from the chancel door. They were first met by Rev. C. O. Pruden, of Emmanuel Church, pastor of the bride's parents, who performed the betrothal service, then the marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's own pastor, Rev. A. Whittenton, of the M. E. Church, South. The attendants knelt during the prayer.

The bridesmaids all wore white silk mull, with satin girdles, elbow gloves, tulle veils, and carried pink sweet peas. The bride's gown was white Brussels lace over white liberty satin, in train, and the filmy veil was caught with natural orange blossoms. The groomsmen and ushers all wore full dress and white gloves. After the ceremony, they passed out of the church to the strains of Lohengrin's march, were driven to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was tendered the bride party and special friends.

SUPERB DECORATIONS.
The lawn and porches were lighted with numerous Japanese lanterns. In the house the colors were white, blue and pink. The bride's room was decorated with pink, white and blue. The bride's room was decorated with pink, white and blue. The bride's room was decorated with pink, white and blue.

The bride and groom left on the night train for a trip up the Shenandoah and through the lakes. They will be at home to their friends at Hotel Ryauoko after the 10th of August.

THE BRIDE.
The bride is of an old and prominent family. She is a fascinating hostess, a brilliant conversationalist and has that dignity which so bespeaks the birthplace of a daughter of Virginia.

The groom, Hon. James P. Woods, is of an old family, and of a lineage thoroughly identified with the history of the Shenandoah Valley. Mr. Woods enjoys the distinction of having been the youngest man in the city of Roanoke who ever had, and his administration of that office is the pride of a host of cordial friends. Mr. Woods is a leading member of the Roanoke bar, and is well known in the social circles of this city and section.
