DELIGHTFUL CHASE CITY

The Colony at the Hotel Mecklenburg Is Rapidly Growing Larger.

JAPANESE A POPULAR GUEST

Mr. H. Y. Yagi Is Much Liked by All—Millionaire Recovers His Pursue.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHASE CITY, VA., July 23.—As the season advances the Hotel Mecklenburg grows gayer. There are now numerous guests here and many others are booked for the month of August. The splendid water and baths here are worth going many miles to enjoy.

Judge R. B. Peoples, of Jackson, N. C., is a guest of the Mecklenburg, and constantly surrounded by a group of admiring listeners. Judge Peoples was recently brought into much notoriety by his change of contempt against nearly the entire bar of Robeson county, N. C., an act which was happily compromised for all concerned.

One of the most popular guests at the Mecklenburg is Mr. H. Y. Yagi, formerly a student at Trinity College, Durham, and now studying at Harvard. He is the guest of Mr. Augie Duke, son of Mr. B. N. Duke, one of the Durham tobacco millionaires. He is a refined gentleman and has a keen appreciation of the American mode. He holds his own in any conversation and is exceedingly popular with the ladies. Mr. Yagi is charged by his government with investigating cotton spinning in this country, and he is also a commissioner from his city to the St. Louis Exposition.

GREAT EXCITEMENT. The Hotel Mecklenburg was in an uproar the other day when Mr. Washington Duke, the aged millionaire, of Durham, reported at the office desk that his purse had been stolen from his room. As Mr. Duke had his own servant and physician constantly with him the likelihood of such a catastrophe is not noted, but the clerk stood aghast at the loss perhaps of a good bunch of Mr. Duke's vast fortune and the inconvenience it might bring to such a valued guest. He was much relieved when he learned that the purse contained only six dollars. The millionaire declared he did not mind the six dollars, but he thought a great deal of that purse and would give a goodly sum to know where it went.

The next morning bright and early he sent for the clerk to tell him that he had changed his trousers the day before and forgotten it. He put the pair on that morning he had worn the day before and in the pocket was his favorite purse, six dollars and all. The old gentleman desired it known that no reflection rested on the hotel, and a sigh of relief passed along the line from the head clerk to the lowest menial.

DR. MATHEWS ARRIVES. Dr. W. R. Mathews, of Richmond, arrived at the Mecklenburg Saturday to take charge of the sanitarium department of this luxurious place. The hotel will hereafter be open the year round and full attention given to the sanitarium feature. Mrs. Mathews and her three children accompanied the doctor and have taken up their permanent residence here.

Prof. T. J. Stubbs, Sr., of the faculty of William and Mary College, has just completed a round of towns in the south-side of the State in the interest of that institution, and is now visiting his daughter at the Mecklenburg Hotel.

Miss Stubbs holds the position of confidential secretary to the manager, and is a beautiful and accomplished young lady.

SOME OF THE GUESTS. Col. M. L. T. Davis, a large wholesale grocer, of Norfolk, Va., is with his family at the Mecklenburg. Mrs. Jno. B. Pinner, Miss Katherine, and Mrs. Jno. F. Pinner, of Suffolk, Va., are at the Mecklenburg for some time. Mrs. J. S. Wynne and family, of Raleigh, N. C., are at the Mecklenburg for an indefinite stay. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jennings, of Lynchburg, Va., are here for the summer. Mr. Jennings is president of the Barker-Jennings Hardware Co., of Lynchburg.

Mrs. J. P. Arrington, and her charming daughter, Miss Maude, of Raleigh, N. C., are here for some time. Mrs. Cross is one of the most popular ladies at the hotel. Others at this popular resort are these: N. D. Edmundson, of Carboro, N. C.; Mrs. L. G. Blackwell and maid, Washington, N. C.; M. L. T. Davis, Norfolk, Va.; Miss Alice Davis, Norfolk, Va.; Wm. H. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) JEFFERSON PARK HOTEL, VA., July 23.—As the season advances, dog days draw near, and the tide of pleasure seekers turn their faces from the seashore towards the mountains, this hotel fills up rapidly with those seeking a cool, delightful, picturesque spot in which the older members can find home comforts so dear to their hearts, and the young folks find the gayety so dear to theirs. Jefferson Park, in the midst of which the hotel stands, is a great resort for the Charlottesville and Albemarle people, and while the hotel itself is undisturbed by excursionists, there is always something going on. One of the most popular features this year is the box ball alley. So popular is it that it is difficult to get up a game unless the manager is notified ahead. It is quite the thing to entertain at box ball parties. Some of those who have entertained the past week are H. C. Krebs, of New Jersey; W. H. Conaway, of Fairmont, W. Va., and E. C. Glass, of Lynchburg; Mrs. J. G. Thomas is the champion lady player here.

CONTEST AT CHECKERS. A contest for championship at checkers is going on between Professor E. R. Rogers, J. P. Thomas, T. C. Krebs and Dr. James Dinwiddie. All these gentlemen are fine players, and it yet remains a question who will come out ahead. At almost any hour three or four persons may be found around one table, each trying his luck at the checkers table. The new tennis court just completed on the lawn in front of the hotel presents a very picturesque appearance with its immaculately attired contestants, gracefully hitting the ball back and forth.

At the german on Monday evening some of the most popular young ladies were Misses Alice Yancey, Ella Wingfield, Lettie Woodward and Ann Royal, of Richmond; Misses Jessie Taylor and Helen Kenne of Washington, D. C., and Ella Wheeler, of Mobile, Ala.; Mrs. Walter Allen, of Shreveport, La., made the highest score at a game of seven hand euchre played on Wednesday evening.

No one has contributed more to the pleasure of all present than Miss Jessica Taylor, of Washington, D. C., who, with her magnificent contralto voice, so full of feeling and showing such splendid culture, has time and again delighted the crowd with choice vocal selections. The concert that Miss Taylor gave at Jefferson Park was such a success that she was asked to repeat it. This she did on Tuesday evening at the University Auditorium, assisted by Misses Elsie Boykin, Liddle Bibb and Nellie Irvine. W. H. Benham, a distinguished young lawyer, of Guthrie, Oklahoma, has been a guest at the hotel for two weeks.

W. W. Payne, of Alexandria, is a favorite here. This season he has with him his sister, Miss Mary Payne, who is a refined, sweet, attractive young lady. One of the most distinguished guests this week is Dr. James Dinwiddie, president of Peace Institute, Raleigh, N. C. Dr. Dinwiddie is a most entertaining talker, and many are the interesting stories he tells of his stay in Richmond during the Civil War. The weekly progressive euchre was played on Friday evening. There are some fine euchre players here and they put up a close game.

A PIGEON SHOOT. A pigeon shoot is being held by the gun club of this vicinity. This is an annual event and several of those in attendance from a distance are W. R. Winfree, P. B. Winfree, H. L. Winfree, W. J. Dennis, all from Virginia, and James J. Miller, from Waynesboro. J. B. Miller, the Richmond favorite, who always draws a crowd, gave one of his inimitable entertainments at the auditorium on Thursday evening. Quite a large crowd from the hotel went over and enjoyed it immensely. Some of those who will remain all summer are Mrs. W. Woodward and daughter, of Richmond; Mrs. G. F. Wheeler, of Mobile, Ala.; Mrs. Walter Allen, of Shreveport, La.; Mrs. J. M. Dashiell, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Kiddy M. Hite, Richmond; Mrs. M. E. Pletcher, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conway, and son, Fairmont, W. Va.; Mr. R. H. Normant and daughter, New Orleans; Mrs. C. S. Wooding, Connecticut; Mrs. Cary Nelson, Richmond; Dr. Guthrie and family, N. Y.; Mrs. Mary and Mrs. Henry Jacob, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. D. S. Harwood and daughter, Richmond.

PLEASANT AT THE WHITE

Season Not Yet at Its Height, But Plenty of Fun Going On.

BRIDGE AND SMALL SUPPERS

Some of the Means Employed to Pass the Time—Many Popular People.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GREENBRIDG WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, VA., July 23.—While the rush and gayety which marks the later season at the White has scarcely set in yet, there is a suculent amount of entertaining going on to make the life here particularly pleasant just now. Card parties, small suppers, and afternoon teas are especially numerous in the cottage net among those entertaining regularly in the latter fashion being Mrs. Joseph Whyte, Mrs. Warren Buckler, Mrs. Chas. M. Carter, Mrs. John Gill and the Misses Kramelberg, of Baltimore; Miss Branch, of Richmond; Mrs. McKenna and Mrs. Chatard, of Washington, and Mrs. William McEwen Johnston, of Macon, Ga.

Several large bridge parties have also taken place during the past week, one of the handsomest being given on Tuesday morning by Mrs. George M. Davies, of Louisville, Ky. The party was played on one of the long upper piazzas, well screened with vines, and a number of beautiful prizes distributed and a collation served at the conclusion of the games.

TENNIS IS POPULAR. By way of out of door sport, tennis is very popular, the tennis court, upon a high, well shaded plateau, overlooking the hotel and commanding a superb view of the surrounding mountain scenery, being the resort of nearly all the young people at the Springs during the morning and early afternoon.

Swimming in the great pool is another favorite pastime, many of the swimmers being expert swimmers. Mrs. Joseph Whyte, of Baltimore; Miss Anderson, of Detroit, and Miss Baird, of Washington, are all exceptionally fine swimmers.

On Sunday services were held in the Episcopal Church, Rev. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church, Alexandria, Va., who preached a very eloquent and effective sermon. Very fine music was rendered by an amateur choir, organized for the occasion, and including Mrs. John Carter, of Baltimore, and Mrs. M. W. Phillips, of Washington, who has studied abroad for several years under the best masters; Miss Foss, of Boston; Miss Donaldson, of New York, and Mr. Finch, of Newport News.

PICTURESQUE CHAPEL. The chapel at the White is a picturesque and well built edifice, given to the Springs by Bishop Peterkin, of West Virginia, and maintained by him. Its architecture is of the most beautiful and richly stained window in memory of two infant sons of Bishop Peterkin. Another is an exquisite piece of statuary, a kneeling angel holding a shallow basin, which served as a font, and was presented by Mrs. John Stewart, of Brook Hill, Richmond.

Mr. John P. Branch, of Richmond, and his daughter, Miss E. P. Currie, who are among the most prominent and popular of the regular habitués of the White, are again occupying their cottage here for the present season, and have as their guest Mrs. Foss, of Boston.

Mrs. E. P. Currie is a rather very prominent addition to the Richmond contingent. Mr. Bernard Carter, the prominent Baltimore attorney, is visiting his son, Mr. Charles H. Carter, at the White. A very charming young girl from Charlottesville, Va., is Miss L. L. Woods, who is spending several weeks at the White with her aunt, Mrs. Warner Woods, also of Charlottesville.

Mr. P. P. Glasgow, of Richmond, father of Miss Ellen Glasgow, the novelist, is now a visitor at the White. SMALL SUPPERS GIVEN. One of the most popular beaux here for the season is Mr. John Currie, of Richmond. Mr. Currie has been giving a delightful series of small suppers recently for the younger set after the dancing in the evenings.

A very handsome and much admired member of the married set is Mrs. Schuyler Hamilton, of Richmond, who with Mr. Hamilton is among the more recent arrivals. Other arrivals of the past few days are Mrs. Emily Dickson, of Richmond; G. Hubbard, F. E. Montague, N. C. Numb, all of Richmond; Prof. B. W. Green, of the University of Virginia; Mrs. J. B. Lakes, Mrs. Frank Daseh, Norfolk, Va.; A. J. Patton, Parkersburg, W. Va.; David I. Luke, Jas. L. Luke, Piedmont, W. Va.; Thomas D. Ranson, Staunton, Va.; Mrs. W. Holmes Yeakley, Davis, W. Va.; O. M. Gerlock, Aberdeen, South Africa; Judge and Mrs. J. Wheeler, McGee, Miss Lou Armstrong, Miss Caroline Wood, Louisville; J. H. Weiss, Albany, Ga.; Frost Torrence, Gastonia, N. C.; Mrs. T. B. Neal, W. P. Rutland, Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Harrison, Savannah, Ga.; Langdon, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Menge, the Misses Menges, New Orleans, La.

OLD POINT COMFORT. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) OLD POINT COMFORT, VA., July 23.—The week has been very quiet at Old Point, although quite a large number of guests were at the hotels. An interesting event was the marriage of Mr. Samuel Wiley Wakeman, of Camden, N. J., and Miss Edith Isabelle Vickery, daughter of Major Robert S. Vickery, surgeon of the United States army, retired, who was at one time commandant of Fort Monroe. It was solemnized on Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Centurion in Fort Monroe, and was followed by a reception at the home of Maj. Vickery.

The bride wore a gown of white mull and lace and carried a shower of white sweet peas. She was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Charles W. Freeland, of Fort Meade, B. D., and Miss Lisa Vickery as matron of honor and maid of honor respectively.

Mr. Chester D. Hubbard, of New London, was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. William Wheeler, of New Haven, and Robert S. Height, of New York. Guests recently registered at the Chamberlain are Mrs. James T. Bloomer, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Potter, Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carter, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Compton, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Newbar, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. H. Dyer, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Baltimore; Miss Minnie C. Dunlap, Miss Mary Dunlap, Lexington, Ky.; Miss Mary Woodridge, Versailles, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Beveridge, Miss Lucy Carter Beveridge, Miss Anna Harwood Beveridge, Richmond; Mrs. S. B. Goswell, Mrs. Edward McCormack, Miss Mary McGee, Miss Mary Hopkins, Finchville, Ky.
