

AN OVATION TO MARTIN

Dickinson Democrats Turn Out to Hear Rhea and the Senator.

MANY LADIES ATTEND

The Meeting a Record-Breaker in Point of Numbers—Judge Rhea Surpasses Himself.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEBANON, VA., VIA CLEVELAND, VA., October 20.—Senator Martin and Judge William F. Rhea addressed a very large and representative audience in the courthouse at this place this afternoon. The crowd was the largest that has attended a political speaking here at an off time for many years. Both speakers were in fine trim and made able addresses. Many ladies were in the audience. Judge Rhea's speech was pronounced by many as the best he has ever made here. This is Senator Martin's first appearance on the stump in this county, and he made a fine impression.

FLOOD IN BATH.

Makes Vote Winning Speech at the Hot Springs.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
VIRGINIA HOT SPRINGS, October 20.—Congressman H. D. Flood spoke in the Odd-Fellows' Hall at Hot Springs to-night to a large and enthusiastic audience. There are few more forceful and eloquent speakers in the State than Mr. Flood. His arraignment of the Republican party on trusts, and the race issue was something terrific. In a speech of an hour and a half, Mr. Flood made a regular vote-winning speech, which will tell on the eighth day of November. A good Democratic majority may be looked for in the county of Bath.

Flood and Revercomb.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CLIFTON FORGE, VA., Oct. 20.—A joint discussion between Congressman Hal D. Flood and George A. Revercomb took place in the Opera House here last night. Before the discussion the hall of the house began filling up and at the appointed time there was no standing room and hundreds turned away who were barred admission. A large delegation, principally Republicans, came down from Covington. The audience, however, was two-thirds Democratic. Mr. Flood was introduced by Chairman F. P. States, of the County Democratic Committee, and received a tremendous ovation. His scathing arraignment of President and his negro policy was keen and cutting. At frequent intervals the applause was terrific. After entering the audience for an hour, Mr. Revercomb was introduced by Mr. R. G. James, Mr. Revercomb was also received with much applause. He defended his party and the negro policy of the President, claiming that he did not approve of the social equality between the races. After he had concluded an hour and a half, Mr. Flood rose and attacked Revercomb severely and answering in masterly tones the sharp criticisms of Mr. Revercomb. The Alpine band was on duty during the evening and rendered delightful music. This was undoubtedly one of the most enthusiastic political gatherings in the history of the town.

A Tramp Steamer to Take Them From the Barge.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., October 20.—The tug Richmond, which arrived here this morning at 2 o'clock, left the barge Kennebec, with two lake submarine torpedo boats lashed to her deck, at anchor in Princess Bay, near Perth Amboy, N. J., Tuesday night. The tug sails again to-morrow morning with two barges and skipper has instructions to pick up the Kennebec, which will have gotten rid of the submarines, and proceed with her to Boston, where she will discharge the cargo of coal she has aboard.

It is reliably stated that a tramp steamer, the name of which cannot be learned, which was at the Erie Basin ship-yard when the tug left Princess Bay, will take the torpedo boats from the Kennebec, the floating derrick "Ox," of New York, being used to make the transfer. It is expected that the steamer will put to sea with the boats to-morrow, if she did not leave to-day.

Good Year for Farmers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ELLERSBURG, VA., October 20.—Mr. E. W. Newman and Mr. J. B. Bradley are in St. Louis attending the World's Fair. The farmers are busy getting up sweet potatoes. The dry weather makes plowing difficult, and rain is much needed. The past year has been a prosperous one for our farmers. Most of them have sold their houses, and made other improvements, and this section presents a thrifty appearance.

The New-Style Soda Fountain.

The above is the name of a new and unique Soda Water Dispensing and Display Apparatus, recently invented and built exclusively by the American Soda Fountain Company. Aside from its practical features of special merit, it is exquisitely beautiful and attractive, the lines throughout denoting perfect grace and symmetry. It is a complete departure from all previous efforts in the line of Soda Water machinery. The apparatus is built entirely of marble, slate and German silver, no wood being used in its construction. It is fitted with the most modern and scientific cooling system. The syrups are stored in porcelain jars with no metal connections, thus insuring absolute purity and cleanliness. The ice-cream cabinets are constructed of marble and are lined with porcelain. The vast advantages embodied in the "Innovation" over all other fountains mark it as the apparatus destined to revolutionize soda serving methods. With this system the dispenser is able to serve the most delicious beverages without turning his back to the customer, and in this particular also it differs from any other soda fountain. Recognizing the many advantages of the "Innovation" and with the desire to fit up the most modern establishment possible, I have had one of these fountains built expressly for me. This apparatus.

Where Hairpins Come From.

The greatest of the world's manufactures of hairpins is at Painesville, a village situated in the Stroud Valley, at the foot of the Catskills. There are no fewer than 300 persons employed in turning out these trifles of the beauty, in constant operation, transforming miles of wire into tons of finished pins. School Inspection in London. Under a new rule, women inspectors visit the public schools of London and inspect the pupils. Those that are not clean are sent home. But already it has been found that some of the children smear themselves with mud before entering school in hope that an inspector will pay a visit. The Bee's Sting. Two bee stings suffice to kill a sparrow in two or three hours. Analysis of the bee poison has shown that it contains three principles—one convulsant, one stupefying, and one which gives rise to acute inflammation. Campaign Literature.
