NEW DRILL REGULATIONS

The Latest Arm Tactics Adopted at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

HAVE MANY ADVANTAGES

Satisfactory Drill Before the Board of Visitors—Officers and Promotions.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BLACKSBURG, VA., October 29.—The revised drill regulation, authorized by the War Department, September 10, 1904, have been introduced at the V. P. I.

The latter part of last session these regulations were adopted at the United States Military Academy more to test their qualities than for any other reason. The new system proved so satisfactory that it was used for West Point's exhibition drills at the World's Fair last June.

The recent battalion drills and the excellent battalion parade and review before the board of visitors on October 27th, are additional illustrations to the military authorities at V. P. I. of the many advantages of the new regulations over the old.

Below is given a list of officers and non-commissioned officers. The college officers in the military department are: Colonel J. S. A. Johnson, commandant; Lieutenant-Colonel W. M. Brodie, Major T. Gilbert Wood, Major H. H. Gary, Major G. H. Scott, assistant commandants; Major C. Lee, quartermaster; Captain J. P. Harvey, musical director; Major J. H. Shutz, commissary; Captain H. H. SOCIETY.

R. Evans Roberts, Mr. Barclay Warburton and Mr. George Bliphan Page. Others who came on the same train are Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Robins, Mrs. William H. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Hamilton of New York; the Rev. and Mrs. J. Chester Hyde Grace of Newport, and Mrs. Henry S. Howe of Boston.

Among the interesting engagements of the autumn was an announced yesterday, that of Miss Millicent Turle, a granddaughter of the late Gordon L. Ford, and niece of the late Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, to Mr. Alfred Roelker, Jr., son of Mr. Alfred Roelker, of No. 53 West Forty-seventh Street.

Miss Turle is one of the most popular of the members of the young society in the Heights section of Brooklyn. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Turle, of No. 34 Monroe Place. Her father, an Englishman, who has lived in this country for many years, was at one time president of the St. George Society.

Miss Turle made her debut four years ago. Mr. Roelker is a member of a well known family. He is a member of Squadron A, the Baltimore Golf Club and the Deutsche Verein. He was graduated from Amherst College in 1895, and from the Columbia Law School a few years later.

Miss Pauline Astor, daughter of Mr. William Waldorf Astor, was married yesterday to Captain Spender Clay, of London, in the historic Church of St. Margaret's, Westminster, London. Miss Astor is a great heiress and inherits much of the beauty of her late mother, who was Miss Mamie Paul, of Philadelphia. Leaving New York when she was but a child, Miss Astor is not so well known as many other members of her family. Her father is the head of the Astor family. He has a fine mansion in London and a splendid country seat, Clivedon, on the Thames. Miss Astor departs from the custom of American girls who marry abroad in not choosing for her husband a man of exalted rank.

Mrs. Claiborne Entertained.
At the splendid reception recently given in honor of Mrs. Herbert A. Claiborne by the Board of Lady Managers of the St. Louis Exposition, Mrs. Claiborne wore a lovely black lace gown over chiffon and silk, and pearl ornaments.

Mrs. Claiborne was subsequently the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Manning, president of the Lady Board of Managers, at St. Louis, and at a reception tendered by Mrs. Ben F. Gray, of that city.

Mrs. Claiborne leaves St. Louis this week for Milwaukee, where invitations have already been sent out for a luncheon on November 8th, by Mrs. and Miss Chapman, with whom Mrs. Claiborne will stay while in Milwaukee. On November 9th the national president will meet the Wisconsin Dames at a reception to be given by Mrs. Mitchell, the president of the Wisconsin Society. On November 10th, she will be the guest of honor at an entertainment tendered by Miss Carpenter, of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Gertrude Tucker Logan, who has been the guest of Mrs. C. C. McPhail and Mrs. James Welch during the past week, and who was handsomely entertained on Friday last by Mrs. Edwin Blair, yesterday for New York. Mr. H. St. George Tucker, who unexpectedly traveled by the same train, accompanied her as far as Washington.

Owing to a mass meeting of the Woman's Christian Association in the lecture room of St. John's Church to-morrow, the meeting of St. John's Circle of King's Daughters will be deferred until Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. O'Connor, No. 2802 East Grace Street.

Miss Ethel Elgard, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Floyd, at No. 467 East Clay Street, will leave Monday for her home in Pennsylvania.

Miss Agnes da Ponte has opened her studio for china painting at No. 206 East Grace. Her specimens at Schwarz's, especially the Royal Worcester, have attracted favorable comment for both execution and design. Miss da Ponte has recently been elected a member of the Art Club.

The Misses Moore, of West Franklin Street, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, of Smithfield, Va.

Mrs. W. W. Williamson, formerly Miss Mattie Clark, of Danville, is the guest of Mrs. William Granor Neal, at No. 927 West Grace Street.

Mrs. M. A. Samuelson, who has been visiting Mrs. James Greig, her mother, has left for her home in Louisville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Alfred Livingston Richards, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. Burton, of No. 303 North Rowland Street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Burroughs, of No. 523 Bart Street, Portsmouth, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Blanche Lamont, to Mr. George Atwell Borden, of the same city, to be performed on Thursday afternoon, November 24, at 4 o'clock, at the residence of the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Hatthie Gates, of Richmond, is the guest of her cousin, the Misses Vaughan, of Chestnut Avenue, Newport News.

The Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Semmes and little daughter have been visiting friends in Richmond county.

Mr. and Mrs. Vardy Echols McBee have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Rosalinde Echols, to Mr. James Elliott Heath, Jr. The wedding will occur on the evening of Monday, the 7th of November, at half after 8 o'clock, at Christ Church, Greenville, S. C.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Mr. Fayette Sinclair Curtis, son of Sheriff R. K. Curtis, to Miss Frances Sinclair, daughter of Mr. J. B. Sinclair, of Gloucester county. The happy event will be solemnized November 5th at Boyd's Neck, Gloucester, the home of the bride-elect. Mr. Charles Curti, brother of the groom, will be the best man.

Miss Maggie Thompson has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in Scottsville, Va.

REINACH

New Millinery.

AN OPENING.

Here is Millinery leadership, a display of entirely new styles that are decided departures from those shown earlier in the season—styles that are exclusive, elegant and artistic.

Paris, New York and other fashion centers have sent their best models, but the creations from our own workrooms are sure to attract your notice first. There's an almost irresistible charm about them.

No Cards—simply an Informal showing, to which all are invited.
