

LOCAL BROKERS MUCH DISTURBED

Stocks Declined Throughout Day, With One Small Rally.

ROOSEVELT AND LAWSON

Blame for Downward Trend Divided Between the Two.

Yesterday was full of uneasiness for the local brokers and traders, for stocks began to decline from the very opening, and except for a slight rally about 1:30 o'clock, declined throughout the day.

The rally of 1:30 was of no moment, and the close was practically at the lowest prices of the day's trading.

Many contended that the drop was occasioned by the Lawson bear advertisements in the New York papers and his fresh attack upon Amalgamated Copper, but a broker, than whom there is none better informed, gave as his opinion, that the cause of to-day's decline was due to Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, in his message to Congress, he favors enlarging the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission so that they can make rates for the railroads.

If such a bill is passed three years must elapse before the count of last year can pass upon its legality, and in the meanwhile untold harm may be done.

This is what has disturbed Wall Street, and a wire received by a banking house here yesterday afternoon, says that Wall Street does not understand the situation. There are many rumors about the street, any one of which would account for the decline of the market, but not one of which can be confirmed. The country is in a prosperous condition.

Money is easy and the outlook is bright. The wire says that there are many that are following Lawson because he called the market right last time, but such people are small traders whose dealings would not materially affect the market. Stocks are in strong hands and the market ought to recover.

Local securities have not suffered in the smallest degree, for none have been forced upon the market.

The local banks are in excellent condition and money is easy. There is no difficulty in borrowing any reasonable amount of money on good security. Stocks in which Richmond traders are especially interested held fairly well. Atlantic Coast Line broke two points; American can broke three eighths, although the preferred lost one and one-half points; American Locomotive lost three-fourths; Colorado Southern, first preferred, one and three-eighths; Erie, two and one-half; Louisville and Nashville, four and one-half; Missouri Pacific, three and one-fourth; Seaboard, three-fourths; Union Pacific, four points; Steel common, three and three-eighths; Steel, preferred, four and three-eighths; Chemical closed at the opening prices.

The total sales for the day were 2,051,000 shares.

PITIFUL TALES OF CITY'S POOR

Street Mission yesterday afternoon. On Sunday, thirty-seven men had lodged at the mission and 153 meals had been served. Last night forty slept there in comfort.

All the wood on hand had been sawed and piled, and the hall was packed with the flossam and jetsam of society. Honest John McLean was cooking a savory stew in the nearby kitchen, and the self-invited guests wore an eager look of anticipation.

Medicine for the Sick.

In the dispensary, Drs. Parker, Gay Kern and Beaman were busy with the sick and wounded, while a young man from the University of Medicine filled prescriptions in the pharmacy. Every one was at work for the mission first heals the sick and feeds the hungry and then has the gospel preached to them.

On Sunday night, Captain Fleming, of the Salvation Army, took part in the services held in the chapel.

Mr. Wiley, when on the steamship Carpathia last summer, on his way to England, met Commander Booth Tucker, of the Salvation Army, and so interested him in the work to be done here in Richmond that Captain Fleming and his wife were sent here to join in the mission work.

It is a matter of pride with me, said Mr. Wiley, that our Sunday school has led all the Methodist Sunday schools in the matter of percentage of attendance.

Mr. Lewis Judkins has charge of the night school, and is ably seconded by Mr. Charles Straus.

In the work amongst the poor the City Mission is doing more than its share, seconded, as it is, by the Citizens' Relief Association, a financial agency.

In a conversation on yesterday, the president of the City Mission said that never in her experience had there been so much suffering and want in Richmond as there is at the present time. She said:

Tied With Red Tape.

"We petitioned the City Council to give us $2,000 last October, but red tape has kept back the appropriation, and so we will not get the money until next week. In the meanwhile the poor of the city are freezing to death, and we are powerless to help them. If it had not been for the generous contribution of a citizen of Richmond, we would have been

BABIES ON FIRE

With Itching, Burning, Scaly Humors of the Skin

Instantly Relieved by Baths with Cuticura Soap

And Gentle Applications of Cuticura Ointment.

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, and purest of emollients, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent.

"My little baby boy, two years old, was so badly afflicted with eczema that he needed constant watching. It was all over his face and he scratched the sores constantly. Mornings his clothes would be stained with blood, and his face and hands would be covered. His family never could take him out, as his face was always full of large sores. They had medical treatment, and tried everything they heard of. She commenced using the Cuticura Remedies last spring and found that last she had a wonderful healer. The sores left his face and he was entirely cured, and now his face is as smooth and rosy as though no sore had ever been there to mar it."

Mrs. L. J. ROOT, JERUSALEM, N. Y. Feb. 19, 1898.

On March 7, 1903, five years later, Mrs. Root writes: "I received your note of kind inquiry and am pleased to inform you of the permanent cure of my little boy. He is now a healthy child with pink and white skin free from all blemishes. He has had no more sores, and brought about in a short time after all other medical aid failed."

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. Cuticura Soap, 25c. Cuticura Ointment, 25c. Each bottle contains full directions. Prepared by W. L. Chas. & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

entirely without funds, and as it is we have only been able to help one-tenth of those who richly deserve our aid. Last year we attempted to get the Council to put our $2,000 appropriation in the annual budget, but we failed. If we had succeeded, we would have purchased coal in the summer from the mines when we could have bought at exactly half the price we must pay now. The poor of Richmond would have gotten 800 tons of coal instead of the 400 tons that our money will purchase at this time. We will try to get the appropriation in the budget for the coming year, and we trust we will succeed.

It is felt that the City Mission ladies want. There are sixty-six visitors, who look after thirty-three districts, into which the city is divided. All report lack of fuel and untold misery in consequence.

There are 70 families in want, within the city limits, and every one of them are begging piteously for fuel.

Send Them to the Missions.

The ladies of the City Mission join with Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan in their request that the poor people who come to the various homes of citizens, be sent to the missions. Nine times out of ten, they say these persons are not deserving of charity, and should not receive assistance. Here is a story of suffering.

A widow with several small children, all of whom are in advanced stages of tuberculosis, is without the smallest means of support. The children are all bedridden, and far beyond medical aid. The mother cannot earn anything because she spends day and night in nursing her poor suffering and dying little ones. She has too much to bear, and so had it not been for the chance visit of one of the visitors of the City Mission, this woman and her death-stricken children would have either starved or have frozen to death.

That is the state of things that is starting the poor people in the face, and unless the public comes to their aid, they are powerless to combat the deadly evil, hovering over and about to strike ten hundred families at our very threshold.

Mr. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, learning of the dire necessity of the poor, gave last night to the City Mission a ton of coal to be distributed to those most in need. This will do much to relieve temporarily the full famine that is causing the Mission so much anxiety.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

Postoffice People Will Get Their Taste of It Soon.

The postoffice department is preparing for the usual heavy rush of mail incident to the Christmas season, and will be able to handle it satisfactorily and promptly. Postmaster Knight stated that no additional clerks would be employed at the postoffice for the present, but he will put on sufficient additional carriers, clerks and messengers as may be demanded by the work. Already the mails are being considerably enlarged by the early dispatch and wagon as usual this year.

Postmaster Knight advises all who send packages to write the name of the addressee and postoffice address plainly and legibly, and to write the name of the sender on every package. Otherwise the gift intended for a loved one may go to the dead letter office.

DR. B. L. WINSTON, OF HANOVER COUNTY, DEAD

Prominent Man of Affairs and a Well Known Citizen.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) HANOVER, Va., Dec. 12.—Dr. B. L. Winston, one of the leading men of this section, died at his home near here Sunday after an illness extending over several months. His funeral will take place at St. Paul's Church here to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. B. L. Winston was born in Hanover county near the city of Hanover, and was forty-eight years of age. He was a son of the late William A. Winston, who also resided in Hanover county. The date of his death in 1862, and who was a man of considerable prominence and long a clerk of the county. His mother was Miss Sarah Gregory, of King William.

Dr. Winston married Miss Fannie Tunstall, of Caroline, and leaves seven children—Robert, the eldest, who lives near Charlottesville, and Mrs. Edmund Winston and Miss Fannie Winston, both of Hanover.

Dr. Winston received his early education in the public schools of Hanover county and in the Randolph-Macon College, in Ashland. He studied medicine at the University of New York city, where he received the degree of M. D. and practiced his profession in Hanover up to the time of his recent illness. Dr. Winston was also an extensive farmer, and during the years of the Farmers' Alliance, the president of that organization in the State. He was one of those Democrats who believed in the free silver and unlimited coinage of silver at the rate of sixteen to one, and was, therefore, a strong advocate of the non-revision of the Federal Reserve Act. He served in 1892 over Mr. Cleveland. The result was that when the Virginia delegation was evenly divided, Dr. Winston, on the Hill side, and Hon. Charles W. Meredith, of Richmond, the Cleveland wing, were sent as delegates from the Third District to the national convention.

Active in Politics.

In 1894, when Judge R. H. Cardwell was elected to the Supreme Court bench and retired from the House of Delegates, Dr. Winston was chosen to fill out his unexpired term, though as there was no further session of the Legislature he never took his seat. He was, however, re-elected in 1895 and again in 1897, having declined to stand in the succeeding election two years later.

Dr. Winston took an active part in the proceedings of the Legislature, and especially in all matters relating to the humane institutions of the State. He served on the Committees on Prisons and Asylums, General Laws and Agriculture and Mining, and was always faithful in his attendance upon the sessions. He was at one time a member of the board of visitors of the institution for the deaf and blind, and when the Legislature offered a bill to have these unfortunate cared for in separate places and establishing an institution for the latter at Ashland, he was one of the most active in its passage.

Of Fine Family.

Dr. Winston was also once a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners, and from 1901 until 1904 was a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, and was in and out of his county.

Dr. Winston was a brother-in-law of Judge Roger Gregory, of King William, and was connected with many of the old families of the State, both by birth and marriage. He is survived by a wife and eight young children, to whom he was greatly devoted, and he will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Marion Michaux Martin.

Mrs. Marion Michaux Martin, wife of A. Lambert Martin, of Hillsboro, Va., died yesterday at 2 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, at her home, Hillsboro, in the 53rd year of her age.

The funeral will take place at Bethel Baptist Church Tuesday, December 13th, at 4 o'clock P. M.

Mrs. Martin, as she was best known by her friends, was a most charming character, with strong personality, a devoted member of Bethel Baptist Church, and a teacher in the Sunday school. She was one of the most cultured and lovable women in her community.

Although severely almost to gravity, yet there was a gleam of hope, and she was in disposition, that at times most unexpectedly revealed itself under what appeared a most grave exterior, demonstrating the possession of a joyous, happy and loving heart. A death which brought a gloom over the whole community in which she lived.

She leaves a devoted husband, father, mother, and eight brothers and sisters, among the number Mr. B. C. Watkins, Jr., and Miss P. Neville Watkins.

Mrs. Herbert B. Davis.

The death of Mrs. Herbert B. Davis occurred at 6 o'clock Sunday morning in Albion. Her brother, Mr. A. R. Holderby, Jr., received the sad tidings by long-distance telephone. He left Sunday afternoon for Albion, where he was present at the funeral, which took place yesterday at 3 o'clock P. M.

Mrs. Davis, who was but twenty-nine years old, was the second daughter of Rev. Dr. A. R. Holderby, who was once one of the best known Presbyterian ministers of Virginia, but who has for years filled the pulpit of a leading church in Albion. As a child the young lady was known and loved in Richmond and Ashland, where her father held charge.

Mrs. Davis leaves a husband, a son about a year old, her father, one brother, A. R. Holderby, Jr., business manager of The Times-Dispatch, and two sisters, Misses May and Lewis Holderby.

William Brent.

Mr. William Brent died suddenly of heart failure at Clarksville, Va., on Sunday, December 12th, at 11 o'clock. Mr. Brent was a native of this city, where he has a large circle of relatives and friends, who sincerely mourn his loss. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Gulla De Loach, of Memphis, and the second Miss Ada Young, of Parkersburg.

mouth, Ohio. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Misses Imogene and Virginia Brent, and by two sisters, Mrs. Sonima Powell and Miss Lulea Brent, of Parkersburg.

Mrs. Maggie E. Gordon.

Mrs. Maggie E. Gordon, of Newport News, Va., died Sunday night at 8:45 P. M. at No. 125 South Pine Street, in this city, where she had been spending some weeks, hoping to improve her health. The funeral will take place Friday at 1 P. M. from the house; interment in Oakwood.

Captain T. J. Adams.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WOODSTOCK, Va., Dec. 12.—Captain T. J. Adams, familiarly known throughout the Valley as Captain Jack Adams, died last night at the residence of his cousin, Miss Nan, Queen, at Quickburg, Shenandoah county, aged about seventy-seven years. Death was due to heart trouble, from which he had been ill for a short time.

During the Civil War he organized Company K, which was enlisted in the Twenty-third Virginia Cavalry, under Colonel White and Capt. O'Toole, lieutenant-commander. His company was composed of citizens from Shenandoah and Frederick counties. He was a native of Frederick county, but at the close of the war he located at Quickburg, where he was successfully engaged in merchandising and farming.

He was unmarried and leaves a considerable estate. The body will be taken to Winchester on Wednesday for burial.

H. E. Kinzer.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—Mr. H. E. Kinzer, of lower Aquia county, died suddenly recently at his home near Cassanova. He was apparently in his usual health, and dropped dead a few minutes after leaving the breakfast-table. He had reached the good old age of eighty years. He came from Pennsylvania about thirty years ago and settled on the place where he died, and had provided a beautiful home. In his younger days he was a skillful mechanic and had been sent to Russia with some of the first railway locomotives shipped to that country by builders in the United States to start them in running order.

Mrs. T. R. Mooring.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Dec. 12.—Mrs. T. R. Mooring, fifty-one years old, died this morning at her home. She had been ill for several hours with heart trouble. She is survived by her husband and four children. The funeral will take place at 10:30 o'clock at the home; interment and the body will be interred at Greenlawn Cemetery.

Miss Emily Mander.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—Miss Emily Mander, one of the teachers of the public schools here, who went to Washington some time ago for treatment of a nervous ailment, died at her home here Sunday. She was a daughter of Mr. Charles Mander, and is survived by her father, two sisters and two brothers.

E. B. Broadus.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—The remains of Mr. Eugene B. Broadus, son of the late S. B. Broadus, of Caroline county, who died at the home of his brother, J. Broadus, Saturday in Washington, of consumption, aged thirty-five years, were brought here to-day and taken to the home in Cambridge for interment. He is survived by four brothers and two sisters.

Mrs. Estelle Pannel.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEESBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Estelle Pannel, wife of Dr. J. Pannel, a prominent dentist of this place, died Sunday night, aged forty-two. She was a native of Albemarle county, and is survived by her husband and daughter.

Mrs. William Goch.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—Mrs. William Goch, a well known lady of Orange county, died Friday at her home near Antioch Church, in that county, and is survived by her husband, one daughter and several sons.

H. H. Jefferson.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—Mr. Henry H. Jefferson, of the lower Northern Neck, died last week after a brief illness of typhoid pneumonia, aged sixty-three years. He is survived by a widow, but left no children.

George Chewning.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) HEATHVILLE, Va., Dec. 12.—Mr. George Chewning, aged twenty-two years, died at his home in Merry Point, Lancaster county, Friday morning, after a brief illness of typhoid pneumonia. He was a popular and one of the most prominent young men of Lancaster county.

Mrs. T. D. Ficklin.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) HEATHVILLE, Va., Dec. 12.—Mrs. T. D. Ficklin, wife of Dr. P. D. Ficklin, one of the most prominent merchants of this section, died at her home near Millenbeck Friday at 10 o'clock. She leaves a husband and several children.
