

INAUGURAL BALL DIVIDES HOUSE

Pension Building Chosen, But Cannon and Others Vote Against It.

GAINES ON THE PRESIDENT

Says He Supports Measure Because Roosevelt Is "Trying to Do Right."

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 9.—The House today adopted the Senate resolution providing, among other things, for the holding of an inaugural ball in the Pension building. There has been a tendency to vote the proposition down, on account of the danger of fire, and this feeling was heightened by Senator Hitchcock, who called attention to the danger of life and property which such a catastrophe might entail.

The following is the negative vote: Ames, Baker, Bartlett, Bates, Beall, Benton, Bonnyne, Bottell, Bowie, Braxton, Casper, Clark, Clayton, Coombs, Cromer, Dalzell, DeArmond, Field, Fuller, Gibson, Gillespie, Goebel, Granger, Gregg (Texas), Hamlin, Harrison, Henry (Texas), Herrmann, Hopkins, Johnson, Jones (Virginia), Keoke, Lamar (Missouri), Charles B. Landis, Frederick Landis, Lester, Little, Lloyd, Lorimer, McCall, Mann, Marshall, Moon (Tennessee), Murdoch, Norris, Padgett, Pense, Palmer, Patterson (North Carolina), Perkins, Pinkney, Tamm, Taylor, Thurston, Randall (Texas), Reeder, Reid, Rice, Rider, Roberts, Robinson (Arkansas), Robinson (Indiana), Rucker, Ryan, Shackelford, Sheppard, Sheber, Shull, Sims, Slayden (Texas), Smith (Iowa), Snapp, Spokas, Spang, Stephens (Texas), Tamm, Underwood, Vandiver, Venable, Welles, Williams (Illinois), Woodard, Young, Zenor and Speaker Cannon.

Speech by Gaines. Mr. Gaines (Tennessee) said he favored the Pension building this time, but he gave notice that never again would he vote for the proposition. "Do you think any ball is a matter of courtesy?" inquired Mr. Sims (Tennessee).

Much laughter was produced by Mr. Gaines replying: "You never paid for one in your life," and he added that if Mr. Sims ever did dance, he paid the fiddler. Mr. Gaines, continuing said, he favored the resolution because the President was trying to do right, "and give teeth to our Interstate Commerce Commission that will haul up the railroads that have been robbing the common people." He said he was "with" the President and did not care how long the teeth were that were put into the law. He said, too, that he commends the President for "trying to unhorse the trusts." Referring to the White House conference on Saturday last, Mr. Gaines said the President might have called in a few more and asked them "if it was not right to tear down the robber tariff." He was "with" the President, he said, on all matters in which he was right, and he added, referring to violators of the law, that he wanted the penitentiaries to think with evidence that their heads would stick out of the front doors and their feet out of the windows."

Laid on Table. On motion of Mr. Jenkins (Wisconsin), chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary, the House laid on the table four resolutions recently introduced by Mr. Baker (New York), upon which the committee acted adversely to-day. Mr. Williams (Mississippi) demanded the yeas and nays on the resolution respecting Secretary of the Navy Morton, and the vote sustained the committee, yeas 115, noes 96, a strict party vote.

A resolution was passed calling on the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to direct the director of the census to furnish to the House certain reports upon which the Census Bureau based its recent cotton-ginning reports. The House adjourned until to-morrow.

of addresses in memory of the late Senator Hon. the Senate devoted the day to the statehood bill. Mr. Morgan spoke for two hours against the bill. The speech of Mr. Morgan followed closely the arguments he made against the statehood legislation proposed two years ago, but he spoke particularly of the character of the population of New Mexico and Indian Territory. He declared that the framers of the Constitution were of the white race, and it was not the intention that Mexicans, Indians, negroes and half-breeds should be brought into citizenship. He said that if Arizona and New Mexico were admitted into the Union this class of citizenship would control the elections, and that bribes and whiskey might control them.

Mr. Mallory presented the minority report of the Merchant Marine Commission. It was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

The omnibus claim bill was passed with several committee amendments. It carries direct appropriations amounting to $1,000,000. The Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

GEORGIA LAW VOID

Supreme Court Reverses Decision and Remands Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day has voided the Georgia law, making the initial carrier liable in cases of damage to freight shipments even though it occurs while the State is in the hands of a rebel. The case is that of the Central Georgia Railway Company vs. Murphy. The damage alleged in this case amounting to $434 occurred to a carload of grapes, shipped from Barnesville, Ga., to Omaha, Neb., in the Georgia rebel hand during the war. The grapes were delivered. Murphy brought suit under the State law. In the course of his opinion, Justice Peckham said: "The power to regulate the relative rights and duties of persons and corporations within the limits of the State cannot extend so far as to regulate interstate commerce. The police power of the State does not give it the right to violate any provision of the Federal Constitution. Being of the opinion that the statute in question when applied to an interstate shipment, is a regulation of interstate commerce, we must hold the statute so far as it affects such shipment to be void." The judgment of the Georgia Supreme Court was reversed and the case remanded for further proceedings.

WONDERFUL CURES EFFECTED BY A BOY

Only Ten Years of Age, But a Healer From Way Back. A special to the Philadelphia Record from Hazleton, Pa., says: By the mere touch of his hand, Robert, a ten-year-old son of E. J. McNulty, a business man of Freehold, is making such remarkable cures of human ailments that he is being called a "boy healer." He is besieged night and day by invalids, who implore his attention. No reward for his services has been offered by the public. Local physicians express amazement at the cures effected by the boy, and they admit they are puzzled. The common explanation is that Robert has a "touch" of the family, and tradition holds that such issues is heir to peculiar powers. It may be, the McNulty family is distressed by the numerous appeals for the boy's favor, and are at loss to know what to do.

LLOYD LOWNDES DIES SUDDENLY

Ex-Governor of Maryland Fatally Stricken While Taking Morning Bath.

HIS CAREER IN POLITICS

Was Elected in 1896 and First Republican Governor State Had Had in Thirty Years.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CUMBERLAND, MD., January 8.—Lloyd Lowndes, ex-Governor of Maryland, a wealthy banker and Republican leader of the State, died suddenly yesterday morning in the bath room while his valet was rubbing him down after his bath. He was the only Republican Governor here in thirty years. Death was caused by valvular heart trouble. He was sixty years old. One of his last acts was writing an obituary late last night of his friend, Captain Goff, of Clarksburg, W. Va., brother of Judge Nathan Goff, for "The Cumberland Daily News," which he owned.

Mr. Lowndes leaves a wife, five sons and one daughter. It is believed that he anticipated the end, as he had longer than usual been confined to his bed, of which he was president, going over old papers. Mr. Lowndes was active in the work of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and was a delegate to several conventions. Mr. Lowndes owned extensive mines and was the great political rival of Governor Gorman, who was elected Governor in 1896. Among the telegrams of condolence is one from President Roosevelt, which was received by the family.

Mr. Lowndes was born in Clarksburg, Harrison county, Va., on February 21, 1846. He received his early and secondary education in the city of his birth, and at the University of Virginia, where he graduated from Washington College, at Washington, Pa., and two years there were followed by a course at Allegheny College, at Meadville, Pa., from which he was graduated with honor in 1868.

Having determined to follow the profession of the law, he became associated with Richard L. Ashurst, one of Philadelphia's prominent members of the bar, as a student, and at the same time pursued the law course at the University of Pennsylvania, where he was graduated in 1871. He was admitted to the bar in 1872, and was at once engaged in an active practice, which soon grew to be lucrative. Soon afterward he was elected president of the Allegheny County Bar Association, which position he held for many years.

In the Republican party, he accepted the nomination for Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland, and was elected over John Ritchie, of Frederick county, the Democratic nominee. His term of office was terminated by the death of the Republican party, he accepted the nomination for Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland, and was elected over John Ritchie, of Frederick county, the Democratic nominee.
