

LAST SOLO OF HONORED FAMILY

Major Powhatan Ellis Answers to the Soldiers' Last "Retreat."

SERVED WITH DISTINCTION Tribute of General Stephen D. Lee Paid to the Veteran's Service.

The funeral of Major Powhatan Ellis, who died Friday night in the residence of his niece, the Misses Munford, No. 47 West Franklin Street, will take place to-morrow at 12 o'clock from the residence. The interment will be in Shnecko Hill Cemetery.

Major Ellis was closely connected and leaves a host of relatives. He was the last of his generation, as he never married. He was the brother of Mrs. Munford, Mrs. Richard I. Cooke, Mrs. Beverly Tucker, Colonel Thomas H. Ellis and Major Charles Ellis, who was at one time president of the old Richmond and Fredericksburg railroad. He is survived by a number of nieces and nephews, the latter being Mrs. Beverly D. Tucker, of Norfolk, Va.

A Gallant Soldier.

Major Powhatan Ellis entered the Confederate States army in 1861 as first lieutenant in the 11th Virginia Infantry. He was made adjutant of the regiment, and served as such until late in the year of 1862, when he was made a general. He was killed at the battle of Baker's Creek, near Vicksburg.

In Many Engagements.

Major Ellis was at the battle of Corinth, Fort Donelson and many of the engagements of the army of the South-west. He had an accurate memory, and was thoroughly acquainted with the operations of the Confederate armies in the Mississippi department. He had in his possession many valuable papers, among them several orders of General Porter. The following, collected from a letter from General Stephen D. Lee, gives some idea of the high esteem in which Major Ellis was held by his former commander.

"I have received the three pictures representing the three arms of the Confederate service—artillery, cavalry and infantry—sent to me by you, Major Powhatan Ellis, and I assure you I am deeply sensible of his kind thoughtfulness in remembering me. I remember him most vividly as one of the most earnest, zealous and competent staff officers I had with me during the war. Please give him my affectionate regard as a comrade and friend."

Was Only Complimentary.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch: Sir—I was very much surprised to learn from your issue of today, that while at South Hill on Thursday as the representative of the State Board of Health, I had criticized the members of the Mocklenburg County Board of Health. Therefore, I ask for the indulgence of sufficient space to state to you that I do not say anything that could be construed as a criticism of the County Board of Health, nor am I aware that I did, and that no reminder of my only reference to this board was to regret that I did not have the pleasure of meeting any of its members.

BRILLIANT GOLF ON PINEHURST LINKS

(By Associated Press.) PINEHURST, N. C., January 20.—A perfect day, brilliant golf and hole for hole contests were the feature of the third annual midwinter tournament, which ended to-day. Allen Lard, of the Columbia Golf Club, Washington, was the winner of the championship trophy, defeating George W. Keats, of the Brashear Golf Club, Newton, five up and six to play the final round, and making a medal play score of seventy-seven, which is the tournament record for the season, and two strokes under bogey. The first division consolation went to William C. Freeman, of Montclair, who defeated G. W. Wurzell, of Oakmont, one up, in a well-contested round, which took an extra hole to decide. The surprise of the day was the defeat of W. C. Carnegie, the crack Pittsburg golfer, in the semi-finals by Mr. Keats, by a score of three and two.

FIREMEN'S TROUBLES AMICABLY ADJUSTED

SECRETARY SETTLES SENOR QUESADA'S PROTEST

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, January 20.—Secretary Root to-day received from the Secretary of the Treasury a report submitted by the collector of customs at Key West, Fla., upon the facts connected with the forcible deportation from that place a few days ago of some striking Cuban cigar-makers, which led to the filing of a vigorous protest here by the Cuban minister, Senor Quesada. In brief the collector's report is to the effect that about twenty of the strike leaders were actually deported and among them were perhaps four Cubans, but it is stated positively that these men left Key West of their own accord, and without compulsion in any form.

Death of Family Servant.

Jacob Gatewood died at the True Reformers' Home after a short illness, January 18th, from old age. He was over ninety years of age, faithful and honest during his long life. He lived with the Dill family about sixty years. When the infirmities of age came upon him, from choice he went to the True Reformers' Home, six miles above Richmond, visiting his friends occasionally, always telling them of the uniform kindness and care he received at the home, where he lived three years. He died suddenly. He was a consistent member of the Fifth Street Baptist Church. His funeral services took place from the home Thursday, the 18th, conducted by his former pastor, W. H. Graham.

Many Drunks Run In.

Last night was the night of all nights for the past week for drunks. The First Police Station had no less than nine inebriates to contend with, and the Second Station dealt with five of the men who had swallowed some bottled dynamite. And these, together with the negroes who had been disorderly on the street, proved to be sufficient for the entertainment of the sergeants and the house policemen.

TENNESSEE COURT DEFINES WHAT'S FAIR

Reports in Newspapers Must Be Accurate and Comment Confined to Editorial Column. (By Associated Press.) NASHVILLE, TENN., January 20.—The Supreme Court of Tennessee handed down an important opinion to-day regarding the rights of newspapers to publish fair and truthful reports of the proceedings of courts of justice. This matter was considered by the court in connection with damage suit filed against the Nashville American in which case a verdict was rendered against the American for $5,000. The Supreme Court reversed this judgment of the lower court and the case was remanded. The Supreme Court ruled that unless a case has been published in a newspaper, the proceedings are unfit for publication. The court also ruled that the owners of the newspapers occupying the same status as other persons. Publication of suits must be fair. They must not be mingled with comment, the place for comment being the editorial columns. Reports of law suits need not be verbatim, but no undue prominence must be given to prominent damaging facts to the exclusion of facts which explain or modify the former.
