

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Morning Glory. A school of pretty maidens once stole out beneath the moon...

In gowns of daisy muslin dressed—Pink, pale white and blue—Southern the merry twinkling stars...

But suddenly the summer dawn surprised them at their play, and so they could run away...

And every dainty lassie there—So runs the ancient story—Was changed, alas! forevermore, into a morning glory...

Poems You Ought to Know.

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.

THE MASTER'S TOUCH.

In the still air the music lies unheard; In the rough marble beauty hides unseen; To make the music and the beauty, needs The master's touch, the sculptor's chisel keen.

Spare not the stroke! do with us as thou wilt! Let there be naught unfinished, broken, marred, Complete thy purpose, that we may become Thy perfect image, thou our God and Lord!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

ARE UNWARRANTED SAYS MR. PULLER (Continued from First Page) does not say so. The fact is, I challenge the constitutionality of the bill...

...and I know nothing further about the matter until the bill passed the Senate and came over to the House, and I did not know of its passage until it had passed the Senate. I was informed that it was in the same condition that it was when I inspected it on Thursday evening...

...I offered four amendments openly on the floor of the House. The first was to allow a collection of claims that would two years and a half of interest. The second was to change the commission of the agent from ten to fifteen per cent. The third was to strike out entirely the provision that no claim over five years' shall be recovered...

...I said to the committee: "These amendments were rejected and made no part of the present bill. I do not intend to allow myself to attempt to frustrate and to prevent the fair enactment of a law that I had done so purely an account of my friends Mr. Howie and Mr. Howie. I am going to go fully into the testimony given by the committee on this point, so that the public can see how groundless the charge is and understand how unjustly I have been treated in their report...

...I was justified? The bill passed both the Senate and the House with 10 per cent. I have the committee an opportunity to allow to explain myself further. After giving my testimony, as aforesaid, the committee adjourned before the passage of the bill. I was in the committee room on Thursday night, March 22nd, and made the following statement...
