CRIMSON FOLDS LIE IN THE DUST

Harvard's Great Team Goes Down Before Trinity College.

SOUTHPAW TOO MUCH FOR BATTERS

New Englanders' Work With the Willow Give Trinity Students the Best of the Exhibition—Large and Enthusiastic Crowd.

North Carolina's sons from Trinity College walked the Harvard wearers of the crimson on the diamond in Broad Street yesterday afternoon. The score was six to five, in favor of the Trinity boys, and the game was one that pleased something more than fifteen hundred people. At every stage of the proceedings there was something lively happening.

Their ability to connect safely with the twists that came from the hands of Hartford and Green won the game for North Carolina sons. And Harvard's inability to touch the sphere at critical times told the story of their loss. Clement, the Trinity star pitcher, pitched a steady game throughout, and his southpaw curves were something mystifying to the students from Cambridge.

The Law-Makers, almost to a man, witnessed the exhibition, with Manager Shaffer, and several good points were jotted into the craniums of the men who are to win the pennant for Richmond in the Virginia League this year. The grandstand was crowded, and the bleachers were fairly well filled. Carriages stood around the field, and these were filled with rooters for the two teams. The Trinity boys were the favorites, however, with the grandstand and the bleachers, and the energy of every man was applauded at frequent intervals.

Wild Enthusiasm.

All of the old enthusiasm of the Richmond fans seemed to break out, and many were there who had not yelled since last summer, when the Twin-City League was in existence.

Trinity won the loss and went to bat. Johnson immediately killed a few microbes, and Smith slapped one to third. He died via first. And with two men down and two strikes on the batter, it looked good for the crimson followers. But the fate in not sliding, his hit into the horsehide. Sutter landed safely, and Clement touched the rubber. Wrenn biffed one on the snout, and it suited Sutter to come across the plate. Thomas retired the side with a fielder's choice, but four runs had been made.

McCarthy landed safely on the sphere in the second inning for Harvard, and went to the third sack before calling a halt. He scored when another man died at first.

The seventh gave another tally on this side of the sheet, and the eighth inning did the same thing.

The score in the fifth to six, and the more nervous of the Trinity rooters got anxious. But Clement was just the same, and his benders bent in the proper place and all was well. The two runs that Trinity made in the fourth inning came across without the assistance even of a hit sacrifice, two errors and a base on balls was enough to tell the tale.

VIRGINIA DEFEATS NORTH CAROLINA

An Easy Victory in the Third Annual Track Meet.

HIGH WIND HOLDS RUNNERS

Archie Randolph Breaks the University High Jump Record.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLOTTEVILLE, VA., April 14.—The third annual dual meet between Virginia and North Carolina, held this afternoon on Lambeth Field, resulted in an easy victory for the Virginians; also scored a total of 82 points, as against 26 for the Old North State representative.

The games were held under rather unfavorable weather conditions, a strong wind, which blew directly up the stretch, holding back runners and preventing fast time in most of the track events. Two of the prettiest races of the day were the 120-yard hurdles, won by Archie Randolph in 16 seconds flat, and the 40-yard run, which was almost a dead heat between Waples and Gray.

The entries showed up weak in all the field events, except the high jump, in which Archie Randolph, of Millwood, Va., broke the University of Virginia record, clearing the bar at 5 feet 9 inches. Randolph also holds the Virginia record in the hurdles. In the meet at the University last year he captured the all-round championship.

The Carolina squad did not come up to expectations in the track events, failing to capture a single first. Captain Pittman landed first honors in putting the 16-pound shot, defeating Williams' throw by four feet.

An exhibition two-mile run, something new in Virginia, attracted considerable attention. Both of the entries were Virginians.

Summary.
100-yard dash—Won by Smith, Virginia; second, McNeil, North Carolina; third, Davis, North Carolina. Time, 10 3/5 seconds.
200-yard dash—Won by Melville, Virginia; second, Marbury, Virginia; third, McNeil, North Carolina. Time, 22 2/5 seconds.
120-yard hurdles—Won by Archie Randolph, Virginia; second, Phillips, North Carolina; third, Oscar Randolph, Virginia. Time, 16 seconds.
200-yard hurdles—Won by Oscar Randolph, Virginia; second, Phillips, North Carolina.

GREAT BASEBALL GAME IN NORFOLK

Virginia Triumphs Over Yale and Redeems the Chinese Ball of First Game.

HAPPY CHANDLER IS FINE

Sharp Play From Start to Finish, and Game Close to the End.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., April 14.—It was great base-ball, and Virginia triumphed. Score: Virginia, 3; Yale, 2. Virginia won the game by the hardest kind of playing, and Yale is not without honor in losing it. It was by far the prettiest game of base-ball seen here this season, and not until Yale's last man had been retired was the victory secure for Virginia.

The very closeness of the score, together with the sharpness of the play, made the game one of the nerve-straining kind.

In strong contrast was the game the Chinese ball played by the two teams yesterday afternoon. Every man of them redeemed himself, and Happy Chandler, all out of form, yesterday afternoon delivered the goods today.

Virginia started out sharply. She went to the bat first, and by good hitting and scientific base-running got two men over the plate. The spectators then got busy in great shape. Yale got one in the second. Jones had off by knocking it dry to right, which ordinarily would have been an easy out, but the stiff wind that was blowing blew it out of Graham's reach, and Jones cleared the bases. Scoring was slow after that. Virginia got one more in the fourth. Chandler, as did Jones, hit for a fly to right, but the wind blew the ball away from Jones. Rice, who had gotten to first on balls and had stolen second, came home on the hit and ended Virginia's scoring. Sousoing pitched for Virginia, and he is a great boy, but one of his pitches was responsible for the blunder. Jones had off by desperate effort to score in the ninth. Church struck out, and Chapin was put out at first on a close decision. Parson got four balls, and the mighty O'Brien

Johnnie McEvoy Goes South. Johnnie McEvoy, the first short-stop and third-baseman, of Richmond, will leave today for Vicksburg, Miss., to play with Billy Irie, in the Cotton States League. McEvoy is one of the fastest ball-players ever in Richmond. He covers the third sack perfectly and can handle himself at short, in the field and can pitch a very good game.

May Lose Championship. The injuries to the American entrants may result in the loss of the Olympic championship. The two athletes most seriously injured were Mitchell and Hillman, who were swept away from the field.

Dead Heat. J. W. Colt's Thistledale was picked as the winner in the handicap steeplechase for non-winners during the meeting. He led all the way, but in the stretch was overtaken by Hiltcheck's Phantom. They had it hammer and tongs down the stretch, both walling badly at times. Finally they came under the wire nose and nose and the judges declared it a dead heat. The other entries were a bad lot, but George Saporta's Saltine survived to take third money.

Virginia Winners. A sum-up of the meeting shows August Belmont the leader in the winnings, with $6,975 to his credit. For the individual trainers, Billy Garth is far ahead. In fact the horses trained by the popular Virginian won nineteen races at the meeting, and came second and third sever. The runner-up in the second handicap was Little Pathless, ridden by Thomas Hiltcheck, Jr., for $4,500, was favorite and rewarded his backers by coming home on the bit. David Dunlop's Duke of Kendal, the added sturdier and long shot winner of the first handicap, ran with Pat's Blue, ridden by Mammoth, but blew up in the homestretch. Bobbie Kean, C. C. Smithson's entry, also trained by Garth, was second, while The Clown had hard work to get third. The winning of this race gave Miller a record of eight straight wins, five yesterday and three today. Soon after this the little jockey took the train for New York to prepare to ride in the Carter handicap at Aqueduct on Monday.

VIRGINIANS' BIG DAY AT BENNING

Spring Handicap For Pater and Cup for Orphan Lad.

AQUEDUCT WILL OPEN TO-MORROW

Big Carter Handicap Will Start Metropolitan Racing Season in East—The Last Day at Benning Notable for Many Features.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—A dead heat steeplechase, which turned out to be the most successful winning race by Jockey Walter Miller, were the features of the last day of the Benning meeting. The large crowd that turned out to see the wind-up was well repaid for its trouble, for no better sport has been offered at the Benning track in many a day than that which was furnished this afternoon.

The running of the seventh spring hunters' steeplechase, which had been looked forward to as an attraction, was something of a failure, as well as a surprise. Dunseverry, Dr. James Kerr's entry, ridden by Dion Kerr, was looked upon as a sure winner, and went to the post a 2 to 5 favorite. Thomas Hiltcheck, Garrett, got off in the lead from the first, however, and was never headed. Hence the disappointment. Young Kerr is a great favorite here, and a victory for him would have been popular.

Miller's New Winnings. The first race on the card was a seven furlong selling race, for three-year-olds. "Virginia," trained by J. B. Sweeney, was a hot favorite, with "Pat" Daly's Coronel second choice. Little Miller had the lead up on Palora, which closed at 6 to 1, and was bucked only because of the jockey who rode five straight winners yesterday. McLaughlin, the owner, did not think he had a show. Miller kept the barrier, and brought Palora home breaking.

In the next race Miller rode Garth's Orphan Lad, a 7 to 10 favorite. J. E. Lane's Woodline, trained by T. B. Doswell, was second choice. Orphan Lad won, with Woodline second and Boston Dulaney's Mammoth third. Mammoth was coupled in the betting with Dulaney's other entry, Bottle Landon, which won at 10 to 1 last week. This race was the Jesse Brown cup and sweepstakes for two-year-olds, and that good horse are being bred in Virginia is proven by the result, the first three horses having been bred in the Old Dominion.

Pater Easy Winner. In the second Benning spring handicap, which was fourth on the card, Pater, ridden by Little Pathless, gelding, recently sold by W. L. Maupin to Thomas Hiltcheck, Jr., for $4,500, was favorite and rewarded his backers by coming home on the bit. David Dunlop's Duke of Kendal, the added sturdier and long shot winner of the first handicap, ran with Pat's Blue, ridden by Mammoth, but blew up in the homestretch. Bobbie Kean, C. C. Smithson's entry, also trained by Garth, was second, while The Clown had hard work to get third. The winning of this race gave Miller a record of eight straight wins, five yesterday and three today. Soon after this the little jockey took the train for New York to prepare to ride in the Carter handicap at Aqueduct on Monday.

In the hunters' steeplechase four horses started. Dunseverry, ridden by Dion Kerr; Harry Patton, ridden by Courtland Smith; Iron Heart, ridden by A. J. Devereux, of Philadelphia, and Garrett, ridden by Kelly, a professional. All the good running was done by Garrett, his fouling being perfect from start to finish. Dunseverry had no trouble beating the others out for second money, while Iron Heart beat Harry Patton with ease for third place.

Dead Heat. J. W. Colt's Thistledale was picked as the winner in the handicap steeplechase for non-winners during the meeting. He led all the way, but in the stretch was overtaken by Hiltcheck's Phantom. They had it hammer and tongs down the stretch, both walling badly at times.
