TITMAN'S SLASHING DRIVE

In the Eighth Inning He Slammed One Out to the Fence and Scored the First Run.

Results of Yesterday's Games. Richmond, 2; Lynchburg, 0. Norfolk, 2; Portsmouth, 2. Roanoke, 6; Danville, 10. Where They Play To-day. Lynchburg in Richmond. Danville in Roanoke. Portsmouth in Norfolk.

Standing of the Clubs. Table with columns for Club, Won, Lost, Pct. Norfolk 2, 0, .333. Richmond 1, 1, .500. Lynchburg 1, 1, .500. Roanoke 1, 1, .500. Danville 1, 1, .500. Portsmouth 0, 2, .000.

Titman, the great right-fielder for the Lawmakers, pushed the horsehide away to the fence in the centerfield just as the eighth inning was beginning yesterday afternoon, and the center fielder, who was coming into the wigwam of Manager Charlie Shaffer.

The sphere landed out against the fence between center and right, and Hinton, the "owl," put his tootsy wootsies on the rubber. Titman came on around to the third station, and watched him until Rose knooped a veer scratch hit to short that brought him in. The ball took a bad bound and the rules force a hit on the thing. Rose pliffed the second sack, but Jack Anthony ozoned and Hicks died at the first sack from a throw from short. The inning was over with the two runs, and with the grand stand attendants hoarse down to the collar button.

It was one, two, three with the men on each side until this eighth inning. Long was doing the stunts for Richmond, and with one underhand, one overhand and then one mix-up shoot, he did the puzzling stunt to the visitors.

Thirty Men to Bat. Only thirty men faced him in the nine innings. Twenty-seven players were bound to come up there and look over his benders. Two of the men who were secured sacrifice hits and the other one got his walking papers to first. This brings the thing down to twenty-seven men to face him. That's pitching just a little bit, and it pleases him to do it.

Cutawla Wins. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., April 27.—Cutawla College defeated Sharp's Institute here this afternoon by a score of 5 to 1. The feature of the game was the pitching of Fullenwider, of Cutawla, who allowed but two hits and struck out fourteen men.

A. and M., 5; Georgetown, 3. (By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—The Agricultural and Mechanical College of North Carolina to-day defeated Georgetown by hard hitting, the local team using three pitchers in an effort to save the game. Knox, the visitors' third baseman, made a pretty catch of a grounder.

NORFOLK DEFEATS PORTSMOUTH. Was An Easy Shut-Out But for Careless Playing in the Ninth. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., April 27.—The Tercentennialia again defeated the Portsmouth Truckers this afternoon, and this time it was an easy matter. Not a local man made an error. In the third inning, by good stick work and base running, Norfolk started the run-getting by getting two men over the plate. The features of the game were the hitting of Hopkins, for Norfolk, and the playing of Wynn at short stop. Both of these men are showing great form. Wynn cut off some hard drives that looked like sure hits, and his throwing to first was perfect. In the sixth inning Hopkins distinguished himself. Two hits after two men had been retired in this inning got two men on base. Then it was Hopkins' turn at the bat. He got an ovation when he stepped up to the plate. He disappointed none of the Norfolk faithful, but the swing he made on the ball sent gloom to the one thousand rosters from across the Elizabeth. He hit the first ball pitched to him, and it went sailing far over the Portsmouth center fielder's head and on into some foot-ball bleachers that it was thought were out of the way of everything. The ball never found. That made the game secure for the locals. Not until the ninth did the visitors score, and then as a result of a little careless playing by the locals.

ROANOKE. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ROANOKE, VA., April 27.—Danville redeemed herself to-day by shutting out Roanoke by a score of 10 to 0. Gloom was deep in the grand stand and on the bleachers, and many rosters left before the end of the game. Kitterman was in the box for the Highlanders, and he was all that Danville wanted. He was dead easy, and they batted him terribly. Rickard, the Danville pitcher, was too much for the Highlanders. They could not hit him at all. The Roanokes went to pieces and played badly, while Danville put up a snappy game. Here is the story by innings:

Gloom was deep in the grand stand and on the bleachers, and many rosters left before the end of the game. Kitterman was in the box for the Highlanders, and he was all that Danville wanted. He was dead easy, and they batted him terribly. Rickard, the Danville pitcher, was too much for the Highlanders. They could not hit him at all. The Roanokes went to pieces and played badly, while Danville put up a snappy game. Here is the story by innings:

Roanoke 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0. Danville 10 0 0 0 0 0 0 0. Summary: Earned runs, Norfolk 3. Two base hits, Alward and Evans. Home run, Hopkins. Sacrifices, by Dingle, 1. Stolen bases, O'Neill, Reynolds, 1.
