"FAREWELL, RENOWN."

By AUSTIN DOBSON.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

Farewell, Renown! Too fleeting flower, That grows a year to last an hour;— Prize of the race's dust and heat, Too often trodden under feet,— Why should I court your "barren dower"? Nay, had I Dryden's angry power,— The thovs of Ben,—the wind of Gower,— Not less my voice should still repeat Farewell, Renown!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch on Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

The Revival Meetings at Brick Church Compared With the Earlier Days.

SOME MARKED IMPROVEMENT

Orderliness and Attention and Good Behavior is a Contrast.

Below the door of this building the date 1777 showed that the Brick Church (another name given to this edifice) antedated Washington's war. The fine grove of noble old oaks in which the church stands are historical landmarks of the meetings held there when the early settlers rested their rifles beside them in the military respect. Both Indians and British soldiers troubled the land.
