CLOCK NOW NEARS AND WILL TO-DAY PASS $60,000 MARK

Nearly $5,000 Added to the Y. M. C. A. Building Fund By Energetic Canvassers-- Incidents of the Day's Campaign.

Previously acknowledged: $58,152 Citizens' Committee, 929 Young Business Men's Committee, 4,766

Grand total, $62,918. The following reports were made by the chairman of the sub-committee of the Young Business Men's Committee yesterday at the daily luncheon, the second column indicating the standing of the teams:

Table with columns: Name, Total, and Amount. Includes: No. 8-C. J. Billups, 1,871; No. 2-R. S. Tuck, 1,729; No. 3-S. P. Wiley, 1,475; No. 1-M. McGuffee, 1,305; No. 9-W. D. Bahka, 1,185; No. 7-G. D. Duke, 880; No. 10-James W. Gordon, 716; No. 4-S. W. Meek, 395; No. 6-Hugh P. Powell, 375.

Above is the official statement of the Y. M. C. A. campaign at the close of business last night, the clock face, with its cluster of electric lights, showing a hand pointing almost to the sixty thousand mark.

Nearly a hundred men attended the daily luncheon at headquarters yesterday, and cheered the committee reports enthusiastically.

Company B of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Battalion, voted last night a contribution of $50 to the new building fund. It is rumored that Company A will make a similar contribution, and the battalion as a whole may take some action.

Canvassing in Autos. The use of automobiles is proving an effective means of canvassing, one benefit being to bring forth the services of backward members of the committee, who find canvassing from an automobile very attractive.

Undertaker Turns Joke. Mr. McKee humorously called attention to the fact that one of the solicitors, who was an undertaker, had been given the name of a gentleman who was a patient at a hospital. The remark was hardly out before Mr. C. J. Billups, chairman of one of the teams, and an undertaker, was on his feet to explain.

Mr. McKee did not mention any name, but the connection was at once seen by those present, and Mr. Billups added to the amusing aspect of the incident by saying that "he had not called to see the gentleman," remarking that "the gentleman" had not been "any, any."

Captain Newman created some enthusiasm by explaining that his wife had become so interested in the movement that she had contributed to the cause, and that her subscription was in the total he turned in. The largest amount reported yesterday was that of the followers of Captain McGuire, Captain S. P. Wiley's team coming second. However, these amounts were not large enough to change Captain Billups's team from the first place.

Mr. Ward announced last night that after looking over his records he found the first day's results of the Young Business Men's Committee was larger than the total reported by any similar committee on the same day in any campaign he had conducted. There are only thirteen working days left for the campaign.
