

ANNIVERSARY AT SEVENTH STREET

Large Congregations Present at Celebration of Interesting Event Yesterday.

RECORD OF ORGANIZATION

Pastor Outlines Work Done During Long History—Evangelist Speaks at Night.

The Seventh Street Christian Church, the parent organization of the Disciples of Christ in Virginia, celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary yesterday with appropriate exercises.

The morning service was attended by an audience that entirely filled the building, the address being by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Haley, who gave a sketch of the history of the congregation and of its distinctive principles.

Mr. Haley stated in the beginning of his address that it had been his purpose to secure adequate data for a detailed and accurate history of the church, especially in the earlier periods of its life.

Thomas Campbell, father of the illustrious Alexander Campbell, came to Richmond on the 5th of January, 1832, and delivered a few sermons by invitation of the pastor of the First Baptist Church.

In 1833 the new church erected a building on Eleventh Street, between Broad and Marshall, known as the Sycamore Church, and named from a large sycamore tree that stood in front of it.

Four or five congregations have been formed out of Seventh Street, and many hundreds brought into the church here have gone to other parts of the country.

At the evening service an equally large audience was present to hear the noted evangelist, Rev. James Small, his topic being "The Revival of the Urseem."

Mr. Small said, in part: "If I take the unseen out of this world we have nothing left. Here he went into a great many fields of illustrations. 'The flower is thought water-forged, it is the unseen that makes the song, the book, the picture, what is a song without words, a book or a picture without a message?'"

KNOCKED OUT SIX PROMINENT MEN ONE AFTER OTHER IN NEW COMPANY

Young Man Felled Opponents as Fast as They Came Within Reach.

There were seven actors in this little tragedy-comedy. The day was Saturday, one and a half hours before midnight. The setting of the scene was brilliant with an array of iridescent glassware, bottles of fancy design, steins and small glasses of delicate pattern.

The hero was about to drain a stein of foaming lager. Before it could touch his lips an insult was offered. Some one slapped him. Quick as a flash—Diamond Dick couldn't have done it better—he swung his strong right arm round and felled his opponent with a blow.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

New Building of Hasker Memorial Congregation Is Opened.

The handsome new building of the Hasker Memorial Methodist Church was dedicated yesterday morning with appropriate services conducted by the pastor, Rev. Kenneth Meigs, and the singing order of the district, Rev. V. Tudor, D. D.

Dr. Tudor preached at both services to large audiences. Special music was rendered, the voluntary chorus, "Christ Is Made the Sure Foundation," being a special feature of the dedication. At the evening service the members sang a voluntary, "Great King of Glory, Come."

The growth of the congregation under the present pastor, Rev. Kenneth Meigs, has been notable. The new building is neatly furnished and presents a neat and attractive appearance inside and out.

BOSTOCK IS COMING WITH TRAINLOAD OF WILD BEASTS

Four Elephants, Fourteen More Lions, and Number of Other Animals Will Leave New York for Richmond To-Day--Made Trip Across Water.

That Frank C. Bostock, the "Animal King," is shipping his animals direct to Richmond, and that the people here will have an opportunity of seeing at the size of the gathering the House of Delegates, is attested by the following letter, which was evidently mailed on a fast steamer, and which was received here yesterday.

"Paris, Feb. 23, 1907. 'Bernard Schullis, Treasurer' 'Dear Sir:—Please arrange for train of his freight cars to be shipped to Richmond for four elephants, fourteen lions, seven tigers, twelve bears, one wolf, four camels and a troupe of performing dogs.' 'It regards to yourself and all.' 'F. C. BOSTOCK.'"

From this it will be seen that the animals are due to arrive in New York to-morrow, probably in the afternoon. Mr. Schullis says he has completed all arrangements for the train to be rushed through to Richmond. If the animals are transhipped promptly, they should arrive here not later than Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Bostock is apparently also on the Mississippi, and is due in New York Tuesday. In this event he will probably not reach Richmond before the latter part of the week.

Dr. B. I. Bostock and Mr. R. J. Aginton arrived in Richmond yesterday morning from Norfolk, where they closed a contract Saturday with G. Sydney Young, manager of the Colonial Amusement Company, for a building to face the exposition entrance, and to cost not less than $40,000.

CHAUFFEUR RAN INTO BOY; DID NOT STOP

A small boy, whose name could not be learned, was run down by Marshall Street, near Fifth, yesterday afternoon by an automobile. The chauffeur who drove the car did not slacken speed when he saw the boy in the street, and that after the car had been knocked down, paid no attention to him. Fortunately, the boy was not seriously injured and was able to go to his home.

COMMENDED BY PASTOR

In the course of his sermon at the First Baptist Church, yesterday forenoon, the pastor, Rev. George W. McDaniel, D. D., incidentally commended Mayor McCarthy as a man and as an official. He was preaching on Paul's Epistle to the Galatians, and some analogy in the course of the discourse suggested the reference to the Mayor.

Dr. McDaniel stated that he was glad he lived in a city which had a Mayor who thought clearly and spoke fearlessly. The Mayor was characterized as a man of courage, integrity and initiative. The preacher stated that while he did not always agree with the Mayor, he always recognized his integrity of purpose.
