

RICHMOND PLAYS ROANOKE AGAIN

Saturday's Game Was Poor Exhibit for the Law-makers.

VISITORS SHOWED UP WELL

Cooper and McMahon Starred. Danville and Richmond Must Fight for First Place.

Richmond returns with Roanoke to play in Roanoke for the first three days of the week, after having won two out of the three games played here.

The Lawmakers gave a poor account of themselves in Saturday's game, which everybody had expected to be the third victory for the locals. The game was lost in the first inning through the several errors made, Roanoke getting four times across the plate. The defeat is not to be charged up to Mike Cassidy. The Irishman pitched a good game, allowing only six hits. Kirkpatrick, who threw the ball wild to Shaffer in the first inning and let in two runs, redeemed himself later by making two out of the three hits secured off Morrissey's twirling. Cowan got the other hit.

Cooper, Roanoke's catcher, was one of the stars in Saturday's game. He got two hits, made a run, and had two assists chalked up to his credit, besides catching an errorless game. McMahon made a pretty play in the fifth inning, when he reached up and brought down what seemed would be a hit from Shaffer's bat. Roanoke played a strong game all through the nine innings.

Danville goes over to Portsmouth this week, and if the Tobaccoists keep up their good playing it is pretty certain that they will win at least two out of the three. Richmond, in that case, must win all three to be in the lead with Danville. But, of course, there may be many changes before the end of the week.

Great interest was taken in the thirteenth spring annual meeting of the Deep Run Hunt Club Saturday afternoon. An unusually large crowd turned out for the cool weather, and watched the races with avid interest.

The last of the college championship games will be played on Broad-Street Park at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when the Spiders and Yellowjackets will meet in the annual game. Local interest is running very high, as both colleges have a strong list of alumni in the city. Randolph-Macon will probably bring down the relay of rooters with them from Ashland, and the rooting will be one of the chief points in the game.

RICHMOND MAN WAS FOUND DEAD

Registered in New York Hotel as Frank Heizoge, but Unknown Here.

NEW YORK, May 12.—A man about forty-five years old, registering at the Chean Hotel Friday afternoon as Frank Heizoge, of Richmond, Va., was discovered dead in his room Saturday morning by a chambermaid. When the ambulance was called from Williamsburg Hospital, Dr. Vogt said the man had died from heart disease. Thirty dollars in cash and a number of envelopes were found among his pockets, but nothing further to identify him, as the letters had evidently been destroyed when read. Two more of the Richmond postmark, dated April 6th and 20th, respectively. Nothing was known of the man at the hotel. He had the appearance of being a prosperous mechanic of some sort, as he was rugged, stout and in apparent good health.

No such name as Frank Heizoge appears in the city directory of Richmond.

KUROKI LEAVES FOR JAMESTOWN

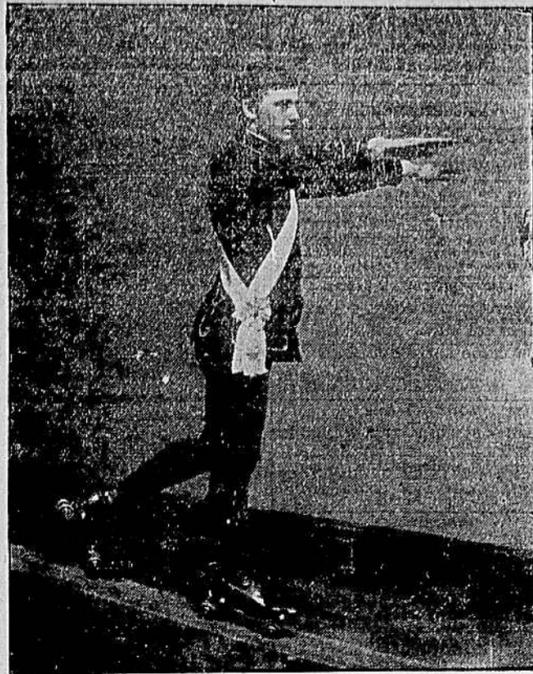

Will Arrive in Norfolk on Steamer This Morning for Big Event.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—After spending the day sight-seeing, General Baron Kuroki and the Japanese army and military officers, who, with the distinguished visitors from other foreign countries, have been entertained in Washington for the last few days as the guests of the nation, to-day were guests at a luncheon given by Lieutenant-General and Mrs. McArthur, with the Chinese and Chinese visitors General Kuroki and his party left tonight on the steamer Newport for Norfolk to visit the Jamestown Exposition.

The Duke de Abruzzi, who has been a guest of the Italian Ambassador since last Thursday, returned to Jamestown early to-day. The Argentine delegation returned to Hampton Roads on the training ship Presidente Sarmiento. General McArthur, who accompanied General Kuroki and the Japanese party from the Pacific coast to Washington to-night, returned to his post at Milwaukee. General O. E. Wood, U. S. A., retired, will act as the government's escort to the Japanese visitors during their stay in this country.

SPIDERS TO PLAY YELLOW JACKETS

Randolph Macon and Richmond College to Try for Second Place.

WILL BE A PITCHERS' BATTLE

Wright and Martin to Do the Twirling—Game Called at 4 o'Clock.

Richmond College and Randolph-Macon will cross bats this afternoon at the Broad Street Park at 4 o'clock, the game to decide which team is to be entitled to second place in the Eastern Virginia Intercollegiate League, first place having gone to William and Mary.

The game this afternoon will be exciting and interesting through the course of its nine innings, as both teams will put up a desperate fight for the victory. Both have defeated Hampden-Sidney, which is now out of the running.

On account of rain several games on the Richmond College schedule were canceled, causing the team to miss the most of their trips. In the championship game with William and Mary the most intense excitement prevailed throughout the game, both teams having a large crowd of rooters. Then in a most heart-breaking finish William and Mary won by the narrow margin of 7 to 6.

In the Hampden-Sidney game, which was played at Hampden-Sidney, the ninth inning was one of the most thrilling interest, with the score 2 to 2 in favor of Richmond. Hampden-Sidney had men on second and third, with no one out, but by the masterful pitching of Wright the side was retired, giving Richmond the victory. In the championship game with Randolph-Macon, a beautiful exhibition of college ball is to be expected. With Martin pitching for Randolph-Macon and Wright, who has developed into one of the best college twirlers in the State, a pitchers' battle will probably be the feature of the game.

Following is a record of games played by Richmond College: Princeton, 16; Richmond, 2; Richmond Professionals, 10; Richmond, 7; Richmond Professionals, 17; Richmond, 5; Trinity, 4; Richmond, 6; Davidson, 3; Richmond, 1; Randolph-Macon, 4; Richmond, 7; William and Mary 7; Richmond, 6 (championship); Hampden-Sidney, 2; Richmond, 3 (championship).

BEALE WINNER OF DEBATER'S MEDAL

Annual Contest Held Friday Night at Richmond College.

The contest for the debater's medal at Richmond College was held on Friday night, the prize going to Mr. R. N. Beale, of the junior class. The medal is given annually by the Philological Literary Society of the college, and the contest was held in their hall on Friday evening in the presence of a large number of persons. All five of the speakers were at their best, and the three judges had to give careful consideration to their selection. Notwithstanding the long program, the audience greatly enjoyed the various efforts, and applauded liberally from time to time.

Mr. Buckman, of West Virginia, more than once brought the house down by his characteristic way of speaking and his biting sarcasm. He was followed by Mr. J. H. Terry, who also won the approval of his hearers by his eloquent appeal for the interests of the South.

MORE EVIDENCE AGAINST O'BRIEN

Champion James J. Jeffries Says Philadelphia Man Approached Him With Proposition.

WANTED JEFF TO LAY DOWN

Offered Latter $80,000 Dollars to Take the Count in Fight With Him in Nevada.

LOS ANGELES, May 12.—Big Jim Jeffries, the retired heavyweight champion of the world, and the one man in whom the sporting public has implicit confidence, has added the first bit to the career of Joseph Hagan, better known as Jack O'Brien. O'Brien has always been regarded as a smooth business man, but it will amaze his closest friends to learn that he actually had the audacity to propose to Jim Jeffries that the latter make a fight with him in Nevada. Jeffries to take the count for the sum of $80,000.

Big Jim was an interested spectator at the ringside, and the poor showing which O'Brien made puzzled and disgusted him. This morning he learned of O'Brien's attempt to frame up the fight, and so great was his wrath that he told the following story, stating that he believed the time had come to rid the game of Jack O'Brien and drive him from the ring disgraced and discredited.

Jim Makes Statement. "Tried to tie Tommy up to get out to him, did he?" asked Jeff. "Well, it should not surprise me in the least, for he tried to do the same thing with me. Jack O'Brien is the first and only man who ever came and asked me to do a crooked thing. Of all the fighters and managers I know, this man is the only one who ever had the gall to ask me to fake a fight. Worse than that, he wanted me to lay down to him. Here is what happened:

"Shortly after the fight with Burns, O'Brien made a trip to Nevada to see the Gans-Herman battle and look over the possibilities in that State. When he returned to Los Angeles he called on me in the morning when he called, and he just no time about getting down to business. He did not make any bones about it, either. "I saw that he was trying to make me say something, but I shut him up and made him come out with it. "It is just this," he said finally. "I have found a certain party or parties in Nevada who say they will give a $30,000 purse for a fight between you and me. They will place an additional $50,000 in the bank for you, making $80,000 in all—every cent of which will go to you."

"He then stopped for a second and wound up with these identical words: "But you will have to take the count to get it." "It nearly paralyzed me that he should come out with a bald-faced plan like that. I began to laugh at him and he saw right away that it was all off. I told him that I did not need money that had and he interrupted me again to say: "Of course, I did not think that you would pay any attention to it, and I told the Nevada people so at the time." "Before O'Brien went away I told him that I had been on the level so far, and if he ever brought another offer would have to be on the square. What is $80,000 to a man alongside his record for being square? It would be selling out pretty cheap, I think. It is worth a lot more than that to me to be on the square. I told him that if I had been out to do anything like that I would have pulled it off long ago. And then he went away. "That was the only time a man ever came to me with a proposition of that sort, and under the circumstances I feel justified in telling the story. O'Brien tried the same thing with Burns, and McCarty outfigured him. What do you think of a fellow who put up a fight like he did the other night having the nerve to ask me to take the count for him?"

The scene of the crime is about half a mile from the city. Seales is still at large.

TRAP-SHOOTING A GROWING SPORT

Four More Tournaments to Be Held This Season.

Trap-shooting, a growing sport among shotgun shooters, owes much to the Interstate Association for the Promotion of Trap-Shooting, which has perfected the rules, organized the tournaments, and assisted in a thousand ways to raise it to its present high level.

Started in 1892, it had a pretty hard time up to the first Grand American Handicap, which was held at Dexter Park, L. I., April 5 to 7, 1893. From that time interest in trap-shooting became general in the East. Then it spread westward, and in 1893, when the Grand American Handicap was held at Kansas City, Mo., there was an entry list of 437, with 456 actual starters. Last year the sport had practically captured every section of the country, and four new handicaps were arranged. The Eastern Handicap was held at Philadelphia; the Southern at Nashville, Tenn.; the Western at Denver, Col., and the Pacific Coast Handicap at Los Angeles, Cal. All were successes in every way.

For the present year the board of directors are J. A. Haskell, president; W. F. Parker, vice-president; A. C. Barrell, treasurer; T. H. Keller, Charles Tatham, A. H. Durston and J. T. Skelley, with Elmer E. Shaner as secretary-manager.

The Interstate tournaments for the current season are the Grand American Handicap at Chicago, June 18th to 21st; the Eastern Handicap, at Boston, July 16th to 18th; the Western Handicap, at Denver, August 20th to 22d, and the Pacific Coast Handicap, at Spokane, Wash., September 10th to 12th.

SENATOR FORAKER AGAINST ALL DEALS

Wants Indorsements Deferred Until State Convention Meets.

PRIMARY FOR DELEGATES

Will Not Regard as Binding Any Action Taken Now by Party Leaders.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Senator Foraker, of Ohio, to-night issued a statement on the Ohio political situation in reply to Representative Burton, saying that so far as he (Mr. Foraker) was concerned no effort (whatever has been made to make a deal or bargain or compromise with anybody about anything; that the statement issued by George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, was not in Mr. Foraker's interest or with his approval, but that Mr. Cox was striving for party harmony, and that (Mr. Foraker) was willing to accept the results if the convention should act favorably on Mr. Cox's recommendation. The Senator says all questions of indorsement for nomination should be deferred until the next State convention, and he will not regard as binding any action taken meanwhile by any individual or committee not authorized to settle these questions for Ohio Republicans.

The Senator reiterates that he will request that the call for the next State convention, provided that the delegates be elected from the various counties at primaries.

Mr. Burton's statement is likely to create a false impression. So far as I am concerned, no effort whatever has been made to make a deal, or a bargain, or a compromise with anybody about anything. The statement put out by Mr. Cox was his own, and he made it on his own motion, and certainly not in my interest, nor with my approval. At the same time, I thought he was striving for party harmony, and that his purpose was a laudable one, and I was willing to accept the results if the convention should act favorably upon his recommendations, not because I was included in his plan of compromise, but because I was willing to conform to anything reasonable that party good might seem to require.

FOR PARTY UNION

"I think it the first duty of any man who believes in Republican principles and aspires to represent them to contribute to the party union, strength and victory. In saying what I did in response to Mr. Cox's recommendations, I went as far, however, as I can go, consistently with self-respect. It would have been very gratifying to me if all strifes and contentions were at once hushed, not on my own account, but for party good; but inasmuch as that seems impossible—judging by what I learn from the newspapers and otherwise as to the attitude of the friends of Secretary Taft—I think it due to my friends and to the whole body of Republican voters in the State to announce that all questions of indorsement and nomination should, in my opinion, be deferred until the next State convention can act upon them. That is the only body that has the power to authoritatively speak on such a subject.

ACTION NOW NOT PROPER.

"I shall not, therefore, regard as bearing upon me or any of my friends, any action that may be taken in the meanwhile by any individual, any committee or committees not specifically authorized to settle these questions for the Republicans of Ohio.

The rejection of the suggestions looking to an adjustment of differences has the effect, as far as I am concerned, of restoring the situation we were in before Mr. Cox's statement was issued. After the November elections are out of the way I shall, according to my public announcement, request the State central committee to provide that the delegates shall be elected from the various counties at primaries, duly held under the statute in such case applicable, to the end that the party may assemble in a body and have an opportunity to determine, as they should, what is to be done as to all matters in which they will at that time be interested.

"I take advantage of this opportunity to say that all nominations and indorsements that can be properly and authoritatively made only by the State convention should be left for that body to deal with. Efforts to settle them in advance by unofficial, individual announcement or committee action, no matter how well intended, usually do more harm than good. "The party is now stronger, and can act more intelligently if we will always wait for its duly chosen representatives to speak on such questions, and then loyally abide the action so taken.

WOMAN FOUGHT WHITE INTRUDER

Miss Caruthers, of Lynchburg, Had Trying Experience With Thug.

LYNCHBURG, VA., May 12.—Miss Bert Caruthers, a young lady about twenty-one, living with her aged parents, near the Virginia Christian College, in the West End, was the victim of an attempted attack last night by a white man. She returned from a visit to a neighbor's home about 10:30 o'clock, and as she started to enter the front door she was pulled by the hand of a man who was on the porch and who had been waiting for her. She was dragged into the house and the man attacked her.

GIATTANOGA, TENN., May 12.—In a wreck on the Central of Georgia Railroad at Ramo, Ga., to-day, T. H. Hadden, an employe of the State of Georgia, was killed by a lion.
