

RANDOLPH-MACON FINALS AT AN END

Despite Bad Weather Large Crowd Attends Exercises of Commencement Proper.

DR. BRISTOL'S ADDRESS

His Discussion of Education and Opportunity Most Inspirational—Class Celebration.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ASHLAND, VA., June 13.—This was commencement day at Randolph-Macon College, and in spite of the rainy weather a large audience greeted Dr. Bristol at the exercises six years ago when he delivered the address before the graduating class. He was introduced by President Blackwell, who reminded the audience of the occasion six years ago when the speaker brought "Brains" as his subject, and his subject to-day was "Opportunity." Dr. Bristol delivered the most powerful and inspiring address on the intense significance of education which has been heard here on this subject.

Dr. Bristol is a member of the Northern Methodist Conference, and was for seven years the secretary of the President McKinley's Church, in Washington, D. C. He was heard by an audience that did not realize the three minutes he addressed his remarks in ringing eloquence and in an inspiring manner on a grand "opportunity" for the worthy poor young man in this country. He said the question to-day is not "what does the young man know?" but "what can he do with what he knows." The zenith of his address was reached when he quoted: "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," which by all would be a mistake, for if it were true this would be "God's country" in the true sense of the word. He had finished speaking he was given an ovation, and several persons left the audience quickly to congratulate him on the platform.

Address to Alumni. President Howard Edwards, of Providence, R. I., of the class of '78 of Randolph-Macon College, delivered an address before the alumni and was most cordially received. His address was one of the most profound and un-erring ever heard here. He addressed the eternity of the soul by the undepicted eternity of matter. The graduating class of twenty-one bachelors of arts, the master of arts assembled in front of the platform, and after a short address by President Edwards, were presented with their diplomas. Gentlemen composing the class are: Bachelors of Arts. W. C. Baker, J. R. Booth, G. L. Burton, W. L. Cheney, Keith Carter, W. L. Devaney, W. L. Dolly, W. L. Ellis, H. H. Fox, J. H. Gentry, W. L. Harris, D. A. Harrison, E. D. Hellweg, A. M. Jordan, P. I. Leadbetter, G. W. Marshall, M. R. Robertson, J. G. Sawyer, J. P. Simmons, E. L. Starr, L. W. White.

The prize for the best prose article in the Randolph-Macon Monthly this session was presented to Mr. E. D. Hellweg by Dr. S. C. Cox, a member of the board of trustees. He is now in his eighty-fourth year, having seen sixty-three years in the ministry. The successful contestant for the Sutherland medal of arts was Frank W. W. Barnard, R. V. Lancaster, T. M. W. L. Dolly, and Mr. W. L. Dolly, who were awarded the prize. The prize was given by Rev. Mr. Harry Carter, of Woodstock, Va. The prize for the best poem contributed to the Monthly during this session was awarded to Mr. J. P. Simmons. Rev. Sam C. Hatcher made the presentation, and in doing so repeated one of his own poems which he said had been the means of his catching his first and only sweetheart. The Walton Greek prize was awarded to Rev. Mr. Carter to Mr. J. P. Simmons. The Shepherd chemical prize was awarded to Mr. W. A. Taylor, and the Murray school prize, which was so eagerly sought after each year, were awarded to the Burton brothers amid great applause. The night was class night celebration.

President T. M. Harris was in the chair. An original poem was read by Mr. P. Simmons. Mr. Cheney delivered an eloquent oration, and the salutatorian of the class was Mr. J. G. Sawyer. Mr. Hellweg made the "recommendations" and Mr. Dolly the "recommendations." Mr. Robertson wrote the history, and the parting word, the valedictory was delivered by Mrs. W. D. Mills.

ENJOYABLE DANCES. Germans Prove One of the Features of Handover-Sidney Picnic. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] HAMPDEN-SIDNEY COLLEGE, VA., June 13.—The commencement just ended, several delightful dances took place. Those of Tuesday and Wednesday night, given by the German Club, were among the most enjoyable ever given by that organization. The conditions out of doors seemed to have but little effect on the attendance of the young people at their sports. The two Germans were led by Messrs. Beverly Sims, of Tazewell, and E. C. Wacker, of Farmville. Among the dancers were Miss Faulstich, of Staunton; Miss Paneko, of Staunton; Miss Paneko, of Front Royal; Miss Dillard, of Chatham; Miss Marshall, of Richmond; Miss Williams, of Woodstock; Miss Annie Hawkins, and Miss Jennie Hawkins, of Fayetteville, W. Va.; Gertrude Haller, of Fayetteville, W. Va.

Every Whisper

of Fashion is faithfully reflected in the tailoring of our Summer Suits. The Soft Roll Lapel? Of course. The Form-Tracing Back? To be sure. The Creased Side Seam? If you want it. The Slight Bottom Flare? Yes. And mark this well—each Suit is tailored to hold its shape perfectly to the last day of wear.

$10 to $25.

Jacobs & Levy.

Have you seen our $2.95 Trouser Special? They are $3.50 and $4 values.

chontas; Miss Hopkins, of Tazewell; Miss Shreckie, of Staunton; Miss March, of Staunton; Miss Bessie, of Woodstock; Miss Hattie Paulett, Miss Mildred Richardson, Miss Ann Richardson, Miss Lizzie Richardson, Miss Hattie Cox, Miss Edith Duvall, of Farmville, and Miss McWhorter, and Miss Frankie Jones, of Hampden-Sidney. The chaperons were Mrs. Sallie Paulett, Miss Susie Venable, Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Jones. Among the visiting alumni present were Messrs. Epen Harris, of Blackstone; Robert S. Preston, of Marion; J. E. Allen, of Elkins, W. Va.; W. B. McWhiney, of Petersburg; Thornton Buckner, of Clifton Forge; R. D. Bedinger, of Bristol, Va.; Frank Bedinger, of Boydton, Va.; H. J. Phillips, of Charlottesville; Tazewell Carrington, of Richmond; Stuart Campbell, of Wytheville, Va.; E. W. Wall, of the University of Virginia, and Lionel Hooper, of Covington, Va.

HOTEL EMPLOYEES DEMAND THEIR PAY.

Many Who Worked at Princess, Anne Refuse to Let Manager Take Safe's Contents.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, VA., June 13.—Riotous scenes followed the opening of the safe of the burned Princess Anne Hotel at Virginia Beach. The safe was opened by Ed. Maetin, an expert safe-opener, from Norfolk, in the presence of A. C. Mitchell, who was manager of the hotel, and his personal representative, Attorney O. L. Shackelford, of Norfolk. When Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Shackelford and a third person attempted to board a trolley car for Norfolk, bearing the contents of the safe, which it was intended should be deposited here, Mr. Mitchell was attacked and drawn from the car by a number of the 200 former employees of the hotel who demanded that they should be paid the money due them before the contents of the safe be taken away. Mayor Holland, of Virginia Beach, was present. He threatened there was threats at bodily harm for Mr. Mitchell, who, upon the advice of his counsel, said he would leave the safe in the hands of the police at Virginia Beach, the safe being full of money from the contents of the safe. He further agreed to be accompanied to Norfolk by officers and permit the officers to carry back to the Bank of Princess Anne the two lots of contents which the other men had carried on ahead, leaving on the trolley car in the midst of the excitement. This appeared the angry crowd of unpaid employees, and Mr. Mitchell, accompanied by the Virginia Beach officers and his attorney, came to Norfolk. Bones were found in the ashes, but whether they are those of Emma Clark, the missing chambermaid, is not known. They are, however, supposed to be.

Winchester Lamp. WINCHESTER, VA., June 13.—Harry Baker Markell, a young business man, and Miss Ida May Lamb, daughter of Gen. W. Lamb, of Winchester, were married last night. Rev. James R. Graham, of the Presbyterian Church, officiated.

MANY WEDDINGS IN OLD VIRGINIA

Brides Far More Numerous Than Rare Days in This Month of June.

WEST VIRGINIAN'S BRIDE

Attractive and Accomplished Young Teacher of Lynchburg Weds Mr. Wolverton.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., June 13.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nowlin, in this city, was the scene last night of the wedding of their daughter, Miss Viva Magdalen Nowlin, to Mr. John Calvin Wolverton, of Piedmont, W. Va. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Thomas, of Centenary Methodist Church, only the immediate families of the contracting parties being present. The bride, who has been teaching in the public schools of the city, is an exceedingly popular and accomplished young lady. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wolverton left for a visit to the James town Exposition and returned today after three weeks in Northern cities they will make their home at Piedmont.

RICHMOND WEDS.

Mr. Richardson Becomes Benedict With Miss Hackney, of Wilson, as Bride. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RICHMOND, VA., June 13.—The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nowlin, in this city, was the scene last night of the wedding of their daughter, Miss Viva Magdalen Nowlin, to Mr. John Calvin Wolverton, of Piedmont, W. Va. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Thomas, of Centenary Methodist Church, only the immediate families of the contracting parties being present. The bride, who has been teaching in the public schools of the city, is an exceedingly popular and accomplished young lady. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wolverton left for a visit to the James town Exposition and returned today after three weeks in Northern cities they will make their home at Piedmont.

The wedding party entered in the following order: The ushers, Messrs. W. N. Hackney, George Hackney and John Gorham, of this city, and Mr. J. K. Holloway, of Tarboro; the bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Richardson, of Richmond, Va., sister of the groom; Miss Lila Tucker and Miss Lila Hardee, of Madison, Va., and Miss Pearl Fort, of Parkville, N. C. The maid of honor, Miss Martha Hackney, sister of the bride, was followed by the bride escorted by her father. Arriving at the altar the bride was met by the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Pendleton Goodall, of Richmond, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson took the north-bound train and will spend their honeymoon in New York and other cities before returning here, their future home.

Beautiful Double Wedding.

LOUISA, VA., June 13.—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Edwards, of Louisa, the marriage of Mr. Frank C. Brown to Miss Sue Spicer, and Dr. Thomas M. Taylor, of Louisa, to Miss Kate Spicer, was solemnized at noon yesterday. The brides were tastefully gowned in white and carried the bouquets. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. W. E. Edwards, of Crozet, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. Leo Knowles, of Staunton, Va. The popularity of the young people was shown by the display of handsome and numerous presents. The wedding party left for Richmond, Jamestown and other Eastern points.

Powell-Cove.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LOUISA, VA., June 13.—Mr. Robert H. Powell and Miss Frances Byrd Cove, both of Louisa county, Va., were united in matrimony at the home of the bride's father, on Wednesday, June 12th, at 6:30 P. M., Rev. W. E. Edwards, of Crozet, officiating. The bride, a young lady, was shown by the display of handsome and numerous presents. The wedding party left for Richmond, Jamestown and other Eastern points.

Becomes Bride of Minister.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CROZET, VA., June 12.—Rev. S. W. Day, pastor of the Methodist Church at Cheriton, Northampton county, Va., and Miss Susie B. Wayland, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wayland, of Crozet, were married at 11 o'clock yesterday. Rev. W. E. Edwards, of Crozet, officiating. The bride, a young lady, was shown by the display of handsome and numerous presents. The wedding party left for Richmond, Jamestown and other Eastern points.

Phillips-Coleman.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., June 13.—Miss Bessie Coleman and Mr. Granville Phillips were married yesterday at St. Just, Orange county, at the home of Mr. P. Coleman, the father of the bride.

PARALYSIS CURED. A. A. YODER WINS IN UPPER COURT

Patient Gives All the Credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sorely Afflicted, He Was Cured After Ordinary Methods Failed Even to Give Relief.

There are still people who say that partial paralysis cannot be cured. If you have partial paralysis or some other severe nervous disorder, do you think it is better to be treated by some one who insists that you are incurable, or to try a tried and true, grateful patients throughout the United States testify has cured them? A recent case where a cure was effected was that of Mr. Charles H. Gilson, of Wootton, Iowa Co., Mich. Mr. Gilson is a veteran of the civil war, and was a member of the 1st Michigan Heavy Artillery. The story of his affliction told in his own words is as follows: "In 1893 I was attacked with terrible twitching sensations and numbness all over my body, which my physician said was paralysis, and which he attributed to lead poisoning received during the war. I seemed to be getting paralyzed all over and finally could hardly walk. My eyes became weak and I had to get stronger glasses. I could not move the lid of one of my eyes and my face and mouth were drawn over the right side to such an extent that I could not speak distinctly. I was also troubled with palpitation of the heart. "In the fall of 1898, after having been under the treatment of several doctors and having tried electricity without help, I bought six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. After taking six boxes more, I could stand a hard day's tramp and another six boxes cured me." This case, like numerous others, bears witness to the wonderful curative properties of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in nervous disorders. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure general and nervous debility because they make new blood. They strike at the root of these and other blood diseases, such as rheumatism, anaemia, indigestion and nervous troubles, such as neuritis, nervousness and spinal weakness. A valuable booklet, "Nervous Disorders," will be sent on request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Editor Yoder Wins. One of the most interesting cases decided was that of a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which the Commonwealth vs. Yoder was reversed. The case has attracted widespread attention. The appellant was fined by Judge Whittle, Christian, of Lynchburg, $50, and ordered to jail for fifteen days on the charge of contempt. Judge Whittle suspended sentence for a time in order to allow Yoder to prepare for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Yoder conducted his own case in the lower court, but when it was taken up, former Governor A. J. Sweeney and Senator Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, appeared for him. The case is a banker vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of the city of Lynchburg, in which