General Thomas J. Stewart, of Pennsylvania, who replied, caused a great laugh by saying as he arose that General Dilling had given one Yankee a greater fright by his speech than he ever had in the army, for he could not hope to reply in fitting terms to the splendid speech of welcome.

General Stewart, however, proved an accomplished orator, and made one of the happiest addresses of the day. Following General Stewart's speech Miss Reid and Mrs. McGill unveiled the monument, and as the flags fell away the members of their respective salutes and the band played "Dixie," and then "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," while all stood uncovered.

Colonel Daniel Nagle then on behalf of the association of the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania Regiment, accepted the monument and transferred it to Governor Stuart, of Pennsylvania.

Governor Stuart graciously. Governor Stuart, in a short but eloquent speech, placed the monument in the keeping of the State of Virginia, and in doing so said that he felt that it was as safe and would be as dearly cherished as in his own Commonwealth, and that it therein united a monument within the State of Pennsylvania, he would promise that his people would esteem it an honor to care for it.

Governor Swanson, in reply, made a speech which captured his hearers, and which aroused the utmost enthusiasm among the members of his speech. Governor Swanson received an ovation, and Governor Stuart arose, and grasping both his hands, thanked him for his words of friendship.

Professor S. A. Thurlow delivered the oration of the day in a most eloquent manner, giving a history of the regiment and picturing its many achievements.

Mr. Cameron Host. After a prayer by Rev. Dr. White, the Governors of Pennsylvania and Virginia, with Mrs. McGill, Miss Reid and the members of their respective staffs were photographed in front of the monument, and the procession wended its way to the Crater, where two markers were erected, one at the entrance to the tunnel, which led to the Crater, and one near the Crater. Sergeant W. J. Wells, of the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania Regiment, made the speech, and Mr. James Pleasant, son of Colonel L. C. Pleasant, who planned the mine, was present, and took part in the ceremony.

Immediately following Colonel Geo. Cameron, a member of Governor Swanson's staff, entertained the two Governors and their staffs at his home on the Heights. The entertainment was delightful, and many clever speeches were made, notably by General Stewart, Lieutenant-Governor Murphy, of Pennsylvania, and General Charles J. Anderson, of Virginia.

At 4 o'clock, escorted by the Petersburg Grays, the Governors and their staffs drove to the Elks' Club, where they were handsomely entertained at dinner.

At 6:20 o'clock Governor Swanson left for Richmond, a salute of seventeen guns being fired as his train pulled out of the station.

At 7:12 o'clock Governor Stuart and his party left on a special train, a salute of seventeen guns being fired in his honor, and the Petersburg Grays standing at attention.

Petersburg party. Governor Stuart was accompanied by Lieutenant-Governor Robert S. Murray, Private Secretary Miller, State Senator Charles E. Quail, of Schuylkill county, Pa., and the following members of his staff: Brigadier-General Thomas J. Stewart, adjutant-general Edward Morrell, judge advocate-general, Col. Albert L. Logan, commissary-general; Lieutenant-Colonel Horace L. Haldeeman, assistant commissary-general; Colonel Frank K. Patterson, general inspector of rifle practice; Colonel Sheldon Potter, chief of ordnance, and the following aides-de-camp: Lieutenant-Colonel Lewis T. Browne, V. T. Bradley, James Archibald, L. E. Butler, F. T. Pusey, Charles W. Cook, J. W. Hutchins and J. R. Wiggins. Many of these gentlemen were accompanied by their wives.

Governor Swanson was accompanied by Brigadier-General Charles J. Anderson, Colonel Eugene Masie, Colonel George Cameron, Colonel J. Scott Farish, Colonel A. Sidney Buford, Colonel Jo Lane Stern and Mr. Ben P. Owens, his private secretary.

Federal and Confederate veterans thronged A. P. Hill Camp Hall to-night at the camp fire held in honor of the Pennsylvanians, and the prevailing spirit of the occasion was perhaps best expressed in Governor Stuart's words to-day to Captain Carter R. Bishop, adjutant of A. P. Hill Camp: "We have heard of hospitality; but we think we know what hospitality is; but if you want to find the real thing come to Virginia." Commander Simon Seward presided, and speeches were made by Colonel Daniel Nagle, president of the Survivors' Association, Forty-eighth Pennsylvania, Major Frank R. Leib, chairman of the executive committee; Sergeant W. J. Wells and others.

Mrs. Orelia Mahone McGill, daughter of General William Mahone, gave a beautiful tea at her home, on Market Street, this afternoon, in honor of the veterans of the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania Regiment and the ladies accompanying them.

HOWITZER ASS'N IS CALLED TO MEET. The Howitzer Association, which was organized at the request of several members of the battery, who are proud of the record of the members of the twenty-fourth century command, and desire to show some recognition of the recent achievement of the Howitzers in their march to the Jamestown Exposition.

MR. HUTZLER FILES WRITTEN PROTEST. Mr. Charles Hutzler, a member of the City School Board, submitted last night to a meeting of that body a written protest against the holding of the commencement exercises at the High and Normal School on Friday night.

Objects to School Commencement Exercises on Friday Night. Mr. Charles Hutzler, a member of the City School Board, submitted last night to a meeting of that body a written protest against the holding of the commencement exercises at the High and Normal School on Friday night.

The reasons assigned by Mr. Hutzler are that he feels it his duty as a member of the school board to object to the holding of the commencement exercises, and that being a member of the Jewish congregation, it is likewise his duty to attend worship at the synagogue on Friday night. The protest, which the board declined to enter of record, is as follows: "Believing it to be my duty to attend all closing sessions of the High School, and of the High and Normal School, when diplomas of graduates are presented, and as chairman of the school trustees, in order to show by my presence my interest in the crowning act of the schools, I have for this reason since my connection with the city schools, in the capacity of trustee, invariably attended all such exercises, with the exception of one on Friday night, June 14, 1907, when religious duties demanded my presence elsewhere. "I now offer this mild protest, that I have for this reason, on Friday night, June 14, 1907, for the closing exercises of the High and Normal School, when it was known that the commencement exercises would prevent my attendance. "CHARLES HUGHES, "School Trustee."

MARRY AND TOUR TOGETHER. Brother and Sister Wanted to Be Wedded at Same Time. Mr. Samuel McCune and Miss Mildred Inez Pryde, and Mr. Albert M. Pryde and Miss Rosa Adkins, both couples of Chevy Chase, left the city Wednesday morning for Washington, where they were to be married. Miss Pryde and Mr. Pryde, and Miss Adkins and Mr. Adkins, had their wedding ceremonies at the same place, and at the same time. The four young people will take their honeymoon together, going to Baltimore, then to the Jamestown Exposition, and so back to Richmond, where they will make their homes.

AT NEGRO COMMENCEMENT FORAKER LAUDS NEGROES. WILBERFORCE, O., June 20.—Not since Senator Foraker has here, more than a score of years ago, has this quiet center of colored education been so stirred as it is today. It was to-day that the Rev. Wilberforce University, the leading college of Ohio, and the senior Senator made the annual address to the graduates of the commencement; it was the occasion for an outpouring of thousands of Foraker's friends from far and near. He paid tribute to McKinley and Roosevelt. In spoke of the part taken by the colored soldiers in the Spanish-American War, declaring that "no brave troops have the flag in glory in that contest than the Ninth and Tenth Cavalry and the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Infantry, and the colored soldiers, and as it was in Cuba, so was it in the Philippines."

IRISHMEN DEMANDING SELF-GOVERNMENT. DUBLIN, June 20.—Sixty-four representatives of the districts and seven members of the House of Commons attended a meeting to-day of the national directors of the United Irish League. John Redmond presided, and the object of the meeting was to take steps to organize an Irish protest against the continual denial of self-government for Ireland.

Capture Ten Blockaders. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., June 20.—Ten blockaders, captured in the Smithtown section of Stokes county yesterday morning, were brought to Mr. Airy early this morning and given a hearing before a United States commissioner, who bound them over to the next term of the Federal court at Greensboro. Their bonds were fixed at $100 each, and in default thereof the prisoners were carried to jail at Dobson.

PRESBYTERIANS AT FOREST HILL

Union Picnic of Several Churches at Popular Suburban Park.

MINISTERS ROOT AT GAME. Several Divines Take Active Part in Cheering on the Ball-Players.

The Presbyterian Sunday-schools of Richmond and vicinity held their annual picnic at Forest Hill Park yesterday, over a thousand young people taking part in the pleasures of a day in the open air. Everything was Presbyterian, from the blue sky to the blue boats on the lake. Even the music box on the merry-go-round played Presbyterian hymns. The boys at the baseball games were anything but blue, it being explained by a reverend divine that all had not been thoroughly indoctrinated as yet. One young shaver, who advised the batter to "knock the ball to home" and back, had certainly been carefully taught as to the actual existence of the hereafter.

WEDNESDAY CLUB FESTIVAL CHORUS

Six Hundred Voices to Sing To-Night With the Innes' Orchestral Band.

PROSPECT FOR FULL HOUSES FOR ALL THREE CONCERTS—Full Programs.

The grand music festival, under the direction of the Wednesday Club, opens to-night with the great chorus, in which over 600 voices will be introduced, together with one of the leading orchestral bands in this country. Mr. Walter C. Mercer, the director of the Wednesday Club, said last night that every indication pointed to a most successful series of entertainments, equal to, if not superior to anything yet attempted by the Wednesday Club.

Mr. Mercer also asks that every member of the reunion chorus be present to-night in good time, whether they were in attendance at the rehearsal last Monday night or not. Members of the chorus are requested to enter the side door on Market Street, at the rear of the building, and to be in their seats by 8:15 P. M.

Mr. Mercer also asks that not less than one thousand children will meet him at 10 o'clock this morning at the City Auditorium to practice for the children's concert of Saturday afternoon.

Seats are reported as selling rapidly, the clerk at the Jefferson saying yesterday that the hotel had never handled tickets to any entertainment to which there was so considerable and constant demand.

Mr. Innes Arrives. Mr. and Mrs. Innes and the entire band arrived in Richmond yesterday afternoon. Mr. Innes, when seen last night at the Jefferson Hotel, said he thought the programs prepared by Mr. Mercer would be found most acceptable to a Southern audience. "Southern people know good music, and we are giving them some of the best on these programs. Of course, we will play some popular airs on the encores. But I think the people of Richmond will find the music most acceptable."

Mr. Mercer said last night that the programs prepared for the concerts were a happy mingling of the classics and popular numbers. Mr. Innes is noted as a liberal provider, and always gives for encores numbers of a higher character.

Twenty rows of seats, running across the entire platform of the Auditorium, have been erected with a platform for the band directly in front. Rows of incandescent lights have been put up, and everything is in order for the great festival.

The members of the City Council have been invited to be present, and will watch with interest the experiment of a wooden platform, which will obviate the complaint of poor acoustics in the building.

As many seats as the house will comfortably seat have been placed on sale, so that there will be no overcrowding, and all purchasers of tickets will be assured of getting seats.

To-night's Program. Following is the program for to-night: 1. Second Hungarian Rhapsody (Liszt). 2. "Inferno, Ye Portals" (Gounod). Reunion Chorus and band, under the direction of Walter C. Mercer.

3. From "Sylvia" (Ballet), Delibes—(a) "Valse Centee," (b) "Pizzicati." 4. "The Heavens Are Telling" (Haydn), chorus and band. 5. From "Parsifal," "Procession of the Holy Grail" (Wagner). 6. "How Lovely Are the Messengers" (Mendelssohn), chorus and band. 7. Autumn Idyl for harp solo (Williams), H. J. Williams.

8. "How Lovely Are the Messengers" (Verdi). Introducing all the soloists in well-known arias, duos, etc., and ending with the famous "Anvil Chorus," by band and chorus.

RACE FEELING IS RUNNING HIGH NOW. ITALIAN LABORERS SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Appointment of Negroes to Government Service Offensive. Four Killed Outright and Two Unconscious from Power.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20.—Race feeling is running high these days in the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury. It is the outgrowth of the appointment of a second negro draughtsman in the office. A few weeks ago there was one appointed by certification from the Civil Service Commission, and there was a great deal of feeling shown at that time, which took the form of threats on the part of the white men to withdraw. One draughtsman did resign rather than to work with a negro. But the white draughtsmen finally submitted to the inevitable and settled down to a condition that was by no means satisfactory to them. But a few weeks elapsed, however, until there was another vacancy, and the Civil Service Commission certified the name of a negro, one Woodson, who had been appointed, as there was no other name certified, and so the draughtsmen are up against it again.

The conditions are unlike those when a negro is appointed to a simple clerical position. In the latter case the negro may be placed in one side of an office, with a desk all by himself. In the other case he has to work at the same desks with white men. They are assigned, three or four to a squad, to every set of plans, and they are to work with their heads together bending over the same table.

Whites Not Applying. The appointment of negroes under civil service to the higher positions is becoming more common every day. The better class of white people are not taking the examinations as much as they used to, partly because of just such situations as those which the draughtsmen are facing to-day, and partly because they have remunerative positions in private life. Hence the negro is getting many more jobs than he used to.

Charles E. Kemper, assistant to the secretary of the Interior, and an Augusta county man, said to-day that it was a situation ever which he nor the office had any control. The appointment of Woodson was in conformity with the law, and under the circumstances was required by law. Mr. Kemper did not care to express his personal views on the matter.

MILL MEN MEET. Opening Session of Cotton Manufacturers' Convention Largely Attended. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GREENSBORO, N. C., June 20.—At the opening of the first annual session of the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association here to-day twenty-five mill men were present and 85 per cent of the cotton mills of the State were represented. Reports from various committees showed a new era of milling industry in the State, 300,000 spindles having been added since January last, bringing the number now up to over 2,000,000 spindles. Caesar Cone for the committee on supplies, reported that good coal was difficult to obtain, the supply being less than the demand, and for this reason coal owners were indifferent to overtures for reduction of prices, even ready to sign yearly supply contracts on any terms.

Value of Newspaper Advertising. The strike at Butte has been settled and the dailies are again publishing. The publishers and will be paid five dollars for day work and five-fifty for night work.

Reviewing the situation, a Butte newspaper editor, as represented in the region once supplied with news by four great Montana newspapers, has learned something since February 13, 1907. "Never again must the newspapers of this field labor with civilized man to convince him that he should have the paper left at his front door every morning and proclaim his merchandise through the paper's advertisements. Civilized man's books show that the newspaper pages are worth more to his store than all the windows he can decorate beautifully, all the front yards he can litter with handbills, all the billboards he can plaster with posters, all the streets he can illuminate with banners, all the sandwich men he can equip, all the grotesque forms of advertising he can devise—and he has devised many. He has learned that the women, who do the bulk of the buying, have a habit of planning the shopping campaign largely along lines suggested by the newspaper advertisement, and that habit is hard to break."—Merz's Magazine.

Want to Hear Butler Speak. SALISBURY, N. C., June 20.—A movement is on foot in Rowan county to invite ex-Senator Marlow Butler here to Salisbury to make a speech in the near future. The former Senator has many friends in this section, and it is intimated that some of them are anxious to see him make a fresh attack on State Chairman Spencer H. Adams, with whom he had a wordy battle during the past few weeks.

Quality is what you want in a piano. Quality is what ours contain...

If you buy an instrument that lacks quality—though you pay a little price for it—you have lost all. The various cheap, unreliable and really worthless Pianos that are so plentiful, never give satisfaction. More than one never enters the home of the members of any one family.

The Pianos we sell are the best Pianos made. Every single instrument is honest in construction, finish and tone. That is why purchasers are our best advertisers.

Come and test these Pianos—Grands and Uprights—from many factories. Note the prices and liberal terms. Read this line:
