

CLEMENCEAU GIVES HOPEFUL REPORT

Rioting in France Subsides and Mutilous Troops Return.

WINE FRAUDS BILLS PASS

Government Thereby Prepared to Remove Principal Grievance.

PARIS, June 22.—The situation resulting from the wine growers' movement, which was followed by the resignations, as marks of sympathy, of the officials of many municipalities and by serious rioting and a mutiny of troops, appears to have improved considerably to-day.

No further disturbances of importance were reported. The mutinous troops returned to the barracks at Agde, the roll-call showing only one man missing.

The Chamber of Deputies passed, as a whole and practically unanimously, all the clauses of the wine frauds bill previously adopted separately, thus enabling the government to put the measure into immediate effect and remove the principal grievances of the wine growers, and finally the bishops in the disturbed area exhorted the people to avoid any further violence.

The result is that Premier Clemenceau is able to give his colleagues a generally hopeful report of the situation, but the planned visit of President Fallieres to Royan and Bordeaux, and all the ministerial engagements for festive functions in the immediate future have been cancelled.

No Shooting on Victor Hugo.

PARIS, June 22.—The maritime authorities of L'Orient say there is no truth in the report that a mutiny has occurred on the French armored cruiser Victor Hugo, recently in American waters. They say they have received a dispatch, announcing that the warship has passed to Azores bound for the island of Madeira, and that she reported all well on board.

U. S. DISPENSATORY

Describes the Principal Ingredients Contained in Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensatory says of the principal ingredients of Peruna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Peruna, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic. So also is cubeba classed as a stomachic and as a tonic for the mucous membranes.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. The seeds are to be found in very few drug stores. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Oil of copaiba, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

PROMINENT DOCTOR COMMITS SUICIDE

Did So Because of Fear That He Could not Succeed in Life.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 22.—Fearing he could not succeed in his chosen profession, Dr. Henry S. Hutchinson, son of a prominent citizen of this city, committed suicide in a field at Lansdowne, Pa., near here, by cutting his throat with a razor. The body was found to-day, and it is believed he committed the deed a day or two ago. An affectionate letter, addressed to his father, was found near the body. It is believed that Hutchinson, after swallowing a poison, cut his throat to make sure of death. Dr. Hutchinson was about thirty-five years of age, and was graduated from Harvard and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania.

STREAM ON FIRE FOR TWO MILES

BUTLER, PA., June 22.—Late tonight 25,000 barrels of oil, which were ignited at noon to-day by a bolt of lightning at the Valvoline Oil Company, at East Butler, are still burning fiercely. Fears are entertained that twenty-five other tanks, containing 100,000 barrels of oil, will also be burned. The burning fluid covers the Connoquessing Creek and the Bonnybrook branch of the same stream. The water is carrying the fire toward this city, two miles away.

EXHIBITORS' DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

Tuesday of This Week Will Be One of Most Notable of Exposition.

TO GIVE AWAY SOUVENIRS

All Visitors Will Be Entertained by Exposition Company and Exhibitors.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, June 22.—Tuesday, June 25th, will be a big day at the exposition. It will be the State's Exhibit Day. All of the exhibitors in the State's Exhibit Palace, both private and State, will endeavor to entertain all visitors to their building, and the exposition company will carry through a program, including music and addresses by prominent exposition officials. The program will start at 11 o'clock with selections by the Innes Band, after which Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, president of the exposition company, will make an address to the exhibitors. Then Hon. Robert W. Withers, one of the Virginia State commissioners, will respond to the president's address, after which the visitors will be the guests of the various State and private exhibitors, all of whom will give away souvenirs and dispense hospitality in general. At the exposition, an exhibit, which is one of the most attractive displays in the building, T. E. Moore, who is in charge, will entertain his guests in true South Carolina style. South Carolina tea will be served in one of the attractive little booths in his exhibit by Japanese geisha girls, and souvenirs will be given to all who visit the South Carolina booth.

At the Maryland exhibit, Professor Thomas J. Symonds will have on exhibition some of the largest strawberries ever grown in the State of Maryland. The monster berries were grown by A. T. Goldsborough, of Montgomery county, and measure from three to six inches in circumference, and weigh some five or six ounces.

The Second Regiment, South Carolina National Guard, which will participate in the ceremonies in connection with South Carolina Day at the Jamestown Exposition, will arrive Thursday morning, June 27th, and will go into camp for ten days.

There will be twelve companies and a hospital detachment in this regiment. Colonel Thompson, commanding, has issued orders that every member of the regiment must report to accompany the organization to the encampment.

South Carolina is said to rank second in having the best disciplined regiments in the country, while at the exposition, drill in both close and extended order, and Colonel Thompson expects the men to gain valuable military information while here. He has issued a statement to the effect that there will be plenty of hard work for every one, and that the strictest military discipline will be exacted from all commissioned and non-commissioned officers during the encampment.

THREE BIG DAYS AT EXPOSITION

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, June 22.—At least two big days are scheduled for the Jamestown Exposition this week, followed early next week with another, which will possibly eclipse both of its predecessors.

Thursday, June 27th, is Baltimore Day, and a most attractive program has been prepared. Baltimoreans "by the hundreds and the thousands," augmented by great crowds of Marylanders, will flock to the Jamestown show. The Maryland and Baltimore Buildings will be scenes of many reunions and much cheerful greeting. Addresses will be delivered by Governor Warfield and Mayor J. Barry Mahone, of Baltimore. Another State day of the week, which will bring a large crowd to the exposition, is Friday, June 28th, set for the South Carolina celebration. Governor Ansell and staff and the Second South Carolina Regiment will be in attendance, and elaborate exercises will be held.

West Virginia Day. More than usual interest is taken in West Virginia Day—Tuesday of next week.

An elaborate program has been arranged to appropriately celebrate this day, and the prosperous daughter of the "Mother of States" will be very much in evidence on that occasion. Addresses will be delivered by the Governors of West Virginia and Virginia, the Secretary of the Treasury, the president of the Jamestown Exposition, United States Senators and other distinguished officials. Besides the regular exercises at the exposition, an exhibit in the West Virginia Building, there will be a dedication of the massive column built of West Virginia coal, and in the evening there will be a special reception at the West Virginia Building in honor of the Secretary of the Treasury and

Vigorous Judge Brisbine, Hale and Hearty at 84,

Thanks to the Constant Use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

JUDGE T. W. BRISBINE.

"It is especially healthful in the spring of the year, when the blood is thin and the tissues worn out from the long siege of winter.

"You are at liberty to use my letter as you may see fit in your advertising, so that it may do some good to suffering humanity."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is distilled wholly from malted grain by a most expensive method which has never been made public, and this private process gives it great medicinal value and insures quality and flavor. Its softness, palatability and freedom from those injurious substances found in ordinary whiskey make it acceptable to the most sensitive stomach. Its results are free from that depressing effect caused by poisoning the blood with many medicines. It is a tonic and invigorant for old and young, and its medicinal properties make it invaluable to overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been analyzed many times by the best chemists during the past fifty years and has always been found to be absolutely pure.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark "Old Chisel," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Cortelyou, Governor Dawson, of West Virginia, will be accompanied by his staff, in full uniform, and a regiment of West Virginia troops will be in attendance.

It is doubtless gratifying to the people of the "Little Mountain State," to know that their State enjoys the distinction of having more exhibits, and of being represented in more places at the exposition than any other State.

In addition to having one of the finest State buildings on the grounds, West Virginia has a large coal monument, an agricultural and industrial exhibit in the Mines Palace, an educational exhibit in the Palace of Education, and a historic exhibit in the Palace of History.

The West Virginia Building is one of the most substantial and attractive of all the State buildings. It is colonial in style and occupies a place of prominence on the boulevard overlooking Hampton Roads.

This palatial mansion has been opened under very auspicious circumstances, and is crowded daily with interested visitors, who pronounce it one of the most attractive of the many beautiful State structures. Among the number who enter the portals are many people of the "Little Mountain State," who express profound admiration for the handsome structure and gratification at the creditable showing made by the Commonwealth.

Although possession of the building has been had for only a few days, the work of putting the place in order has proceeded very satisfactorily, and West Virginia headquarters is complete and ready for the guests of July 2d, when the formal opening will occur.

Among the relics of Colonial times on display in the West Virginia exhibit at the exposition, is the map used by General Washington on the journey to the French on the upper Ohio in 1753; a map made by the Lord Fairfax surveyors, when hunting for the first fountain of the Rappahannock River, an important point in the Fairfax survey. There is also an order for 1,200 pounds issued by Lord Walpole, grand treasurer of the British empire, to pay the Fairfax surveyors for the running out of the Fairfax lines and locating the famous stone.

Another feature of the exhibit shows the home life of the pioneers of West Virginia in the years of long ago. These are copper moulds used by the pioneers in making pewter spoons a hundred years ago; the old grease lamp with cotton-rag wick; the perforated tin lantern, once the property of Joseph Johnson, of Bridgeport, in Harrison county, who was the only West Virginian that ever filled the gubernatorial chair of Virginia.

There will likely be a showing that all of the financial relations of Haywood and Simpkins came in the natural and regular course of conducting the business affairs of the Federation.

Richard's testimony as to the alleged intimacy of himself and the Federation leaders and his story of the events at Cripple Creek, extending from the first attempts at the Victor down to the destruction of the Independence Station, will probably be directly contradicted or the stand by practically all the men named by him.

Wear Linonette

at Home, at the Seashore, Mountains, or the Jamestown Exposition.

No matter where you go during the summer months, you need several dresses and extra skirts of "Linonette" for yourself and the children.

Linonette is the most popular of all wash goods. So very like linen, but costing only about one-fourth as much.

The colors are true and lasting, and there is a color for all uses.

Linonette launders perfectly and always comes back fresh. Ask your dry goods stores for it.
