Short pieces, ranging from two to nine yards in length, and from one and one-half to seven inches wide—loom ends they're frequently called. Taffetas of various kinds, Falletines, Bengalines and Satin Libertys in about fifteen of the leading shades, for summer. We purchased the short pieces of one of the leading silk mills of the North.

INSTITUTE GETS NEW INSTRUCTORS

Several Additions Made to the Faculty for Next Year's Session. Prospects Very Bright. Appropriations Are Made for Further Equipment of Mechanical Shops.

At a meeting of the committees on schools and finance held in the office of the superintendent of the Virginia Mechanics' Institute on Thursday night, there were present: Chairman of Committee on Schools Mann S. Quarles, Chairman of Finance Committee E. J. Boshier, and Messrs. J. D. Crump, L. H. Jenkins, B. M. Gwathmey and J. W. Rothert.

The corps of instructors for the session 1907-1908 was formed as follows: Instructors in Mathematics—A. W. Martenstein, W. R. Smith, M. A. A. H. Fitzgerald, M. A. Martin, M. A. H. C. Rely, J. S. Fleming, C. E. D. H. Tucker, B. A. Instructors in Bookkeeping—C. H. Urner, E. M. Hedford. Instructors in Drawing—Richard Duckhardt, J. A. Johnston, M. E. W. Duncan Lee, J. M. Wilkes, W. J. Regan, C. J. Roelker, H. C. Houchens. Instructors in Mechanical Shops—W. H. Hill. Instructors in Electricity and Physics—Frank Z. Brown. Instructors in English Language—A. B. Chandler, Jr. Assistant Instructor in the Mechanical Shops—W. L. Snider. Assistant in Free Hand Drawing—J. Waverly Brown.

Most of these gentlemen are well known to the students as having been successful teachers at the institute for some time past. Mr. J. A. Johnston, who was elected instructor in drawing, was graduated from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and later took a master's degree at Cornell. He is an accomplished lecturer on mechanical subjects and has already taken a high place in Richmond as a mechanical engineer. Mr. W. R. Smith is a graduate of Randolph-Macon College, and is well known in this city as a very efficient teacher at the Richmond High School. He was elected to fill the position vacated by the resignation of Mr. J. C. Harwood. Mr. Smith will teach arithmetic and geometry in the night school of technology. Mr. M. A. Martin, appointed an instructor in mathematics, is a graduate of both Richmond College and Columbia University. He is well known in Richmond as an instructor in the Woman's College.

Mr. J. Waverly Brown, of Manchester, was elected assistant in free hand drawing. Mr. Brown was an honor man of the institute, which he made ten days or two weeks ago, it is believed, will be carried through, and when this is accomplished the work all along the line will be resumed and much new work will be commenced.

Further Equipment. Appropriations were made for the further equipment of the mechanical shops. A new scroll-saw, motor driven and self-contained, will take the place of the one now in use and driven by the foot of the operator. Many small tools will be added, so that the students will be offered the very best advantages in all kinds of woodwork. The new catalogue will be distributed as soon as it is completed.

SUSPENSION OF WORK ON RAILWAY

Later Information Confirms Reports Concerning C. & O., at First Denied. Due to Fact That Account of Credit of This Class of Work Is Exhausted.

Later information confirms the report that the work of actual construction on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway will be stopped at an early date. It was stated yesterday morning on the authority of a gentleman who is connected with the road, although not in any way associated with the construction department, that the report was a mistake; that such an order had been contemplated, but the management had decided not to issue it, and that work would go on.

The evidence now shows that this gentleman himself was mistaken. President Stevens and General Manager Doyle being in the West and Vice-President Axtell being in New York, information from the higher sources could not be obtained.

It was learned yesterday afternoon from the office of the engineer of construction that orders have issued for a cessation of work. J. C. Carpenter & Company, large contractors at Clifton Forge, will suspend work tonight. C. D. Langhorne, who had large contracts on the Guyandotte Valley Division, will suspend as soon as certain work now nearly completed, shall be finished. Lane Brothers Company will discontinue work on the James River, but will finish up the construction they are now engaged on between this city and Newport News, which they may complete by August 1st. Matthews, Curtis & Company have a small piece of work to finish, and then they will suspend.

These orders to stop all work may be countermanded within a short time. The officials now in the city know nothing definite, but express the belief that the suspension will be but temporary and of very short duration.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR ENDOWMENT

Big Meeting of Baptists to Consider Campaign for Raising $500,000. Rev. B. Cabell Heuing, field agent for the Richmond College corporation, who is engaged in the work of securing the half million dollar fund for the building of a Woman's College and for the strengthening of Richmond College, has called a meeting of several hundred selected men from all parts of the State to confer with him in Richmond on July 16th and 17th as to the various phases of the campaign. The Religious Herald says in connection with this call: "Letters have gone out all over the State asking brethren to indicate their willingness to take part in a simultaneous and general movement for this great enterprise. Churches have been asked to release their pastors for a specified time, and it is hoped that every one of them will cheerfully comply with this request. Then these brethren who have thus indicated their willingness to give time and strength and labor to this movement are invited to gather here in Richmond for two days for prayer and conference, for planning the campaign with system, and for getting all possible information, that they may go forth among the churches ready to present this great cause in the most favorable and appropriate way. That meeting on July 16th and 17th ought to be memorable in the history of the denomination in the State."

William Watson Fined. William Watson was fined $25.00 and costs in the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of cursing and abusing J. G. Lyons. He paid the fine and left the court.

WILL ESTABLISH CHAUTAUQUA HERE

Important Movement Begun by Mr. W. L. Radcliffe Attracts Much Interest.

TO GIVE SERIES OF CONCERTS Permanent Home to Be Secured and Outdoor School to Be Held.

With a view to establishing in or near Richmond a great permanent Chautauqua, Mr. W. L. Radcliffe, of this city, has arranged to begin on July 22d a series of concerts of the highest possible grade at the lowest possible price. The series will consist of two programs—an evening program, which will include two popular concerts and four recitals, and a series of recitals more than of equal reputation, and an afternoon program, including six popular concerts and entertainments.

This year the educational features, which usually are included in the Chautauqua will have to be omitted, but it is Mr. Radcliffe's purpose to secure, before the next summer, a suitable location within easy reach of Richmond, where the Chautauqua may have a permanent home, and where shall be given not only the great series of concerts, lectures and entertainments, but where a great summer outdoor university shall be held.

The Chautauqua Movement. Few people in this section of the country realize what a mighty force the life of the educational features of the Chautauqua movement has become. Back somewhere in the seventies the movement began to take shape on the shores of the New York lake from which it has taken its name. That Chautauqua has grown until hundreds of people attend it annually, and the attendance on a single occasion has reached as high as fifty thousand persons.

One reason why the movement has taken this form is because it affords an ideal opportunity for spending a summer vacation. At many of these "out" camps rough board tents during the entire session of from ten days to two months, at others more permanent buildings costing anywhere from two or three hundred up to a thousand dollars. Usually there is a large number of tents, and the tents are pitched on ten thousand people, and here are held the two great daily events, the afternoon concert and the evening concert.

Frequently there are smaller buildings for the accommodation of the tents, and the tents are pitched on ten thousand people, and here are held the two great daily events, the afternoon concert and the evening concert. The whole Chautauqua scheme is educational, from "seton" Indian boys and girls, on to the immense audience of men and women, who in the evening attend the grand opera and the oratorio or tuncful cantata in the vast auditorium.

This is the Chautauqua idea in general. The plan of Mr. Radcliffe, beginning with the series of concerts, will take some time to develop, but it is believed that with the support of Richmond people the movement will be carried through, and when this is accomplished the work all along the line will be resumed and much new work will be commenced.

UNDERTAKERS QUARREL OVER THE CORPSE

Coroner Finally Awards Body to Man Whom He Had Called, and Others Drive Off.

Joseph Jefferson, colored, lay dead at 1421 East Leigh Street Wednesday night, after an attack of pulmonary hemorrhage, and three undertakers fought over the possession of his body. Coroner Taylor, who arrived on the scene soon after the man's death, had telephoned to one of the colored undertakers, but somehow the news that a dead negro who had been in the city for some time had been known to two others. Soon the rumble of one of the funeral wagons was heard on the street, racing as if to save its race from a collision with the other, and then there was witnessed a mortal struggle over the possession of a dead man's body. At the gate one tried to push ahead of the other, each claiming the right to bury the dead—because the dead was insured. None could get by the other, and argument as to the right of possession was of no avail. Policeman Atkinson, who was on the scene, had to interfere to prevent another funeral. Finally Coroner Taylor appeared, and took a hand in the affair. He awarded the body of Joseph Jefferson to the undertaker whom he had called. The other two tried to bury the dead in jection.

HOLD RAIL AND MAKE NEW PLANS

Y. M. C. A. Workers Enthusiastically Decide to Have July Membership Campaign.

SOCIAL WELL ATTENDED Woman's Committee Provides Supper, and Men Have Good Time.

One of the largest membership socials in the history of the Central Young Men's Christian Association building was held in the boys' three rooms on the second floor last night. The woman's social committee took charge of the supper, and it was an attracting and tempting sight that the young men faced as they entered the supper-room. Mrs. M. Handley, chairman of the committee, was in charge, being assisted by Messdames A. T. Miller, M. C. Gentry, J. J. Cree, Georgia Hughes, G. W. Scott, Richard and Hesse, Estelle Deaton, Linda Kolner, Alice Munroe, Grace L. McKee and A. M. Watkins.

After the supper a most enjoyable time was spent by a hundred men who were present. Mr. G. W. Bahke, general of the June campaign, presided. After a word of prayer by Mr. J. L. Earp, the chairman responded to the toast, "A Rapid Inventory," quickly recalling the interesting time of June, when in five days 207 members were secured. The membership records in this vicinity. Mr. M. W. Hough favored the big crowd with a piano solo. Captain R. S. Tucker, in the unavoidable absence from the field, Mr. W. F. Richardson, Physical Director, responded to the toast, "After the Lead." Mr. E. C. Hoenniger, who gave Captain Tucker the "Long" campaign, secured forty members for Mr. Richardson's forty-one, responded to the toast, "The Man with a Vision."

After all the "fellows" had a glass of beer, the toastmaster introduced General Secretary McKee, who conducted a hot sandwich campaign of the famous "Ladies." The "Ladies" was responded to by Mr. F. W. Laughon, one of the association's workers; by Mr. S. W. Mook, of the Times-Dispatch; "The Big Eleven," by Mr. P. H. Earp; and "The Long" campaign, by Mr. E. C. Hoenniger. The "Ladies" was secured a member just before the closing hour, 10 o'clock. "Seeing Things at Night" was indulged in by Assistant Secretary Crutchfield.

Then came the interesting time, when the "fellows" seemed not to have any more to say, and they went on to something in July. A July membership committee, composed of Messrs. G. W. Bahke, F. C. Hoenniger, George R. Binn, H. T. Simpson, P. H. Gay, J. J. Earp, and the captain of "The Long" campaign, Mr. R. C. Howard, Jr., P. H. Davis, N. T. Carter and J. N. Dixon.

It is predicted that the July campaign will be one of the most interesting and lively events in the association's history. The contest will open on the 26th, at 7 P. M., with a big rally at 8 o'clock, when the "secrets" of the campaign will be divulged, and the victorious side will be announced.

HARMAN IS WINNER BY NARROW MARGIN

The five defeated candidates for the House and their respective vote follows: Peyton, 1,111; Blake, 1,073; Puller, 1,067; Curtis, 1,067; and Wingo, 1,067. The "wild" run of Mr. Cox was the talk of the politicians last night outside of the close margin Senator Harman had in the whole up over Mr. Blake. "Cox ran like a scared dog," said one of his admirers, and it is known that he and his friends are very proud of the record made in which he was a constituent rallied to his standard. There are about 7,000 qualified Democratic voters in the city, and it is remarkable that only a little more than half of them were polled yesterday, especially in view of the fact that all classes were represented on the ticket, and that the candidates made such strenuous efforts to get citizens to the polls.

The heavy rain, however, which fell in torrents during the last two hours of the voting day, perhaps reduced the number by from 1,000 to 1,000, and for this rain the results as to some of the candidates may have been different.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Congressman Lamb Will Urge Treasury Department to Begin Work on Federal Building.

DEEDS ALREADY EXECUTED. The deeds have been executed, but it has been stated by those who sold the property that the government has not as yet made a payment upon it. Arrangements for the building will not ask for bids for the building much before next spring.

REHABILITATION OF GAS WORKS. Mayor Approved Ordinance for $350,000 Bond Issue—Work to Begin Soon.

Mayor McCarthy has approved the ordinance directing the Finance Committee to sell $350,000 of bonds to the amount of which the City Gas Works are to be thoroughly rehabilitated. The matter has been under discussion for a long time, but the process of securing estimates of the needs, and comparing for bids, examining and awarding the contract was one consuming months. Of the amount appropriated, $30,000 will be required by the rehabilitation proper, the contract having been awarded to the Stacy Manufacturing Company, of Cincinnati. The remainder will be used for the purchase of land for future extensions and for the contract for additional mains, which was awarded to R. D. Wood & Co., of Richmond. It is expected that the work of rehabilitation will actively begin as soon as the contract has been awarded, and that the materials can collect their materials and men.
