

HALSEY DEFEATS SENATOR THOMAS

But It Was Really Thomas's Hostility to Daniel That Did It.

CLOSE RACE FOR THE HOUSE

Eugene Ould Now Twelve Votes Ahead, but Featherston May Yet Win.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., July 11.—Former State Senator Don P. Halsey, of this city, a nephew of United States Senator John W. Daniel, was nominated to-day in the Democratic primary in the senatorial district composed of the city of Lynchburg and the county of Campbell over State Senator A. P. Thomas, for the 18th Senate by a majority of about 185. The result is an endorsement of Senator John W. Daniel, as this issue and the question of "rotation in office" were the only things before the people. Senator Thomas came out last winter against the reelection of Senator Daniel for the 18th Senate at the expiration of his present term. And there is no doubt but that this cost him renomination to-day. The Campbell vote, with three small precincts to hear from, gives Halsey 400, Thomas 215. Halsey's majority in the city was 244.

John W. Clay, county treasurer for several terms, was defeated by R. W. Callahan, by an overwhelming majority. Commonwealth's Attorney William M. Murrell easily defeated Duncan Drysdale for re-nomination. The returns at hand give Eugene Ould, for reelection to the House of Delegates from the county, a majority of twelve over H. C. Featherston, but the missing precincts may change the result.

Lettler, whose face is badly disfigured, stated that he was struck from behind, knocked down, pummeled and kicked. He stated that he had never before seen Tappin and knew of no reason for the assault.

In defense, Tappin testified that when he passed Lettler and his former wife that they acted in such a manner that he was provoked to the point of committing the assault. He denied that he struck Lettler from behind or that he kicked him.

Mr. Tappin, who is Miss Ethel Gardner, stated that her former husband had threatened two weeks ago to kill any man with whom she might be seen, and that she feared bodily harm from him.

Hopkins & Allen Safety Police Revolver $7.50

No power on Earth can get the Hammer of this Revolver on or near the Firing Pin Unless the Trigger is Pulled.

The Hopkins & Allen Safety Police Revolver is the only absolutely safe revolver made. The Safety Police combines for the first time an absolute safety principle with supreme accuracy and reliability. When the trigger is pulled the hammer drives straight to the firing pin, and throws the full force of its blow without any striking lever or mechanism interfering with the force of the impact. It cannot miss or bang fire as in other safety revolvers. When the trigger is released the hammer, working on its eccentric, rises instantly and rests at absolute safety against the solid steel frame above the firing pin. Strike the hammer, purposely or by accident, it cannot go off. Nothing can move the hammer against or near the firing pin until the trigger is pulled. You can see the safety mechanism yourself. The new Solid Looking Joint is the strongest and most rigid joint ever devised for an automatic revolver. It cannot shoot loose. Price $7.50. For sale at this price by all dealers. A year dealer does not handle them, we will send the revolver postpaid on receipt of above price, either 22 or 28 calibre, centre fire.

LAW HOLDS UP ASHES OF PENDLETON AND HIS WIVES

JUDGE EDMUND PENDLETON.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BOWLING GREEN, VA., July 11.—The remains of Edmund Pendleton, his two wives and infant have at last been removed to Williamsburg for reinterment under the old Bruton Parish Church. They were exhumed some while ago, but could not be removed from the county because the certificate of their removal had not been made out in proper shape.

The expense of the transfer of the ashes of this great Virginia jurist is met by Miss Charlotte Pendleton, his great-great niece, from whom the authority for the removal also proceeds as his nearest living relative.

It is expected that suitable ceremonies will be held in the fall, at which the useful life of Pendleton as Burgess, as member of the Committee of Safety, as member of the first Continental Congress and as first president of the Supreme Court of Appeals will be recounted.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CARYSBROOK, VA., July 11.—At a meeting here to-day of the County Democratic Committee, with a unanimous vote, refusing to accept any candidate for the Legislature who was regarded as eligible, Mr. P. A. L. Smith, of Gloucester county, was declared the nominee of the Democratic party, as far as Fiviana is concerned. COURT STEPS IN TO PREVENT GAME

Judge Grants Injunction Restraining Petersburg Ball Club from Playing Blackstone.

Important and Interesting Decision in Case of Levy, Educated Hebrew.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., July 11.—Judge J. M. Mullen, of the Hustings Court, granted an injunction this afternoon restraining the Petersburg Athletic Association from playing games with the "Petersburg" Baseball Club here to-morrow and Saturday. Bernard and Townsend, counsel for Riverside, presented in the injunction application correspondence of the Riverside and Blackstone managers establishing a contract for three games to be played here July 11th, 12th and 13th. Subsequently Riverside, it seems, lends their field to the Petersburg club for Tuesday's game in Blackstone, which ended in a kick, alleged to have been caused by Wilson, Blackstone then notifies Riverside that if Wilson was to play with them in the game arranged for to-day, to-morrow and Saturday they will not know, which Riverside replies that they will stick to Wilson. Blackstone then turns to the Petersburg team for the three days and comes here this morning to them, whereupon Riverside secures an injunction restraining the games, because of alleged violation of contract. Wilson, whom Blackstone wanted to rule out, was captain of the Randolph-Macon Academy team this Riverside manager.

An opinion, holding that "unless the petitioner can make the application in his own handwriting and in the English language, he is not entitled to be registered as a voter," was delivered this morning by Judge J. M. Mullen, of the Hustings Court, in the case of Abraham Levy, a Jewish merchant of this city, who recently appealed to the court from the decision of S. A. Gentry, a registrar in Third Ward, who refused to register Levy as a voter because he was unable to write his application in English. The case was argued before Judge Mullen by D. H. Wilcox, for the plaintiff, and Commonwealth's Attorney R. H. Mann, and aroused great interest in the forthcoming decision.

Levy until he complied with the constitutional provision that an applicant must "make application in his own handwriting," to which Levy's petition to the court replies that he was ready to apply in his own hand in the Hebrew language, which the court's opinion decides to be not permissible, according to the intent of the law, at the same time according due importance to the contention of Levy's counsel that the prescribed test is an educational one, the expression "in his own handwriting" not being intended to restrict the applicant to writing in English, but to disfranchise only those who have not sufficient education to put in writing under their own hand, unassisted, the required information.

The long continued discussion in the Harrison Street Baptist Church, colored, between the pastor, Rev. Ell Tarit, and a majority of the congregation on one side, and the Episcopal church, which has reached its most interesting stage to-day, when Judge Mullen, of the Hustings Court, granted an injunction restraining Tarit from acting as pastor or participating in the church business until further order of the court; the injunction also retains from acting as officers the deacons and trustees recently installed to succeed those who had been summarily expelled at a congregational meeting over which Tarit presided as moderator. The injunction was asked for by the law firm of Bernard and Townsend, representing the Episcopal members, who claim that they were given no chance to defend themselves

STAUNTON VOTES ON LOCAL OPTION

Fight Will Be Close, but No Bad Blood or Bitterness Has Been Manifested.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, VA., July 11.—The local option election takes place to-morrow. It has been probably the most remarkable local option fight ever waged. There has been absolutely no bad blood, no fights, no rough talk or speaking; everybody is friendly and yet the fight has been an earnest one on both sides. Each side seems to be making no predictions. The fight was started by the Protestant Ministerial Union, and all the Protestant churches are zealously enlisted on the side of the "drys," the chairman of the anti-saloon committee being Rev. Henry P. Hamill, of the Staunton Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

H. E. Clay, the colored orator of Bristol, is here working for the dyes and being heard by large crowds. Registration ceased at sundown to-day and about 300 names have been added to the list since the election was ordered, about twenty-five of them negroes. The total registration is about 1,500, and a vote of at least 1,200 is expected.

ACTRESS FELL FROM AUTO---DEAD

DANVILLE, PA., July 11.—Agnes Friend, at Wheel, Did Not See When She Dropped from Machine.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Hilda Gargen, a dancing girl, belonging to the Eclipse Carnival Company, was killed early this morning by falling from an automobile. After the performance last night the girl, with Fred Owen, in his car, and Harry Cromwell in another car, made up a party that went to the Oak Tree Hotel, in Anthony township, about ten miles from here. About 1 o'clock they started for home. Owen says that after running about an eighth of a mile he missed the girl. Reversing his car he went back and found her lying unconscious along the road. Cromwell was ahead and did not hear Owen's outcry. Picking up the unconscious form and placing it in the auto, Owen started for Danville. The girl died before they reached here. The back of her skull was fractured.

Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle.
