

PROMINENT RALEIGH MAN PASSES AWAY

Mr. Gaston H. Broughton Was Gallant Confederate Soldier—Leaves Ten Children.

MANY YOUTHFUL ASPIRANTS

Unusually Large Number of Young Men Will Apply for Licenses to Practice Law.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 16.—Gaston H. Broughton, father of Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, Atlanta, and Dr. Joseph Broughton, of Atlanta, died at his home in Raleigh this morning, aged sixty-nine years. He had been in failing health for several years, and was partially paralyzed. He leaves a widow and ten children. There were thirteen. They are Dr. Len G. Broughton, D. M. Broughton, Mrs. Louisa Broughton, Mrs. Anna Medlin, Mrs. Lulu Casey, Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. Lillie Perrell, Wilson; Claude, Cecil, Coy and Vance Broughton, living here. He was three times married—first to Miss Louisa Hanks, of Wake county; then to Miss Sarah Fields, of Randolph, and last to Miss Mattie J. Jeland, of Raleigh. He leaves three brothers—N. B. and J. M. Broughton, of Raleigh, and Z. T. Broughton, of Winston-Salem.

NEW FLAG STATION

The Corporation Commission made an order this morning, designating Lowe, instead of Pine Log, in Robertson county, as a flag station on the Seaboard Air Line, six miles from the Seaboard, and directing the railroad company to provide adequate facilities for the conveyance of freight and passengers within sixty days. There was a hearing three weeks ago on the question of whether Lowe or Pine Log should be the station, both being in use at that time, delegations being in favor of both places, which are only about a mile apart. It is understood that when the Supreme Court decides on the matter, the term, August 26th, there will be one of the largest classes of aspirants for license to practice law that has ever appeared here. There will be twenty from the Wake Forest College Law School alone. Then there will be exceptionally large classes from the University of North Carolina and from Trinity College, as well as from other law schools in and out of the State. The indications are that the docket of appeals from the sixteen districts to be heard will be unusually light. At least, that is the hope of those coming at all, are very slow.

WOMAN'S MIND STILL A BLANK

Mrs. Kesler, Who Was Drugged and Attacked by Negro, In Dazed Condition.

SALISBURY, N. C., August 16.—Mrs. D. W. Kesler, who was brutally assaulted by a negro near her home, eight miles from this city, Wednesday week, is still in a dazed condition to-day, and will be kept at the home of a relative until she recovers from her injuries. Her mind is a blank, and she is unable to describe the unknown villain, who drugged her under threats of death, viciously assaulted her and threw her into a creek for dead. She is to-night in a very nervous condition, though recovery is expected. Feeling still runs high among the citizens here, and a persistent effort is being made to find the guilty person, though the officers are still without a clue.

PEONAGE CHARGE IS NOT PROVEN

E. A. Kline Gets Verdict of Not Guilty—Held on Another Indictment.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 16.—After being out two hours the jury in the United States court at Beaufort, trying E. A. Kline, the railroad construction contractor, rendered a verdict of not guilty. Kline was held in $1,000 bail on another indictment for peonage to be tried at New Bern in October. In default of $100,000 he is being pushed beyond Wilson with all possible dispatch, so that before long trains will be operating from Raleigh to Washington and Norfolk by way of Wilson, affording an invaluable new outlet for Eastern Carolina.

FIRST TRAIN RUNS OVER RALEIGH-WILSON LINE

RALEIGH, N. C., August 16.—The first direct train from Raleigh to Wilson over the new rails of the Norfolk and Southern was made yesterday afternoon. Vice-President C. O. Hainley of friends, being on board. Passenger trains will be running regularly by September 1st. ARREST NEGRO FOR ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO POISON FAMILY

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., August 16.—Mamie Shore, a negro, was arrested and locked up to-day on the charge of attempting to poison the family of C. F. Meester, by whom she was employed as a cook. Just after drinking coffee for supper last night Mrs. Meester and her children became desperately ill. Mr. Meester says two attempts have been made to burn his home in Salem recently.

ELIZABETH MARRIED

ELIZABETH MARRIED. Editor Wins a Bride. Mr. William Hurdley, editor of the Clearmont Herald, and Miss Della Elizabeth Lewis, a popular young lady of Clearmont, Va., were married in the parlors of the Southern Hotel here to-day by Rev. Mr. Hall, of the M. E. Church.

People Didn't Like Verdict

LEXINGTON, N. C., August 16.—The negro, William Smith, who attempted assault last spring on Mrs. Swiggood, was convicted in court here yesterday sentenced to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary. There was some talk of lynching him after the verdict, but it was never serious.

MAY NEVER ACT AGAIN

MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD.

MOUNTAIN, N. Y., August 16.—Richard Mansfield is not improving in health, and those close to him reluctantly admit their conviction that the actor will never again be seen on the stage. Arrangements have been made to take Mr. Mansfield to his summer home near New London, Conn., next Sunday, if at that time he is able to make the journey. It is thought that when the special train that can be run as slowly as needs be to avoid the discomfort of jolting, Sunday was chosen, as it was thought that it would be quieter at points along the way than that day than on a weekday.

GREAT DEMAND FOR NORTH STATE FLAGS

So Many Calls That Secretary Enniss Finds Difficulty in Meeting Them.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., August 16.—Mr. Pink C. Enniss, secretary of the North Carolina Patriotic Society, says the demand for North Carolina flags has increased phenomenally recently, so much so that it is hard just now to meet the demand. In addition to the demand in the State it has been necessary to ship more than seven hundred the past week or two to the Jamestown Exposition for the North Carolina week demonstrations. Three new regulation regimental flags went for the three North Carolina regiments of troops to encamp this week. These are the finest made, silk, with gold bullion and other regulation trimmings. There has been a very general compliance with the law passed by the last Legislature for the flag to be displayed over State and county buildings. Recently regulation flags have been flung to the breeze at the three State hospitals for the insane here, at Morganton and at Goldsboro. Mr. Enniss is determined that every demand for the flag shall be met. He has recently written a remarkably complete history of the North Carolina flag, and of flags in general that is being widely read. Next Monday, August 19th, has been fixed as the date for completing the hearing in the investigation of the contractor's jury into the criminal liability in connection with the terrible wreck of freight and passenger trains at Auburn last week. This date is fixed with the expectation that Engineer Rippey and Conductor Oakley admit having forgotten orders.

MEMBER OF NOTED DRUM CORPS DIES

Passing of Well-Known Carolina Citizen and Gallant Soldier Occasions Deep Regret. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., August 16.—The funeral of Comdr. Alphonso H. Hays, one of the four members of the famous L. B. Branch Confederate drum corps, the only old veteran drum corps in all the South, was held this afternoon, and was attended by an especially large crowd of veterans and citizens generally, the interest and pride in this drum corps being especially keen and the individual members very highly esteemed. For a number of years the citizens of Raleigh have had a purpose to send this drum corps to all the general Confederate reunions, having attended at New Orleans, Atlanta, Richmond and elsewhere, attracting much attention. This death leaves only three members of the corps, and these are feeble health. They are J. J. Lewis, W. T. Johnson and W. D. Smith. Deceased was only fourteen years old when he entered the Confederate service as a drummer boy. It is a sad coincidence that W. D. Smith, one of the three surviving members of the famous drum corps, is now critically ill from the effect of a stroke of paralysis, there being no possibility of his recovery.

THE WEEK IN TRADE

Bradstreet's Agency Sums Up Conditions in Various Lines. NEW YORK, August 16.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: Growing crops further good progress toward harvest, and fall trade tends to expand. Leading Western and Eastern jobbing centres. Cross-currents are visible in different industries. Thus, while finished cotton fabrics are in demand, and prices are advanced, there are reports of smaller demand and lower prices for cotton goods. The woolen trade, while high-grade worsted and fine woolen fabrics have sold well, other grades are slower of sale, and there is talk of accumulation. In the leather trade there is more life than of late, and good quality leather and hides are on better sale, as are also high-class shoes. Low grades are slower of sale, and Eastern shipments so far are four per cent. below. In iron and steel the lack of new buying is still notable, and prices tend to ease, as the mills and furnaces find delivery easier to make. The influence of the slump in the stock market was clearly shown in the decline of the iron and steel trade. As it did, reports of continued hot weather in Texas, with no rain. There is something like a general feeling of depression in time loans at the leading cities, with a degree of repression.

ILLNESS BREAKS UP TRIP ABROAD

Young Richmonders Were to Go to England on Board Cattle Ship.

ONE STRICKEN IN BALTIMORE

Because of the sudden and serious illness in Baltimore of Byrd Goolsby, he and his companion, John Carlton, on Tuesday abandoned a trip they had planned across the ocean on a cattle ship, and returned to their homes in this city.

The young men, aged seventeen and twenty, respectively, decided they would like a trip to England, and they started from here for Baltimore via Norfolk Monday afternoon. Landing in the Oriole City all right, they arranged to sail on a cattle ship, when Goolsby, the younger of the two men, was taken violently ill with appendicitis. He was carried to the Hotel Raleigh and received every attention from his friend Carlton, who on Monday sent a telegram to Goolsby's father at his home, No. 218 South Fourth Street, this city.

The best medical attention was given the young Richmonder, but the attending physicians realized that he was a very sick man, and that an operation would probably be necessary. One of Goolsby's brothers left for Baltimore Thursday to bring him back to Richmond, but in the meantime Carlton had started home with his friend.

Taken to Retreat

Arriving here about 7 o'clock Thursday night Goolsby was taken to the Retreat for the Sick and operated on for appendicitis by his physician, Dr. W. R. Jones, assisted by Dr. A. G. Brown and Dr. J. W. Henson. The operation was entirely successful, and young Goolsby is now getting along very nicely. Mr. Carlton was seen at his home, No. 218 South Fourth Street, yesterday afternoon, but he declined to discuss the matter further than to say he and his friend Goolsby went to Baltimore; that the latter was taken sick on the ship, and he was operated on for appendicitis. The two young men are good friends, and prior to their leaving the city Monday Goolsby was employed by F. V. Gunn & Company and Carlton by T. L. Airlend & Company.

The families of the young men were glad to welcome them back, and the near relatives of Goolsby are greatly distressed over his illness, though his condition is most encouraging at this time. Carlton showed a good deal of forethought and judgment in hurrying his sick friend back to Richmond before he had grown too ill to make the trip. He stood by him bravely, and was much fatigued upon his arrival, having lost a great deal of sleep in ministering to the needs of his companion. The experience was anything but a pleasant one, and it is not likely that either of the young men will care to repeat it shortly.

SUNDAY SERVICES IN CITY CHURCHES

Afternoon Meetings Being Conducted by Young Men Proving Very Popular.

SUBJECTS OF THE SERMONS

Dr. Hutson Leaves for Short Vacation—Dr. Powell to Preach Here.

The meetings planned and conducted by young men at the Young Men's Christian Association this summer are proving very attractive and helpful. Tomorrow afternoon Mr. R. A. Ricks, Jr., will give a brief sketch of Marshall Newell, who was called "A Natural Christian." Rev. Charles Ender, one of the old association "boys," who was recently graduated from Eden Theological Seminary, Ed. Louis, Missouri, will speak on "The Holy Spirit," who has been called by Robert E. Speer "A Christian of Privilege." These character presentations will consume seven minutes each, and will be followed by a "quiz" on the naturalness and privileges of the Holy Spirit. The quiz will be conducted by General Secretary McKee.

The attendance at the Boys' Sunday Afternoon Club increased considerably last Sunday, and the boys say they are going to have some big meetings during the hot weather. Mr. E. J. Potts, Jr., of the State Treasurer's office, will speak to the boys to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Boys from ten to fifteen years of age are invited.

Not before in the history of the association have so many men come into membership in the summer months as has been the case this summer. The figures showed 207 during June and 100 during July. The campaign for this month is one of the quiet sort, but is producing good results, and it is believed that 101 members will be secured by the 23d. Those who know say that the old building will be taxed to its utmost capacity this fall.

The Salvation Army program for to-morrow is as follows: 11 o'clock at the chapel of the old Soldiers' Home. At 3:30—A big open-air meeting at the Reservoir Park. Several of the leading church workers have promised to take part in the meeting. Special songs and choruses will be sung—"Holy Day." Come and make Sunday one with the Army.

A special consecration meeting in the hall at 8 o'clock. Mr. Goddin, Mr. Kenzie and other Christian workers will give short talks on holiness. Special services here arranged—"To Be Holy, Be Wholly." All aggressive church workers are invited, so that "all may be wholly agreed."

The usual services will be held at the Fairmont Avenue Methodist Church, morning and night. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. T. P. Pettigrew, of Manchester, will preach at 11 A. M. At night the pulpit will be filled by Rev. S. L. Naff, of Chesapeake, Md. Rev. C. H. Scott, of the city, will preach at the mid-week services on Wednesday night.

Rev. W. D. Anderson, a student at Richmond College, will preach at Immanuel Baptist Church to-morrow at both services. The pastor, Rev. E. W. Stone, is on a brief visit in the North.

Rev. J. B. Hutson, pastor of the Pine Street Baptist Church, left the city yesterday for a short vacation in the country. He will spend part of the time preaching in protracted meetings, and will be gone several weeks.

Morning and evening services will be held at Fairmont Church of the Disciples of Christ. Rev. Hugh W. Sublett will preach at both services. In the morning the sermon will be from the text, St. Matthew, vi. 28: "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, they spin not; yet their substance is so made that they will be on the sixth commandment."

At Grace Street Presbyterian Church there will be the usual morning and night services to-morrow. The pulpit will be supplied by Rev. I. S. McElroy, of Columbus, Ga.

The regular services of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will be held at 11 A. M. in the new church edifice. The subject of the sermon will be "Mind."

Rev. J. Marvin Culbreth will preach at both services at Centenary Methodist Church. The morning theme: "The Christian View of Education"; evening: "The Place of the Child in the Kingdom of God."

Mr. Spooner, who has been suffering with a broken arm, is improving, and hopes to be out again in a week or ten days.

YELLOWSTONE PARK IDEAL IN SEPTEMBER

Every month of the open season is delightful in the Park, but the early days of September present its wonderful charms in the best light. The temperature is bracing, the atmosphere without a blemish, the view distinct, and the roads at their best. The coach ride of 145 miles by easy stages, in full daylight, makes this a distinctively close-to-nature outing.

The Pennsylvania Railroad offers a most attractive tour, leaving the East on September 3d, arriving in the Park on the 6th and remaining until the 11th, allowing five and one-half days of perfect sight-seeing.

The return trip, by way of the bustling cities of the North Pacific Coast, through Oregon, Idaho, Utah, and the scenic trail of Colorado, is enhanced in interest by the charm of the season.

Excursion tickets, including all necessary expenses, will be sold from Washington and Baltimore at $229; and at proportionate rates from other cities.

A completely-appointed special train, in charge of Tourist Agent and Chaperon, for the exclusive use of the party, adds to the uniqueness of the trip.

As the membership of the party is necessarily limited, applications for reservations and itineraries should be made at once to B. M. Newbold, P. A. S. E. D., 15th and G Streets, N. W., Washington; Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Philadelphia, or to Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agents.

PLEASANT FIELDS OF HOLY WRIT.

"Save for my daily range Among the pleasant fields of Holy Writ, I might despair."—Tennyson.

The REV. DAVIS W. CLARK, D. D., Editor, Cincinnati.

The International Sunday-School Lesson

Third Quarter. Lesson VII. Leviticus xvi. 5-22. August 18, 1907. THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.

The human race was in its kindergarten age. Its attention had to be attracted by visible signs. It thought in symbols, if it thought at all. Jehovah "talked down" to his people. He found them where they were and instituted for them a series of objective lessons. The first lesson was the highest degree. The Atonement ritual was never designed to be an end in itself. It was a leading string by which to draw the worshipers to the truth, out of the maze of stupid and deadening errors into a large, correct and clear conception of God, of self, and of others, and of the reciprocal relations maintaining Duty, privilege, destiny, were shown as in a mirror.

The tabernacle was one great and constant object lesson. It tokened the nearness of the divine presence—the immanence of God—He was not afar off, but actually dwelling with his people. The tabernacle was not a mere structure of wood and stone, but a living organism, a body of life, a body of truth, a body of love, a body of grace. It was a body of life, a body of truth, a body of love, a body of grace. It was a body of life, a body of truth, a body of love, a body of grace.

The Day of Atonement was the golden climax. Everything led up to it. In it the tabernacle found its highest use, its consummation. It was described with great particularity and joy, and with special emphasis. It was to be universally kept as the most solemn of all Sabbaths. The high priest, dressed not in his usual glittering regalia, but in garments of white linen, brought offerings for himself, for his family, for the people, for the land, and for the altar. He followed the sprinkling of blood and burning of incense, and then he came into the sanctuary to determine which should be the "scape-goat" to carry the sins of the people into the wilderness upon his head in confession. This day alone in all the year witnessed the entrance of the high priest into the Holy of Holies, the throne-room of Jehovah, to mediate between God and His people.

All Israel came into the tabernacle and before the Lord. The high priest, as the person of their representative, the ecclesiastical head of the nation, and in his hasty or hurried way, he came into the sanctuary, the throne-room of Jehovah, to mediate between God and His people.
