Rev. J. A. Robbins Has to Pay for Assaulting Church Clerk. Cousins Make Up.

PETERSBURG, VA., September 17.—The certificates of incorporation of two new commercial organizations in Petersburg were recorded to-day in the office of the clerk of the court. The Petersburg Home Building Corporation, with a capital stock of not less than five thousand, nor more than fifty thousand dollars, is authorized to conduct a general real estate business, including the improving and building of dwelling houses and other structures. The officers are: President, M. C. Jackson; Vice-President, M. A. Finn; Secretary and Treasurer, James Weddell. The officers compose the directorate of the Wood-Westbrook Company, which recently bought the stock and business of Barham, Rogers and Company, is authorized to carry on the business of manufacturers and merchants, wholesale and retail, importers and exporters of dry-goods, with a capital stock to be not less than ten thousand, nor more than fifty thousand dollars. The officers are: President, Charles H. Westbrook; Vice-President, George T. Wood; Secretary-Treasurer, Julius Harris. The officers are the directors.

Shot by Accident. While trying to shoot a snake under his home to-day, William Evans, the twelve-year-old son of Rufus Evans, an agoro farmer in Prince George county, was probably fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of his shotgun. General Smith Bolling, who was recently painfully injured in a runaway accident, continues to improve, and is now able to walk about. General Bolling suffered a broken arm and severe cuts and bruises on his head.

Preacher Fined in Court. Rev. J. A. Robbins, pastor of the Oak Street African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, was fined ten dollars in the Mayor's Court this morning, where he was arraigned on the charge of assaulting James H. Brooks, the church clerk, during the free fight at the church last Friday night, when the quarterly conference was being held. Four negroes, including Brooks and the woman who wielded the Python sword during the combat, who were arrested on warrants issued by Robbins, charging assault, were discharged by the Mayor this morning. Evidence was very conflicting, ten witnesses appearing on each side. Robbins made the fine, stating that he had no criticism to make, but expected to remain in Petersburg long enough to prove that much testimony in the Mayor's Court was false.

Had Become Friends. The peace warrant sworn out by Richard Wheelhouse against Mrs. John Wheelhouse, alleging that John had threatened to kill Richard, was withdrawn this morning when the young man appeared in the Mayor's Court and announced that

ADD TO ELECTRIC PLANT. Fredericksburg Council Makes Appropriation of $4,000. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., September 17.—The City Council last night appropriated $4,000 for the work of adding to the city electric light plant an incandescent system for lighting stores and dwellings. Sidney E. Hunter, who has been agent for the Piedmont, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad (narrow gauge), of this city, for some time, has tendered his resignation, to take effect before the close of this month. The Wingo, Elliott and Crump Shoe Company, of Richmond, owners of the Kenmore Shoe factory, of this city, have entered suit against the Adams Express Company here for $500 damages, for alleged failure of the company to deliver certain machinery.

JUDGE PORTLOCK REPLIES. Refuses, However, to Answer the Interrogatories Put to Him. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., September 17.—Judge William N. Portlock, of the Circuit Court of Norfolk county, has replied to the letter addressed to him by the secretary of the Norfolk County Improvement League, No. 1, but refuses to answer the interrogation of himself as to a number of recent acts of his court regarding the payment of certain fees to Commonwealth's Attorney Marshall and the revoking and issuance of certain liquor licenses, as was expected he would do. In his letter, the judge says: "It would be highly improper in me as a judge to answer these interrogatories, and I must therefore decline to do so. If a judge were answerable for his decisions to every person or organization, who might choose to interrogate him, the administration of justice and the independence of the judiciary would be at an end. Recognizing this, the law provides a tribunal to which alone a judge shall answer for his acts and not to individuals or associations."

CROWDER—JONES. Pretty Pink and White Wedding in Church at Blackstone. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLACKSTONE, VA., September 17.—A marriage of more than ordinary interest to a large circle of friends took place in the Methodist Church this evening at 6:15 o'clock, when Miss Lucy Rebecca Jones became the bride of Mr. J. W. Jones, of Blackstone. C. Coggs officiating. The color scheme of the marriage was pink and white. The bride was dressed in the following order, entering the church in a white gown, which was artistically rendered by Mrs. R. B. Jones: First came the ushers, one down each aisle, a few paces apart, Messrs. W. W. Dobson and R. W. Jones, John Gill, of Farmville, and M. E. Crowder, H. L. Johnson and Maxey Crowder. Then the groom and his best man, Mr. W. A. Crowder, came the right-hand aisle, while down the left came little Miss Ida Paulett, of Farmville, the flower girl, who strewed bride roses, just behind the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Temple Jones, as maid of honor. Joining the groom, who awaited her at the altar, the two were married by the officiating minister. The bride was handsomely attired in a traveling suit of gray cloth, and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The couple took the train for the exposition, where, after spending a few days, they will leave for Washington and other points of interest. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, and has a host of friends in this city. Her groom is one of Blackstone's most energetic young business men, being associated with the Blackstone Guano Company.

MUST SERVE HIS TERM. North Carolina Supreme Court Refuses Him New Trial. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., September 17.—Joshua Harrison, brother-in-law of ex-Governor E. J. Jarvis, must serve the twenty-year sentence in the penitentiary, according to a ruling made this afternoon by the North Carolina Supreme Court, for kidnapping little Kenneth Beasley, the eight-year-old son of State Senator S. M. Beasley, of Currituck county. Harrison is a prosperous and prominent farmer, a neighbor of Senator Beasley, and the kidnapping is alleged to have been the result of vengeance in a grudge of long standing. Harrison has had against Beasley over temperance legislation that Beasley advocated. The little boy disappeared February 13, 1905, and no trace of him has ever been found. Ex-Governor Jarvis was counsel for Harrison, and in his argument before the Supreme Court, he declared that there had been no trial of his client, but that he had been lynched under the atrocious form of law, referring to the strong demonstrations of popular disfavor manifested against Harrison by crowds in the court-room during the trial. In the ruling of the court, given in an opinion by Justice Brown, it is held that these demonstrations were not because of ill-will between counsel, but real demonstrations against the prisoner. The eight exceptions on which the case came up to the Supreme Court were treated separately by Justice Brown, concluding with the general ruling that on a careful review of the whole evidence there appears to have been no error committed by the court that would warrant a new trial. So the conviction and sentence are affirmed. Harrison is sixty odd years old.

MANY CAR MEN RESIGN. Arrests for "Knocking Down" Fares Leads Men to This Action. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CURE BY CUTICURA AT CITY MISSION

Young Woman Found in Awful Condition with Scabies—Body a Mass of Sores from Scratching—Tried Many Remedies for Seven Weeks—Result Was Discouraging, But

ITCHING TORTURES YIELDED TO CUTICURA

"While I was doing missionary work in the lower portion of several States, I found it necessary to know a little of the efficacy of a few medicines and after a while I found that a little knowledge of Cuticura was about all I needed. One of the very bad cases I had to deal with was that of a young woman who had come to us not only broken in spirit but in a most awful condition physically. Our doctor examined her and told us that she had scabies (the itch), incipient paresis, rheumatism, etc., brought on from exposure and the effects of her ragged-edged life. Her body was a mass of sores from scratching and she was not able to retain solid food. We tried many things, a good tonic was prescribed and baths with a rubbing of lard and sulphur, but she would not get better. When you can imagine how discouraged we were when, after all that time, we could see so little improvement. One day I happened to see a Cuticura advertisement and I bought a box. I used it for a few days and I was cured of a bad case of skin eruption, and although I had but ninety-seven cents with me, I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a tin of Cuticura. Result: When I reached home I was like a child with a new toy, and we bathed our patient well and gave her a full dose of the Resolvent. She slept that night better than she had since she had been with us and the next day I located the price of a box of Cuticura Ointment. I am not exaggerating when I say that in exactly five weeks she was able to get up and look for a position, being strong enough to work and full of ambition. In another month she left the home, and now has a good position in a nice family. You may refer any one you wish to me personally. Laura Jane Bates, 85 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y., Mar. 11, 1907.

ENORMOUS PROFIT OF STANDARD OIL

Earnings of Great Corporation Exceed Sixty Millions Every Year.

CONTROLS MANY COMPANIES

More Than Seventy Subsidiary Corporations Dominated by Great Trust.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, September 17.—Delving into the financial workings of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the holding company of all the subsidiary companies of the so-called Oil Trust, Frank B. Kellogg, conducting the Federal suit for the dissolution of the company, brought forth to-day to public view for the first time the enormous profits made by the Standard Oil Company. In a period of eight years from 1899 to 1906, inclusive, the Standard Oil Company, in a statement spread upon the record of its shareholders, was shown to have earned the total profits of $490,315,334, or at the rate of more than $61,000,000 a year, and to have paid to its shareholders in the same period $308,259,103. While the company was earning these vast sums in the refining of oil, the statements added to the hearing to-day show that between 1899 and 1906 the assets of the company grew by $200,761,523, and its capital stock by $215,684,382. Financiers and those seeking knowledge of the exact profits of the Standard Oil Company make no statement of its business, and other than the declaration of a dividend, it makes no public announcement by which its business may be gauged. Much Light on Trust. The hearing to-day brought out much information which Mr. Kellogg obtained from the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Kellogg obtained a statement, showing that the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, controlled by stock ownership over seventy companies engaged in the refining and transportation by pipe line of oil on September 14, 1907. The Standard Oil Company has always carefully guarded the list of its subsidiary companies and the amount of its shareholders. The list showed that the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, owned $99,500 of the total capital stock of 1,000,000 of the Standard Oil Company, of Indiana, which was recently fined $29,240,000 by Judge Landis in the United States Circuit Court in Chicago for rebating.

A Record Missing. Mr. Kellogg's efforts to to-day's hearing to obtain information of the records of the liquidating trustees, who had charge of the liquidation of the Standard Oil trust and the exchange of the liquidating trust certificates for the shares of the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, were not rewarded.

Charles M. Pratt, secretary of the Standard Oil Company, who testified that he had been a liquidating trustee, said he did not know the whereabouts of the records, and could recall only the list regarding the liquidation of the Standard Oil trust. Clarence Fay, assistant comptroller for the Standard Oil Company, testified to-day, was also unable to give the government's inquirer the information he desired, which caused Mr. Kellogg to remark that it was strange that no one in the Standard Oil Company seemed to know where the records of the liquidating trustees could be found.

NO EFFORT TO GET OUT. No Foundation for Report of Midgets' Second Attempt to Escape. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., September 17.—The story published in several papers to-day that George Midgets, negro murderer of Alexandria, confined in jail here, had made his second attempt to escape is without foundation. Midgets tried to cut his way out several weeks ago, but was discovered in time to prevent him from getting away. Since then he has been so closely guarded that he has had no chance to make another attempt.

SCHOONER ON ROCKS. Vessel Owned Here Meets Trouble in Sea. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

A telegram was received here yesterday stating that the Richmond-owned schooner Mary Curtis went ashore on the rocks off the coast of Maine during a dense fog. The Curtis was bound from Boston to Red Beach, N. B., for a cargo of plaster. The crew of the schooner did not give details, and only said schooner was badly damaged, and will be towed to Rockland, Me., for inspection and repairs.

The Mary Curtis is owned principally by Mr. George L. Currie and Captain John A. Curtis, of Richmond. She was built in Alexandria some years ago by Captain Curtis. If the vessel had not been stanch and well built she would have gone to pieces before assistance could have reached her.

—ADELINA PATTI.

This is the kind of evidence that settles every doubt. It is proof that our line of Pianos includes the instruments that the great artists pin their faith to. Note the makes:
