Karatagh, Fewer Than Reported. NEW BOKHARA, TURKESAN, November 1.—The first reports of the catastrophe at Karatagh were exaggerated. The number of persons being killed, only about 200 lives were lost. Most of these perished under the landslide which buried 400 of the 600 houses of the town.

PRETTY WOMAN WINS

MRS. IDA ELIZABETH ENSIGN. NEW YORK, November 1.—Harry A. Ensign, a banker at No. 31 Nassau Street, was said to be on his way to Europe yesterday when his charges against his wife, Mrs. Ida Elizabeth Ensign, were set for a hearing before Judge Glegerich and a jury in the Supreme Court. He was not represented in court by any lawyer, and the jury found against him by default. Mr. and Mrs. Ensign were married in London, England, on August 27, 1898. The wife began suit for separation last year, alleging that Mr. Ensign had been guilty of cruel treatment on various occasions. In his answer Mr. Ensign made two separate allegations against his wife, the first being that she had not been able to contract a legal marriage with him, as she was the wife of Ramsay Kennedy, of Glasgow, Scotland, and the other that she had been indiscreet with H. R. Pope at the White Hart Hotel, Lincoln, England, in August, 1906. When the case was called yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ensign and Mr. Pope were represented in court by counsel, who were anxious to have testimony taken to clear their clients. Judge Glegerich refused to hear any evidence on the ground that, as no charges had been established, they must be held to have been baseless. He directed the jury to find a verdict that Mrs. Ensign had not contracted a bigamous marriage, and had not been guilty of misconduct. The trial of her suit for separation will occur at a later date.
