

CAROLINA TO MEET VIRGINIA TECHS

Great Football Game of the Season at Broad Street Park To-Day.

To-Day's Football Game

Time, 3 P. M. Place, Broad Street Park. Opposing teams, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and University of North Carolina.

What Coaches Say: "The team is in good condition, and although rather lighter than its opponents, is determined to put up a game fight."

"The men are in fairly good condition, considering their travel this week. I do not say we will win, but we are determined to put up a game and win if we can."

The Virginia Polytechnic Institute and University of North Carolina football teams are in the city. Both are eager for the game, which will begin at 3 P. M. to-day, and are in good condition for play.

Advances sales of seats in grandstand and demand at the gate have been large and forecast a great crowd for the game. In fact, the attendance will probably equal, if it does not exceed 5,000, and may run even higher.

Being a holiday and practically the last scheduled game for the season, many will attend who have seen none of the other games. A special train from Chapel Hill and intermediate points to Richmond will bring the student body from the university and will gather up other students along the route.

Last year Virginia Techs and Carolina played a hot game at Broad Street Park, neither scoring. History is not likely to repeat itself this year. There will be scoring, possibly by both teams, almost certainly by one.

The town is fairly well decorated with the colors of the two teams. Merchants generally impartially displaying the light blue and white of Carolina alongside the orange and orange of the V. P. I. boys.

The game will probably consist of thirty-five minute halves and in that event will be a test of the wind and boom of the teams.

The Carolina team has had a good rest since their last game with Richmond College, and are fresh and vigorous and full of spirit.

The better generalship is apt to determine the result of the game, and both elevens are captained by clever strategists and experienced players.

Officials: Mr. Jack Gass, of Leigh, referee; Mr. Gresham Poe, Princeton, umpire; Mr. Baird, Tennessee, head linesman.

CLOSING CONTESTS ON THE GRIDIRON

Many Important Football Games Scheduled for To-Day Everywhere.

VIRGINIA-CAROLINA A. & M.

To-day, Thanksgiving Day, is practically the climax and the close of the football season of 1907. While more of the great annual matches have been played already than in former years, not a few games of great interest remain to be played to-day.

Aside from the great match at Broad Street Park at 3 o'clock this afternoon between the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the University of North Carolina elevens, referred to elsewhere, keen interest is felt here in the University of Virginia-Agricultural and Mechanical College of North Carolina game at Lafayette Field, Norfolk.

Both teams are brilliantly coached and have clever individual players, as well as finely developed team-play.

At Lynchburg the team of Washington and Lee University, one of the strongest Southern elevens, will play Bucknell College of Pennsylvania in the only inter-section game of the day.

Next to the leading Virginia games, much interest is centered in the Vanderbilt-Seawane game at Nashville. These two elevens have perhaps the best claims of any to Southern championship honors.

In the North the great game is the annual Pennsylvania-Cornell game at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. Pennsylvania usually wins this game, and has an excellent chance this year.

Other Northern games of interest to-day are the Lehigh-Carnegie Institute game at Pittsburg, the Brown-Amherst game at Providence, the Washington and Jefferson, West Virginia game, and the Franklin and Marshall Gettysburg game.

Football Player's Prayer: "And Jones, of Yale, says he will thus strengthen."

A special from New Haven, Conn., to the Philadelphia North American, tells the following story: Players who returned to-day say that the most impressive thing about Yale's football victory over Harvard was the speech of Thomas A. D. Jones, quarterback of the eleven, familiarly known as "Tad" delivered at the banquet late Saturday night.

Jones had to be handled very carefully all last week by the trainers because the Princeton game took almost all his surplus physical energy. At the banquet, after other players had expressed their joy over Yale's victory, "Tad" was called upon. He made a felicitous speech. Then, coming to a full pause, he said:

"It is a funny thing, perhaps to tell here, fellows, but want to say that this morning before we started for the stadium, I felt that I did not have it in me to play the game well. I went back to my room and prayed. When I came back downstairs I felt that I had it."

Jones is a leader in Y. M. C. A. work here.

Two Fast Minor Elevens Are to Meet Again Next Week Some Time. It was stated yesterday another game between the football teams of the Richmond High School and Richmond Academy will be played next week, on a date not yet announced.

ROUSING SEND-OFF TO FOOTBALL TEAM

North Carolina Students Enthusiastic on Eve of Team's Final Game.

A large bonfire, surrounded by a crowd of happy students, dancing to gay music, formed the initial part of the program. After the ceremonies had been dispensed with here a break was made for the chapel, and every available seat was taken.

The next speaker was Dr. Charles H. Herty, of the chair of chemistry, and an ardent admirer of athletic sports. Dr. Herty reviewed the athletic situation here in the past year, and considering the uphill fight they have had to make, the team has made a good thing out of it.

On the whole, the meeting was a big success, and will no doubt have its influence on the team in to-morrow's game.

This morning a large crowd of students followed the team to the depot, along the entire route, and they are more enthusiastic demonstration, with the possible exception of that displayed over the Virginia games has seldom been seen here.

PICK CORNELL TO WIN

Though Ithaca Team Has Won But Once, Odds Favor It. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 27.—Cornell University football team arrived here to-day, ready for the annual game with the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin Field, and though the Ithaca have defeated Pennsylvania but once in the past, the odds are in their favor.

The team, barring the loss of Right Tackle Rogers, is in good shape, and has the unbounded confidence of the student body.

LOCAL COLLEGIANS OFF FORWARD GAME

Secret Practice Yesterday for To-Day's Game With William and Mary.

ELEVEN IN FINE CONDITION

The Richmond College football team had its final practice yesterday afternoon at Broad Street Park, preparatory to to-day's strenuous match at Newport News with the unbeaten William and Mary eleven.

Coach Dunlap kept the men on the jump yesterday and has succeeded in injecting into the men a ginger and speed in getting off their plays and in interpreting the signals, which will be bewildering to opponents.

After making the length of the field in signal drill, the men were allowed a short rest, and diverted by passing the ball. The scrub team used plays displayed by William and Mary in the recent Randolph-Macon game, and the college team was given ample opportunity to discuss and break them up.

All of the men were apparently in very good condition, except Lanford, who has a bandaged head and wrist, due to injuries sustained by a mishap in the chemical laboratory. They will not keep him out of the game, nor impair his speed.

The Richmond team, coach and substitutes and Manager H. H. George, Assistant Coach Hudgins and a large delegation of students will go down to Newport News to-day, and start on to-day, leaving here on the early morning train.

Among football critics in this city, Richmond is expected to keep the field work and line plays being counted on to cross the colonial line, while Atkins will probably land as many field goals as will Feuerstein.
