

things which he said the Republican platform did not promise to do, and, touching on the labor question, he said:

The Republican platform does not promise a reconciliation of labor and capital. In fact, they now realize that their antagonistic position on labor organizations has lost them the labor vote, and they realize that so fully that they have entered upon the demoralization of the man who stands at the head of the labor organizations, and are trying to show that he does not represent the people who are to be tried to office, and who have been endorsing the position that he has taken in this campaign.

FRAUDS IN REGISTRATION ARE DISCOVERED IN NEW YORK. NEW YORK, October 22.—Charges were made to-day by William J. Conners, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, that the Republican organization in New York had fraudulently procured the registration rolls with from 10,000 to 20,000 names, and to prevent the casting of a fraudulent vote the executive committee had appointed a State law committee, with former Judge J. P. Kelly as chairman.

Mr. Conners said that the law committee would be composed of about 500 attorneys, and that on election day these attorneys would be assisted by special deputies in each election district to try to force the ballots were honestly cast and counted.

Mr. Conners said: "There will be no voting of dead men by the Republicans in this election, and the State Committee will not permit that our opponents are not permitted to run men over from Pennsylvania and Canada to vote them in this State."

"Already we have discovered hundreds of thousands of fraudulent registrations up-State, and have succeeded in having the names stricken from the lists. We want a square deal. We are not going to buy the election, and we have not got the money to buy it, any way. We don't propose to have the Republicans buy us as they have done in the past."

Republicans Uneasy. National Chairman Mack declared to-night that the change in Mr. Taft's plans, by which he will visit thirty-five cities and towns in his State, instead of speaking in only a few of the larger cities, as previously announced, indicated that the Republican managers felt the necessity of carrying this State, and that they were actually acknowledging that they felt that they were losing Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Kansas. Mr. Mack said that if the Republicans were certain of the Middle Western States they would not need Roosevelt.

Speaking of the letter of President Roosevelt demanding that Mr. Bryan declare himself on the labor questions of the day, Mr. Mack said to-day that if there was any labor man in doubt about voting for Bryan, the reading of the President's letter would convince him that he should cast his vote for the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Mack said he received reports from Ohio that the reception tendered Mr. Bryan in the Buckeye State yesterday was the greatest ever given a presidential candidate.

Mr. Bryan's meeting in the city next Tuesday night, when he will speak at Madison Square Garden, is to be made the occasion of a Democratic rally in every assembly district in New York. Not only has Tammany Hall arranged for over 100 meetings at the Garden, but there will be mass meetings in Cooper Union, Hamilton Fish Park and in scores of other halls throughout the city.

The demand for tickets to the Madison Square Garden meeting quickly exhausted the supply, and stands will be placed outside the amphitheater for the overflowed audience. Besides Mr. Bryan, Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia; Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, and former Congressman John J. Lentz, of Ohio, will address the meeting.

Money Is Coming In. CHICAGO, Ill., October 22.—Yesterday's contributions to the 1908 campaign fund, made public by a report aggregated $1,034, and were headed by one of $40,000 from Senator R. P. Wetzel, of South Dakota. Senator W. Clark, of Montana, and Tom L. Johnson, of Ohio, are the largest contributors. Five-hundred-dollar contributions came from Ben T. Cable, Illinois; W. W. Marshall, Iowa, and W. J. Bryan (Commoner profits).

BRYAN ASKS WHERE IS THE BULL, DINNER PAIL. MONTGOMERY, Va., October 22.—Talking to a big crowd of miners here to-day, Mr. Bryan plunged into a discussion of the Democratic platform, and frequently referred to the planks relating to guaranty of bank deposits and labor.

On the labor question, Mr. Bryan said that eight years ago the Republican claim was that the laboring man had a full dinner pail. "That, my friends," he said, "was the sign, the emblem, the banner. I saw pictures of the full dinner pail wherever I went, but I have not seen any man who has just heard of one man who tried to carry a dinner pail in a parade and that was down here in this State, and they arrested him for it."

"He ought to have been hung," shouted a miner. "Now, my friends," said Mr. Bryan, "the bottom in fact, the pail is empty and the people deceived. Fears ago, are embittered by that disappointment. "How about sixteen to one?" asked some one. "Quickly replied the candidate: "The chances are sixteen to one that you won't vote the Republican ticket." "They said eight years ago that as long as laboring men had a full dinner pail he need not think. Now, if that is a good argument, what an amount of thinking the laboring man ought to do now! Yesterday the papers announced that the officials of the New York Central Railroad had gone out on their car to notify their employees that they could expect a wage reduction if I was elected, but they expected good times if Mr. Taft was elected. "Now, if any man attempts to coerce you, I want to suggest a solution of meeting it. You make him give you as how you are to be treated, and increase, and how long it will last. If they want you to sell your birthright for a mess of pottage, you be sure

Boys' Wear

In "close touch" with the real wooley wool.

Here's the kind of clothing that is a credit to all concerned.

To the maker—to the Berry Store, and to the wearer.

Cheaper, too—this season.

All-Wool Suits, $3.50 up.

All-Wool O'coats, $3.50 up.

All-Wool Reefers—for boys and girls—$3.50 up.

Everything else boys wear.

that you get the postage before you give up your birthright. The right to vote is given to the individual, not to his employer to say how he should vote."

DATES REARRANGED

Bryan and Taft Were Scheduled to Speak at Same Time.

NEW YORK, October 22.—Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican National Committee, was detained most of the day at his hotel, where he saw a number of visitors, among them being Charles P. Taft of Ohio, and several leaders in nearby States.

Having discovered to-day that the schedules prepared would bring Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan together at Port Chester, N. Y., next Monday, the Republican and the Democratic National Comities rearranged their dates, with the result that Mr. Bryan will speak at that place in the morning of Monday, and Mr. Taft will make his address there at 3 o'clock the same afternoon.

In the evening of October 23rd Mr. Taft leaves the Union League Club at 7 o'clock, and will make a hurried dash in an automobile through the principal streets of the East Side, New York City. He will speak at the Theatre, at Camp Hughes and at Camp Taft. Then he will review the parade of the clubs in Fifth Avenue, after which he will go to Madison Square Garden, where he will speak, following Governor Hughes.

FLORIDA ELECTION

Primary Case Goes Through Several Courts Before Settlement.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., October 22.—The Supreme Court to-day filed an opinion sustaining Judge Malone in granting a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel the congressional committee to meet again and canvass the primary election returns. The result of this decision is that the name of D. H. Mays, of Monticello, will appear on the official ballot as nominee for a member of Congress from the Third District.

The returns in the second primary gave Mays a small majority over J. Walter Kehoe, and on account of alleged irregularities the vote of several of the precincts was thrown out, and Kehoe was declared elected. The writ of mandamus to compel the committee to meet and canvass the vote was granted by Judge Malone to Mays. A writ of injunction against the committee canvassing the vote was denied by Judge Wolf. The committee met and declared Mays the nominee. His case was appealed to the Supreme Court on a writ of error, resulting in the court sustaining Judge Malone.

DISCUSS CONSOLIDATION

Travelers' Protective Association In Horsemen's Collar Project.

Consolidation of Richmond and Manchester was informally discussed at a well-attended meeting of Post A, Travelers' Protective Association, last night. A number of members took part in the debate, the opinion being generally expressed that the post would take action favorable to the consolidation if it proved to be consistent with the best interests of the Manchester and Richmond people. While no definite result was reached, the post indicated its readiness to take a positive stand in the subject has arrived at a more definite stage.

After hearing from Business Manager Danby, of the Chamber of Commerce, and others, the post recently endorsed the Richmond College project, which proposes the erection of a large and modern Woman's College in Richmond. The special committee on the Lester Street proposition presented a report reviewing the action of the City Council in providing for the relocation of the street and the purchase of water front for the erection of wharves. By resolution the City Council was commended for its liberal spirit in carrying out an important object embraced in this undertaking.

Every woman covets a shapely figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shape. All of this can be avoided by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this liniment prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend makes the danger of child-birth less, and carries her safely through this critical period. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this remedy.

MOTHER'S FRIEND. Sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book mailed free to all requesting one. THE BRADLEY LUBBER CO., Atlanta, Ga.

INDIANA IS TO BE BATTLE GROUND

(Continued From First Page.)

nied with emphasis that he had never been unfriendly to the Democrats.

That future business confidence and consequent prosperity depended upon Republican success at the polls, Mr. Taft declared to be indicated by the manner in which business men were making their orders for goods dependent on Republican success.

Parade for Sherman.

EMPIRE, N. Y., October 22.—Delegations from many neighboring towns, local marching clubs and brass bands joined here to-night in a parade in honor of Congressman James S. Sherman, who spoke at the Lyceum Theatre before a large audience.

"With every occasion," declared the speaker, "Brother Bryan has a new issue, which he forgets with each setting sun."

He then contrasted Republican deeds with Democratic promises.

Mr. Sherman's address with a vigorous championship of Governor Hughes's administration. The speaker asserted that the people of the Empire State would need Governor Hughes's services as chief executive tomorrow coming two years even than they had during his present term.

SEARCH FOR NIGHT-RIDERS

Governor Patterson Now on the Scene and Will Personally Direct Troops.

UNION CITY, TENN., October 22.—Following the arrival of State troops, who reached their place of encampment on Reel road, near Union City, a district has been proclaimed under martial law, and the search for members of the night rider band which put to death Captain Quentin Rankin on Monday night last, has actively begun.

The military base has been established at the settlement of Samburg, the most central point in the disturbed area. Governor Patterson was accompanied to Samburg to-day by a posse of twenty-five men, and will remain on the scene to personally direct the investigation, having canceled all campaign engagements for the next week.

Funeral of Captain Rankin.

TRENTON, TENN., October 22.—Attended by one of the largest crowds that ever assembled here, the funeral of Captain Quentin Rankin, who was murdered by night riders, was held Monday night, was held here to-day. Hundreds of floral tributes were sent from all sections of the State, and among those who gathered at the grave were residents of nearly every county of West Tennessee.

Caught With the Goods.

William Collins, colored, who has long been under the eye of the Police Department, was last night arrested at his home, No. 521 North First Street, and charged with the possession of a disorderly house. The real complaint against Willie is that he is an illegal dispenser of booze, and quite a large quantity of the liquid that cheers was on his premises. He will probably be charged with selling liquor without a license.

Find Clock in Vacant Lot.

The Police Department is now holding for identification by the owners a handsome clock found in a vacant lot on Fourteenth Street yesterday afternoon. The clock was the property of L. E. Trevalter when he was arrested by Policemen Gentry and Detective Sergeant Bailey. Trevalter is just out of jail from serving a four-months' term, and was arrested as a suspect in a robbery charge.

Orders Election for Bond Issue.

Judge Scott, of Henrico county Circuit Court, yesterday signed an order for the election to be held January 21st of next year as to whether the county shall issue $200,000 in bonds for the improvement of the public roads. The petition was signed by fifty of the most influential citizens of the county, and the improvement proposed will apply equally to all the districts of the county.

Debs Scores Both.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., October 22.—Eugene V. Debs spoke to a crowd of several hundred persons in Evans Hall to-night. He spoke for nearly two hours and scored both Taft and Bryan as being unfriendly to the working class, in that they had never done anything in the interest of labor. He said when Pettibone, Moyer and Haywood were in prison in Idaho, that Taft was sent into the State during a campaign, and he was sent there at the urgent solicitation of President Roosevelt to try and hang the prisoners.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast: Virginia—Showers Friday and Saturday, cooler Saturday; fresh breeze.

North Carolina and South Carolina—Showers Friday and Saturday, cooler in the interior Saturday; fresh to strong northeast winds.

Table with weather data for various cities including Asheville, Atlanta, Baltimore, etc., listing temperature, humidity, wind, and other conditions.

DR. ALDERMAN TO THE GRAND CAMP

Veterans Welcomed to Cabell Hall by President of the University.

OLD'S STRIKING ADDRESS. The Students Who Served in the Confederate Ranks—War Songs—by the Ladies.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, October 22.—The Confederate veterans, this week in reunion at Charlottesville, assembled in Cabell Hall Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, where President Alderman made a short address of welcome, and where Captain W. W. Old, of Norfolk, delivered an informing address on the students of the University who entered the service of the Confederate States during the war, and the service rendered by them.

The Confederate Choir No. 1, composed of nine ladies from Portsmouth, occupied places on the platform, and sang with fine effect the evening "Bonnie Blue Flag" and "Gwine Back to Dixie." At the close they sang with heightened effect, "Dixie," "Maryland," and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground."

In his speech Dr. Alderman referred to a long parade of war-worn and time-worn men in gray that he had witnessed four years ago in the city of New Orleans, and the wonder with which he beheld what seemed to glow in the eyes of each veteran's face.

A look could be there he had found four reasons: 1. These men had made the hero's sacrifice, they had offered up their lives in the strength of vigor, and upon the altar of their country; 2. They had seen how to bear defeat with courage and dignity; 3. They had faced the problems of a new age with wisdom; 4. They had kept their hearts free from hatred and revenge—the hardest thing of all.

Dr. Alderman then presented Capt. W. W. Old, who led the company of students of the university in 1860-61, and the service they performed. He said he earnestly hoped that for all the future our beloved land may be spared the horrors of war, but he also hoped that in every crisis that might arise of whatever nature, the young men of Virginia would always play the man as thoroughly as did the students of '60 and '61.

Most of the teachers and students, when the clouds of war were gathering, were well agreed upon the right of the man to choose his own path, and whether the proper occasion had arisen for the exercise of that right, the inevitable logic of events, the great majority of the men who served entered the army sooner or later.

The student companies first served a short term in a campaign to Harpersburg, later they were returned to the university, and the next year most of the men composing them soon went to their respective homes and occupations. The company of University Volunteers, in which Captain Old was an officer, was formed near the close of the session, and on the 4th of July, 1861, they were being drilled in the barracks of the university.

The student companies first served a short term in a campaign to Harpersburg, later they were returned to the university, and the next year most of the men composing them soon went to their respective homes and occupations.

Samuel Parish, a member of his battery, now ninety-one years old, was introduced. The Old North Virginia had presented to his battery, and modestly depreciated the importance of the service that he rendered them.

Again the Confederate choir, composed of ladies from Portsmouth, won the admiration and gratitude of all present by rendering in fine style some of the songs made dear by many associations to the hearts of the Southern people. When General Carr was introduced they sang "The Old North Virginia" and at other times rendered "Gwine Back to the Old Virginia Shore," "Ise Gwine Back to Dixie" and "Dixie."

The veterans will never forget the entertainment Polk Miller gave them in Cabell Hall at the university. That night an auditorium was filled with laughing, shouting, cheering, happy old soldiers, and for two hours they listened to the man they love for his loyalty to the South and admire for his versatile genius as an orator.

Danville was selected as the next meeting place of the Grand Camp of Veterans. The Federal commander, and extended through him to the veterans of the Union Army a cordial invitation to practice after which they will meet at future meetings of the camp.

In response to an appeal from Mrs. Montague, wife of ex-Governor Montague, who is the mother of the Confederate Veterans, Richmond, the veterans raised a handsome sum for that charity.

Various camps throughout the State will be asked to contribute to the fund. The Sons of Veterans held their annual meeting this afternoon and elected W. G. Pritchard, of Norfolk, division commander for the ensuing year. T. W. Spindle, of Roanoke, and G. Stuart Hancock, of Stony Point, were chosen brigade commanders.

W. W. Old, Jr., of Norfolk, was introduced as the Federal commander of the Federation of Sons, which meets next year in Memphis.

It was the sense of the division that the Federal commander should reduce the per capita tax from 25 to 15 cents. The closing serial feature of the reunion was the reception and ball given to the ladies of the division, and the sponsors' maids of honor, veterans, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy and members of the Confederate choir. The ball was led by Stuart Hancock, of Charlottesville, and Miss Margaret Old, of Norfolk. Among the dances were "The Old Virginia Shore," "Ise Gwine Back to Dixie," and "Dixie."

Boon-Craig.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, Va., October 22.—Miss Margaret Craig, of Lexington, and Mr. Jubal Early Boon, of Roanoke, were married yesterday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. J. Lam, on Randolph Street, Lexington. Rev. William S. Hammond, of Trinity Methodist Church, the bride's pastor, was the officiating minister. The bride was tastefully gowned in blue broadcloth and wore hat and gloves. The groom wore a dark suit and carried the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad for Richmond and other points of interest. They will reside in Roanoke.

and other aims at intervals in the march. The sixth division, consisting of mounted veterans, under Captain N. C. Meigs, of Washington, of Washington, marched in columns up the line, which was led by the band.

Colonel R. P. Chew, of Charlottesville, Va., who, throughout the war commanded Chew's Battery, which shared in innumerable engagements, was chief marshal, and had as his aides Captain James McQuinn, of Washington, of Washington, D. C.; Colonel H. Atkinson, of Petersburg; Captain H. Clay Mielie, of Charlottesville; Colonel J. Thompson Brown, of Richmond; Captain Quintus L. Williams, of Albemarle county; Colonel Robert W. Hunter, of Winchester, and Captain James M. Beckham, of Culpeper.

In proper places in the line appeared the officers of the Grand Camp in carriages, and the sponsors and maids of honor and Confederate choir in tallboys.

The line of march, which was thronged with spectators from one end to the other, began at the armory of the Monticello Guard, on Market Street, and proceeded up East Fifth to Court Square, to High, then westward on High to East Main Street, south to Market, west to First, south to Main, west on Main to Second Street, and south on Second Street, west to South Street to Midway School, thence up Main to Union Station, and back to the armory.

Along the entire route the utmost enthusiasm reigned, and the scene, made gay by bunting and flags, was extremely inspiring. Every business house was closed, lectures suspended at the university, and city and visitors gathered to witness the event memorable and successful.

The final session of the Grand Camp was a fitting preliminary in the matter of enthusiasm and good feeling for the closing scenes of the reunion. Distinguished Confederate chieftains were produced to the honor of the audience by Commander Munford and were given ovations.

The first of these was General Thomas L. Rosser, of this city, the hero of the battle of Trevilians, then General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia. The first of these was General Thomas L. Rosser, of this city, the hero of the battle of Trevilians, then General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage. Captain General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

General Carr, of North Carolina, and General McComb, of Virginia, were among those whose distinguished records brought them to the front of the stage.

W. A. Sorg & Co., 326 E. Broad Street. THE Packard SHOE FOR MEN $3.50 4.00 5.00 FASHIONED FOR FITABLE FEET. UNION MADE.

used a razor to good purpose, Willis Davis (colored), alias Robert Anderson, was finally landed yesterday afternoon by Policemen Mitchell and Barker, who put him away in the Second Police Station.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Catherine M. Bell, widow of John A. Bell, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of her son-in-law, A. W. Havens, No. 224 North Twentieth Street.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

William H. Oliver. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW BERN, N. C., October 22.—William Hollister Oliver, a lifelong resident of New Bern and one of its oldest and most respected citizens, passed away at noon on Wednesday, aged seventy-nine years.

He is survived by one son, Mr. G. A. Oliver, of New Bern, and four daughters—Miss Mary Oliver, of New Bern; Mrs. M. S. Willard, of Wilmington; Mrs. B. R. Husk, of Fayetteville, N. C.; and Mrs. T. M. Constable, of Charlotte.

He was buried this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Christ Episcopal Church, the Confederate veterans, trustees of New Bern Academy and pupils of the city schools in a body.

Mrs. Hugh C. Henry. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) KEYSVILLE, Va., October 22.—Mrs. Annie Laurie Henry, wife of Dr. Hugh C. Henry, died last night at 9 o'clock at her home. She had been in bad health for some time. The funeral services and burial will be at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the cemetery at Bryson, by the Presbyterian Church.

He leaves two small children—a boy and a girl. She was thirty-three years old, and before her marriage was Miss Annie Laurie Smith, of Canada, and at the time of her marriage was a trained nurse at Memorial Hospital, Richmond.

George W. Cadwallader. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINCHESTER, Va., October 22.—George W. Cadwallader, of the city, died last evening at his home near Stephens City after a lingering illness of consumption, aged sixty years.

Isaac Koons. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LURAY, Va., October 22.—Isaac Koons, aged about seventy-nine years, a dear, popular citizen of Page county, died last night at his home about eight miles south of Luray. He is survived by a widow and several children.

IN MEMORIAM THOMPSON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, SALLIE A. THOMPSON, of the county, who died October 22, 1908, one year ago.

All thorns sore so long time she bore; Physicians' skill was vain— Till God pleased that death should seize And ease her earthly pain. Yet again we hope to meet her, When the days of life are fled, And in heaven with joy to greet her, Where no farewell tears are shed. HER CHILDREN.

DEATHS BELL.—Died, October 22, 1908, at the residence of her son-in-law, A. W. Havens, 224 North Twentieth Street, at 10 A. M. Mrs. CATHERINE BELL, wife of the late John A. Bell. Funeral notice later. Washington and Baltimore papers please copy.

MARKHAM.—Died, at his residence, No. 409 West Fourteenth Street, Manchester, Va., at 4:30 P. M., October 22, GUY MARKHAM, aged twenty-four years, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Markham. Funeral SATURDAY at 10 A. M. from Bainbridge Street Baptist Church.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. Hendricks. "Clinchfield, the Coal of Quality"

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c. HARKENS, 1000 MAIN ST., RICHMOND, VA. CLEANS GUMS AND TEETH

Banking Safety. You may wonder why we reiterate again and again that this bank has a Capital of $300,000.00 Surplus and Profits (Largest of any National Bank South of Washington, D. C.) $1,170,000.00 $1,470,000.00