

BISHOP GALLOWAY TAKEN BY DEATH
One of South's Distinguished Ministers and Publicists Dies at Jackson.

WELL KNOWN IN RICHMOND
He Was Perhaps Most Prominent Bishop of Methodist Church, South.

JACKSON, MISS., May 12.—Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died of pneumonia here to-day.

Bishop Galloway, Mississippi's most distinguished minister and best known publicist, for the last twenty years, held rank among the greatest pulpiter orators of America. His illness, of several days' duration, was a mild form of pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble.

The bishop was taken ill last Friday en route from Nashville, where he had attended the annual session of the college of bishops. No alarm over his condition was felt until Monday night, when pneumonia developed in one lung. The patient grew worse rapidly. During the final twelve hours he was unconscious.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon from the First Methodist Church, followed by interment at Greenwood cemetery.

Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Georgia, will conduct the services. State and City in Mourning.

Orders have been issued for all departments of the Federal State, county and municipal government to remain closed to-morrow, and Mayor Crowder has issued a proclamation urging all the business houses to close for the day.

Bishop Galloway was possibly the most prominent of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He was born at Kesheloke, Miss., September 1, 1819, and graduated in 1865 from the University of Mississippi. The degree of doctor of laws was later conferred upon him by the North-western University and by Tulane University.

Bishop Galloway's writings covered a wide range perhaps than those of any other person connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He was a prolific writer. For a number of years he took an active interest in the prohibition campaigns in Mississippi, and other Southern States. He was president of the board of trustees of the Episcopal Church, South; president of the board of trustees of Millsap's College and Vanderbilt University, and was a member of the board of trustees of the John F. Slater fund.

Was Well Known Here. Bishop Galloway was well known and popular in Richmond and throughout Virginia. He presided over the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Petersburg in the fall of 1897. He was an orator of distinguished ability, and was strongly identified with the prohibition movement in the South.

He was a strong believer in the Confederate cause, and delivered a number of addresses on the life and character of Jefferson Davis in the last decade.

Bishop Galloway on one occasion had the unusual distinction of having read his own obituary as it appeared in print after his supposed death. The premature announcement came about during the yellow fever epidemic in 1878.

Returning to Washington, (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)—John Phillip Sousa, his wife and daughter, Miss Helen, are riding horseback from the Hot Springs to Washington, and are spending the night in Staunton. They will leave from Goshen to-day, and go to Newmarket to-morrow.

pany and the other lower bidders an opportunity to answer the contentions made against them. In the Common Council this motion was made by the president of the body, in the Board of Aldermen it was made by a member of the Committee on Electricity, who had originally voted in favor of Mr. Trafford's report.

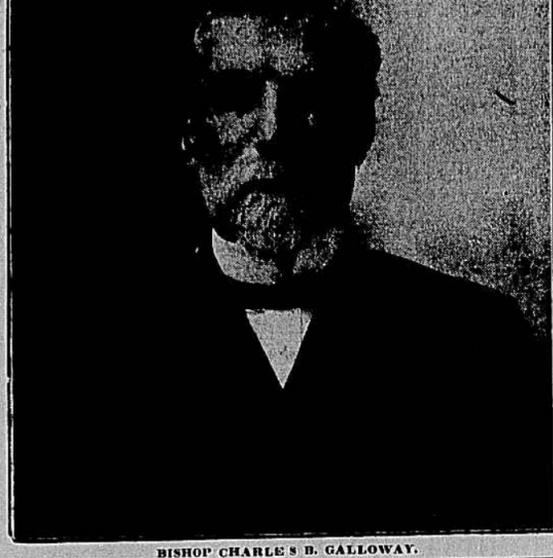

"We state respectfully but positively that no sound reason has been given to justify the city paying more than the amount of our bid, the lowest, for the apparatus involved. This claim we pray an opportunity to substantiate, and this opportunity we have so far been denied, though we ask a hearing and nothing more.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

BISHOP CHARLES B. GALLOWAY.

opportunity to prove our claim that this action, based upon the unanswered contentions of one engineer, is an injustice to this company, and means a loss to the taxpayers of at least $3,200.

"This company has built some of the largest electrical plants in this country, and a large proportion of all existing plants, or which we have furnished apparatus similar to that offered here, to the value of several hundred million dollars. We are therefore in a position of great responsibility as advisers of the city of Richmond, and as such serious contentions have arisen, we feel it is only just and fair to all parties that an appeal be addressed to Your Honor as the court of last resort, to grant a hearing to both sides.

If Mr. Trafford can substantiate his contentions, he will thereby avert the adverse criticism which will certainly result under the circumstances as they exist at the present time. If, on the other hand, we prove our claims, a grave injustice will be avoided and at least $3,200 saved by the city of Richmond.

Would Retain Consulting Expert. "Should Your Honor deem it inadvisable personally to pass judgment upon the technical points involved, we suggest that you employ as adviser any outside authority in whose knowledge and judgment you have confidence, and this company will cheerfully reimburse the city the amount paid for such aid to repeat that we are asking of Your Honor an opportunity to refute contentions made by the city of Richmond which contemplate an injury to us as responsible bidders, and an injustice to the citizens of Richmond, which has been made as justifying the proposed award, but have not been heard since any of these criticisms have become known to us, though as a company of recognized ability, we have complied with every condition of the only one in exact accord with the conditions imposed by the city, and since submitting our bid have used every fair means within our knowledge to secure its intelligent consideration.

Will Cause No Delay. "If Your Honor deems it proper to grant the hearing we ask, no delay can ensue such as will in any manner interfere with the final completion of the electric plant on time. Much other work must be done before the apparatus involved in this bid can be installed.

If you do grant the hearing, and see fit on the showing made by us, to veto that portion of the ordinance in question making this award, and the bid by this company be finally accepted, we have guaranteed to deliver the machinery in one-half the time required by the General Electric Company, if, on the other hand, after a full hearing you deem it advisable to approve the ordinance, and the General Electric Company retains the award, surely there can be no delay of any character except the few hours taken up in the discussion, and yet our company will have done the justice of obeying the decision you reach, therefore, nothing but good can result from your granting us this opportunity to be heard.

Contemned Without a Hearing. "If a hearing before Your Honor be not granted, however, we feel that we will have been done a grave injustice, and the city will have been put in the position of expending unnecessarily $3,200. Moreover, this contract will have been awarded on the recommendation of one engineer, who has condemned our apparatus in this instance without giving us a chance to reply to his criticisms, whereas on many previous occasions this same engineer has officially placed himself on record as of the opinion that our apparatus is at least the equal of that manufactured by any other company. And this opinion in the other instances referred to has not been lightly expressed, but Mr. Trafford has rendered it after careful consideration in matters involving a great deal of money, and on his own approving our apparatus large investments have been made.

"Very respectfully submitted, WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY, BY H. H. SEABROOK, Manager.

GOULD TO FIGHT FOR WATER RIGHTS

Owner of Belle Isle Would Enjoin City From Diverting River Channel.

Legal steps which may have the effect of indefinitely delaying the erection of the proposed municipal electric plant were inaugurated in the Law and Equity Court yesterday, by the owner of Belle Isle in James River. The company is generally believed to be close in ownership to the street railway and lighting properties of Richmond, and is disposed to defend its riparian rights to the utmost. The case was recently lost a suit brought by Mrs. Nettie Barnes and others, for the possession of a small island in the chain necessary for the construction of dams for the municipal plant, and may have to condemn the property.

Filed Bill of Complaint. To prevent the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company and the city of Richmond from trespassing on its alleged water-power rights in the James River, the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works, through Munford, Hunton, Williams and Anderson, yesterday filed a bill of complaint against the company and the city, in the Law and Equity Court. The declaration filed is a document containing more than twenty pages, and eight exhibits, in the form of a bill of complaint, and other evidence accompany the declaration.

The document declares that many years ago the plaintiff company procured certain rights to the James River, a tract of forty-six acres, including the right to use the water of James River, flowing in its natural channel, and that because of these requirements which it and its predecessors have obtained, it has water rights available for the development of great power which are very valuable.

The bill states that the company has been, to a large extent, dependent on water power to operate its plant. Diverting the water of the river, the defendants are diverting water from its natural channel at Boshers' Dam and other points making a new channel entirely around the complainant's property, and works, returning it to the river at a point below the works. It is stated that the amount of water thus taken from the natural channel exceeds 800 cubic feet per second, while the amount is often equal to the entire flow of the river. The bill contends that neither of the defendant corporations has the right thus to divert the water flow, and that already by such new channels as have been made, the defendants have greatly impaired and threaten entirely to destroy the value of the water power and other rights in the river owned by the complainant company. The bill further alleges that if this diversion be permitted to continue, it will result in great loss to the complainant, and bring on irreparable injury, for which it can find no remedy in any court of law.

The court is asked to enjoin and restrain the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company and the city of Richmond, from diverting the water of the James River at Boshers' Dam and at other places, in order that the property of the Old Dominion Company may be adequately protected.

MEMORIALS TO MEN WHO FELL AT SPOTSYLVANIA

Monuments Are Unveiled at Bloody Angle and Salem Church.

WAR DEAD GLORIFIED
Tributes Paid by North and South to Victims of Famous Battles.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., May 12.—A memorial service of the unveiling of "Bloody Angle" and a monument at Salem Church in memory of the New Jersey volunteers who fell on the battlefields of Spotsylvania county in the Civil War were unveiled to-day.

Colonel E. C. Mueser, representing Governor Swanson, delivered the address of welcome at the unveiling. General Joseph Plume then transferred the memorial to the State of New Jersey, and Governor Fort of that State made a speech accepting and transferring it again to the Fifteenth New Jersey Volunteer Veterans' Association. An address on behalf of the latter body was delivered by Theodore F. Swayze of Washington, D. C. Similar addresses of presentation and acceptance were made at the unveiling of the monument. Miss Lena Rowe and Miss Grace Jones, of this city, and Miss Jennie Cawley and Miss Miriam Gordon of New Jersey, jointly drew the cords which disclosed the memorials to public view.

One of the events which excited most interest was the return of the battle flag of the Fourteenth Georgia Regiment, Representative Parker and Colonel A. W. Whitehead made speeches.

About 400 members of the New Jersey Veterans' Association were in attendance. Lunch was served on the battlefield.

IMMENSE CROWD. An immense crowd gathered at Salem Church to witness the unveiling of the monument, the parade from the Bloody Angle being two miles long. The ceremonies began at 2 o'clock with prayers by the Rev. J. H. Lister, pastor of the Baptist Church, and Governor of Virginia, represented Governor Swanson, and delivered an address. After the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the assemblage, the four young women pulled the cords which unveiled the monument.

General Joseph Plume presented the monument to New Jersey, and Governor Fort of New Jersey, accepted it and transferred it to the Fifteenth Regiment Association, the acceptance speech was made by Theodore F. Swayze, after the singing of "Columbia." The principal address of the occasion was made by State Senator Joseph S. Freelinghuyzen of Baritan, N. J., who received much applause.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach
A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutritious elements in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.
