Wright's New Dental Device (Patented) This is a wonderfully effective device for use by dentists in the preparation of artificial teeth of all kinds. It prevents injury to certain parts of such teeth, and thus removes the cause for breakage. This new device has been installed in my offices, at 919 1/2 East Main, where my patients may enjoy its advantages. The device has been warmly commended by the press. Dr. Julian T. Wright, 919 1/2 East Main Street

Walke requested that the Dames consider its preservation. Mrs. Walke was appointed chairman to choose her committee and approach Congress to see what could be done, it being necessary to secure the permission of the United States government before proceeding any further in regard to the lighthouse and the tablet at Henricopolis. It was also decided to write letters of thanks to the Albemarle Dames for their kind hospitality on Thursday last, to Mr. Lev, of Monticello, and to the professors and undergraduates of the University of Virginia for their politeness and cordiality during the very pleasant day.

Resolutions of regret at Mrs. Cox's absence from the meeting and affectionate regards from the Dames were sent to her. Mrs. Addison Cooke, of Baltimore, was present. Mrs. Emma Dew Segar, daughter of the late John R. Segar, of Middlesex county, Va., and Nathaniel J. Land, Jr., of Norfolk, was entertained yesterday at 1:30 P. M. at Edgewood, the ancestral home of the bride's grandfather, Judge A. Brown Evans. The ceremony was very quiet, owing to the fact that both the bride and groom are in mourning, and was witnessed only by the immediate families and a few friends.

The bride was given away by her grandfather, and the groom was attended by his best man, Dr. R. P. Jones, of Norfolk. Mrs. Segar is connected with many of the prominent families in the State. Mr. Land is prominent both in the social and business life of Norfolk. He is a nephew of the late Professor William M. Jones, of that city.

Clopton-Brookes. WEST POINT, VA., June 2.—A marriage of general social interest was that of Miss Lulu Brookes and E. Donnell Clopton, which took place at well Clopton, which took place at "Brookshire," on the York in King and Queen county, which has been the home of the bride's family for generations past, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William B. Lee, rector of Ware Episcopal Church, Gloucester, in the presence of many relatives and friends. The bride, who entered with her father, Richard Cox Brookes, by whom she was given in marriage, wore an exquisite imported pongee gown of natural color, made princess, with vanity bow design, and panels back, front, artistically skilted in self-tone, from which the skirt fell gracefully. Her only ornament was a brooch belonging to her mother, of the rare pearls, an heirloom of the Brookes family, which has been worn by the brides of two generations. She wore a charming tan satin straw hat, trimmed with a brown willow plume. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Lucy Macon Brookes, who was her maid of honor, wore a pink gown of rajas and carried pink peonies. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Cecil Clopton. The wedding was characterized by its beautiful simplicity. White flowers were used in the decorations of the rooms, which, with the green of ferns and running cedar, gave them a charming effect. In the dining-room the bride's roses made a centerpiece for the elegant old mahogany table, on which was the bride's cake, laid in lilies of the valley and a touch of green.

Both bride and bridegroom belong to well-known Virginia families, which makes their marriage of special interest. The bride is the third daughter of Mrs. Maria and an only child of the late William Gregory Brookes, the granddaughter of the late Richard H. Cox. The bridegroom is the son of Thomas Jones Clopton and of the late Mrs. Cecelia Anderson Clopton, of Gloucester. The guests from a distance were Mrs. John R. Coupland, of Norfolk; Mrs. Augustus Kelly, and Richard Cox Brookes, of Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Brookes, of Washington, D. C., brothers and sisters of the bride; Miss Lullie Kelley, of the Hampton School, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Kate Clopton, of Gloucester, sister of the groom; Mrs. Kate Tabb and her daughter, Miss Margaret, of Gloucester; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Talliferro and Mrs. Hattie Talliferro, of Gloucester; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Crowder and Robert Crowder, of Shackelford's; Bernard Talliferro, of Baltimore; Miss Mary Nash Saunders, of Norfolk; Hon. John R. Saunders, of Saluda; Charles Bargamini and Jeter Woodward, of Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Clopton left on the Baltimore steamer for an extended Northern trip. On their return they will be at the Ross House, Urbanna, for the summer.

Farmers Convinced that Good Work Is Being Done by State Officers. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., June 2.—The overshadowing feature of the first day's session of the State Board of Agriculture, which convened in annual meeting here to-day, was the report of Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham, covering in brief the operations of the department for the past year. This declared that through the operations of the farmers' institutes and the practical work of the employees of the department, the whole State had become acquainted with what the department is doing to advance agricultural interests, and that the department has secured an institution of questionable usefulness. The department has, he declared, demonstrated that the forces are not a set of so-called scientific men in a building at Raleigh, but are actually at work in a practical and beneficial way among the people.

Question of Jurisdiction. The loss of a jewel case containing jewels to the value of $1,000 is the bone of contention in a suit in which James H. Fox, as counsel for the Pullman Car Company, has lodged a motion in the United States District Court before Judge Connor, raising the issue of the jurisdiction of the court to try the case. The suit is brought by Mrs. Charles Friedburg, of Paris, against the Pullman Company, and the point raised by Mr. Fox is that the suit should not be in this district, as neither the plaintiff nor defendant is a resident of the district, the plaintiff not even being a citizen of the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Friedburg were traveling in a Pullman car from Jersey City to Wilmington, when they allege that the case of jewelry was stolen by a porter. The court has not passed on the question of jurisdiction.

For Co-Operation. There was a conference here to-day of Hon. O. B. Martin, of the United States Department of Agriculture, State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner and President D. H. Hill, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, relative to some basis of co-operation between the department and the State authorities in maintaining an effective system of agricultural instruction in the public schools. The Kernersville Light and Power Company, of Kernersville, Forsyth county, is chartered with $25,000 capital authorized, and $2,500 subscribed, by D. W. Harrison, C. C. Sapp, of Kernersville, and C. S. Swann and R. R. Clarend, Winston-Salem.

Another charter is to the Stokes Furniture Company, of Burlington, capital $2,000, by R. L. Stokes and others.

NO ODORS NO MIXING OF FOOD FLAVORS Features That Will Be Appreciated. Automatic circulation is so constant and perfect and the air so dry, that there is no opportunity for good odors to mix or adhere to the shelves or walls. It is the easiest to clean—and keep clean and sweet—all refrigerators. It has adjustable shelves—and more shelf room than any other. Ice must be placed in the ice chamber. The ice cannot drop or throw it in, shaking and marring things. Anything you happen to have on top of the ice box need not be removed when icing. The trap used is the one that was found to be the very best after all kinds of experimenting. It cannot clog or cause any trouble. The Automatic is the only refrigerator with a water cooler so constructed that food odors cannot get at, mix with and taint the water. Also large assortments of McCray Refrigerators ready for you. The largest display of Folders in the city, including these lines: Whitney, Allwin, Heywood, Sturgis and Lloyd.

DEPARTMENT HAS PROVED ITS VALUE. Farmers Convinced that Good Work Is Being Done by State Officers. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N.
