A pretty wedding, which took place in Covington, Ky., last evening at 8 o'clock, of Miss Mary Louise Jones and Arthur Dudley Brown.

The ceremony was performed in the Fourth Street Christian Church by Rev. Joseph W. Hagin, the pastor, and was followed by a beautiful reception in the home of Mrs. William George Woodward, the bride's aunt, in her home, 1451 Madison Avenue, Covington.

All decorations in the church and the lower floor of the Woodward home were in white and green, a profusion of palms and other evergreens were used and illumination was furnished by myriads of white and green candles.

Mrs. Pierce Johnson presided at the pipe organ and played softly during the ritual. Curtis E. Lyter, of Louisville, Ky., was best man and the ushers were Dr. O. Lyle Reynolds, C. Edmull, Fort and Thomas, Miss Jones.

The bride entered with her aunt, Mrs. Woodward, by whom she was given away. Mrs. Woodward's gown was of white tulle and real lace.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FARMVILLE, Va., June 8.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the State Normal School, was celebrated this week with the commencement exercises, which were inaugurated Sunday night with the baccalaureate sermon, preached by Rev. Dr. Barr, of Lynchburg. Robert Turnbull, president of the board of trustees, first addressed the audience. He gave a historical sketch of the school, which was followed by Governor Swanson, who had as his theme, "Virginia." He shone out in all his glory as prince of placid form speakers. He moved gracefully from the smiles to the gay, moved to tears or grates at his own will, filled the audience with enthusiasm and with hope, and awakened new love for the alma mater in the hearts of all who heard him.

According to the rules of the Passenger and Power Company, present all cars must stop at the approaching corner of each street, and possibly the new rule in this city is the first which requires cars to stop on the far side of the street. The point in question is at the Bank of Manchester, and is just above the Manchester Fire Department. It was all probably brought about by a recent happening when the fire department was called out, and when the firemen claimed the street for their progress. The entire matter was published in the Times-Dispatch, and following the report by the passenger and Power Company took the matter up and issued the order compelling cars to stop above the entrance to the fire department. Will Call Meeting Soon. While the City Democratic Committee has been inactive for the past few months, William C. Pulliam, the chairman, will shortly call a meeting at which the fees of the candidates will be fixed and the primary arranged. That there will be only one primary in this city is now beyond doubt. The entire voting population, as far as can be judged, is in favor of having only one, and it is thought that the committee will favor the popular plan. The single primary system is popular in this city, and it is believed that the City Council will pass an ordinance to that effect. Graduates With High Honors. R. S. Robertson, son of J. S. Robertson, of Highland Park, who recently successfully passed the examinations at Annapolis, and who is now a full fledged midshipman, is in the city visiting his parents. Midshipman Robertson, who is a grandson of the late Judge S. B. French, was one of a class of 15, and his standing and graduation mark was seventeen. This is an especially good mark, and the friends of the Robertson family are greatly pleased at the record. He will be in the city for about two weeks, and will then leave for cruise of the classmate. Personal and Briefs. Thomas Connolly, a former resident of the city, was here yesterday on a business trip. Miss Jennette Jones, of Winchester, is the guest of relatives in this city. Miss Jones will be here for several weeks. Work on the new post-office building is advancing rapidly, and Contractor Barney Connolly is expected to state the exact time for the laying of the cornerstone. James Wiley, who has been very sick in this city for the past few weeks, is greatly improved, and yesterday it was stated at his home that he would be able to be out in a few days. John Thompson, one of the most prominent farmers of Chesterfield county, was in the city for a few hours yesterday. Mr. Thompson says that politics is warming up in the county, and that a great fight will be made for seats in the Virginia Legislature from the county. The regular monthly meeting of the Fire Commissioners will be held in the Council chamber Thursday night at 8 o'clock. D. L. Toney, one of the candidates for the Legislature from this district, has returned from a trip to the county. Mrs. J. Smart is sick at her home in this city.
