

PIT OFF THAN HE TRY TO FIND MORE KILLED ENGINEER GUNNESS VICTIMS

Slayer of Holt at Durham Last December Makes Confession to Police.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DURHAM, N. C., June 27.—Because he was put off by the Durham Air Line train, on which he was stealing a ride, Solomon Shepard, a negro, according to his own confession, made here today, shot and killed Engineer Holt. The crime was committed last December, but the negro was arrested only a few days ago in Columbus, Ga., where his connection with the case was learned through his protestations of innocence. The police had taken him in custody on another charge.

In his confession to-day Shepard said he was returning to Durham from England, nineteen miles away, after a visit to his brother, when the killing occurred. He said he remained in Durham until six weeks ago. Shepard spent all of yesterday reading his Bible and "getting religion," and when Dr. N. M. Johnson entered the jail to minister to a sick prisoner he called him to the door of his cell and laid bare the facts in the mysterious murder. Shepard says that on the night of the tragedy he was kicked off a train by a brakeman and was in search of the brakeman to kill him when he found him with several other men on the cab, talking with Engineer Holt. Crawling nearer the engine he raised his gun and fired, the shot striking the engineer. He then walked up the track and, seeing a light in the Greenberg house, fired at it "just to scare somebody." It was this latter incident which had much to do with the arrest of Shepard, when the Air Line west coast of Africa, Antonio Penna, third mate of the brig Sullivan, and his boat's crew of five men, were carried off by a whale, to which they remained here until about six weeks ago. He denies that he had a white accomplice in his crime. On the strength of the negro's confession Barbee's attorneys will tomorrow ask for their client's release.

Digging Resumed on Farm After Lapse of Eight Months, but Without Result.

LAPORTE, IND., June 27.—After a lapse of eight months digging was resumed yesterday on the Guinness farm, in order to determine positively whether or not the bodies of any more victims of the arch-murderer are in the private burial ground from which ten have already been taken. No success attended the efforts of A. E. K. Heiglein, of Aberdeen, S. D.; Mrs. Emma Larson, of Chicago, and Attorney Olof O. Berg, of Chicago, who conducted the digging. Heiglein, brother of Andrew Heiglein, the last known victim of Mrs. Bella Guinness; Mrs. Larson, sister of Mrs. Guinness; and Attorney Berg are here for the trial this week of the case of Andrew G. Heiglein, executor of the will of Mrs. Guinness, for the recovery of the $2,800 which Mrs. Guinness is alleged to have obtained from the South Dakota ranchman before she murdered him. Mrs. Larson and two sisters of Mrs. Guinness in Norway will inherit her property, the Norwegian Orphanage in Chicago having refused a bequest made by the woman's will on the ground that it is blood money.

DEAD CAME TO LIFE

Whalermen Long Lost Return to New York With Strange Story. NEW YORK, June 27.—Six whalermen from New Bedford, Mass., long missing and supposed to be dead, were picked up by the White Star liner Celtic. On March 10, off the west coast of Africa, Antonio Penna, third mate of the brig Sullivan, and his boat's crew of five men, were carried off by a whale, to which they remained here until about six weeks ago. He denies that he had a white accomplice in his crime. On the strength of the negro's confession Barbee's attorneys will tomorrow ask for their client's release.

COMPANIES RECOVERING.

Stump in Business Due to Disclosures and Not to New Law. ALBANY, N. Y., June 27.—Superintendent of Insurance William H. Hotchkiss has transmitted to Governor Charles E. Hughes a report prepared by the department's auditor, J. H. Woodward, on the effect on the business of life insurance of the so-called "hours of service" act. The report shows that, though there was a notable falling off during the past three years in the business of New York companies, such falling off was due primarily to the disclosures of the investigation, and not to the amendments themselves, and the companies are now rapidly recovering.

Quit Fifth Avenue for Baltimore. NEW YORK, June 27.—Rev. J. Ross Stevenson who has been pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church for seven years, announced his resignation to the congregation to-day and his acceptance of a call to the Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church, of Baltimore. The Brown Memorial is one of the leading churches in Baltimore and is noted for its influence among the students of that city, notably those of Johns Hopkins University.

POST CARD TINSEL HURTS THEIR EYES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—Failure to inclose unsealed or frosted postcards in tightly sealed envelopes to prevent the escape of particles of tinsel, mica, etc., as required by the postal regulations, is causing from 15,000 to 20,000 of such cards to be withdrawn from the mails and sent to the dead-letter office every day. Following the issuance of an order by the department, declaring cards of such character to be unmailable unless inclosed in envelopes, so treated as to prevent injuries to employees, postcard dealers began supplying their customers with more transparent envelopes. The postcard stamps are frequently placed on the card inside the envelope, thereby preventing its cancellation, and the envelopes fall to prevent the escape of particles which fill all the air in postal cars, thereby causing irritation of the eyes of railway mail clerks. It is explained that the stamp should be placed on the envelope in such a way as to permit cancellation.

To Study Island Conditions. MANILA, June 27.—Acting Governor-General J. M. Smith is going to Zamboanga to attend the conference of American planters and commercial representatives of the islands, who will assemble there on July 4 to discuss the needs of the country. Governor Forbes plans to make a personal study of conditions on the island during his tour.

UNVEIL STATUE TO G. A. R. FOUNDER TO BE KICKED OUT

President Taft to Speak at Exercises to Be Held in Washington on July 3.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—One of the greatest events in the history of the Grand Army of the Republic will occur when the statue erected in this city to Dr. Benjamin Franklin Stephenson, founder of the organization, is unveiled on July 3. In connection with the unveiling exercises there will be a parade of all available United States military and naval forces and the District military. President Taft will deliver an address, and will be followed by Representative J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, who will be the orator of the day. The shaft will be forty feet high, and triangular in shape. On its three sides are groups in bronze representing the three cardinal principles of the G. A. R.—fraternity, charity and loyalty. On the western side is a bronze idealized medallion of Dr. Stephenson. Though the shaft will be a memorial to Dr. Stephenson, it is also intended to be a memorial to the G. A. R. itself.

Report Made to Head of Department of Commerce and Labor Causes Sensation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—Approximately 10 per cent. of the employees of the Department of Commerce and Labor in and out of Washington are involved unfavorably in reports made to Secretary Nagel by the bureau chiefs of the department. The employees reported upon unfavorably will be either dismissed from the service or reduced. The reports show, in some instances, a serious discrepancy from the work that is reasonably ought to be accomplished in the bureau. Secretary Nagel and Assistant Secretary McFarland had a conference to-day and the matter was discussed at length. No announcement of the action of the officials will be made prior to the hearing of the cases on July 3, when the dismissal or reduction will be promulgated in the ordinary way.

WOMAN FELL FROM WINDOW

Tricked to Evade Husband, Who Had Trapped Her in Man's Office. ATLANTA, GA., June 27.—Mrs. Philip N. Johnson, who fell from the second-story window of an office building in Atlanta on Saturday afternoon in attempting to evade her husband, who had trapped her in the room with another man, was removed from the hospital this afternoon to her father's home, with prospects favoring her recovery. Harry Walker, Mrs. Johnson's companion, who was locked up in connection with the affair, was released from custody late this afternoon on bond in the sum of $700. Johnson did not visit his wife at the hospital to-day. It is said that he will institute proceedings for divorce.

Change in Naval Regulations. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—Engineering work at navy yards hereafter will be in charge of a line officer instead of a deck officer, as provided by the Newberry plan of reorganization. The change is recommended by the board headed by Rear Admiral Sperry.

THINK GIRL WAS TAKEN BY FORCE

(Continued from Page One—Column 3.) which might help to divert attention from himself. A New York newspaperman, named Showell, appeared as a witness against Eastman in criminal proceedings, and the authorities here have an idea that in trying to lay the blame on a man hit upon the plan of possibly drawing his enemies into the affair. The Howarth whom he possibly knew in New York, however, died about a year ago. No one named Howarth lives at Easton, from which place the letter was dated. Dr. Lewis, who Ryan or Showell arrived at Oxford on a boat, as the letter said they would, so far as the records of the steamship companies show.

The Final Inquest. Attorney A. S. Rosenthal, of New York, who is here as a former lawyer for Eastman, and who is the representative of persons who lost heavily on Eastman's bond when he took flight from New York, declared to-day that he would endeavor to have the State of New York discharge the responsibility for Mrs. Woodill's death, and thus reverse the verdict. Mr. Rosenthal denied that he had thought it possible to make delivery of the body in New York. The final inquest into the cause and responsibility for Mrs. Woodill's death, is announced, will be held to-morrow at 10 o'clock at the coroner's conference with Judge R. H. E. Starr. Mr. Rosenthal, who is a member of the coroner's jury, has determined to have no certain witnesses who have not been heard before.

Among the witnesses summoned, said Mr. Turner, "we wish to question those who are persons who most intimately knew Robert, and to assert that Roberts could not have killed the girl. So far, I have been unable to get any tangible evidence whatever to show that any one other than Roberts committed the murder. All we have to-morrow is the testimony of the coroner's jury, which has determined to have something from witnesses that has not yet been told."

Regardless of the result of the inquest to-morrow, the investigation of the tragedy by the law officers of the county will continue. Even though the coroner's jury should find no murder at Eastman's door, matter will not be allowed to rest until every possible clue is worked out. In the minds of many persons here, the coroner's jury still attaches importance to the launch party, in which women and three men, seen in the neighborhood of the bungalow last Sunday morning, detectives are using every effort to trace this party.

Despite the opinion of the coroner, still exists a strong belief among several members of the coroner's jury, who were in the bungalow at the time of the murder, that they were not allowed to rest until every possible clue is worked out. In the minds of many persons here, the coroner's jury still attaches importance to the launch party, in which women and three men, seen in the neighborhood of the bungalow last Sunday morning, detectives are using every effort to trace this party.

It was even hinted to-night that one or more arrests may be made at any time. Mrs. Eastman has not changed her opinion since coming to Easton county, her husband did not kill Mrs. Woodill. She has stated that she had Eastman told her that he had fled from justice and that he would rather commit suicide than serve twenty years in the penitentiary for grand larceny. Mrs. Eastman said that her husband left her after they had been married two days. She will return to the stage to earn a living for herself and little boy.

Tweed Found Refuge There. In connection with the Eastman-Woodill tragedy, there has been reaching the interesting fact that a fugitive "Boss" Tweed fled from New York, he sought refuge from the law by coming to St. Michael's. This section of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, which even now is secluded from the rest of the world, although but a short distance from the crowd flies from Baltimore, was at the time of Tweed's flight even more remote. Some people now believe that Eastman may have remembered that Tweed came here, and that the fact determined him to seek shelter in this unfrequented part of the world. It was from here that Tweed was eventually taken on a yacht to Hampton Roads where he boarded a steamer bound for Cuba. From Cuba he went to Spain, where he subsequently was captured and taken back to New York for trial.

The region about St. Michael's is a tangled labyrinth of waterways, tidal bays and creeks and rivers putting in from the wide expanse of the Chesapeake. The only connection with Baltimore is by a narrow strip of land, as far as Claiborne. A local railway runs from Claiborne across the Maryland peninsula to the sea. To reach here by rail from Baltimore it is necessary first to go to Pocomoke. To visit a neighbor who may live only two miles away, it is necessary to travel twelve miles in and out among the winding water channels. The whole of the shore country is cut up into blocks of land jutting out into the water.

At the time of Tweed's flight there were no railroads in this section.

Admiral Evans's House at Beverly, Mass., Rented by Executive, "Fixed Up" for Business and Pleasure.

BEVERLY, MASS., June 27.—Here, as well as on Woodbury's Point, nearly everything is in readiness for the arrival of President Taft and his official staff within a week or so. With the arrival of the President and his staff, Beverly will become the summer capital of the nation, with a fair prospect of holding this post of honor until the close of the season, when, after official duties will make the presence of President Taft in Washington imperative.

It was no small task to transform this usually rather quiet little town into the national capital, even for the brief period of a few weeks. The house and grounds which President Taft rented from Admiral Evans, although well kept and in excellent condition, had to be rearranged for the exigencies of an executive mansion. The driveways and paths were resurfaced, the trees and shrubs were pruned, the lawn put in trim, the lawns put in perfect condition and hundreds of electric lights distributed throughout the grounds.

President's Strict Privacy. The house, to be in perfect order, and ready to receive the furniture, which will be sent on from Washington within a few days. The house will shelter only the family of the President and Secretary Carpenter, while the numerous clerks, stenographers, secret service men, stablemen, etc., will have to find quarters in Beverly, where the executive offices will be located. Secretary Carpenter has rented several connecting rooms in the Board of Trade Building, on Cabot Street, which have been arranged and fitted up for their use as executive offices. One of the smaller rooms of the suite has been equipped as a telephone office, another as a telephone room and a third will serve as the headquarters of the secret service officers, who will be stationed here during President Taft's sojourn at the Evans cottage.

ENFORCE HOURS OF SERVICE ACT

WASHINGTON, June 27.—An important construction has been placed by the Department of Justice upon the so-called "hours of service act," relating to the employment of men on railroads. The Interstate Commerce Commission was requested by H. H. West, general attorney of the St. Louis Southwestern Railroad, to postpone the enforcement of the act until the United States Supreme Court shall have passed upon it. Mr. West's letter was submitted to the Department of Justice. Attorney-General Wickham says, in part:

"I beg to advise you that your suggestion cannot be entertained. This statute has been construed by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois in the case of the United States against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, and in the judgment of this department, the court's view is the correct one. Until that decision is modified or reversed, the statute as thus construed must be accepted as the law, binding upon every interstate railroad company and upon their managing officers. It is the duty of the Interstate Commerce Commission to enforce its statute, as thus construed, and the commission has been so advised by this department."

NEGROES WILL STAY.

Arbitrators Refuse to Give White Firemen Seniority Over Blacks. ATLANTA, GA., June 27.—The Georgia Railroad strike arbitration board last night decided against the seniority of white firemen over negroes. The arbitrators, however, placed a "premium on intelligence" among firemen which, it is believed, will ultimately result in the gradual elimination of all except the most expert negro firemen.

The board was composed of Hilary A. Herbert, of Alabama, representing the Georgia Railroad Company; Representative Thomas Hardwick, of Georgia, representing the firemen; and Chancellor David L. Best, of the Georgia University, as umpire.

Their decision was worded guardedly, and did not in any case deal directly with the race problem. The award made the pay of negro firemen equal to that of whites. The negroes have been receiving from about 20 to 50 cents per day less than whites.

Mr. Hardwick, in a dissenting opinion, said: "Insofar as the above finding permits the continued employment of negro firemen, I believe that I believe from the evidence that such employment is a menace to the safety of the traveling public. Insofar as such finding requires that when negroes are so employed, they shall receive wages equal to those paid white men, I am in favor of such requirement, by removing that such requirement to their employment, will result in the speedy elimination of this cheaper labor and a consequent improvement of the service."

The arbitrators reached their decision after about three hours of conference, but it required a long time to draw up the agreement.

ANOTHER RIOT OVER DREYFUS

Celebration Arranged by Gregori, Who Shot at Him, Interrupted. PARIS, June 27.—A meeting last night arranged by Gregori to commemorate the shooting of Major Dreyfus at the canonization of Zola in the Pantheon was marked by a riot. The demonstrators, who were protesting against the transfer of the body to the Pantheon, entered the hall, they hooted and insulted the speaker, and a free fight followed between Nationalists and Republicans.

The riot, which was in the minority, were seriously hurt and several of his companions were badly bruised. After the expulsion of the Republicans, the Gregori adherents resumed their celebration.

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hill Street. A warrant has been issued by the Chesterfield county authorities, charging Willis Gilliam and Cleveland Farmer, two young white men of this city, with stealing a horse and buggy, the property of W. C. Clayton, a merchant, who conducts his business in Richmond.

According to Mr. Clayton, who had the warrant issued, the two boys purchased the horse from him on Friday. They also found the horse and buggy, which they owned a balance of $75, the purchase price being $50. The balance was to have been paid within thirty days.

Later the young men came through Manchester and disposed of the horse and buggy to Benjamin Totty, who lives just outside of Manchester. He gave them $20 for the outfit. Shortly after this Clayton learned that the boys had sold the horse and buggy, and he went to the Totty home, but found Mr. Totty away.

He also found the horse and vehicle and took them back to Richmond. When Totty returned home he was much upset over the matter, and immediately had a warrant issued for the arrest of Clayton. At that time he did not know who the case and did not know where the boys had not paid for the horse and buggy.

Clayton was arrested in Richmond on Saturday and turned over to the Chesterfield authorities. He was taken to Squire Chestnut, of Oak Grove, and was detained there until the case was heard, and then the warrant for the arrest of Gilliam and Farmer was issued. Both of these young men are missing, and the county police have been unable to locate them thus far. Mr. Totty in the meantime suffered the greatest loss, since he paid out $20 for the horse and buggy, which he could not retain.

Lynchburg, Va., June 27.—An alleged gambling-room over 305 Main Street was raided early this morning by the police, and Monroe Southern was held on the charge of operating the joint. A number of occupants were recognized as witnesses. A game of allegedly poker, seems to have been in progress when the raid was made.

Follows Georgia Lead. HOUSTON, TEX., June 27.—Following the Georgia Railroad's refusal to grant the union's demand for all white firemen, the Houston and Texas Central Railroad to-day answered the demands of the switchmen in Houston, and refused to displace negroes for whites in the yards.
