

GAY SEASON AT THE WARM AND MANY NEW-COMERS

Miss Mary Johnston Writes from Europe, "Go East, Go West, the Warm is Best!"

Special to The Times-Dispatch. WARM SPRINGS, Va., August 14.—The well-known author, Miss Mary Johnston, who is now in England, writing to Mrs. John C. Eubank wishes to engage her cottage for next summer, and says: "Go east, go west, the Warm is the best." Miss Johnston has already spent many summers at the Warm, and her numerous friends are glad to hear she will return next season.

Judge Wm. H. Felton, of Macon, Ga., one of the best-known jurists of his State, has been a visitor here for the past week, with his family, who are spending the summer at the Warm.

Admiral and Mrs. Casey, of Washington, D. C., are among the new arrivals during the last few days. The many children among the guests have been having a particularly gay time during the past week. Mrs. John L. Eubank gave a delightful hay-ride to Miss Margaret Herndon and Miss Alice Blair, including all the other children of the party.

In the care of Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. John Otter and Miss Kate Halle. The ride was voted a great success by all, and the party returned home, happy and bright.

Little Miss Frances Campbell gave a birthday party during the past week at the Casino. The juvenile set present enjoyed many games, after which delicious refreshments were served.

A. Y. Wadley, of Richmond, gave an attractive tea Saturday afternoon. His agreeable and hospitable manner made the tea a great success.

Charles B. Davis, of New York, gave two champagne suppers during the past week, which were greatly enjoyed by all present.

Miss G. T. M. Gibson, of Baltimore, gave a mint julep party on the veranda of his cottage. The juleps were mixed by the skilled hand of Mrs. Vernon Springs, Munroe, whose success in this line has never been surpassed, and on this occasion did not fall short of maintaining his good reputation.

Miss Gertrude Widmer, of New York, on Saturday of last week, invited some of her friends over to the Casino to a party given to Mr. Duncan and Mr. Wadley, who were leaving the next day.

Among those present were: Miss Johnson, of Louisville, Ky.; Miss Duncan, of Macon, Ga.; Miss Gibson, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. Hughes, Charleston, S. C.; A. Y. Wadley, Richmond; Duncan and Mr. Wadley, of Macon, Ga.; Mr. Machen, of Baltimore, and Sevier Bonnie, of Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Duncan gave a birthday watermelon party to her nephew, Mr. Wadley, on Wednesday of last week. The melons, which were sent up from the old Duncan plantation near Farmington, were among the finest seen here this year.

The dance hall has been particularly lively during the past week, and many impromptu Germans have been gotten up. It is needless to say that the great success of the Southern men cannot be equalled when it comes to leading a cotillon.

Old-Time Cakewalk. The guests are looking forward with much pleasure to the night of August 15, for on that date an old-time cakewalk will be given by the colored servants, which will, no doubt, be a rare treat for all present.

New Arrivals Include: William H. Felton, Macon, Ga.; J. H. Davis, Lynchburg; William W. Moss, Jr., Charlottesville; Admiral and Mrs. Casey, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. W. E. McGavock, Mrs. E. M. Hays, Mrs. W. W. Martin, Mrs. Emily Martin and Mrs. E. R. Walker, of Norfolk; Dr. E. G. Douglas, New York; E. M. Hancinckel, Richmond; W. H. McClintic, Hot Springs, Va.; S. D. Davis, Boston; A. Y. Wadley, Richmond; Miss G. M. Bell and Arthur W. Maehen, Baltimore, Md.; H. Gordon Donald, U. S. N.; Judge Julian E. Sanford, Ky.; George W. Shepherd, Mrs. Shepherd and Miss Shepherd, of Fredericksburg; Mrs. J. W. Daniel, Washington, D. C.; Miss A. H. Bard, New York; Mrs. A. Levy, Richmond; Mrs. M. F. Kirkbride and Miss Kirkbride, Mobile, Ala.; Miss Logan, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. T. J. Tinsell, Culbert Tinsell, Norfolk; Mrs. J. C. Widmer, New York; Edwin H. Palmer and family, Richmond; Miss Kate Munson, Wilmington, N. C.; Miss A. Munson, Miss Alice Blair and Miss Hermehusa, Richmond; Mrs. and Miss Goodie, Boydton, Va.; Mrs. Archer, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Newcomb and J. C. Newcomb, Kentucky; Mrs. M. V. Gress, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. E. M. Morris, New York; M. S. Gress, Jacksonville, Fla., and W. V. Gerak, Hot Springs, Va.

At Blue Ridge Springs. BLUE RIDGE SPRINGS, Va., August 14.—Eat, drink and be merry is the Blue Ridge Springs motto, and the merry company of August guests who have hung up their hats here, are living up to it with a will. The long list of the week's guests, the Blue Ridge chef, and old "Uncle Jackson" down at the sparkling spring, can all testify that these are busy days, and the guests are "making hay while the sun shines."

An eight-table progressive euchre party was one of the enjoyable events of the week, and all praise is due Thos. W. Johns, of Lynchburg, who originated and carried it through so successfully. Darnie Fortune smiled her sweetest on Mrs. Prater, of Petersburg, and a beautiful cut-glass bowl, the first prize, was her trophy. Miss Powe, of Cheraw, S. C., was fortune's second favorite, and an exquisite Alhambra bowl was her reward. Dr. Alfred P. Upmear, of Richmond, was the game's pot, and to him went the consolation prize, a brass fern-dish of rare workmanship. Wit and refreshments wound up the merry evening.

Wildcat Knob was the chief attraction on Monday for a party of fifteen of the more strenuously inclined. The start was made at a lock, and the "conquering heroes" and heroines had reached the top of the lordly peak and were enjoying the magnificent panorama. Those who made the climb are: Mrs. R. N. Collins and Miss Margaret Horton, of Hatteras; Misses Josephine, Lucy and Ann McIlwaine, of Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner, of Hatteras; Misses Miss Treys and Miss Betty Treys, of Greenville; Misses Mrs. Frey, of Petersburg; and Messrs. John, of Lynchburg; Adams, of Roanoke; Howe, of St. Louis; Giddens, of Baton Rouge, La., and Taylor, of Norfolk.

Sweet singers are here in numbers, and among those who have given the guests most pleasure are: Misses Josephine and Lucy McIlwaine, Miss Treys and Mrs. Treys and Mrs. W. R. Powe, of Cheraw, S. C.; Philp, P. Brown's bird orchestra is still on hand and delighting the guests.

Bridge parties are still holding the "bridge," and hops, Germans and Old Virginia reels, with barn dances thrown in for good measure, are given in which the precious summer hours are spent.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Galveston, Tex., president-general U. D. C., who is summering here, attended the ceremonies of unveiling a Confederate monument at Pearisburg, Va., on August the 7th, and was entertained at a dinner while there at the home of Judge Williams, the brother of Judge Sam Williams, recently nominated at the Virginia primary election for the office of Attorney-General. The invitation was given to meet Governor Swanson, who was one of the orators of the occasion, and he added one more laurel to his fine reputation as a speaker. Mrs. Stone was a guest at the home of Mrs. Minnie C. Easley, the daughter of Major M. M. Easley, one of the most distinguished sons of Giles county, who gave up his life, a willing sacrifice, during the War Between the States. Mrs. Easley is the president of the local chapter, U. D. C., which has erected the beautiful monument just unveiled.

Arrivals furnish a note of keen interest in the life here, and among the interesting new-comers are: Mrs. E. N. Burt, of Waverly, Va., who is chaperoning three pretty and attractive girls—Misses Louella Murr, Sally Fleetwood and Maxie Murr, of Martinsburg, Va.; Mrs. Margaret S. Moore, with her two handsome daughters, Mrs. James B. McCaw and Mrs. C. P. Breese and their two handsome boys, are Norfolk's contribution to the merry colony. Mrs. J. M. Wynn and her three entertaining daughters, the Misses Wynn, are here from Murfreesboro, N. C.

Judge J. Lawrence Campbell, G. B. Campbell, his son and Mrs. S. M. Bolling and Miss Elizabeth Bolling are interesting people from Bedford City.

Mrs. W. B. Powe, of Chesapeake, with her nephew, Major Oliver A. Warren, joined a family party here for August. Mrs. R. N. Collins and her little sister, Miss Margaret Herren, are here from Hatterasburg. Miss, with Miss Travis, of Chattanooga, Tenn. They are charming additions to the colony.

At Crockett Springs. Special to The Times-Dispatch. CROCKETT SPRINGS, Va., August 14.—Each day brings forth new pleasures and amusements. The guests cannot complain of monotonous and weary days, for they are constantly on the go, either walking, bowling, playing cards or dancing.

One does not fail to note the many new arrivals, and also the number of New Orleans people among them. Last week Misses Marion Cordill and Elsie Urquhart reached here from the Crescent City, and although here for a short time, they have proved a great popularity, and are sharing the many attentions from the stronger sex along with Miss Agnes Jones, of Albany, Ga., and Miss Cary Brooke, of Roanoke, whose winning smiles and sprit-like grace and beauty charm every one. To this group of attractive visitors must be added the names of Miss Kathleen Thomas and Miss Emma Carper, for both possess individual attractiveness.

Tuesday night many of the guests enjoyed a novel entertainment. The waiters gave their annual minstrel show, and it was a very creditable performance.

Wednesday was one of rare delight to those who took part in the game of "progressive bridge." The tables were occupied by Mrs. Kitson W. Garret, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Fuller, Miss Hunnicutt, Turner, Harris, Mrs. Jones, Marshall Miller, Miss Price, Miss Strayer, Miss Thomas, Miss Bertha Leeds, Miss Barnwell, Miss Bowles, Mr. Hall. Some earnest and excellent playing was done, and Mrs. E. T. Kitson was awarded the ladies' champion, and the embroidered pin cushion. The gentlemen's prize, a handsomely mounted clothes brush, was won by Turner Harris, of Danville, Va.

One of the pleasant events of the week was a ride to Alleghany Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harris, of Baltimore, were host and hostess on this occasion, and added not a little to the pleasure of the ride by their wit and bonhomie. Among their guests were Mrs. Wesley Smith, Mrs. E. T. Kitson, Mrs. F. J. Kinred and Mr. Burrell, of Philadelphia.

Thursday the dance was an unusually enjoyable one, for aside from the hotel guests a party from Shawsville came over to participate in the evening's pleasures. Captain S. Walton, of Mills Falls, arrived with his party on Saturday, much to the delight of those who had the pleasure to meet them here last summer.

Misses Brand, Bowles, Fox and Logan, who pitched tent near the hotel, still linger in the vicinity. Some of the fair sex were invited to visit the camp, where they were able to test the culinary art of the "chef," Miss Sanders, who has been the guest of Miss Kathleen Thomas, left on Thursday to visit relatives in Salem.

Among the arrivals this week may be mentioned Mrs. Barelay, Miss Mattie Barelay, Miss Francis Barelay, J. E. Barelay, J. D. Lowmber, Mrs. J. D. Lowmber and Mrs. L. H. Lowmber, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. C. H. Griffin, Mrs. Griffin, Baltimore, Ga.; Mrs. Willie Crall, Blackstone, Va.; Mrs. C. Y. Chestnut, Mrs. C. C. Hindover, Mrs. H. R. Walker, Miss Besswell, Samuel Brown, of Portsmouth, Va.; Mrs. M. L. Wood, Miss Margaret Woolfolk, Montgomery, Ala.; R. R. Dugan, Richard M. Ellis, Mrs. Edward Toby, Miss Toby, of New Orleans, La.; W. L. Pierce, Mrs. W. L. Pierce, Christiansburg, Va.; R. C. Calhoun, Alleghany, Va.; S. Walton, Miss Nannie Siddith, Miss Mary Boleau, Walton Siddith, of Falls Mills, Va.; J. C. Allen, R. J. Altizer, Washington, D. C.; Charles C. Price, T. W. Carper, R. J. Moore, Va.; W. E. Word, Mrs. W. E. Word, Mrs. L. G. Dunbar, Mrs. Louise Hickerson, Richmond, Va.; Thos. D. Hunter, Rev. W. C. Campbell, H. W. Gregory, Mrs. Billie Hart, Mrs. H. M. Belding, Joseph E. Hunter, D. W. Persinger, Mrs. D. W. Persinger, Mrs. Mary W. Staples, Colonel S. Brooks, Mrs. Bruce Hunt and Miss Emma Hunt, of Roanoke, Va.
