

Social and Personal.

A BEAUTIFUL wedding took place at the Grove Avenue Baptist Church last evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Mary Leigh West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. West, was given in marriage to Percy Ashton Seaton, the Rev. W. C. James, pastor of the church, officiating.

The church was artistically decorated in palms, ferns, chrysanthemums and lighted tapers. Miss Mamie West attended her sister as maid of honor and wore yellow satin, with trimmings of pearl, and carried a shower of blue violets. The bridesmaids were Misses Marguerite Knowles, Louise Gunn, Louise Bowles and Elizabeth West. They wore dainty frocks of cream net over meshulle, with touches of gold, and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The ushers were Charles Bigger, Robert Spratley, of Petersburg; C. G. Boyd, Charles H. West and Stanley Harding and William Hoppe, groomsmen.

Little Miss Katherine Virginia Seaton and Master Benjamin H. West, in white costumes, with graceful baskets of violets, were the flower-bearers. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was handsomely gowned in ivory satin, hand-embroidered, with trimmings of pearls and a lace bertha made for her by her grandmother. Her veil was held in place by a spray of gardenias, and her bouquet was a shower of the same flowers and lilies of the valley. Emmett Seaton, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

A reception was tendered the bridal party in the home of the bride on Tuesday evening. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for a trip North, and upon their return, December 1, will be at home at 1611 West Grace Street.

At the Jefferson Hotel.

Mrs. John Roach and her two daughters, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Sproul, and her son, John Roach, are stopping at the Jefferson Hotel for this week. They have been extensively entertained during their stay in Richmond.

Royce-Hobbie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Dexter Hobbie, of Roanoke, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Emma Corbin, to Robert Stuart Royce, of that city, the wedding to be celebrated on Wednesday evening, November 24, at 6 o'clock.

verity of Virginia, and is now resident physician at the Union Protestant Infirmary, Baltimore. After their honeymoon the couple will make their home in Chattanooga, Tenn., where Dr. Bell will engage in the practice of his profession.

Stockell-Watts. A beautiful wedding took place yesterday evening at 8 o'clock in St. John's Church, Portsmouth, when Miss Georgianna Watts became the bride of Hugh Stockell, of Petersburg. The church was artistically decorated in palms, and the altar bore numerous candles amid brass vases of white flowers. Rev. W. A. Brown, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony, and Mr. Lord presided at the organ.

The bride is the youngest daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Watts and sister of Edward Moore Watts, by whom she was given away. She wore a handsome gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Amy Peters Watts, gowned in pink chiffon and carrying pink roses, and Miss Helen Stockell, in white meshulle and carrying white roses, were the bride's only attendants. Meade Stockell acted as his best man, and the other groomsmen were Hugh C. Watts, Jr., Dr. Gray G. Holladay, Alan G. Brown, Samuel Watts, H. Clay Pickett and John L. Cabell.

Out of town guests present were Mrs. Heath Cabell, Mrs. Mary Tomlin, of Petersburg; Miss Helen T. Stockell and Miss Amy Werth, of Richmond; Charles Bain, of Columbia, S. C.; Mr. Metcalf, of New York; W. B. Smith, of Petersburg; Miss Blanche Cuthbert, of Petersburg; and Mrs. M. M. To spend winter in Baltimore.

Mrs. Agnes H. Drewry, of Mineola, expects to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. B. F. Deford, corner of Eager and St. Paul Streets, Baltimore. At Home This Afternoon. Mrs. Edna Gunn and her daughter, Miss Katherine Gunn, will be at home informally this afternoon to callers at their residence, 304 West Franklin. Mrs. Gunn and her daughter will be at home informally on Friday afternoons during the month of November.

This afternoon at the Woman's Club, at 4:30 o'clock, the first meeting of the Current Events Club will be held, with Miss Annie Steger Winston as leader.

Another very beautiful anti-nuptial entertainment to be given in honor of Miss Willie Crutchfield, wife of a dentist, will be given by the members of the younger society set at 8 o'clock, at which Mrs. R. F. Banks, of Chesterfield county, will be hostess, to take place on Monday, November 8, at 5 o'clock.

The undergraduate and practical nurses will hold a very interesting meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in the rooms of their registrar, Mrs. Downes, 706 East Marshall Street. The subject to be discussed is "Prevention of Tuberculosis." Hitchings-Wall. The marriage of Miss Mae Grant Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Wall, of Norfolk, to Virginia C. Charles Hitchings was celebrated on Wednesday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock in the Knox Presbyterian Church, Norfolk, Rev. W. H. T. Squires officiating. Miss Leila Williams, of the city, was maid of honor and wore a pink meshulle frock, with black pleated hat, and carried La France roses. Thomas C. Benthall acted as the groom's best man. Little Miss Louise Wall, sister of the bride, in a blue frock, was ring-bearer. The groomsmen were L. Mitchell, Frank M. Osborn, Guy S. Jackson and E. C. Pettit. The bride wore a handsome broad-cloth going-away gown, with hat to match, and carried a shower of bride roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hitchings left for a wedding trip, and upon their return will make their home in Norfolk.

Board Meeting Yesterday. The board of managers of the Confederate Woman's Home met on Thursday at noon and held a session of special interest. Mrs. C. M. "Pin-Money Pickles"

It brought me a great deal of trouble, and one of three things must occur: 1. You must stop making them; or 2. I must get them at less expense; or 3. In a ruined man.

Since my first venture I've had many "jars." My family from early morning "pickles," neighbors ring the doorbell and shout "pickles," relatives visit me in expectation of "pickles." Your pickles are my Nemesis. Please, dear Madam, send me a box of the Keg, Barrel, Hoghead, Ton or Shipload, and "preserve" me.

Four boxes, $1.00. CARROLL WHITAKER, MRS. E. G. KIDD, Richmond, Va. Call for them at your Grocer's.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN BY VIRGINIA WESTOVER.

Correspondents are requested to send communications on subjects in which they are interested and regarding which they desire information to the Editor of the Woman's Page.

Who was the first mistress of the celebrated Horry mansion in Charleston, S. C.? When was it built, and what is the tradition associating the building with General Francis Marion? How is the name Horry pronounced?

Mrs. Daniel Horry, born a Pinckney of Hampton, a south Santee River rice plantation, built Horry house about the middle of the eighteenth century. Tradition has it that once, while Marion was a guest of Mrs. Horry in her Charleston home, the British learning of her whereabouts forced an entrance. Marion jumped from the drawing-room window on the second floor and escaped. Horry is pronounced o-ree.

Shoeing of Geese. It is true that the Russian peasant shoes her geese before driving them to market. E. M. A. When the geese are to be driven a long way to one of the annual Russian fairs they are prepared for the trip by having their feet immersed first in tar and then in sand. The tar holds the sand and hardens, forming an effectual protection for the feet of geese traveling over hard or rough roads.

Nail Rouge. Can you give me a simple recipe for nail rouge? The one powdered carmine, one-fourth of a dram; of fresh lard, one-half dram, and of oil of bergamot, six drops.

To Whom Sent. In sending a wedding gift, when the groom is a special friend and the bride is not known at all, to whom is it sent, whose initials are engraved on it, and how many days should it be sent before the wedding?

M. L. B. To the bride. It should be marked with the bride's maiden name and act as a reminder when the wedding invitations are out.

Harvest Home Party. I wish to give a "Harvest Home" party to some young girls and boys in whom I am interested. How can I proceed? W. N. B. Decorate the house with sheaves of wheat, autumn leaves and wreaths of Virginia creeper. Give each boy and girl a little basket and send them out to gather in their harvest. Let the harvest be vegetables and fruits of all kinds, cut out of cardboard and tinted and hidden around the drawing-room and hall. Have a time signal and call the harvesters in at a given signal to a market table, where they can sell their wares and be paid in paper money with the value written on it. The person receiving the highest price is awarded the prize. In the dining-room arrange as a centerpiece a load of hay on a round tray. Seat dolls fastened by invisible wires to paper packages underneath the hay on the tray, a doll to a guest, and let each hold a pair of baby ribbon reins extending to miniature turkey gobblers forming a circle around the centerpiece. Have the reins of different colors and let boys and girls choose their turkeys. When they take them and the doll drivers on leaving the table, the finding of the hidden gift packages in the hay will cause no end of fun.

Meaning of Ella. Will you tell me the origin and meaning of the name Ella? D. F. It is derived from the Saxon Elle or Aella, meaning elf or the friend of elves. The name has no great ascension in history, no saint in the calendar, no great woman having been so called.

Forfeit Nuts. How is the game of "forfeit nuts" played? J. N. A number of English walnuts must be carefully cracked, the meat extracted and the shells glued together again, first putting in a slip of paper on which some amusing forfeit is written. These nuts are they mixed with a number of others in their natural state, and after dinner the big nut bowl is passed to each guest, with the nut-crackers. Any one who finds a nut with a forfeit inside must obey the directions on the written slip.

The First How. After a gentleman has been introduced to a lady should he wait for her to bow to him before claiming her as an acquaintance? E. R. In this country and in England the lady bows first; on the continent of Europe the gentleman takes the initiative.

Should Cards Be Sent. Should invitations be sent to people who are in mourning? S. T. W. They should be sent. Persons wearing deep mourning are not asked to dinners or luncheons, but for weddings and large entertainments, cards are sent as a token of remembrance and compliment.

Together or Separately? Is it proper to have the names of husband and wife engraved on one card? H. C. There was a revival of this old fashion some years ago, but it has not met with general approval. The usual custom is for husband and wife to have separate cards.

Bride's at Home. What kind of refreshments should be served at a bride's "at home" day? E. N. Refreshments on such an occasion should not exceed tea and cake, or punch, tea, chocolate and cakes, which may stand on a table at one end of the sitting-room or be handed by a servant.
