

Social and Personal.

The marriage of Miss Janetta Carter Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. P. Morris, of this city, to Richard Massie Nolling will take place this morning at 11 o'clock in the Grace Episcopal Church, the Rev. Landon R. Mason, assisted by Rev. F. T. McFadden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

The church will be beautifully decorated in palms and white chrysanthemums. H. C. Duesonoff will preside at the organ. Mrs. Susan Brown Morris, sister of the bride, will act as maid of honor, and will wear a handsome gown of apricot peau de sole and carry a sheaf of American Beauties. The ushers will be Irving E. Campbell, E. Miller, McCue, Julian P. Skelton and William L. Wright. George A. Nolling, Jr., will attend his brother as best man.

The bride will enter the church with her maid of honor and will wear a going-away gown of blue cloth with hat to match. Her flowers will be a shower of anemones, the valley.

The wedding is one of the social events of the week, and a number of out-of-town guests are here to attend the nuptials. After their honeymoon, the couple will make their home in this city.

A wedding of much interest to Richmond society will take place this morning at 11 o'clock in the home of the bride's aunt, 1 East Cary Street, when Miss Emily Armistead, daughter of the late Thomas S. Armistead, of Richmond, will be given in marriage to Robert Edson Peyton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Peyton, of "Edenburne," also of this city.

The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. N. Latham, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church. The parlors will be beautifully decorated in palms, ferns, lighted candles and white chrysanthemums, two tall brass candelabras, tied with bows of white tulle and white chrysanthemums forming an improvised altar. Shepherd Webb will preside at the piano, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas Foster Witt, of Virginia Military Institute; Miss Anna Lee Peyton, of "Yalverton."

Ceremony. Mrs. Thomas W. Purcell, wearing a gown of gold colored messaline, with garniture of gold embroidery, will be the bride's only attendant. She will carry an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums. Thomas R. F. Peyton, of Washington, D. C., will act as his brother's best man. The ribbons will be held by little Miss Charlotte Purcell and Thomas S. Armistead, Jr. The bride, who will enter with her brother, Thomas Walter Armistead, by whom she will be given away, will wear a white cloth gown, with insets of rare old lace, and white hat trimmed in plumes. She will carry a prayer-book with markers of lilacs of the valley.

The ceremony will be followed by a wedding breakfast, after which Mr. Peyton and his bride will leave for New York. Upon their return they will make their home at 1617 Hanover Street.

Some of the out-of-town guests to be present at the marriage are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Peyton, of "Edenburne"; Miss Manette Lee Peyton, of Baltimore; Cadet Thomas Foster Witt, of Virginia Military Institute; Miss Anna Lee Peyton, of "Yalverton."

Return to Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Forbes and family, who have been spending the early autumn at their country place near Bon Air, have returned to Richmond and will occupy Mrs. Stephen Putney's house on West Franklin Street, until the completion of their beautiful new home at the end of Monument Avenue. Miss Minnetree's Wedding.

An event of much social interest in Washington and Virginia took place last evening in St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Washington, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Elizabeth Eppes Minnetree, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Powhatan Minnetree, became the bride of Harry Franklin Lowman, formerly of Knoxville, Tenn., but who has been a resident of Washington for the past four years, and is prominently connected with the Southern Railway. Owing to mourning in the bride's family, there were no church attendants.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, George McPhail Minnetree, by whom she was given away, and wore a hand-embroidered gown of white crepe de chine, with trimmings of Irish lace, and a court train. She carried no flowers.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lowman left for Monterey, Cal., and after a stay of a month will return to Washington, where they will reside. The ushers were: Ross Cameron, Collinwood Sanborn, of Washington; Walter Percival Gray, of Norfolk; Lloyd Plummer Lowman, Louis H. Skinner, of St. Louis, and Ralph Shropshire, of Atlanta, Ga. Lester C. Ulrich was best man.

The bride is a daughter of the late Colonel Joseph Powhatan Minnetree, well known in Virginia, and who was

A man who owns a fine coffee plantation in Jamaica said: "Four years ago I discovered that coffee was ruining my health, and I quit, and have been using Postum ever since."

Experience taught this man that he could not drink his own high-grade coffee.

Its active drug—Caffeine—irritates the nervous system, interferes with digestion, and trouble is sure to follow.

Some folks may take the hint and change to Postum. It is absolutely free from drugs, and when well made, that is, boiled 15 minutes, it has a delicious taste similar to the mild, high-grade Java, with the natural vital food elements of the field grains that repair the damage done by coffee.

associated with the Southern Railway for twenty-five years. Speaks at Club.

At 4 P. M. of Monday, November 8, the regular monthly meeting of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs was held at 4 P. M. on Friday next, in Central School.

At Home This Afternoon. Mrs. James R. Branch and her daughter, Miss Mary Cooke Branch, will be at home informally at their apartments in the Chesterfield. Mrs. Branch and her daughter are at home on Thursdays during the month of November.

Organ Recital at St. Paul's. An organ recital will be given in St. Paul's Church on Monday night, November 15, at 8:15 o'clock by Ben James Potter, associate of the Royal College of Organists and fellow of the Church Organists' Society, London, and organist and choir master of Monumental and the First Presbyterian Churches. This recital is under the auspices of the Huguenot Society, and will be a rare treat to music-lovers, as St. Paul's organ is one of the finest and largest instruments in the South, and in the hands of such a musician as Mr. Potter the affair will be one of the musical events of the early winter.

Mr. Potter was formerly the organist of Conway Abbey, in Wales, one of the oldest churches in Great Britain, and of Dr. Watson's (Jan McLaren) church in Liverpool. Jan McLaren, speaking of Mr. Potter's playing, said: "He produces an impression on those who hear him that will never be forgotten."

Informal Reception. The Art Club of Richmond will hold its annual meeting for election of officers this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, to be followed by a very informal reception.

Invitations Recalled. Mrs. W. M. Talliferro has recalled her invitations for Saturday, November 13, owing to extreme illness in the family.

Substance Entertain. The Sunbeam Band of Leigh Street Church will have a delightful entertainment to-night at 8:15 o'clock. The following program has been arranged: Piano solo, Miss Fannie Bristle. A dialogue, "A Bag of Wishes," by six little girls. Trio (selected), J. G. and Percy Carter. T. S. Flemming. Recitation, "The Dying Indian Girl," by Ramon Garten. Piano duet, Misses Virginia and May Collins. Vocal duet, by Marie Carter and Nellie Anderson. Recitation, by Dorothy Bowden. Trio, selected. Dialogue of the clock, by twelve children.

All friends of the Sunbeam Band are cordially invited to be present. Bellevue School Club to Meet. The Bellevue School Co-operative Club will meet this afternoon at 8 o'clock. Important matters will be brought before the club, and all members and their friends are urged to attend.

Meeting Held To-Day. The postponed meeting of Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall.

In and Out of Town. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Taylor, of New York City, have come to attend the Taylor-Davis wedding, and are the guests of Mrs. H. Selden Taylor, 1022 West Franklin Street.

Miss Rosa P. Trant and her brother, Edwin L. Trant, of this city, are spending some time traveling in Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clack have returned to the Hanover. Mrs. Clack has been spending some time with her parents in Boydton, Va.

Mrs. John L. Eubank and maid will leave on Friday for Dayton, Fla., where Mrs. Eubank has taken a cottage. Her brother, Frank Whitner, will spend the winter with her.

Mrs. Eleanor P. Lord, who has been very ill at her apartment at the Hanover, is slightly improved.

Miss Rosa Jenkins has returned to her home in Newport News. Miss Agnes Martin, of that city, accompanied her home, and will be her guest for two weeks.

Miss Agnes Martin is visiting friends in Richmond for several weeks.

Miss Sallie Davis is the guest of her friend, Mrs. R. F. Montague, in Norfolk.

Miss Ida Davidson has returned to her home in Newport News after a visit of two weeks to friends in Richmond and Petersburg.

C. F. Mason, of Richmond, is the guest of his parents at Locust Grove, near Fredericksburg.

Miss Madge Driver, who has been visiting friends in Newport News, has returned to Richmond.

George Cannon, of this city, is visiting his brother, William Cannon, in Alexandria.

Miss Rosalie Langhorne has returned to her home in Portsmouth after a visit to friends here.

Walls—Hawkins. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WILSON, N. C., November 10.—Elmo Walls and Miss Pearl Hawkins, both of Wilson, were married here last night. They left for Asheville after the ceremony. On their return they will occupy the home given by the bride's father as a wedding gift.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN BY VIRGINIA WESTOVER. Correspondents are requested to send communications on subjects in which they are interested and regarding which they desire information to the Editor of the Woman's Page.

Should an invitation card addressed to a man be sent to his residence or his office? Should an invitation to a married woman include her husband if the husband is not known to the person who sends the invitation?

Invitations to a man should be sent to his residence or club, not to his office. An invitation for a married woman should include her husband unless the affair is exclusively for women. Even though the husband is not personally known to the sender, he should have an invitation.

Irresistible Cleopatra. What estimate does Plutarch make of Cleopatra, the Egyptian Queen?

He says that "her actual beauty was not in itself so remarkable that none could be compared with her or that no one could see her without being struck by it, but the consist of her presence for those who lived with her was irresistible; the attraction of her person, joining with the charm of her conversation and character, that attended all she said or did, was something bewitching. It was pleasant merely to hear the sound of her voice, with which, like an instrument of many strings, she could pass from one language to another, so that there were few of the barbarian nations she answered with an interpreter. To most of them she spoke herself, as to the Ethiopians, Troglodytes, Hebrews, Arabians, Syrians, Medes, Parthians and many others, whose language she had learned."

The Matter of Signatures. How should married and unmarried women sign their names in social correspondence and business communications?

A married woman should sign herself Maria Blank, not Mrs. John Blank, in social correspondence. In ending a business communication, it is best to personally acquaint with the man or woman to whom she is writing, she puts her married title in brackets beneath her name. An unmarried woman, unless a business matter is the subject of her correspondence, signs her name without a prefix. When necessary

Accumulation of Gas in the Stomach. One of the Most Common Symptoms of Dyspepsia and Deranged Digestion.

The presence of a small quantity of gas in the alimentary canal may be described as constituting the ordinary condition of certain foods, as peas, beans, etc., naturally eliminate and create gas while undergoing digestion.

It is only when this gas accumulates to such extent as to cause inconvenience, and belching, that a person may be said to be suffering from flatulence. This collection of gas becomes violent in extreme cases—so great that a swelling appears in the pit of the stomach; and when this occurs, the complaint is made that this part feels tender to the touch, the clothes of the person being so inflated that the distress occasioned by pressure.

Attempts are usually made to get rid of this stomach-gas by eructation, and immediate relief is sometimes obtained when this is accomplished. Infants are very subject to flatulence, especially when the natural food is taken away too hastily, when food other than that provided for them by nature is given them. Mothers and nurses are familiar with the troubles, and have various remedies for it, the most popular of which is charcoal, which relieves the trouble completely. A absorbent, and in fact, a powerful antacid, thereby removing the colicky pains of the infants, which is the symptom which most frequently causes the nightly crying spells.

Charcoal is a marvelous absorbent, and is capable of oxidizing and absorbing the very best and most palatable in gases. It is applicable to all cases of flatulence or gas in the stomach, and as it is entirely harmless, it can be taken with great safety, and with impunity and without fear of its doing any harm whatever to the system.

Infants and old people can use it as readily as young persons, and those in the prime of life, and nothing but benefit can result from its use. It can also be used in any case of gas, and in respect it differs from drugs sometimes employed for stomach troubles, as the dosage of these must be regulated by a competent physician. It is a powerful antacid, however, as is shown by the fact that a French surgeon used as much as fifteen grains per day, every day of the last thirty years of his life.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges should be employed in all cases where the stomach is filled with gas, resulting from the fermentation and decomposition of food and also from the use of those vegetable foods which seem naturally to engender and promote the accumulation of gas. These wonderful little lozenges, which have an enormous and ever-increasing demand, are made from the best willow charcoal, combined with pure honey, and furnish to the sufferer from stomach-gases and foul breath, the most complete relief.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are exceedingly agreeable to the taste, in striking contrast and contra-indication to the ordinary, most unpleasant dose of calomel, which is most unpleasant to take. Purchase a package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to-day from your druggist for 25 cents, and add your name and address for free sample package. Address F. A. YOUTH SHOOT UP HOME. Sam Harrington, of Wadesboro, Arrested, but Denies Part in Affray. WADESBORO, N. C., November 10.—Sam Harrington was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Angus Gilmore, who charges Harrington and Levander Faulkner with shooting into his house Sunday night. Faulkner has not been arrested.

Mr. Gilmore, who lives three miles from town on the Morven Road, says the boys passed his home in a buggy about 8 o'clock, cursing and making much noise. Later they came back and drove up to his front porch. He begged them to leave, and Mrs. Gilmore said she told them that she would overlook their cursing, but for them to go away. They refused and fired so close to Mrs. Gilmore's head as to cut a strand of hair just above her left ear. She then retreated and another shot went through the coat of John Stein, who was standing on the porch. Mr. Gilmore's son, James, got his mother's pistol and went to take part, but she kept him back until several shots were fired at her husband and then she let him go. He engaged in a pistol duel with Sam, firing in all five shots. Levander fired one shot through the door and quite a number on the outside. Mr. Gilmore then got his shotgun and fired his only shell at Harrington and Faulkner. Harrington denies Mr. Gilmore's statements. He says that he and Faulkner were both drunk. He was in a stupor yesterday, apparently from drink. He came to town Sunday night and had his arm set by Dr. J. H. Bennett.

What are canapés, and what purpose do they serve in a meal? Canapés are served as appetizers at fashionable luncheons and dinners. They are layers of bread, freed from crust, dipped in a delicate sauce and spread with such piquant fillings as caviar, salt-sardellen, smoked salmon or anchovy paste.

Preparing Boned Turkey. How should a housewife go about boning a turkey? Chop a young hen that has been dry-picked with the skin unbroken. The boning can be more easily accomplished if the turkey is not drawn. Crack the legs across above the feet and remove the tendons. Cut off the wings. Then make an incision down the back of the neck; take hold of the neck and cut it off near the body. Remove the stomach and windpipe. Open up the skin of the neck widely and at the shoulder joints, separate the wings from the body; then proceed to take the flesh from the bones at the back, going round and round, and using a small, sharp knife for the purpose. Remove the bones from the legs and continue going round and round the fowl until the tail is reached. Then simply detach the bones from the body.

The Cleveland Home. Who presides over the orphan home for girls founded by John Cleveland, near Versailles, Ky? Mrs. Kate Praderidge Van der Veer, formerly instructor in music at St. Margaret's, a fashionable girls' school in Versailles.

Introduction by Letter. How is the introduction of a friend to a friend best accomplished by letter? When introducing a friend to a friend through the agency of a letter, it is always safest and best to write privately in advance of the presentation of the letter, giving the person to whom it is addressed some notice of its coming, and saying more than it would be possible to do in the letter itself.

McChesney—Baker. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WILMINGTON, VA., November 10.—One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized in Lyles Baptist Church at 1 o'clock to-day, when Miss Carrie Lee Baker became the bride of Andrew Roy McChesney, of Hanover county.

A color scheme of green and white was carried out, the church being decorated with potted plants and white chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Flanagan, of Charlestown, Va., an uncle of the bride. The bride was led to the altar by her brother, J. H. Baker, of Richmond, and her attendants were Miss Grace Tennis, of Hampton, as maid of honor, and eight bridesmaids, who were Misses Hester Edmonson, of Mecklenburg; Miss Susie McChesney, sister of the groom, and Miss Alma Samuel, of Hanover county; Miss Cora Brooking, of Farmville Normal; Miss Maggie Kent of Woman's College, Richmond; Misses Sarah Talley, Annie Parria and Susie Shepherd, of Fluvanna. The groom was attended by his brother, W. M. McChesney, of Richmond, as best man. The ushers were W. C. Baker, Cole Talley, Ceall Perkins, Burwell Seay, Jr., Otis Shepherd, Malcolm Perkins, of Fluvanna; D. Taylor and D. L. Jones, of Richmond.

The bride wore a traveling suit of reseda green and black beaver hat, and carried a shower bouquet of Bride's roses. She was preceded by Virginia Sneed as flower bearer and Annie Mason White as ring girl. They wore white lingerie dresses with green ribbons. The maid of honor wore a gown of green salmon silk, and carried white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were attired in white lingerie dresses, and carried white carnations. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. O. Bell, and retired under the strains of the "Lohengrin" March.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McChesney left for a Northern tour. Mrs. McChesney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Baker.

The bridal party was rendered a reception at the home of the bride on Tuesday evening, and a buffet lunchson was served at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. McChesney will be at their home at Montpellier, Hanover county, after December 1.

CORN-JUDGING DAY SUCCESSFUL Farmers From Neighboring Counties Participate in Event in Washington, N. C. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, N. C., November 10.—Corn-judging day in this city proved a grand success, with large crowds of farmers from all over the neighboring counties in attendance. The corn-judging contest was held in the large building of the Skating Rink, on Main Street. The visitors were welcomed by J. F. Taylor, chairman of the entertainment committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce.

Other short talks were made by Hon. J. H. Small, and a number of farmers made short experience talks, dealing with the proper and best methods for raising corn. Experts from the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station at Raleigh acted as judges in the corn contest. Two hundred dollars in cash and prizes was awarded the lucky contestants by the Norfolk and Southern, under whose auspices the contest was held, and about $200 in extra prizes was given by the different local merchants and business men.

After the corn-judging contest the visitors were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce of this city at a mammoth oyster roast.

SUIT AGAINST SOUTHERN. Damages of Amount of $10,000 Asked by Johnson's Administrators. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WOODSTOCK, VA., November 10.—The damage suit of Amon D. Johnson's administrators against the Southern Railway Company, in which the company is being sued for $10,000, is set for hearing in the Circuit Court to-morrow.

The suit is the outcome of the wreck at Pugh's Run, two miles north of Woodstock, on November 9, 1908, in which Johnson, one of the original investors in his life, Johnson was operating the eastbound engine, and he was dead when he was taken from under the wreckage.

Two other cases growing out of this same wreck are pending in the Circuit Court, but they will not be tried at this time.

One Doctor Have only one doctor—just one! No sense in running from one doctor to another! Select the best one, then stand by him. No sense in trying this thing, that thing, for your cough. Carefully, deliberately select the best cough medicine, then take it. Which one is the best? Ask your doctor. Ask him about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for throat and lung troubles. Doctors have prescribed it for 70 years. T. O. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

All Our Work Has the appearance of brand new goods when it leaves the laundry. There is a certain delicate finish that is seen on Royal Laundry work that can be found on no other. The careful attention we give to details places us in position to do a grade of work that puts us in a class of our own. If we are not getting your work, we'd like to call for a trial package to-day. May we? Shirts, cuffs attached, plaited, plain, 10c Royal Laundry Phones, Madison 1959 & 5245
