

Comet Self-Feeding Heaters

Are always satisfactory. The best service and the least expensive. Comets are perfect heaters.

Perfection Oil Heaters,

$3.50, $4.50 and $5.00. A quick, safe heater.

Gas Heaters at $2.50 and $3.00.

Gas Radiators, $3.50 and $4.50.

Wood Heaters, Open Franklin Heaters.

Excelsior Gas Ranges

Tip-Top Steel Ranges, Patapsco, Magic and Aida Ranges.

Blankets, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.

Others at $5.00 and $7.50.

Comforts, $1.50, $2.00 and up to $4.00.

Rothert & Co.

4th and Broad Sts.

EXPECT VERDICT IN ANGLE CASE

Jury Reports Disagreement, but Later Renews Deliberations.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, Va., November 23.—The civil suit against T. M. Angle, former president of the Dry Fork Distilling Company, and against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, which has occupied the attention of the Federal court here for the past week, is now in the hands of the jury, and a verdict is expected some time tomorrow. The evidence was concluded yesterday afternoon, and last night the attorneys in the case agreed upon the instructions at a conference before Judge Henry C. McDowell presiding.

CORONER'S JURY VERDICT.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., November 23.—The coroner's jury summoned last Tuesday shortly after the disaster at the Salem Creek Viaduct, when six lives were lost by a cave-in on the Southbound Railroad, rendered a verdict this afternoon. After hearing the testimony of the engineer, Mr. Currier, viewing the corpse on the day of the disaster, considering all the testimony to be secured, the jurors discussed the matter for over an hour and finally rendered a verdict that Tesso Friesland, Colonel Bullin, John Leopold Schmidt, Carl Ebbner, Casey Liebman and Alfred Lippner came to their death from suffocation, caused by a cave-in on the Southbound Railway, while in the employment of H. J. Collier & Co.

Cyclone in Georgia.

EASTMAN, Ga., November 23.—Menge details of a cyclone, which passed over the town about eight miles from Eastman, have just reached here. The cyclone struck the town about 4 o'clock this morning, wrecking three homes. The school building was completely blown away. No lives were lost. The storm was accompanied by hail and a heavy downpour of rain.

Murders III Grandfather.

FRANKLIN, Ga., November 23.—Because he had been punished for some minor offense by his grandfather, W. S. Carrington, a notary public, Will Carrington, seventeen years old, shot and killed the former at the family home near here last night. The boy was captured this morning, brought back to Franklin and placed in jail.

Convicted of Blockading.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., November 23.—Felix Bosley, a farmer, of this county, was today convicted of blockading in the district court. He has not yet been sentenced, but is under $500 bond.

BAPTISTS WANT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Discuss Plan to Establish Institution in Richmond.

IN HANDS OF COMMITTEE

Closing Day Taken Up With Consideration of Many Matters.

BY FRANK S. WOODSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., November 23.—The last day of the eighty-sixth annual session of the Baptist General Association opened bright and sunny, and while quite a number of the messengers left for their homes last night and this morning, the morning attendance was large. After brief devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Walter Rhodes, the association took up for discussion an recommendation by the Baptist Young People's Union and the Baptist State Summer Encampment. There was no formal report of the B. Y. P. U., but Rev. Joseph T. Watts read an elaborate report of the work of the Baptist Summer Encampment, which held two sessions at Buckroe Beach. The burden of the report concerns the meeting last summer and the proposed gathering for next summer. The encampment of next year will be in the latter part of June, either at Ocean View or Virginia Beach. The meeting of this year was a great success, and that of next year is expected to be a much greater one in that it will be made a combination Sunday school convention, a B. Y. P. U. convention and a training school.

Rev. George Green spoke of the work of the B. Y. P. U. Rev. J. T. Watts and Dr. W. W. Hamilton spoke on the encampment movement. Dr. Ramsey, of Richmond, read the final report of the committee on new boards. Very few changes were made in the board, but such as had been made necessary by deaths or removals from the State. The report was adopted without discussion.

Meet Next at Roanoke. Report of the committee on time, place, etc., for the next annual meeting makes Roanoke the place and the time November 18, 1910. Rev. W. C. Taylor, D. D., was appointed to preach the sermon, Rev. Hugh C. Smith being named as alternate.

Without formal report, the Laymen's Movement came up for discussion. Dr. Lankford, a practicing physician and prominent layman of Norfolk, was the first speaker. The enthusiasm created by the layman's address was something to show how deeply the laymen's movement for world-wide evangelization has taken root in Virginia, and especially among the Baptists.

His theme was "The Tenth for the Lord." He was followed briefly by President Elliott, who endorsed Dr. Lankford, and set down four propositions:

First, No man knows he can live five minutes longer.
Second, Every man knows he can't carry any of his money away with him.
Third, He can't care for it after he has gone.
Fourth, Can't give satisfaction to his heirs, no matter how carefully he makes his will.

His argument was that while a man still lives and can control his own estate, he had better do his part of the Lord's work, and the "old tenth idea" was a good one to be maintained in this twentieth century.

Dr. H. H. Pitt submitted an unusually long report from the General Education Commission.

The report gives in remarkable detail the work of the commission for the past fifteen years, showing the ups and downs, the work of the commission so far has been to raise the money for the aid of schools and colleges already under Baptist auspices, schools and colleges both male and female. Many of these have been embarrassed financially and otherwise, and the best work of the commission has been to help these schools. To this end the commission has raised thousands of dollars. Among the institutions helped was Rawlings Institute, at Charlottesville. The report said that this institution had passed out of existence.

Dr. Battle, of Charlottesville, objected strenuously to this paragraph in the report, declaring that the institution has not passed out of existence, but an effort with every prospect of success is on foot to relieve the institution and keep it under Baptist auspices. The report was changed so as to read that the school had passed from auspices of the commission.

The report takes the ground that while a league or chain of schools and colleges is the ultimate object of the commission, yet one of its great objects is to view the establishment of a great woman's college—that is to say, both institutions shall be under the management of one board of trustees.

The report was in its language a little vague as to whether or not the idea is to establish a national institution, and many were the questions propounded by members of the association, which showed plainly that the sentiment of the body was decidedly against co-education.

Dr. James Nelson, president of present assembly, made an earnest speech in which he put himself emphatically on record as being unalterably against co-education in Virginia. He declared that the half a million dollars raised for a great woman's college and not for Richmond College. The doctor asked if that statement was not true, and paused for an answer. Dr. C. H. Ryland replied that it was true only in part.

Dr. Nelson said the delay in the matter was costing big money, explaining by saying that delay in separating the two institutions would be a valuable home recipe.

VALUABLE HOME RECIPE

Will Break Up Severe Cold in a Day and Cure Any Curable Cough.

"Mix one-half ounce of Concentrated pine compound with two ounces of glycerine and a half-pint of cold whiskey. Shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours." This formula is given out by a noted medical authority. Local druggists say this mixture will work wonders. They all have these ingredients in stock or will quickly get them. They are easily mixed.

Be sure to get the genuine "Concentrated" pine which is plainly labeled, and comes only in half-ounce bottles, each enclosed in an air-tight case.

DOES WEALTH CAUSE RACE SUICIDE?

FIFTEEN BLOCKS ON FIFTH AVENUE, WHERE JUST FIFTEEN CHILDREN LIVE. ONE BLOCK ON THE EAST SIDE, WHERE THE TENEMENTS CONTAIN FROM 10 TO 100 CHILDREN EACH.

In New York City those of the wealthy class have few children, but the poor have a wealth of family. Many well-known families are rapidly disappearing by reason of the fact that there are no sons or daughters to keep the names alive.

lecting a site for the proposed women's college had already cost much, because of the natural increase in real estate values in Richmond, where it has been practically decided to locate the college.

Appeals for Time. Dr. Pitt spoke again and made a plea to the messengers and to the Baptists of Virginia that they exercise patience and give the committee time, declaring that the undertaking was of that gigantic proportions as to impress upon the commission the necessity of going slow and being absolutely sure they are right before they go ahead.

Dr. B. C. Henning, the field secretary of the commission, was the next to speak. He made an earnest appeal to the churches and the District Association to pay present subscriptions and make larger ones, assuring them that the commission will do all that it has ever promised or ever intends to promise.

Dr. Melton spoke with much earnestness, and with blunt plainness said in short, that the $350,000 subscribed by the churches was subscribed with the understanding that it was for the great women's college, and that the prevailing suspicion among the people that the proposed women's college is being made to play second fiddle to Richmond College was creating a disastrous condition that will make it hard for the pastors to collect the subscriptions.

Rev. C. L. Corbett spoke along the same line, as did also Rev. J. Pendleton Jones, claiming that the commission should trust the people with information.

Dr. Hatcher, realizing that there was trouble in the camp, took the stand and made an old warrior's appeal for peace and harmony.

Dr. Pitt and Dr. Henning made brief responses to some of the questions asked.

Dr. C. T. Taylor, of Bristol, spoke at some length in regard to the agreement between the Virginia Institute and the commission. He was replied to by Judge W. W. Moffett.

After some further discussion, which seemed to further complicate matters, the association adopted the amended report, thus continuing the work of the commission and indorsing its previous work.

Baptist Ministers' Relief Fund. At the afternoon session, after brief devotional exercises, the report of the trustees of the Baptist ministers' relief fund of Virginia came up for consideration. President T. H. Elliott submitted his report, as follows:

"I herewith submit the report of the trustees of the Baptist ministers' relief fund of Virginia, showing the receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year from November 1, 1908, to October 31, 1909, and the present condition of the fund under our control.

"The receipts from the churches amount to $4,274.12, or 23 cents more than last year.

"Our income from all sources amounts to $6,588.07, or $133.33 less than last year.

"Our disbursements amount to $5,527.50, or $820.25 more than last year.

"Our disbursements to beneficiaries exceed our receipts from churches by $553.33.

"We have assisted seventy-five persons during the last year, and have added ten new beneficiaries to our list.

"The following deaths have occurred during the year: Brethren James H. Barnes and C. T. Dobson and Sisters George P. Hopkins, Jane W. Trice and Elizabeth J. Wilson.

"We are sorry to report the death of one of our most faithful trustees, Brother Alonzo L. Phillips, which occurred on October 29, 1909.

"Since 1872 we have assisted over 317 persons, and have paid out to beneficiaries $102,457.15.

Mr. Elliott spoke to the report, urging more liberal contributions to the relief fund.

In the same connection, the annual report of the Baptist Fraternal Association was considered, and Rev. J. T. Tucker, the president of that association, spoke earnestly of the needs of the organization and opened its doors wide to lay contributing members. Six members of the association have died within the past year.

Dr. C. H. Ryland submitted the report of the committee to whom was referred the report of the Ministerial Education Board. The committee heartily approved the recommendations of the board, especially the one urging all pastors to preach at some time in April on the subject of the call to the ministry, and to hold their services looking to the increase of the number of candidates for the pulpit.

Orphanage Day Proposed. The following resolution, offered by Rev. Mr. Friscoe, was adopted after a brief discussion:

and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

Dr. Mullins' address was a reply to Dr. Elliott's demand for a new religion, and it was regarded by the preachers in the congregation as the most complete and deeply spiritual reply that has yet been made to the famous president of Harvard. While the two speakers, both distinguished educators, had no conference and neither knew until they met here what the other's subject would be, the two powerful addresses dovetailed in perfectly, one being what seemed to be the natural or providential segment to the other, and both grand efforts that were rare treats to the assembled preachers and others. At 10:29 o'clock the parting hymn was sung; the final hand-shaking enjoyed, and the association, the largest and in some respects the most eventful session, came to a close.

This last paper was most inspiring and spiritual, and by the unanimous vote of the association, one of the last resolutions passed was one by Dr. Ramsey, abolishing the general education committee of the association, inasmuch as the duties heretofore assigned to that standing committee, with headquarters in Richmond, are now performed by the Ministerial Education Board and the Education Commission.

The cold rain that came up this afternoon in no way dampened the ardor of the messengers, and the church auditorium was well crowded.

Two Powerful Addresses. While the actual business of the Baptist General Association was completed at the afternoon session, and notwithstanding the rain, the church was packed with people to-night, and the vast audience was thrilled by two powerful addresses.

"Do We Need a New Religion?" was the subject of an address by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, and "Christ in Christian Experience" was the subject of Dr. E. M. Hoteat, the president of Furman University, of South Carolina.

A Shoe for Gentlemen

THE Steadfast SHOE

HAND LASTED SILK FITTED

"IT'S THE SHOE THAT MAKES THE BRAND WORTH CALLING FOR"

Made by SMITH-BRISCOE SHOE CO. (Inc.), Lynchburg, Va.

You have but to examine a pair of Steadfast shoes and you will detect the superior features of style and quality in them that you will not find in other shoes that sell for fully 25 to 50 per cent. more money. Steadfast patterns are modeled along lines that cannot be duplicated from the ordinary shoe stock. They have an elegant, graceful appearance not found in any except made-to-order shoes costing from $10.00 to $15.00 per pair. The leather in Steadfast shoes gets its testing before you wear it. The process of hand-lasting is severe, and flanky or poor leather will not stand it.

Call and examine them thoroughly. Carried in tans, patent leather and all the stylish dull leathers.

F. W. DABNEY & CO.,

301 East Broad St., Richmond, Va.

"$10,000,000 WIDOW" AGAIN BECOMES WIFE

Mrs. William Hayes Chapman Disappoints Her Titled Suitors and Weds Wealthy American.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, November 23.—Mrs. William Hayes Chapman, whose colossal fortune has recently brought her offers of marriage from various corners of the globe, her reported suitors including noblemen of high standing in European countries, was quietly wedded at the Hotel St. Regis to-day to Philip Van Valkenburgh, a millionaire of this city.

That Mrs. Chapman was again to become a bride did not become known until this afternoon. Only a few days ago there were rumors of the betrothal of the beautiful young widow to General A. De Tschepor Spudovitch, of the Russian army, whom she met in Paris.

Her marriage to Mr. Van Valkenburgh unites two of the largest independent fortunes in the United States. Mrs. Chapman is the widow of General William Hayes Chapman, a merchant, who died in October, 1907, leaving her a fortune of $10,000,000.

The Van Valkenburghs are among the oldest of the Dutch families whose names appear on the first charts of Manhattan, and they have always been enormous real estate holders. Mr. Van Valkenburgh's personal fortune is estimated at $2,000,000. Mr. Van Valkenburgh's father and mother are both dead, and he has only one sister, the wife of Judge Rapallo. His father was the original organizer and first president of the Fifth Avenue Bank. He has never before been married and is forty-one years old. He still occupies the palatial home of the Van Valkenburghs, on the southeast corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue.

He has always been a man of leisure, and is a lawyer by profession. He speaks French and German and belongs to several clubs, among which are the Manhattan, Union, St. Nicholas, Holland and Automobile. His father was the original organizer and first president of the Fifth Avenue Bank. He has never before been married and is forty-one years old. He still occupies the palatial home of the Van Valkenburghs, on the southeast corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue.

He has always been a man of leisure, and is a lawyer by profession. He speaks French and German and belongs to several clubs, among which are the Manhattan, Union, St. Nicholas, Holland and Automobile. His father was the original organizer and first president of the Fifth Avenue Bank. He has never before been married and is forty-one years old. He still occupies the palatial home of the Van Valkenburghs, on the southeast corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue.

He has always been a man of leisure, and is a lawyer by profession. He speaks French and German and belongs to several clubs, among which are the Manhattan, Union, St. Nicholas, Holland and Automobile. His father was the original organizer and first president of the Fifth Avenue Bank. He has never before been married and is forty-one years old. He still occupies the palatial home of the Van Valkenburghs, on the southeast corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue.

He has always been a man of leisure, and is a lawyer by profession. He speaks French and German and belongs to several clubs, among which are the Manhattan, Union, St. Nicholas, Holland and Automobile. His father was the original organizer and first president of the Fifth Avenue Bank. He has never before been married and is forty-one years old. He still occupies the palatial home of the Van Valkenburghs, on the southeast corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue.

He has always been a man of leisure, and is a lawyer by profession. He speaks French and German and belongs to several clubs, among which are the Manhattan, Union, St. Nicholas, Holland and Automobile. His father was the original organizer and first president of the Fifth Avenue Bank. He has never before been married and is forty-one years old. He still occupies the palatial home of the Van Valkenburghs, on the southeast corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue.

He has always been a man of leisure, and is a lawyer by profession. He speaks French and German and belongs to several clubs, among which are the Manhattan, Union, St. Nicholas, Holland and Automobile. His father was the original organizer and