Mrs. Valesh Declares Working Girls Should Be Better Paid.

New York, February 25.—Women of New York are aroused to-day by the published slam of Mrs. Eva McDonald Valesh, that the low standard of wages is responsible for the fall of many poor working girls.

When the evil influence of poverty ends and the evil influence of riches begins, and what may be neutral ground is not explained by Mrs. Valesh.

As an authority on conditions among the working girls, Mrs. Valesh is widely recognized. For years she has taken active part in their lives and is now in charge of the general organization of the American Federation of Women's Labor.

"You cannot expect the woman who makes $10 a week to be secure from temptations as the woman who can earn $25 a week," says Mrs. Valesh.

"The individual moral code is always more or less dependent upon circumstances. A higher rate standard for women will surely result in a higher standard of morality."

"The love of dainty adornment is as much a part of woman's nature as is motherhood," she says. "It does not change a woman's instincts to be born poor. If she is forced by economic conditions to the depths of deprivation she is going to take the first road out of her difficulties that she finds."

"Is it not fair to assume that any woman who is worth employing at all is worth $9 a week? One dollar and a half a day is the lowest rate paid to a man laboring by the day. Is it possible that the labor of women is worth less?"

The first Mrs. Earle obtained her divorce in France, and the second Mrs. Earle maintains that it was invalid.

North and South Will Act Together in Any Action That Is Taken.

Cleveland, Ohio, February 25.—The replies of the 300,000 railroad men to the wage demands of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railroad Conductors, were opened here. The refusal of the roads to meet the men's terms was unanimous.

This places the Southern railroad situation in perspective with the same state as that in the territory north of the Chesapeake and Ohio and east of the Mississippi. It is now certain that any action taken by the men to press their demands will be simultaneous in the East and South.

The result of the strike vote of the Baltimore and Ohio men will be known to President W. G. Lee, of the trainmen, and Grand Master Garretson, of the conductors, early this coming week.

If the decision is to call a strike, as it is expected to be, the executive councils of the two orders, which will meet here later, are expected to submit to the men on all the railroad lines the question whether a general strike shall be called.

The strike votes on the Baltimore and Ohio and at large will not be immediately effective. It is understood at the brotherhood headquarters here that the votes will be used as ammunition in the fight for the two orders to be used only in the event of a final refusal by the roads to concede the wage adjustment asked.

What makes Herr Delbruck's statement particularly mystifying and mysterious is that no less august a personage than Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia has formally expressed his readiness to become honorary patron in chief of the exhibition.

A letter to this effect from the prince's court chamberlain, Baron von Seckendorff, was recently shown to this correspondent by the exhibition management.

The government appears to have been forced into a public boycott of the exhibition by the opposition of the implacably anti-American agrarian element and an equally hostile section of the German industrial world.

At the American embassy in Berlin Herr Delbruck's ultimatum has come more or less as a bombshell. It was only a few days ago that the State Department in Washington instructed Fawcett Lauglin, first secretary of the embassy, to act as one of the three official commissioners for the exposition.

The American Chamber of Commerce in Berlin has lent its official sanction to the exhibition by allowing its secretary to become one of its managers.

The management of the show has had pretty hard sledding in many directions, and unless the Secretary of the Interior's manifesto in cleared up the exhibition is likely to suffer materially. The show is billed to open its doors on June 1 and there has been some talk of inducing Colonel Roosevelt to come over from England for the purpose of presiding at the inauguration.

GERMANY REFUSES TO ASSIST EXHIBIT

Astonishment at Speech of Delbruck Refusing Moral and Financial Support.

ENCOURAGED IN HIGH PLACES

Prince Henry Willing to Be Patron—Boycott Likely to Affect Prosperity of Exhibition.

Berlin, February 25.—Considerable astonishment has been created in American quarters in Berlin by the statement of Herr Delbruck, Imperial Secretary of the Interior, in the Reichstag, that the German government is not supporting to forthcoming American industrial exhibition in Berlin.

Other morally or financially, of the government's attitude is all the more inexplicable in view of the fact that both the German foreign office and the privately expressed themselves as German embassy at Washington have heartily in sympathy with the exhibition project.

What makes Herr Delbruck's statement particularly mystifying and mysterious is that no less august a personage than Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia has formally expressed his readiness to become honorary patron in chief of the exhibition.
