

6
The Times-Dispatch
DAILY-WEEKLY-SUNDAY
Business Office: 916 E. Main Street
Manchester Bureau: 1107 Hill Street
Petersburg Bureau: 109 N. Spangman Street
Lynchburg Bureau: 215 Eighth Street

Table with 4 columns: BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID, Daily with Sunday, Sunday edition only, Weekly (Wednesday). Rows show rates for different subscription periods.

By Times-Dispatch Carrier Delivery Service in Richmond (and suburbs), Manchester and Petersburg.

THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1910.

HENRY SYDOR HARRISON.

The unalterable decision of Henry Sydor Harrison to leave the newspaper field has deprived the Times-Dispatch of a most valued and valuable writer. It is in the great majority of instances unusual to break that canon of editorial policy which throws a cloak of anonymity about the personality of the chief editorial writer.

When the position of chief editorial writer was offered Mr. Harrison he was already known as H. S. H., the writer of "Rhymes for To-Day." In every important paper in the United States, to others, besides the poetical, who clipped what they could not copy, H. S. H. endeared himself by the modesty with which he paraphrased the ethereal charms of Richmond's little star-eyed blondes.

When the position of chief editorial writer was offered Mr. Harrison he was already known as H. S. H., the writer of "Rhymes for To-Day." In every important paper in the United States, to others, besides the poetical, who clipped what they could not copy, H. S. H. endeared himself by the modesty with which he paraphrased the ethereal charms of Richmond's little star-eyed blondes.

When Mr. Harrison had made a name and a place for himself in a difficult but delightful field of humor before he undertook the heavier and more serious task of editing a great daily paper. In the latter work his success has been no less gratifying and no less deserved.

When Mr. Harrison had made a name and a place for himself in a difficult but delightful field of humor before he undertook the heavier and more serious task of editing a great daily paper. In the latter work his success has been no less gratifying and no less deserved.

When Mr. Harrison had made a name and a place for himself in a difficult but delightful field of humor before he undertook the heavier and more serious task of editing a great daily paper. In the latter work his success has been no less gratifying and no less deserved.

win. We believe that he will; he certainly will win if the people who ought to vote for him out of regard for the public interests, do vote for him.

MAN AND PLATFOOL.

The Democratic Convention at Bristol put a big man on a very sound platform. Unalterable opposition to the high protective tariff as fostered by the Republican party.

Denunciation of the so-called "downward revision" of the tariff by Mr. Taft and his allies in Congress. Resistance of the extravagant administration of National affairs by the party in power.

An absolute demand that the Democratic party be returned to the control of the Government, at Washington. That is broad enough and strong enough to hold every sincere Democrat in the State and all other honest people as well.

There is another point about Confederate money which it would be well for Mr. Pinchot to clear up after he has conserved all of our other national resources. On every Confederate bill the assurance is printed that within a certain time after the independence of the Confederate States of America has been achieved, this note will be redeemed at its face value.

So far as we have observed, clairvoyants, fortune-tellers, palmists and like delvers in the black arts never served but one purpose successfully, and that was to separate people from their money. In this, as the records of our courts and the experience of many sufferers attest, their profit has been the loss of the unsuspecting.

In fact, many of these men and women have done incalculable damage to the ignorant and foolish. They have played, for ages, upon that element of superstition which appears more or less in every man, and they have often driven simple folk to desperation by promises of wealth or warnings of calamity.

When Mr. Harwood's bill is enacted into law, we trust it may be strictly enforced. The police will then have ample authority to deal strictly with these miscreants and to offer them the jail or the first train North.

thing else. Nobody thinks that oil inspection is the real reason for levying the tax, but if the State must have money from the oil people, it should get it through an increase in the franchise or license taxes.

It is very well to tax the company that furnishes the oil, but it is bad policy to tax the oil. It is an absolute necessity in many sections of Virginia, and must be by many of our citizens no matter what its price may be.

During the last year 11,166 persons were washed at our public bathhouse in Richmond. This will probably not interest our Savannah constituents greatly, as the Savannah people are not supposed to wash, there being no full length bathtubs in that town.

Secretary Wilson denies that he ever saw or heard of the letter Mr. Pinchot wrote to Senator Dooliver until it was read in the Senate. We are inclined to believe that Mr. Wilson is telling the truth.

It is not so much the overproduction of doctors of which the Carnegie Foundation complains that interests us as it is the underproduction of patients. The active competition in the cost of funerals continues without abatement in the town of Baltimore.

Dr. Robert MacDonald, pastor of the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, of Brooklyn, made a speech the other night to the Congregational Club of that town, in which he admitted that "baptism is not essential for entrance into heaven" and that the rule of close communion which has obtained in that denomination is passing out.

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow expressed the opinion in the March number of the Delineator that "the American woman is as ignorant as a savage." Probably so, as the American woman is a savage. The foreigners who have come into this country misunderstand their true status.

Norfolk is in a fearful state of excitement because the nine o'clock gun has been restored. A lot of curious things happened when the gun was fired on Tuesday night after some months of silence. The nabobs on Freemason Street came out and cheered; the artillery fired a salute of thirteen guns in honor of the commandant who issued the order restoring the old practice.

son is a white man and Dancy is colored. As one of the sweetest of our Southern poets sings: "Let the white man rule in his elegant grace. And let the colored man conform to his secondary place."

James Wickersham, delegate to Congress from Alaska, says that Dr. Cook used one of his photographs of Mount McKinley in telling his story about the ascent of that hill. It was a very good photograph, doubtless, and the picture used by the Doctor was one that was taken by himself.

By the last year 11,166 persons were washed at our public bathhouse in Richmond. This will probably not interest our Savannah constituents greatly, as the Savannah people are not supposed to wash, there being no full length bathtubs in that town.

Secretary Wilson denies that he ever saw or heard of the letter Mr. Pinchot wrote to Senator Dooliver until it was read in the Senate. We are inclined to believe that Mr. Wilson is telling the truth.

It is not so much the overproduction of doctors of which the Carnegie Foundation complains that interests us as it is the underproduction of patients. The active competition in the cost of funerals continues without abatement in the town of Baltimore.

Dr. Robert MacDonald, pastor of the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, of Brooklyn, made a speech the other night to the Congregational Club of that town, in which he admitted that "baptism is not essential for entrance into heaven" and that the rule of close communion which has obtained in that denomination is passing out.

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow expressed the opinion in the March number of the Delineator that "the American woman is as ignorant as a savage." Probably so, as the American woman is a savage. The foreigners who have come into this country misunderstand their true status.

Norfolk is in a fearful state of excitement because the nine o'clock gun has been restored. A lot of curious things happened when the gun was fired on Tuesday night after some months of silence. The nabobs on Freemason Street came out and cheered; the artillery fired a salute of thirteen guns in honor of the commandant who issued the order restoring the old practice.

PRINCE WILSON'S "GIFT"

Husband of Former Miss Anita Stewart in Financial Difficulties.

GIFTS TO GERMAN EMPRESS

Lord Byron's Carriage Used in South Australia as a Hen Roost.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY. PRINCE MIGUEL of Braganza has now been judicially declared bankrupt by the Austrian courts of law, and according to an official announcement published in Vienna on February 16, was on that day placed under "curatel" - that is to say, he is reduced from a civic point of view in Austria to the status of a minor or a lunatic, is deprived of all his privileges as a citizen, is incapable of entering into any legal obligation, cannot execute a legal document, let alone sign it as principal, and is entirely at the mercy of the curators or judicial trustees appointed by the court to act as his guardians.

Dr. Robert MacDonald, pastor of the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, of Brooklyn, made a speech the other night to the Congregational Club of that town, in which he admitted that "baptism is not essential for entrance into heaven" and that the rule of close communion which has obtained in that denomination is passing out.

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow expressed the opinion in the March number of the Delineator that "the American woman is as ignorant as a savage." Probably so, as the American woman is a savage. The foreigners who have come into this country misunderstand their true status.

Norfolk is in a fearful state of excitement because the nine o'clock gun has been restored. A lot of curious things happened when the gun was fired on Tuesday night after some months of silence. The nabobs on Freemason Street came out and cheered; the artillery fired a salute of thirteen guns in honor of the commandant who issued the order restoring the old practice.

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow expressed the opinion in the March number of the Delineator that "the American woman is as ignorant as a savage." Probably so, as the American woman is a savage. The foreigners who have come into this country misunderstand their true status.

Norfolk is in a fearful state of excitement because the nine o'clock gun has been restored. A lot of curious things happened when the gun was fired on Tuesday night after some months of silence. The nabobs on Freemason Street came out and cheered; the artillery fired a salute of thirteen guns in honor of the commandant who issued the order restoring the old practice.

Daily Queries and Answers

Address all communications for this column to Query Editor, Times-Dispatch. No mathematical problems will be solved, no coins or stamps valued and no dealers' names will be given.

Largest Traffic Cities. Please tell me the five largest passenger traffic cities in the United States in the order they come, by a New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Boston.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.

What man was assigned to the Roanoke? I have read in the Times-Dispatch, Shaughnessy will continue as manager, though he has not positively chosen his players for the different positions.