The University College of Medicine was destroyed by fire. It will be rebuilt. A college building to cost $100,000 will soon rise on the former site through the generosity of the public-spirited citizens of Richmond. It will be on a scale commensurate with the prestige and progress of Greater Richmond.

RANDOLPH-MACON LOOKS A WINNER

Has Already Won Enough Games to Gain Championship of Eastern Virginia.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Ashland, Va., May 3.—Because every other team in the Eastern Virginia Intercollegiate League has lost two games, and Randolph-Macon has lost none, with a chance to lose only tomorrow's contest with Richmond College, the championship for 1910 returns to the Yellow Jackets. But these nine horsehide artists will not lay down when two games with Richmond College are yet to be played. The record of these games will be an exhibition contest, to be played May 11. In the Hampden-Sidney game yesterday the Hampden-Sidney dispatch did not give a correct impression of the game. The Presbyterian boys got more hits than the Methodists, but their errors were much more profuse and costly. On the other hand, Graveley, for Randolph-Macon, was not knocked out of the box, but was replaced by Smith when he had struck out the last two men up. Modern baseball is played along lines a little different from Hampden-Sidney methods, perhaps. Hits featured for Randolph-Macon by a brilliant catch of what would probably otherwise have been Bernier's home run. Again with two men on bases, Hite knocked out a three-bagger.

LAST GAME WITH CAROLINA.

Veteran "Stars" Pass Out of College Baseball Under Four-Year Rule.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chapel Hill, N. C., May 3.—Carolina made it two straight from the Central University of Kentucky this afternoon, by a score of 8 to 2. The game was remarkable for the fact that it was not only the last game of the season, but also the last game that Hamilton, Stewart and Bivens will ever play as representatives of Carolina. These three veteran stars based out of college baseball this afternoon, under the four-year rule. The students showed their appreciation for their work by cheering them at every turn.

It was all Hamilton, Stewart and Bivens this afternoon. The features of the game were the brilliant playing of the Central at short, and the hitting of Hamilton, Duncan, Hedgpeth and Williams. Score by innings: R. H. E. Carolina.....0 2 2 1 2 0 1.....3 11 5 Central.....0 0 0 2 0 0 1.....2 6 3 Summary: Batteries—Hedgpeth and Balle and Swink; Pitching—Fagan and Waller and Seelback. Earned runs—Carolina, 5; Central, 2. Struck out—by Hedgpeth, 2; by Fagan, 0; by Waller, 3. Base on balls—of Hedgpeth, 6. Left on bases—Carolina, 4; Central, 10. Three-base hits—Duncan, Williams and Dasher. Two-base hits—Hamilton, Rose and Hedgpeth. Umpire, Wrenn.

PROTEST AGAINST FIGHT.

Oakland Citizens Adopt Resolution Condemning Big Pistol Encounter. Oakland, Cal., May 3.—Branding the match a "desecration of the great patriotic holiday," the Greater Oakland Charter Convention last night adopted a resolution protesting against the holding of the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight on July 4. A public mass meeting held in remonstrance against this threatened violation of the moral sentiment and good order of the community is planned.

Ministers Protest to Governor. San Diego, Cal., May 3.—The Ministerial Association of this city has sent a telegram to Governor Gillett protesting against the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

Dobson Goes to Fayetteville. Pittsburg, Pa., May 3.—First baseman Frank Dobson was released by the Pittsburg team of the Eastern Carolina League.

Stanton Academy Detested. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Staunton, Va., May 3.—Randolph-Macon Academy of Front Royal, defeated Staunton Military Academy here today, 7 to 1.

AMUSEMENTS

Academy, matinee and night—Benjamin Players.

"The Three Twins," which comes to the Academy Saturday matinee and night, contains many novel features. The scenic aerial act at the first of the first act is one of the greatest pieces of stage craft ever devised, and while revolving at a rapid rate, the six beautiful girls singing "The Cuddle Song," presents a most beautiful stage picture.

HIGH SCHOOL UP WITH LEADERS

Bats Out Victory in First Two Innings Yesterday—Another Game to Be Played.

The game for the cup in the interscholastic league was tied up yesterday afternoon when the John Marshall High School took the third game of the series with McGuire's University School. The High School team as clearly outclassed their formidable rivals as they themselves had been in their second game with the same school. The final score was 7 to 6. The game was slow and long drawn out, and abounded in errors on both sides. With the exception of the first two innings, Van Pelt and Hulcher showed up in good form, though both were slightly wild.

The game was practically won by the High School from the start, the score at the end of the second inning being 6 to 4. This lead McGuire's were unable to overcome. McGuire's School, aided by their band of loyal supporters in the grand stand, fought every inch of the long road to the ninth inning. Both teams seemed to be suffering from stage fright, and were too eager. Hulcher struck out twelve men, but allowed the High School to bunch their hits to safe territory. Montgomery and Van Pelt were particularly favored on their feet, and stole second at will.

Estate of Theatrical Man Goes to His Sister. W. Greason Neal qualified yesterday in the Chancery Court as executor of the will of Thomas G. Leath, a well known theatrical man, at one time head of the Leath circuit, who left an estate valued at $22,000, which goes to his sister, Miss Nonie Leath, in fee simple. The will, written in Mr. Leath's own handwriting, was dated October 2, 1908, provides for legacies to certain personal friends in the event that Miss Leath did not survive him. All such bequests are nullified by her death, occurring before that of his sister, who, besides the estate, is also beneficiary of life insurance policies amounting to $2,000. Miss Leath survived his sister, his estate was to have been divided as follows: J. W. Bick, of Norfolk, 125 shares of stock in the Leath Theatrical Company of estimated value of $12,500; Robert W. Waitt, $3,500; Moses Stein, $1,000; Charles W. Rex, $1,000, and the remainder to W. Greason Neal, and Benjamin T. Gunter qualified in the Chancery Court as executor of the will of Sallie Lacy Gunter. The estate is valued at $6,500.

LOVED TOO MUCH

Druggist Arrested on Charge of Forcible Attention on Young Woman. William T. Witte, a druggist, was arrested yesterday on a charge of being disorderly and annoying a young woman who is employed as a stenographer. The young woman states in the warrant that she is being harmed at the hands of Witte, and prays that he be put under bond to keep the peace. He is alleged to have annoyed her continually. He is said to have called on her repeatedly; to have gone to the office where she is employed, and to have called her up over the telephone innumerable times. Witte was bailed in the sum of $500, with Dr. William H. Parker as security.

PROFESSOR DAVIS DIES AT HIS HOME

After Long Illness, Distinguished Scholar Passes Away.

RETIRED ON CARNEGIE FUND

Until 1906 Occupied Chair of Moral Philosophy at State University.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., May 3.—Professor Noah K. Davis, emeritus professor of moral philosophy in the University of Virginia, died about noon today. For years he has been in bad health, and for the past few months he has been gradually failing in strength. Hardening of the arteries, accompanied by heart and kidney complications, hastened the end. His family and friends were prepared for the event, in the sense that they knew the end was near, and were not surprised when it came. His work done, the old scholar entered into rest gratefully and calmly. The fine mind survived some of his senses, and went out only with the last quiet and peaceful breath. His last word, spoken to one of his daughters, was "Bless, bless of God." The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in Madison Hall, at the University, and the interment will be in the University Cemetery.

An Interesting Career.

Noah Knowles Davis was born in Philadelphia May 15, 1836, and became a member of the American Baptist Publication Society. At the age of nineteen he was graduated from Mercer University, in Georgia. He has been in educational work all his life, beginning at Howard College, Alabama, as professor of natural science, going thence to Judson Female College, of which he was principal for the six years ending with 1865. In 1865 he went as president to Bethel College, in Russellville, Ky., where he remained until elected professor of moral philosophy in the University of Virginia in 1872, his term of active service ending in 1906, since which he had been emeritus. Three years ago he retired on the Carnegie Fund.

He was the author of a number of works on logic, psychology and ethics, and also of "Juda's Jewels," a veritable study of the Hebrew lyrics, and "A Synopsis of the Events in the Life of Jesus," which was followed by the larger work, "The Story of the Nazarene."

In religious profession, Professor Davis was a Baptist, and frequently filled Baptist pulpits, lectured for

Ready to wear and outclass the "make believe" made to measure kind—

They are better styled, more original, more creatively new.

They are better tailored—by a higher class, better paid workmen; upon a higher plane and more painstaking finish.

They are better fitting—more exact in balance, more exact in drape, more accurate in proportion—the outcome of highest art designing.

They are better fabricked—from the production of the best woolen mills of Europe and America; more exclusive in pattern; more varied in design.

They cost no more—actually less, than the inferior kind, because "From Maker to Wearer" is the proposition here; no agents' profits, no middlemen's margins.

the University of Virginia was singularly fruitful in the things that strengthen character and the teaching that anchors conviction.

Third to Occupy Chair.

Coming to the university in 1873, he succeeded Dr. McGuffey and became the third occupant since the founding of the university, of what, in that day, was known as the chair of moral philosophy. Professor Tucker having been the first.

Professor Davis married in 1857 Miss Ella Hunt, of Albany, Ga. She and four children survive—Noah Wilson Davis, a civil engineer, of this city; Archie Hunt Davis, a lawyer of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Walter E. Brooks, of Elyria, O.; and Miss Clara Bell Davis, of Charlottesville.

Among his students, Professor Davis was regarded as the embodiment of all knowledge upon the branches he taught. For more than a quarter of a century he delivered Biblical lectures on Sunday afternoons, which made lasting impressions, concerning the (ures, on the students who attended his Bible classes. Out of these lectures grew two of his books, "Juda's Jewels" and "The Story of the Nazarene."

During the latter years of his life, infirmities increased upon him and he largely withdrew from the activities in which his career had been passed, but he never lost his deep interest in educational and religious enterprises. He was much pleased with the profound confidence in his judgment and scholarship exhibited by his former students in letters asking advice and instruction.

RIOTING IN NEW YORK

Bakers' Strike Cause of Outbreak—Bread Sides Condition.

New York, May 3.—There was rioting to-day in the bakers' strike. One strike-breaker was stabbed, several were mangled and hundreds of loaves of bread were tossed from wagons into the street, but there were no fatalities. Both sides, employers and strikers, were in an air of confidence, and conflicting statements of the status of affairs were issued. The strikers say that 6,000 men are out, and that nearly all the big bakeries, including those in the larger hotels, are seriously crippled. The employers, on the other hand, insist that they are only temporarily handicapped, and will quickly fill all vacancies. Many hotels, however, are getting bread from neighboring cities. The bakery which supplies Columbia University, ran short of supplies and hungry students were limited to one slice of bread each for breakfast this morning.

Henry Loss by Fire. Danville, Va., May 3.—Samuel G. Woods, a well known farmer and merchant of Caswell county, whose large lumber mill, storehouse and manufacturing plant at Parley were destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, was in the city to-day. He stated that his losses from the conflagration would be between $1,000 and $5,000.

Thomas Will Be Orator. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Alexandria, Va., May 3.—Representative Charles R. Thomas, of North Carolina, will be the orator of the day in this city May 24 at the annual Confederate Day memorial exercises. The exercises will be held at the monument at Washington and Prince Streets.
