

WAR WITH SPAIN WAS AN ACCIDENT

Moreton Frewen, an Englishman, Tells How It Happened to Be Fought.

Vancouver, B. C., May 30.—"That Spain would have relinquished Cuba without a war and that the Spanish-American War was an accident, is, I believe correct," says Moreton Frewen, of London, Eng., an intimate friend of the late Julian Pauncefote, Great Britain's ambassador to the United States when the Spanish-American War began.

"The word had gone out at the outbreak of the war that the concert of Europe was desirous of protecting Spain, and Great Britain had called hands off and had gone so far as to offer to lend her consular forces in case of European intervention."
