

YOUNG WATTERSON IN GRAVE TROUBLE

Son of Editor Is Held for Shooting Saloon-ist.

ARMED WITH REVOLVERS

Father States That He Has Long Suffered With Religious Mania.

Kingston, N. Y., July 2.—Ewing Watterson, the son of Colonel Henry Watterson, the well-known Louisville, Ky., editor, was arraigned to-day at Saugerties on a charge of assault in the first degree. It is charged that Watterson, who is forty years old, shot and wounded Michael Martin, a saloon-keeper, at Saugerties yesterday. An application for bail was refused by Police Justice Rowe, and the prisoner was committed to the Kingston jail for further examination next Thursday. The assistant district attorney opposed the application for bail because he said it was too early to determine whether complications might render Martin's condition serious. He declared that Watterson had struggled desperately with the officer who captured him and that two loaded revolvers were found upon him after his arrest. Public safety, he said, demanded that such a man should be kept under restraint.

Watterson's counsel asked a release on bail because, he said, Martin's condition was not serious. The prisoner expected his father to spend the Fourth of July with him, and it would be wrong, he said, to ask a man of Colonel Watterson's age to pass the day in a jail.

Has Religious Mania. New York, July 2.—Conflicting reports as to the identity of the man who yesterday, at Saugerties, N. Y., while apparently demented, shot and slightly wounded Michael Martin, a saloon proprietor, were cleared up to-day when it was learned that Martin's assailant was Ewing Watterson, eldest son of Colonel Henry Watterson, of Louisville, Ky. Colonel Watterson, who was in this city, was apprised of his son's outbreak and planned to go to Saugerties to look after the young man's interests.

From him the circumstances of the case were learned. Ewing Watterson, his father says, has for some years been the victim of a form of religious mania, which has failed completely to

"I Would Not Take $1,000 For What Milam Has Done For My Eyes."

MILAM MEDICINE CO., Inc., DANVILLE, VA.

says Miss Pattie Faulkner, of the Danville Orphanage. This lady has suffered with her eyes from childhood, and of late years her vision has been greatly impaired. She says that improvement has been so great that she believes she will soon be able to read without her glasses, and requests us to publish this in the hope that others may be benefited.

This is just one of many such cases. A prominent ex-han not only recovered out of a large corporation, after having been given up by specialists, and almost blind, has had his eyesight almost completely restored.

A veteran of the civil war, who lives in North Danville, who has been taking Milam for Eczema, says that while he has not been able to see as far across the street for many years, he noticed the other day from his home in North Danville, a church steeple in the sunshine on the other side of the town. He says the recovery of his vision is something marvellous. An old colored woman in Richmond, who, when she started taking Milam, could not tell night from day, and whose case was pronounced hopeless by the specialists, the other day counted the people in a hack passing by on the street.

The veins conveying the blood to the optic nerve are very tiny, and sometimes the blood does not circulate in them sufficiently to refresh the nerve, causing it to waste and gradually die. Milam is not an eye medicine, but in this particular form of failing vision it works wonders. Write for booklet.

NEEDS EDUCATION IN MISSION WORK

Speakers Emphasize Necessity of Knowledge for Church.

TWO CONFERENCES HELD

Special Features of Interest Arranged for Young People's Movement.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Asheville, N. C., July 2.—The principal features of the summer conference of the Young People's Missionary Movement to-day were the conferences conducted by Rev. E. H. Rawlings, D. D., of Virginia, and Harry S. Myers, of New York.

Dr. Rawlings presented the subject of Korea, showing the necessity of studying Korean order, for the church at home to do her full duty in the work of evangelization of that country, showing also that knowledge results in action, and that the inspiration necessary to successful work can be gained only through information and education regarding the subject under consideration.

The subject which Mr. Myers discussed was "The Need of Missionary Education in the Church at Home." The time devoted to this subject was occupied largely with expressions giving evidence of the lack of missionary education in the home church, and suggestions as to how this education can be secured best.

The speaker at the platform meeting which followed was Rev. J. W. Green, of the Baptist Mission Board, who has spent nineteen years as a missionary in China.

A service of intercession closed the morning session. This evening several denominational meetings were held, and later another platform meeting and some prominent speakers were heard.

Mission Study Classes.

One of the interesting features of this session of the conference was the Young People's Missionary Movement was the organization of the mission study classes. These classes are seven in number, and each one will be conducted under the leadership of a teacher of ability and experience. The delegates to the conference will assemble in these classes each morning from 9 to 10, and a systematic study will be conducted during the entire ten days' session. The classes as organized this morning were divided according to the choice of the delegates, and the following subjects will be studied: "Korea," taught by Rev. E. H. Rawlings, D. D., of Virginia, who was recently elected educational secretary of the Board of Missions of the

WAKE DEMOCRATS LINE UP FOR FRAY

Party Prepares for Impending Campaign—Governor Grants Pardon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Raleigh, N. C., July 2.—Wake county Democracy is marshaling forces now for the impending campaign leading up to the November election, determined not only to heal all "wounds" in the party laid bare in the recent bitter primary campaign, and hold the Democratic strength that was registered two years ago, but also to gain some of the ground lost in the past three campaigns. It is a notable fact that in 1902 the Democratic majority in the county was 3,322; in 1904 it was 2,136; in 1906 it was 2,638, and in 1908 it was 1,457. In the latter campaign the rural precincts gave Taft a majority. These same precincts also in the recent primary vote rolled up the 700 majority for the "insurgent" Democrats against the "regulars" that overcame the Raleigh 600 majority for the "regulars" and put in nomination all the "insurgents" save one, Jones "regular," this being the sheriff of the county, J. H. Sears, who fought his way in by a bare majority.

A charter was issued to-day for the Gurney Clay Company, Franklin, Madison county, capital $50,000, by J. W. Gurney and others. The Tatum Puff Company, of Franklin, increases its capital from $100,000 to $250,000.

News reached here to-day that a well-known Assyrian, known as Dr. San Pedro, was killed in a runaway automobile from the mountains. The details of the accident are not known here. He was sixty-odd years old and spent much time in Raleigh.

Governor Kitchin left to-day for Boston to attend the National Educational Association in session here next week, with Dr. J. J. Joyner, North Carolina's Superintendent of Public Instruction, presiding as president. The Governor will deliver one of the principal addresses Monday, in connection with the first day of the conference.

Marshall Williams, Cumberland county, serving a term of one year for second degree burglary, was pardoned to-day by Governor Kitchin with the condition prescribed that he remain sober, law-abiding and of good behavior. It is a case, the Governor says, in which the prisoner, in a drunken condition, entered the wrong house, and was found there asleep or in a drunken stupor. The owner of the house was a lady some fifteen years old, was in charge of the place. The pardon is asked by the prosecutor, the prosecuting officers, and by many citizens.

The "pocket change" warrants on the State Treasurer by the inmates of the Soldiers' Home, which are issued quarterly, were drawn to-day in the office of the State Auditor, and the warrants sent to the home for distribution. There are 136 of these warrants this time. They are issued quarterly, the old veterans being allowed $6 per year, or $1.50 per quarter.

MINE ORE IN LAKES AS FISH ARE CAUGHT

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Stockholm, July 2.—The Swedish lakes are covered to a thickness of six or eight inches with fragments of iron ore slabs. The ore consists chiefly of hydrated oxide of iron, mixed with silicate and phosphate of iron, sand and other impurities, and yields big iron of good quality.

The ore is obtained by very primitive methods. In winter a hole is cut in the ice, a scraper attached to a long pole is inserted, and all the ore within reach is collected into a heap beneath the hole. Some of the mud which has been scraped together with the ore is removed by stirring the mass with poles, and scraped into bags which have been sunk, and is hauled up.

In summer this curious mining operation is conducted in a similar manner from rafts anchored in the lake. Two miners can bring about four tons of ore. The steam dredges have recently been installed in a few places. About thirty years after the removal of the ore, a new layer of the same thickness is found to have been produced by natural chemical processes.

Defendant (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Roanoke, Va., July 2.—J. T. Kingsley, who a year ago had a contract with the Roanoke County Commission to construct a stretch of macadam road, and defaulted to the amount of $3,000, returned here last night after an absence in California, and was promptly arrested. He is in jail at Salem to await trial.

Held Prisoner in Freight Car. Norfolk, Va., July 2.—Sam Hill, aged thirteen years, son of Charles Hill, of Charlotte, N. C., is recovering in a Pinner's Point hotel to-day following his rescue last night from a freight car in which he had been held prisoner for several days without food or drink. The boy ran away and hid himself in the car for a journey into unknown lands. He will be held pending instructions from his parents.

Myers, of New York, assistant secretary of the Young People's Missionary Movement; "Under Marching Orders," taught by Miss Elizabeth N. Briggs, of Raleigh, N. C., superintendent of juvenile missionary work of the Baptist denomination in this State; "Servants of the King," taught by L. P. Leavell, of Georgia, a prominent worker in the home mission department of the Southern Presbyterian Church; "Sunrise in the Sunrise Kingdom," taught by Miss Edith Lambdin, of Atlanta, secretary to Rev. J. C. Morris, D. D., home mission secretary of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

All of these classes will be conducted in a systematic way, and a specially prepared text-book will be used. Uniform system prevails in the arrangement of the text-books, each of these being divided into eight chapters.

Another special feature of the conference that was arranged this morning was that which will be conducted each morning from 10 to 11 and will be known as the "Institute period." Edmund D. Soper, general field secretary of the Young People's Missionary Movement, will be in charge of this period, which will be one of the most prominent features of the conference. There will be for the discussion during this period to deal with actual problems of the church at home and abroad in a practical way, to look on these problems as a whole and to consider each in their relationship to others.

The announcement that Mr. Soper will be in charge of the institute period throughout the conference will give special pleasure to the delegates and will promise a thorough and profitable study of the problems to be discussed from day to day at the hour set aside for this purpose.

Federal Court's Comment as to Purpose of Move by the Defense. Trenton, N. J., July 2.—Judge Cross, in the United States Circuit Court, decried the application on behalf of Mrs. Virginia Wardlaw for an injunction restraining Prosecutor Mott, of Essex county, from applying for a writ of habeas corpus in New York as evidence in the coming trial of Mrs. Wardlaw and her two sisters for the murder of the late King Edward VII. Since the East Orange, it was claimed on behalf of Mrs. Wardlaw that the evidence in question has been seized and seized in violation of the defendant's constitutional rights.

The refusal of the injunction was based primarily on the fact that the defense sought to be recovered had not been shown to be of the value of at least $2,000, this being necessary to give the Federal court jurisdiction. Judge Cross, however, discussed other reasons which he said would be sufficient to prevent the issuing of an injunction.

Eliminating legal technicalities, Judge Cross said it was quite apparent that the prosecutor, to have such evidence restored to Mrs. Wardlaw and to restrain the prosecutor from making further use of it.

The court held that the testimony of the prosecutor showing how and when he came into possession of the property was sufficient to sustain the case on any real question of constitutional search or seizure. Furthermore, the court said, the evidence already in the court should be destroyed, and should it be destroyed or surrendered by the prosecutor he would not only be in contempt of Court of Oyer and Terminer, in which the indictment is pending, but would also render himself liable to impeachment.

Judge Cross said it was apparent that to interfere with the custody of the property or to enjoin its use upon the prosecution of an indictment. A Federal court, he pointed out, has no power to grant an injunction against a State court, except in bankruptcy cases, nor can it enjoin criminal cases begun in a State court.

Mrs. "RESURRECTION MIRACLE" FAILS (Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Paris, July 2.—A curious story of an unperformed miracle and the subsequent firing of a bullet by a civil court at Limoges is told in Paris to-day. A lady died and the priest had the body taken into the chapel of Mont-Carmel, where by the influence of prayer and the aid of heaven, the priest declared he would perform the miracle of resurrection. Prostrating themselves before the altar the family sang hymns for many hours, but the child failed to give any sign of returning life. The deputy mayor when informed of the affair laid an action against the priest for removing a corpse without authority, and for this offense a fine of sixteen francs has been imposed.

The priest persists in declaring that the miracle would have been performed had there been greater faith among those who assisted him.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH. Man Instantly Killed by Brother-in-Law—Murderer Escapes. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., July 2.—Shooting from ambush, William Gross, forty-five years old, sent a Winchester bullet through the body of William South, a brother-in-law, at Shady Ford, near Bristol to-day, killing him instantly. News from the scene is to the effect that South was taken entirely by surprise. Hurrying away from the scene, Gross went by the home of Jacob Fritz, a neighbor, against whom he had a grudge and firing a shot from his rifle he missed Fritz, but the ball struck the latter's aged mother.

The great grief of the mother, a sheriff telephoned here for bloodhounds in an effort to locate Gross, who disappeared in the near-by mountains.

Gross and South married twin sisters and family troubles are believed to have led to the killing.

ASTOR IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS (Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) London, July 2.—Sir Ernest Cassel, who has already built a magnificent sanitarium and spent thousands of dollars in the war against consumption, has subscribed to the great appeal which is now being made to the British public by the National Association for the Prevention of Consumption.

The appeal is signed by the Duke of Devonshire and Waldorf Astor, all whom have pledged themselves to liberally support the crusade.

The campaign will take the form of traveling exhibitions, popular lectures and literature to be distributed among the poor classes. This education of the masses to fight the scourge will cost at least $25,000 per annum. Mr. Astor himself is anxious that double that sum should be subscribed, and it would surprise no one if he were to make up any deficiency out of his own purse.

The association was started in one of the drawing-rooms of Marlborough House when the late King Edward was Prince of Wales, and it has done much good work, but it is the funds have run very low.

SURVIVING WAR HEROES

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Lexington, Va., July 2.—The above picture is a photograph of the survivors of the Liberty Hall Volunteers who enlisted in the Civil War as students of Washington and Lee University, and in whose memory a bronze tablet was unveiled at Washington and Lee University during the recent commencement. The names in the picture are as follows: Front row, beginning at left—Dr. William Bell, Bristol Station; Thomas Turner, Radford (Mayor of city); Judge J. N. Lyle, Waco, Texas (first lieutenant in company); Dr. G. B. Strickler, Richmond, (captain of company); Rev. Everard Meade, Acotink; William Meade, Louisa; Rev. Joseph L. Sherrard, Crozet (second lieutenant in company); Bear row, beginning at left—S. R. Moore, Lexington; Rev. H. R. Laird, St. Matthews, Ky.; J. P. Amole, Lexington; J. H. B. Jones, Rockbridge county; Rev. Copeland Page, Winchester; John T. McKee, Buena Vista; Hon. William A. Anderson, Richmond and Lexington; Cyrus F. Neal, Staunton.

A remarkable thing of this company is that of the seventy-six members enrolled in 1861 there are twenty-six now living, and nineteen were present on the occasion of the unveiling of the tablet, although not all appear in the photograph.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urger dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.
