This announcement that "Finafare" will be sung in Richmond again will no doubt bring back happy memories and soft smiles to the older folk of Richmond society. Many years ago "Finafare" was produced in Richmond in the old Mozart Hall, now the Academy of Music, and was a big charity affair, in which all the charming society ladies and beaux took part. It will be remembered that Miss Caroline Richings, afterwards Mrs. Bernard, sang "Buttercup"; Marie Bernard, the admiral, and Captain Frank Cunningham, of this city, also sang in the opera. And now "Finafare" is being sung again. It will be revived as an attractive society event of Easter week at the Academy of Music, under the patronage of the Alumnae Association of the University of Virginia. Elliott's school of Richmond, Richmond, for this production will begin on the first of February, at 8 o'clock, in the assembly room of Miss Elliott's school. The officers and executive board of the association have the play in charge. President, Miss Kitty Bancroft; Vice-President, Mrs. Hiram M. Smith; Treasurer, Miss Ella W. Back; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Caroline T. Armitage; Recording Secretary, Miss M. Robinson; The board consists of Misses Eleanor Lindsey, Annie Gray White, Carrie Minor, Kate McReid, Helen McIntyre, Bessie Jackson, Winifred Greenhaw, Roberta Trigg, Louise Purcell and Grace Neal.

Place on next Tuesday afternoon, from 1 until 6 o'clock. Miss Helen Stockwell will lecture on the difference between the Italian and German schools of singing. Her subject will be "The Italian Lyric Music and the German Dramatic Music." After Miss Stockwell's talk the usual reception will follow, and tea will be served by the young women of the club. Card Party for Miss Fitzgerald. Mrs. Horace B. Browne will give a card party on Tuesday, January 24, at her home, at Sherwood, Baltimore county, in honor of Miss Irene Fitzgerald, of Richmond. Dinners at Country Club. Miss Elizabeth Harrgrave, Miss Ann Traylor and Miss Della Davenport have been among the many charming hostesses of dinner parties at the Country Club this past week. At Women's Club. What promises to be one of the most attractive entertainments of the season will be given at the Woman's Club to-morrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Southall. Mrs. Southall has been fortunate in securing the services of John S. Munce to speak on "Tom Moore." The talk will be illustrated by some of the Irish poet's well known ballads, which will be rendered by Mrs. Clifton Miller, soprano; Mr. Tucker, tenor; Mr. Marjorie, alto; Miss Myrtle Redford at the piano; and Miss Anne Louise Reinhardt, violinist. Oyster Dinner. The Branch R. Allen Auxiliary gave an after oyster dinner on last Thursday for the patients at the Home for Invalids, which was enjoyed to the fullest extent by all of the guests. Mrs. Stein and his orchestra played during the dinner. Lectures at Woman's Club. The lecture committee announces a number of good things in the near future among them Mrs. Charlotte Rins Gilman, who will speak on "Our Brains and What Ails Them," on January 26. On February 1 Dr. Lewis P. Chamberlaine, of the University of South Carolina, will give an illustrated lecture on the "Barbaric Cities of Crete." On account of the beautiful views exhibited, this lecture will be given in the auditorium of the new Central Y. M. C. A., and each club member will receive the privilege of inviting two guests. Dr. Seumas McManus, on "Stories of Irish Fairy and Folk Lore," and Mr. George A. Plimpton, head of Ginn & Company, of New York, on "Education in Shakespeare's Time," are also scheduled for February.

Meade-Barksdale. A wedding of much interest in social circles here, which will take place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Grace Episcopal Church, is that of Miss Anne Lewis Barksdale, daughter of Mrs. Priscilla Road and the late Claiborne Barksdale, to Benjamin L. Meade, formerly of Virginia, but now of Durham, N. C. The bride will be attended by her sisters, Miss Elizabeth Road Barksdale, maid of honor, and Mrs. John M. Gregory, matron of honor. Little Misses Mary Barksdale Gregory and Sue Gordon will be flower girls. The groomsmen will be Norman E. Jones, Everett Meade, Gordon Harvie, of Richmond; Jack Meade, of Tazewell; Keith Taylor, of Amelia; and Severin Nottingham, of Norfolk. The groom's best man will be Lewis E. Hyde, of Richmond. Many of the out-of-town guests will be present for the wedding. Of Interest Here. Says a Baltimore paper: Mrs. Kenyon W. Egerton will give a tea on Friday, January 27, at her residence on Calvert Street, in honor of her house guest, Miss Lillian Conway, of Virginia, and Miss Jamie Green, who is one of this season's debutantes. In Honor of Mrs. Randolph. Mrs. Sander of West Franklin Street, entertained at a small bridge party on last Thursday evening, in honor of Mrs. Alfred M. Randolph, of London, Eng., who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Lane, on Grove Avenue. Reception at the Art Club. attractive house guest of Miss Kathryn Rison, on Main Street. At the conclusion of the supper, "Lott," a drawing contest, was indulged in. The women's prize, a bottle of perfume, went to Miss Gowdyloch Johnston, of Meridian, Miss., while the men's prize was won by Dr. Howe Miller, a box of smoking tobacco. Miss Sue Schofield won the consolation, a check, drawn on the "Said Bank." Among those present were Miss Virginia Cosby, with T. S. Williamson; Miss Gowdyloch Johnston, with W. W. Clark;

Miss Kathryn Rison with E. H. Miller, Jr.; Miss Sue Schofield, with Lewis Walker, and Miss Dot Richmond, the hostess, with Colonel John M. Herndon. One of the most delightful as well as unique affairs of the week was the announcement party given last Wednesday afternoon by Miss Louise Meade at her attractive home on Jefferson Avenue. The house was beautifully decorated for the event and about ten young women were Miss Meade's guests for the afternoon. The engagement of Miss Helen Robinson to Toy Robinson, of Winchester, was announced on the last of the afternoon, which were very appropriate to the occasion. The wedding will be quite a society event the last week in February. During the afternoon a delicious salad course was served.

The residence of Byrd M. Dodson, "Laurel Grove," was the scene of a beautiful home wedding on Wednesday afternoon of last week, when his sister, Miss Patti Dodson, became the bride of W. J. Wright, a prominent citizen of "Laurel Grove." The color tone of red and green prevailed throughout the hospitable home, and was carried out in the bride's attire. The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo, and the bridesmaids were placed here and there throughout the rooms, and quantities of running cedar climbed along the curtains and over the mantels. The bride entered the parlor from the dining-room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully rendered. The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar by Rev. H. T. Allison, pastor of the Baptist Church. After the ceremony a delightful collation was served.

One of the most enjoyable functions for the little folks was given on Friday afternoon by Miss Sue Schofield at her home on Main Street, to her Sunday school class of twelve little boys.
