Henderson, Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Southernland, Rear-Admiral O'Neill, General Wilson, Miss Mary Temple, Comtesse; Cuthbert Brown and Miss Collier.

Miss Ethel Newcombe Tarry, daughter of the late George Patrick Tarry, of Henderson, N. C., was married on last Thursday morning to Dr. Frank Ellis Barr, of Mississippi. The ceremony took place in Mecklenburg county, Va., and a wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mrs. Barr.

Misses Mary and Ann Traylor left yesterday to attend the midwinter convocations at the University of Virginia. Miss Isabel Perkinson and Miss Towles, who have been recent visitors in the city, have returned to Charlottesville and will be among the dancers at the university this week.

Mrs. Edward Carrington Mayo will entertain at a bridge luncheon at the Commonwealth Club today at noon. Mrs. Freedley at home. Mrs. Freedley, of 1811 Monument Avenue, will be at home this afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. This is the last of Mrs. Freedley's charming teas this month.

A pretty wedding took place last evening in Ashland, Va., at 8:30 o'clock, at the Christian Church, when Miss Sara Holiday Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Gardner, became the bride of Joseph W. Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. H. Melton. The church was decorated in palms and lighted candles, and Miss Tyler, of Ohio, played the wedding music. The bride wore a white lace gown over white satin, trimmed in satin and lace. Her veil was caught with a band of pearls, and her bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Newman Jones, wore pink messaline, trimmed in pearls, and carried pink roses. The two bridesmaids, Miss Sadie B. Holladay, of Norfolk, and Miss Cabell Jones, wore platted frocks of flowered mull, with pink girdles, and carried large armfuls of Swansonia. The groom, who was Walter C. Jones, and the ushers were C. B. Jones, Jr., and Waller Holladay, of Richmond. The bridal party was informally entertained at the bride's home on Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left at 9:30 on a special car for Richmond. They will spend several weeks in the South.

To Meet Mr. Glasgow. John Kerr Branch has issued invitations to a dinner to be given at the Commonwealth Club on Saturday evening to meet Arthur Glasgow, of England, who has been spending several months in Virginia. Many handsome dinners have been given in honor of Mr. Glasgow in Richmond.

Quiet reigned in the atmosphere above the $5,000 rug at the St. Regis yesterday morning until an excited woman rushed out of an elevator and demanded the manager. "I must really protest," she exclaimed, "that two dogs on my floor, and I am terribly afraid of them. Why, every time a waiter passes along with a tray containing meat they snap terribly, and they have no leashes on them. Won't you see that they are up?"

The two dogs in question are tiny pomeranians belonging to Mrs. James Brown Potter and Mrs. Harry Content. There is at least one woman in New York who does not like toy dogs.

Mrs. Leaton Crutchfield has returned to her home, after a delightful visit to friends in Washington. Mrs. Thomas A. Smyth, of Monument Avenue, is visiting her parents in Suffolk for a few days.

Mrs. J. J. Hekey is visiting Mrs. Rutherford Julia, in Danville. J. C. Bowman, of this city, is in Suffolk.

Bowles-Winston. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Tabasco, Va., January 25.—A pretty marriage was solemnized at Mt. Gilead Baptist Church, on Wednesday, at high noon, when Miss Barbara C. Coyle, daughter of E. G. Winston, of Goochland, was given in marriage to Drewry Bowles, a resident and contractor for the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac road. The church was decorated with ferns and cut flowers. The wedding march, "Lohengrin" was rendered by Miss L. Katharine Bowles, and "Love's Old Sweet Song" was softly played during the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of traveling suit of blue cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom wore a suit of blue cloth, and acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Padgett, of Richmond. The gates were gracefully opened for the bride by Miss Velma DuVal, with D. W. Bowles, Jr., Miss Margie McGee, with Holman Winston, Miss Hattie Hallie Jordan, with John S. Bowles, Miss Effie W. Jones, with W. C. Bowles, Ell Richardson, Charlie Bowles and Frank Payne acting as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowles left immediately for Washington, via Richmond, where they will spend the winter.

Simpson-Stewart. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Cape Charles, Va., January 25.—The peaceful slumbers of the Rev. Howard Davis and family were disturbed at 1 o'clock Monday morning by a vigorous rapping of the door bell, and at 1:15 o'clock Joseph E. Simpson and Miss Estelle Stewart, of Newport News, Va., were called in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Williams, on Randolph Avenue, a small company of friends being present.

The young couple will reside in Altavista.

Kozer-Dowdy. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Bristol, Va., January 26.—George A. Kozer, superintendent of a coal company at Jed, W. Va., and Miss Bessie L. Dowdy, of Welch, that State, were married here this afternoon. Rev. N. R. Cartwright officiated.

Keller-Stotler. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Winchester, Va., January 26.—Geo. L. Keller, Hampshire county, W. Va., and Miss Golda Stotler, member of a prominent family of this county, were married here this afternoon by Rev. H. E. Richardson.

RANDOLPH-MACON STARTS NEW COURSE OF HYGIENE [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Ashland, Va., January 26.—Lectures begin today at the college in the new course in hygiene and sanitation, to be offered by Drs. Canter and Lewis. The course is a general one, designed to help fit the students for good citizenship in the best sense of the word, by enabling them to care for the health of others, as well as themselves. Much interest has been evinced in this course, as Randolph-Macon, by requiring it of all candidates for a degree, has taken a forward step which will be noted with interest by other educational forces of the Commonwealth. The co-operation of the State health authorities has been promised, and evening illustrated lectures will be given from time to time by Dr. Ennion G. Williams, Dr. Freeman and others prominent in the movement for public health in Virginia.

BOY SHOT IN LEG. Serious Wound Caused by Accidental Discharge of Companion's Gun.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, N. C., January 26.—Lee Hanford, Jr., the 12-year-old son of Lee Hanford, of this city, was accidentally shot in the left leg this afternoon by one of his playmates, Howard Bowen, Jr., while playing with the outskirts of the city. The two boys, together with several other boys, had been hunting, and were returning to their homes in the city, when Bowen tripped, and in falling his gun was discharged, the entire load entering the leg of Hanford and causing an ugly and serious wound. His father was brought to the city soon after the accident, and taken to the Washington Hospital, where Drs. David T. and Joshua Taylor dressed the wound. His physicians fear that it will be necessary to amputate the wounded member.

Erecting New Depot. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Alexandria, Va., January 26.—The Southern Railway is erecting a $5,000 depot at this point to replace the one destroyed by fire last May. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by March 15.

FIGHT TO FINISH ON "NEAR-BEER"

Committee Reports Favorably Measure to Prohibit Sale in State.

HEARING ON KOONCE BILL

Devin Bill, in Regard to Divorce, Passes Second Reading.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., January 26.—There came back to the House of Representatives this morning from the liquor control committee with favorable reports, the Kent Statewide bill to prohibit near-beer in North Carolina, this, in spite of the fact that the committee only received a bill from the Judiciary Committee yesterday morning. Under the usual practice in the consideration of Statewide bills by committees, it would have been held at least for a few days, and a time set ahead for a hearing. But not so with this near-beer bill, "kill the stuff and kill it quick," is clearly the sentiment that actuated the committee, the members not even giving any friends the chance to be heard. The committee, with Representative Hofter as chairman, assembled in a corner of the Supreme Court building on Monday, and after the member in pronouncing approval of the bill over the lone, but strenuous protest of one member of the committee, Representative Kellum, New Hanover, who pleaded that he had been promised by the author of the bill to have a hearing on the bill, and that he had at least expected to be accorded time for his people in New Hanover, who did not want near-beer to be cut out of Wilmington, a chance to be heard. He contended for the exemption of New Hanover. Then he submitted a proposed amendment to the bill that would give Wilmington the right to vote on barrooms on the petition 33-1-3 per cent of the voters. He insisted that there are great numbers of people in Wilmington who are among the very best people and are opposed to prohibition, and want well regulated barrooms to relieve conditions that he insisted are now most objectionable.

Mr. Kellum's amendment had no standing with the committee, which heard spiritedly from C. C. Coyle, of Wilmington, and L. B. Rogers, of Wilmington, insisting that near-beer saloons would give Wilmington a chance to be heard. They reviewed the stirring experience through which the city has gone the past several months in efforts to enforce prohibition, and the fact that near-beer places afford perfect cover for the most flagrant "blind tigers." They charged collusion between these and the local police, as they heard Kellum told of changes he proposes to have in the Recorder's Court law that would include "recall" of the judge of Covington on demand of the people. This could not stay the tide against any concessions to Wilmington. The committee swept aside all of Mr. Kellum's appeals, and the favorable report for the Statewide bill with no strings to it.

Hearing on Koonce Bill. The committee on Propositions and Grievances of the House has given another lengthy hearing on the Koonce bill for a legislative commission to investigate the conduct of fire insurance companies in North Carolina, and still

HOW HAPPY THE WORD 'CUTICURA' SOUNDS TO ME

For It Cured My Baby of Itching, Torturing Eczema. First Came when Between 3 and 4 Weeks Old. Used Everything Imaginable. 2 Cakes Soap and One Box Ointment Cured.

"I can't tell in words how happy the word 'Cuticura' sounds to me, for it cured my baby of itching, torturing eczema. It first came when she was between three and four weeks old, appearing on her head, and I used everything imaginable and had one doctor's bill after another but nothing cured it. Then the eczema broke out to be behind her ear. I really thought her would come off. For months I doctored it but to no avail. Then it began on her neck and her eyes were swollen. My doctor said there was nothing but sores. I had to keep her in a dark room, and she was so miserable the doctor did no good, so I stopped him coming.

"For about two weeks I had used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and began to use that. In a week there was a marked improvement. In all I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and my baby was cured of the sores. This was last November, now her hair is growing out nicely and she has not a scar on her face. I don't praise Cuticura enough, I can take my child where and people are apt to see her without a sore. From the time she was four weeks old until she was three years, she was never without a terrible eruption but now, thanks to Cuticura, I have a well-born, healthy, happy child. BYRD NARROWLY ESCAPES INJURY Speaker Thrown From Buggy When Auto Frightens Horse.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Winchester, Va., January 26.—Speaker Richard E. Byrd, of the Virginia House of Delegates, was hurled with sudden and terrific force from a buggy on to the hard surface of the turnpike late this afternoon while driving to his home in Winchester from Berryville, Clark county, where he had been defending James Felton, on trial for shooting Hugh Curran. His escape from being fatally injured was little less than miraculous. An automobile dashing by at high speed frightened the horse in charge of the colored liverman, and Speaker Byrd and the driver were hurled out bodily, and cut, bruised and covered with mud from head to foot. Speaker Byrd got up as the driver recovered the horse, which had fallen along the roadside, and the trip to Winchester was made without further mishap. The same automobile frightened a horse driven by a general, who, after a desperate struggle, got the animal under control. The Board of Health of Winchester and Frederick county, in joint session to-day, ordered all children of school age to be vaccinated on account of the smallpox outbreak in the northern section of Frederick county. About a dozen cases have been reported, and several also from nearby sections of Berkeley county, W. Va. strict quarantine is being maintained. Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

FAIL TO FIND MAN WHO RAN OVER AND KILLED WOMAN [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Norfolk, Va., January 26.—In vain the police have been searching for the driver who last night recklessly ran over Miss J. Catherine Phillips, fracturing her skull, the injuries resulting in death in a few hours. Without stopping, it seems, the driver went on, and witnesses to the accident failed to recognize the turnout. There is no clue to the guilty party. It was an ordinary wagon drawn by a large gray horse, is the only description the police have.
