

STATE'S MINERAL DISPLAY OPENED

Captains of Industry Join in Tributes to Virginia's Resources.

BOOST FOR ROAD TO NORTHERN NECK

Senator Saunders Says With Railroad to Urbanna, Richmond Would Rival Baltimore—Exhibit Now Open to Public—Reception Given by Chamber.

Marking an epoch in the industrial development of the State, the Virginia Mineral, Timber and Historical Exhibit was yesterday formally turned over by the Jamestown Exposition Commission...

At the night meeting Governor Mann renewed his argument for the building of a line of railroad which will connect Richmond with the Northern Neck.

At the night meeting Governor Mann renewed his argument for the building of a line of railroad which will connect Richmond with the Northern Neck.

The general subject of railroads received attention not alone from W. W. Finley, president of the Southern, but from Governor Mann and Senator Saunders.

Half an hour was spent in the afternoon in the inspection of the mineral, timber and historical exhibit, installed in the new hall of exhibits in the state library building.

Mr. Schubert spoke next. He gave credit to the many agencies which have contributed to the fruition of his plan for the exhibit.

Dr. Watson said but a few words in appreciation of the exhibit. He commended the efforts of Governor Mann in the conclusion he turned the keys of the exhibit hall over to Dr. Thomas L. Watson, the State Geologist.

President Henry W. Wood, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the reception at night, which was held in the Jefferson Auditorium.

President Henry W. Wood, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the reception at night, which was held in the Jefferson Auditorium.

President Henry W. Wood, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the reception at night, which was held in the Jefferson Auditorium.

President Henry W. Wood, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the reception at night, which was held in the Jefferson Auditorium.

President Henry W. Wood, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the reception at night, which was held in the Jefferson Auditorium.

DIPLOMATS WILL BE GIVEN HOMES

Government to Come to Relief of Representatives Abroad.

TEN YEARS' EFFORT TO PASS MEASURE

Senate Is Expected to Ratify Action of House—Only Opposition Comes From Democratic Side, but Louden and Longworth Make Successful Fight.

Washington, February 7.—After a ten-year struggle, the House today passed a bill providing for the purchase and construction of American embassies, legations and consular buildings abroad.

Representative Louden, of Illinois, author of the bill, led the fight for it, seconded by Representative Longworth of Ohio.

The opposition to the measure came from the Democratic side, Representatives Cullop, of Indiana, and Underwood, of Alabama, making the principal fight.

Mr. Louden declared that every Secretary of State, from Olney down, had advised the adoption of such legislation.

Mr. Longworth continued: "With homes provided for our ambassadors and ministers abroad, we will be in a position to select for these offices men of learning, training and patriotism, and not be restricted to men fitted solely by their pocketbooks."

The bill limits the cost of buildings to $150,000.

Mr. Longworth continued: "With homes provided for our ambassadors and ministers abroad, we will be in a position to select for these offices men of learning, training and patriotism, and not be restricted to men fitted solely by their pocketbooks."

The bill limits the cost of buildings to $150,000.

Mr. Longworth continued: "With homes provided for our ambassadors and ministers abroad, we will be in a position to select for these offices men of learning, training and patriotism, and not be restricted to men fitted solely by their pocketbooks."

The bill limits the cost of buildings to $150,000.

Mr. Longworth continued: "With homes provided for our ambassadors and ministers abroad, we will be in a position to select for these offices men of learning, training and patriotism, and not be restricted to men fitted solely by their pocketbooks."

The bill limits the cost of buildings to $150,000.

Mr. Longworth continued: "With homes provided for our ambassadors and ministers abroad, we will be in a position to select for these offices men of learning, training and patriotism, and not be restricted to men fitted solely by their pocketbooks."

The bill limits the cost of buildings to $150,000.

LORD DECIES WEDS MISS VIVIEN GOULD

Brilliant Marriage Ceremony in St. Bartholomew's, New York.

SOCIETY ATTENDS IN FULL FORCE

Perfect Police Arrangements Prevent Rushing of Bridal Party—Cheers Greet Appearance of Bride at Church. Couple Will Spend Honey-moon in Egypt.

New York, February 7.—Helen V. Gould, second daughter of George J. Gould, head of one of the wealthiest and most prominent families in America, was married at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, in Madison Avenue, shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon to Lord Decies, an English army officer.

The church was packed with a brilliant assemblage representing the best of New York's social and professional life, together with a sprinkling of foreign nobility, relatives and friends of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop David H. Greer, of the Episcopal diocese of New York, and the Rev. Leighton Parks, D. D., rector of St. Bartholomew's.

George Gould gave his daughter away, and Miss Edith Gould, the bride's next oldest sister, was maid of honor.

Lord Alister Graham, R. N., a son of the Duke of Montrose, was best man.

The guests began to assemble more than an hour before the wedding.

At 3:15 Lord Decies arrived, nearly an hour before the bride's car stopped at the curb.

He was resplendent in his uniform of the Seventh Hussars, agitated with service medals and blue and gold braids.

Noticed by most of the crowd, he entered the church surrounded by a group of friends, and was congratulating no chances with cranks.

He was resplendent in his uniform of the Seventh Hussars, agitated with service medals and blue and gold braids.

Noticed by most of the crowd, he entered the church surrounded by a group of friends, and was congratulating no chances with cranks.

He was resplendent in his uniform of the Seventh Hussars, agitated with service medals and blue and gold braids.

Noticed by most of the crowd, he entered the church surrounded by a group of friends, and was congratulating no chances with cranks.

He was resplendent in his uniform of the Seventh Hussars, agitated with service medals and blue and gold braids.

PRINCIPALS IN INTERNATIONAL MARRIAGE

LORD DECIES. Miss VIVIEN GOULD

DEMOCRATS WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

Effort Will Be Made to End Deadlock Over Election of Senator.

INSURGENTS STILL FIRM

Will Leave Room if Attempt Is Started to Turn Meeting Into Caucus.

Albany, N. Y., February 7.—In a conference behind closed doors to-morrow morning, the Democratic members of the Legislature, regulars and insurgents, will endeavor to settle the deadlock over the election of a United States Senator, which eighteen joint ballots have failed to break.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

Senator Dix late to-day, after stating that he is pleased over the proposed conference, said he hoped and expected the conference to result satisfactorily to the people of the State and to the Democratic party.

LESS OPPOSITION THAN HE EXPECTED

Taft Satisfied With Progress Made by Reciprocity Agreement.

WELL RECEIVED BY PEOPLE

Important Change Probable in Paper and Wood Pulp Provisions.

Washington, D. C., February 7.—President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking forward to the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada.

AEROPLANE GETS FIRST REAL TEST

Carries Message From Fort to Troops Camped on Border.

TRIP COVERS 32 MILES

Amateur Aviator Makes Successful Flight Over Water.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

San Diego, Cal., February 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhl, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator, made a flight in an Antoinette monoplane early to-day.

NO BLOOD SHED IN FIRST BATTLE

Another Scene in Opera Bouffe on Mexican Border.

EL PASOANS VIEW "EXHIBITION"

Exchange of Missiles Lasts About 15 Minutes and Federals Retire, Orozco Remaining in Position He Held at Noon—Sightseers Enjoy Spectacle.

El Paso, Texas, February 7.—The first battle of Juarez, between Federal troops and insurgents, was exhibited to-day. "Exhibited" is the proper word, for no one was hurt on either side, and the "exhibition" was viewed by a thousand or more El Pasoans, who lined the bank of the Rio Grande on the American side, about three miles west of El Paso.

The exchange of missiles lasted about fifteen minutes, and about 200 shots were fired. According to Pascual Orozco, the leader of the insurgents, his men fired only fifty of these. He declared that the Federals got away so fast that they were out of range before more shots could be fired at them.

To-night the Federals are behind the walls of the Cathedral of Guadalupe, of the barracks and of the bull ring at Juarez. Across the river from here, Orozco remains in possession of the position which he occupied at noon, and held against the Federal advance.

Orozco's present force around Juarez numbers less than 600 men, probably 550. Of these, 320 were with him in the skirmish this afternoon. The Federal forces, by actual count, number 184, including 100 foot soldiers, and eighty-four mounted infantry. They took with them no artillery, and Orozco has none.

Orozco quit the ranch during the forenoon, and by moving through the deep brush, he sent the Federals everywhere he reached. In the hills along the river across from the El Paso smelter. Here the correspondents, who had been on his trail since daybreak, discovered him.

He and six of his lieutenants met the first light at Rancho Flores, a sparsely inhabited by a few horses and a herd of goats, which the rebels took.

Orozco quit the ranch during the forenoon, and by moving through the deep brush, he sent the Federals everywhere he reached. In the hills along the river across from the El Paso smelter. Here the correspondents, who had been on his trail since daybreak, discovered him.

He and six of his lieutenants met the first light at Rancho Flores, a sparsely inhabited by a few horses and a herd of goats, which the rebels took.

Orozco quit the ranch during the forenoon, and by moving through the deep brush, he sent the Federals everywhere he reached. In the hills along the river across from the El Paso smelter. Here the correspondents, who had been on his trail since daybreak, discovered him.

He and six of his lieutenants met the first light at Rancho Flores, a sparsely inhabited by a few horses and a herd of goats, which the rebels took.

Orozco quit the ranch during the forenoon, and by moving through the deep brush, he sent the Federals everywhere he reached. In the hills along the river across from the El Paso smelter. Here the correspondents, who had been on his trail since daybreak, discovered him.

He and six of his lieutenants met the first light at Rancho Flores, a sparsely inhabited by a few horses and a herd of goats, which the rebels took.

Orozco quit the ranch during the forenoon, and by moving through the deep brush, he sent the Federals everywhere he reached. In the hills along the river across from the El Paso smelter. Here the correspondents, who had been on his trail since daybreak, discovered him.

He and six of his lieutenants met the first light at Rancho Flores, a sparsely inhabited by a few horses and a herd of goats, which the rebels took.

MRS. M. W. SNEAD RELEASED

Nolle Prose Taken in Indictment for Alleged Murder.

Newark, N. J., February 7.—Judge Ten Eyck this morning, on motion of Prosecutor Mott, nolle prossed the indictment against Mrs. Mary W. Snead, who was recently sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in connection with the death of Oney Snead, who was killed by her husband on Thursday next.

The order was given to Mrs. Snead's son, Albert C. Snead, who went at once to the county jail to take his mother away. Mrs. Caroline B. Martin, who was recently sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in connection with the death of Oney Snead, will be taken to State prison on Thursday next. The third sister, Virginia Wardlaw, who was indicted with the two others, died before her case came to trial.

OUT OF RESPECT TO SOUTH

Rhode Island House Strikes Out "War of Rebellion."

Providence, R. I., February 7.—An objection to the words "War of the Rebellion," similar to one which was made recently by a Southern Congressman in the national House of Representatives, was put forward in the Rhode Island House to-day. An amendment to include marines with the militia soldiers and sailors of the "War of the Rebellion" as exempt from poll taxes, was under discussion when Representative W. A. Shawcross, Democrat, who seconded the motion, said he did so out of respect to the South.

CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

Senator Terrell Will Be Removed to Georgia for Rejuvenation.

Washington, D. C., February 7.—Senator Terrell of Georgia continues to show improvement since his attack of acute indigestion last Saturday, and his brother, Dr. H. W. Terrell, of La Grange, Ga., who arrived here to-day, expects to remove him to his home in Atlanta next week for rejuvenation. Dr. Terrell, after examining the Senator, said that he found he had a slight cerebral hemorrhage, following the attack of acute indigestion. This caused partial paralysis to the right side, which is rapidly disappearing.

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

(Continued on Seventh Page.)