

LIVED FIVE YEARS AS BENTON; REAL NAME IS CLARKE

Richmond Man Declared Sane Under Name He Cast Aside.

GETS PROPERTY WORTH $27,000.

President of Chemical Supply Company Escaped From Sanatorium in 1906, and Was Later Regarded as Dead. Friends Urged Him to Ask Aid of Court.

After he had lived here for five years under an assumed name, built up for himself a profitable business, B. R. Benton, president of the Chemical Supply Company, 124 Virginia Street, yesterday admitted that his real name was Ralph Clarke and that he had escaped from a private sanatorium in New York State, making his way from city to city, until he finally landed, penniless, in Richmond. Identification came because of the fact that an estate of $27,000, which was placed in the charge of a trust company at the time of his commitment to an asylum, has been restored to him, on proof of his sanity, and he expects to return to New York within the next few days to have his legal and property rights restored.

The principle involved in the case is of far-reaching importance, and it was stated by attorneys for the railroads that if the present rates were upset there would be a loss of revenue, the consequences of which would be serious.

Speaking of champions, one's mind quite naturally turns to pugilists, boxers and other sportsmen, but there is another kind of champion—a Welsh rabbit champion—think of it! His name is Desher Welsh. No, he doesn't get his title from his ability to consume vast quantities of his high-maltish chowchow, which is his mainstay. Rather, he claims it because he is the first one of his kind—steps to the fore and defends this most maligned of all midnight mixtures. Read his defense in the Sunday Illustrated Magazine of to-morrow's Times-Dispatch. Then, eat a Welsh rabbit. Maybe you'll agree with Welsh, and maybe "Welsh" will agree with you.

SESSION INDEFINITE

House Will Sit Long Enough to Defeat Insurgency. Nashville, Tenn., April 14.—At a caucus of the so-called regular Democrats of the House, attended also by Speaker Leach and Representative Swain this afternoon, the following resolution defining the attitude of the regulars toward the present filibuster in the Tennessee House was adopted: "Whereas, thirty-four members of the House of Representatives have left the State and definitely assert that they have done so in order to prevent the regulars from defeating the present filibuster in the Tennessee House; and whereas, we have taken our stand upon the election law after due deliberation and earnest consideration of the public welfare, and are confident of the correctness of our position; and whereas, we know that to permit a minority to thus thwart the will of the majority would tend to destroy the foundation of our free institutions, to breed a just contempt among the people for our government, and to disrupt the State; therefore, we resolved, that it is the unanimous sense of this meeting that we will meet the revolutionary move with the force necessary to destroy it, and that we will continue in attendance and continue the regular session of the fifty-seventh General Assembly until the members return, and so long thereafter as may be necessary to dispose of all matters before the Assembly, and all business demanding legislative attention, regardless of how long that may be."

NOW THE WAR CENTRE

Hardest Fighting of Revolution Expected at Agua Prieta. Agua Prieta, Mexico, April 14.—Via Douglas, Arizona, April 14.—In full possession of 600 armed rebels to-night, Agua Prieta is to be made the headquarters of rebel operations in Sonora. It is openly said by the rebel commanders that they expect to establish here a provisional government for Sonora, and that the insurgents' officers are now in Douglas waiting for the word to cross the line.

Border Battles Must Be Stopped, Taft's Warning

Will Not Permit Repetition of Douglas Affair. GIVES MEXICANS HIS ULTIMATUM President Feels That Sending of Troops to Boundary Line Has Been Justified—Agua Prieta May Be Scene of More Desperate Fighting. Strategic Point. Peace Mission Is Abandoned. Eagle Pass, April 14.—Owing to Minister Limantour's inability to control conflicting authorities, Francisco Madero, Sr., tonight announced that he had abandoned his mission of peace. He made this statement after having been held two hours in his private car at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz on the Mexican border, and one member of the party had been rescued from arrest only by strenuous effort. Washington, April 14.—President Taft is determined that battles between Mexican federalists and insurgents shall not be fought on American soil. He is equally determined that the lives of American non-combatants shall not be endangered by the forces of President Diaz and those of General Madero. Future combats between the rebels and the forces of the Mexican government must not be fought so close to the American line as to put in jeopardy the lives and property of Americans. Through the State Department the President to-night notified the Mexican government that it must see to it in the future that no such unfortunate incidents as that of yesterday at Agua Prieta, near Douglas, Ariz., when two Americans were killed and eleven wounded, be allowed to occur. Through the War Department and through the Department of Justice, the President sent the same sort of warning to the leader of the insurgents at Agua Prieta. The view was expressed at the time that the Mexican government should be warned that these warnings would be obeyed to the letter, and that no more such incidents would be fought in the vicinity of the boundary. Must Not Be Repeated. Neither the President nor any of his advisers, whom he called into consultation to-night, was inclined to regard the incident at Agua Prieta as a harbinger of anything more serious, but they did conclude that it must not be repeated. President Taft feels now that his order sending the troops to Douglas had entirely been justified by the developments of the last few days. He is more certain than ever that conditions there are alarming. He is hoping that there will be no need for any further movement to the South, but if there should be he knows that 600 American troops are near the Rio Grande and that on that river and the Mexican border, there is already a force that is not insignificant. The President's action to-night followed a conference with Attorney-General Wickham, Secretary of State William Wilson, and Acting Secretary of State Charles D. Wilson. Following the conference, the White House gave out a copy of a telegram sent by the President, through Secretary Hill, to E. P. Grindall, of the Douglas Chamber of Commerce and "Lines. Mr. Grindall was reported to the President by wire the casualty at Agua Prieta, and asked, "Is there no way by which Americans can be protected in the peaceful pursuit of their affairs?" "Keep Away From Fighting." In reply Mr. Hill's wire said as follows: "E. P. Grindall, secretary: "Your telegram to the President regarding the incident at Agua Prieta, and the situation as you have described it, has directed the Secretary of State, and the Secretary of War to take steps by which such a deplorable occurrence should be avoided in the future. In the meantime, the President sincerely hopes that the Chamber of Commerce and the local authorities of Douglas may use all influence possible upon your citizens to keep as far away as possible from the scene of the fighting, and to avoid taking sides in order not to aggravate a situation already acute. The President's instructions were transmitted by the War Department to-day to the commanding officer of the Department of Colorado, who is making his headquarters at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. To-morrow, these instructions will be reported to General Duncan, commanding the Department of Texas, and General Bliss, commanding the Department of California.
