OXFORD COLLEGE CLOSES. Interesting Features in Connection With Commencement Exercises.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Oxford, N. C., May 23.—The baccalaureate sermon for the class of 1911 Oxford College, was preached on Sunday by Rev. J. H. Foster, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wilmington, N. C.

The sermon before the Y. W. C. A. was preached in the evening by Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of Salem.

The class exercises were held in the college chapel on Monday at 11 A. M. The program was as follows:

Hymn, "Coronation"; prayer, Rev. F. S. Hamberger; readings, Miss Eunice Tyler, "In History," Miss Lela Hadley, "Valse (Godard)," Miss Eva Venters, "Osee Long, Fox Hoster, Janie Hunt; prophecy, Miss Lina Banks Norris; will, Miss Nora Estelle Dixon, "Deuxieme Mazurka," (Godard), Miss Nettie Dan, "In History," Miss Pearl Ray; president's report; awarding of certificates and diplomas; address by President Hobgood; "Danse des Bayaderes" (Rubinstein), Misses Fannie Buchanan, Ruth Sears, Ethel Hancock, Pauline Cobb.

A portrait of Mary Allen Lucy, the girl of the class of 1911, was presented by General B. S. Royster, and received by President Hobgood.

President Hobgood, in his closing remarks, stated the reasons for the change in name of seminary to college, and spoke of the entire record of study leading to the A. B. degree.

The class roll is as follows: Lela Hadley, B. A.; Pearl Thurston Ray, B. A.; Eunice Tyler Watson, B. A.; Nora Estelle Dixon, B. L.; Lina Banks Norris, L. L.; Blanche Royal, graduate in piano; Elizabeth Cobb, graduate in art; Lucy Lee Snyder, graduate in art.

The art reception took place on Monday afternoon, and was attended by a large number of visitors.

The work of the public exhibited in the studio, and of the two graduates in art, shown in the parlors of the school, was most creditable, and caused much favorable comment. As no "copying" is permitted in the art department, all the work exhibited was done by the students.

In addition to these was an interesting exhibit of the work done by the pupils of the Prang Normal class.

On Monday afternoon a large audience assembled to hear the annual concert.

The ensemble of both for piano and for voice, including the choruses, was very brilliant and effective.

BROWN AS BULLISH AS EVER Well Known Leader Daily Visitor on New Orleans Cotton Exchange.

New Orleans, La., May 23.—W. P. Brown, the well known bull leader in cotton, one of the first to predict 16 cents for the summer months of this season, on June 1, is a daily visitor on the Cotton Exchange, and the gossip of the floor is that he has an active interest in the market. He seems to have almost completely recovered from his recent illness, which was the cause of his return to his hot here on New York, where during the winter he was engaged in fully as important in the cotton market there.

From his utterances since he left his sickbed, Mr. Brown has not changed his attitude toward cotton. He is as bullish as ever. To-day he said: "Back in harness again, and well once more, I cannot see anything but a bright future for the old crop of cotton. There is nothing but famine ahead. The work of the public exhibited in the studio, and of the two graduates in art, shown in the parlors of the school, was most creditable, and caused much favorable comment. As no "copying" is permitted in the art department, all the work exhibited was done by the students.

ton itself. I do not want to say how high the old crop is going. In fact I don't want to say anything about prices. Away back at the first of the season we on record regarding my views on cotton, and present my views for July prove that I was correct.

Regarding the new crop, Mr. Brown is extremely conservative. He said: "It is altogether too early in the season to say much about the new crop. There is only one thing about the new crop that we really know, and that is after such a famine condition as we have been facing for the last year or two the world needs a huge crop. We don't know whether that huge crop is to be raised or not."

MARBLE TABLET UNVEILED.

Marble Site of Fort Johnson, First Fort in Province of North Carolina.

Wilmington, N. C., May 23.—Interesting ceremonies, including an address by Professor J. G. DeRoulhac Hamilton, of the chair of history at the University of North Carolina, to-day featured the unveiling of a handsome white marble tablet, set in a mass of coquina, which formed part of the original fortification marking the site of the first fort in the province of North Carolina, named in honor of Governor Gabriel Johnston, and which was the refuge of Governor Josiah Martin after his flight from Newbern, N. C., in 1775, until it was destroyed by Revolutionary patriots in 1775, thus ending royal government in North Carolina. The exercises were under the auspices of the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames, who, with their friends, went for an all-day pilgrimage to the spot. Music was furnished by the Post Artillery Band of Fort Caswell, N. C.

MUCH COOLER IN NORTH

Weather Bureau Expects Hot Wave to Drop Out of Lincolnton, N. C.

Washington, May 23.—Spurred by a welcome breeze that made the temperature at Philadelphia drop from 94 to 85 to-day, the Weather Bureau today figured that the hot wave about to descend upon the Philadelphia northward, through New York and New England, is much cooler. It is cooler in the Lake region, and the Northwest and in other sections, but Washington is off first honors in the East, with 94 as the day's official record; Philadelphia and Scranton trailing closely, with 94 each, and Baltimore, 90. Down in Arizona, both Yuma and Phoenix recorded 95.

An easterly wind is expected to lower the temperature in this section of the country tomorrow. In this city, both houses of Congress were in session to-day. The records for both intensity of the heat and the duration of the heated period, especially from the Mississippi Valley eastward, probably have not been exceeded in May during the past forty years.

Days' Record in Baltimore. Baltimore, Md., May 23.—In consequence of the hot weather here to-day, with an official maximum temperature of 90 degrees, the elementary schools were closed at noon, two men were made insane, one of whom committed suicide; there were several strangulations, and two persons were bitten by mad dogs. It has been the longest May hot spell in Baltimore for forty years.

Sudden Drop in Temperature. Philadelphia, Pa., May 23.—After reaching 94 degrees, a new heat record for the year, the mercury was sent rapidly down by a cool breeze from the Northeast and fell 24 degrees between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. To-night the temperature is below 70 degrees.

Four more deaths from the heat were reported at the coroner's office to-day.

Black Handers Use Dynamite When Crookers Fail to Pay. Pittsburgh, May 23.—A dynamite explosion, charged to members of the Black Hand Society, destroyed the grocery store and meat shop of Baltimore and Orazio Maria, brothers, of 461 Lorigan Avenue, early to-day, and 121 persons narrowly escaped death. The two men and their families, consisting each of a wife and four children, were blown from their beds, but escaped serious injury. The bodies of Charles Rudnata were arrested on suspicion of knowing something of the explosion.

The two brothers recently received two Black Hand letters demanding that an agent of the society be given $2,000 or their home would be dynamited and their families killed.

PRESIDENT WILL HAVE OPPOSITION

Regulars Prepared for Any Alliance to Defeat His Renomination.

Washington, May 23.—One of the interesting subjects being discussed in Washington just now, when public men meet in hotel lobbies and elsewhere, is whether or not Mr. Taft will receive another nomination, and there is much to be said on both sides of the question.

It is determined to contribute what they can to prevent the President's getting the nomination, the old Regulars are prepared for any alliance that may present. Their manoeuvres of late have justified the conclusion that three distinct factions will be on hand at the national convention next year. One will be supporting Taft; another will be supporting La Follette; the third, representing the former House oligarchy and its affiliations, will be supporting Vice-President Sherman or his political equivalent.

It may seem at this time a dangerous hazard, but the course of politics is right now suggesting that so strange a thing may happen as an alliance of the Progressives and the Committee, to nominate some Progressive in place of President Taft. The sentiment of the old Regulars is deep-seated and unflinching in its antagonism to the President. It is based on the administration's failure to stand firm on its original agreement to take the patronage away from the Insurgents.

About that agreement, there is coming to light some interesting history. Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich were the men who, in behalf of the regular organizations in both houses, induced the President to agree on including in the platform a resolution disciplining the Progressives by taking away from them their patronage prerogative. The administration and the Regulars were to make common cause in the extirpation of Insurgents.

But a firm stand determined course would effect the early eradication of the progressive virus from the party system.

After the primary contests were over last fall, the famous Norton patronage letter was issued. The Regulars thought that it was a political move, a formal confession of the whole plan to try to discipline the Progressives by taking away their patronage.

Two-thirds of the country didn't believe any such pact had been entered upon, until the administration admitted it.

Second, the Regulars were incensed that the President should not stand by the arrangement. They complained that they did not even have notice that the Norton letter was to be issued.

When the proposition was made by the Aldrich-Cannon people to the President, Mr. Hitchcock protested that it was bad politics, and in his opinion would do more harm than good. He was overruled by the majority.

Bound by the agreement in his chief, the Postmaster-General loyally administered the terms of the understanding so far as concerned his department, and in time came to bear the brunt of the obloquy that was produced by it.

It is only recently that the Insurgents themselves have come to understand what his real attitude was. Who knows what will happen?

DEVELOPMENT PLANS NOT YET MADE PUBLIC

Stock of Dominion Powder Company, to Amount of $750,000, Made Public. Names of Officers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) East Radford, Va., May 23.—The most important transaction in the development of the Dominion Power Company yet put through was consummated to-day, when $750,000 of stock was issued of the $1,000,000 authorized capital, and all the properties, options and deeds of Dr. J. J. Mott were transferred to the company. Dr. Mott remains president and Henry K. McHarg, Jr., was made vice-president. It is understood that the "Big Four" of the company are ex-Senator Carter of Montana; ex-Senator Marion Butler, H. K. McHarg, Jr., and a fourth whose name is not yet revealed, but a well-known capitalist. At the meeting here to-day were former Senator Butler, Dr. Mott, Captain Mott, R. A. Schott, chief engineer; J. Edgar Walters, secretary; R. L. Jordan, of counsel; S. B. Thomas, a lawyer of Hinton, W. Va., and J. C. Wysor, of Pulaski.

Senator Carter was said to be in New York on company's business. Development plans were not made public. C. A. Hecksher, John W. Logan and Thomas D. Wood, of Philadelphia, arrived here to-day in a touring car, and are quartered at the West End Hotel. They are representatives of Richd. A. Hecksher & Sons Company and Allen Wood Iron and Steel Company of Philadelphia, and under the guidance of E. E. Vaughan, superintendent of mines of the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company, have been inspecting the company's concentrating plant and ore mines.

Mr. Vaughan recently went to Texas to inspect some very large ore properties for these men. It is said to be their purpose to mine their own ores instead of buying their iron in the open market as heretofore.

LEAVES MOTHER CHURCH

Action of Congregation of Christian Scientists in Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 23.—A. E. Smith, C. S. D., of the Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, here to-day gave to the Associated Press a copy of a resolution adopted at a meeting of the church members, when, by a vote of 93 to 35, the members decided to withdraw from the Mother Church at Boston.

The reason given in the resolution are that "since the death of M. E. D. the Christian Science board of directors has absolute authority to control the teaching, and that the board, condemned Christian Science as taught by Abbott Smith, who was a personal student of Eddy."

The congregation therefore decided itself severed from the Mother Church, and that its articles be amended so as to become a Christian Science Religious Church. The statement also announces that similar action was taken by the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, of Duluth, with only one dissenting vote.
