

HEAT OVERCOMES TROOPSON MARCH

Over 350 Prostrated in Hike From Galveston to Houston.

Galveston, June 2.—In the 100-mile hike—fifty miles from Galveston to Houston and back again to Galveston—300 soldiers of the First Independent Brigade, under command of Brigadier-General Miller, suffered heat prostration before the end of the fifty miles was reached. Several hundred were barely able to walk because of sore feet resulting from the macadamized roads, and officers were cursed and hissed as they rode past the men in the column of 4,000, while cries and demands for water were plentiful.

With throats burning for water and the temperature averaging 90, the men fell from the straggling column unconsciously by the roadside. Ambulance and supply wagons were filled with the sick, and private wagons were pressed into ambulance service.

Some who recovered late last night from the heat stroke said the road swam and wavered before their eyes for an hour before they fell. The limestone dust filled the parched throats and nostrils of the men, and their canteens, emptied only in the day, were not refilled for several hours.

With half the column breaking ranks the troops invaded private premises in small towns and farms and drained the wells and cisterns of water.

The War Department has been petitioned to bring the brigade back to Galveston by train.

ANCIENT BONDS FOUND

Skull of Long Extinct Animal Dug Up

Newburg, N. Y., June 2.—Bones, believed to be those of an animal of the prehistoric age, possibly a mastodon, although scarcely large enough to be of that class, were found about seven feet below the surface of the earth in excavating for a new building on some lands recently purchased by James Dickey, of Brooklyn. The portions found constitute skull and jaw bones, although a search will be made for other portions.

It is known that the ground in that section has not been touched for a century at least, as the house was situated on what is known as the Globe tract, a gift made by Queen Anne at the time the town was settled. Moreover, the house was one of the oldest in the city being situated within 100 feet of the original cemetery of the town.

SAND ARTISTS ALL SHAMS.

Atlantic City's Famous Beach "Art" Merely Costs With a Veneer

Atlantic City, N. J., June 2.—Atlantic City's famous sand artists are all fakirs. This came to light when street sweepers, carrying out the order of Mayor Stoy to clean up the beach, uncovered tons of steel framework and cement castings in demolishing the "art" galleries of "beach art." Gullible visitors, who marveled at the graceful lines and perfect poses of the figures, believed them to be entirely composed of wet sand, and showered the youthful artists with coins, were dumfounded when they discovered that the sand was merely a veneer for the casts.

Broad sheets spread before the "artists" to catch the showers of gold bore the inscriptions: "I do this to pay my way through art school." Kind-hearted visitors, who wished to encourage the young artists, were always caught. It was learned to-day that the "young artists" were merely deceivers who took so much a day by unscrupulous means, who did the work early in the morning and then instructed the decoys to take deft touches during the day to catch the spectators.

One was found to be a veritable magnate. He had four "galleries." He paid salaries aggregating $100 weekly and was making money for himself hereafter the models must be entirely of sand.

HEAT RECORDS SMASHED

At Pittsburg, Kansas, Mercury Mounts to 105 Mark.

Kansas City, Mo., June 2.—Heat records for the year were broken throughout the Southwest today. The highest temperature was reached at Pittsburg, Kan., where it was 105. Locally, the mercury climbed to 98 degrees. Other high marks were Joplin and Topeka, 97; Oklahoma City, 95; Omaha, 93.

There were several prostrations, but no fatalities, during the day. A strong south wind, which swept over Texas, accompanied the hot wave.

ENDEARING NAMES; STORY OF MAIDS

New York, June 2.—Emma Byfield and Alice Butler, formerly employes in the home of Mrs. Margaret Johnson Brown Johns, the Kentucky woman who is suing the estate of Robert Hoe for $250,000, have made damaging affidavits against her for use at the trial.

The two women served as maids to Mrs. Johns when, as they swear, she and Mr. Hoe occupied the same house. The affidavits were taken before a commissioner in London by the executors of the Hoe estate, and were filed yesterday in the New York Supreme Court. Both of the witnesses stated that they testified only in the interest of the truth.

Gray-Haired Man of Seventy.

Emma Byfield described Mr. Hoe as a gray-haired man of seventy years, with gray side whiskers, smooth-shaven chin, gray mustache and a bald spot on the top of his head. Alice Butler said that he was "a gentleman."

Miss Byfield explained that it was her daily duty as housemaid to care for the rooms that Mr. Hoe and the former Mrs. Brown occupied at 38 Brunswick Square, London.

"I saw Mr. Hoe kiss Mrs. Brown in the hall. I have seen him embrace her and call her 'Margaret, dear,' and 'my love,'" the witness said. "She used to call him 'Robert, love,' and 'Robert, dear.' They usually ate together and were together always."

When Mrs. Brown, the witnesses testified, were only separated one week after Mr. Brown came to New York. This was the week that Mrs. Brown visited Paris.

Ill But Ten Days.

The last time that Mr. Hoe came back from New York, Miss Byfield continued, "he was not looking well. He was worried. He seemed to gradually get worse. He took to his bed September 10, 1909, and died ten days later. Mrs. Brown had a cot moved into his room and slept at the foot of his bed."

"State whether Mrs. Brown and Harry Dean (a young man) were alone together in the bedroom of Robert Hoe on the morning following his death?"

"Yes. They were together alone in the room with the door shut," the witness replied. She said that soon after Hoe's death a basket full of papers had been taken from his room and burned. Miss Butler stated that whenever Claudia, the child of Mrs. Brown, was

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Weldon, N. C., June 2.—Narcissa Daniel, the eleven-year-old daughter of W. E. Daniel, was bitten by a dog this afternoon, and while the wound is slight, as a matter of precaution, Mr. Daniel had the dog's head shipped to Raleigh to-night for examination for any trace of rabies. The dog also bit two negro children slightly before it was killed.

LABOR LEADERS PLAN BLOW

May Sue Officials and Manufacturers, Charging False Imprisonment.
San Francisco, June 2.—Clarence S. Darrow, counsel for James and John J. McNamara, accused of murder in connection with the dynamiting of the local labor leaders here yesterday, will sue which, it was announced, will be started against Los Angeles city officials, and charges of conspiracy and false imprisonment of men arrested for picketing.

Directors of various manufacturing plants, it was announced, also will be made party to the suits, which are to be for $25,000 damages in each case and may amount to about $1,000,000.

Darrow expects to leave for Chicago and Indianapolis to-day to perfect his knowledge of the case.

Louisville, Ky., June 2.—James Lee, a negro, to-day ran amuck, seriously stabbing three negroes, knocking two others down and stabbing Policeman James Hourigan probably fatally. Lee was shot four times and killed by the wounded policeman.

Other negroes, aroused by Lee's assaults, became half-crazed and started a small riot in which stones and bricks were hurled, and many fist fights occurred. Two riot calls resulted.

Bill Before House.

Washington, June 2.—The bill to revise the old schedule as reported to and approved by the Democratic caucus, was introduced in the House to-day by Mr. Underwood and referred to the Ways and Means Committee. It is expected it will be reported when the House meets next Tuesday with the favorable recommendation of that committee.

Part of Rebels Plot.

Managua, Nicaragua, June 2.—The explosion in the fortress of LaLoma Wednesday afternoon which resulted in the killing or wounding of a large number of soldiers, was part of a contemplated revolutionary invasion of Nicaragua, according to the statements of officials here.

These officials say that the steamer Eureka, which cleared from San Francisco, May 13, was fitted with munitions of war destined for the revolutionists. It is reported that the Eureka anchored Thursday at the island of Manguesa, in the Gulf of Fonseca.

The government is fully prepared for any move the revolutionists may make.

Like Milk From Switzerland As Thick as Cream

Here is Holstein milk, from our best dairy districts, which Swiss and Dutch experts taught us how to evaporate. America's perfect milk.

We want you to know about a milk which comes from high-bred cows, fed in our best dairying districts.

The milk fresh from the cow is put into a vacuum. There, at a low heat, we evaporate two-thirds of the water.

It comes from the vacuum as thick as thick cream—23 per cent solids, 8 per cent butter fat.

It comes to you fresher than milkman's milk. You can buy, if you wish, a month's supply at a time.

It gives you whole, rich milk of the highest grade—milk free from germs—for less than the milkman charges.

Costs Us $100,000

To produce this milk as they produce it abroad we brought to our plants famous Dutch and Swiss experts. To perfect it has cost us, in the past seven years, about $100,000.

But we now have a milk which is sterilized without scorching—an utterly germless milk. We have a milk which won't separate.

You can now have daily, for every purpose, as fine a milk as any home in any country gets.

Like Using Cream

Milk dishes made with Van Camp's Milk taste as though made with cream.

You get here the richness of the whole milk, just as it comes from the cow. You get all the butter fat, all of the solids. And you never get that from milkman's milk after it stands awhile.

You'll be amazed at the difference. The very first milk dish you make with Van Remarkable Christmas Present.

Among the curious Christmas presents of this year will be one for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making. It is a book.

Way last January the present was decided upon, and a friend of the prominent gentleman requested the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau, of New York, to watch every paper in America and to take up every item which appeared concerning the man.

The clipping bureau people followed instructions, and now present the his' story of one year in the life of this exceptional man.

The history ends just after election, and include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. These have been mounted on 3,500 great sheets of Irish linen paper and bound into three massive volumes.

At the head of each item is the name and date of a paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,852.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept its employment during that time thirty people, as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Bureau, for the extent to which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.

There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man Burrelle, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burrelle, New York," will reach him with no delay.

A Million Users

We are milking 30,000 cows per day to supply folks who want this milk. Our evaporating plants are now built in six states—each in a rich dairying section. A million people, as a result, enjoy this delicious milk.

Instead of buying milk from day to day, many of them buy a month's supply at a time. It is like having a cow in the pantry.

Instead of milk that is laden with germs they are getting a germless milk. Instead of a half-milk they are getting a whole milk. Instead of milk from mongrel cows they are getting Holstein milk.

Yet this milk costs less than milkman's milk, because of the saving in cost of delivery. When this milk is reduced to the usual milk's richness, the cost will figure about six cents per quart.

You are drinking pure milk when you drink it. In milkman's milk a myriad germs lurk in every drop.

This milk, of course, costs us much more than your milkman pays for his. But we save the cost of the milkman's daily delivery, which costs more than the milk. That's why we can give you such milk as this at less than the milkman's price.

Like No Other Milk

Van Camp's is not like condensed milk, which is nearly half sugar. It is not like ordinary evaporated milk. Yet it costs just the same as the ordinary.

Never before has such milk as Van Camp's been produced on this side the Atlantic. It is worth your while to find this put when a single can will prove it.

Death put an end to his efforts to get a pardon. The Appellate case attracted much attention in the New Jersey courts in 1898, when the young lawyer was sentenced to fifteen years for forgery.

Applegate was charged with forging the name of County Clerk Gummere to a mortgage of $2,000 on property which did not exist.

Applegate had not been out of prison more than two years when he was again arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was brought back to the Trenton prison and then started in to complete his original term. The Rev. D. H. King, D. D., of Vineland, charged that he had swindled him out of $2,000.

Applegate is said to have bought the Seymour House at Vineland, giving $100 cash. He then obtained a loan of $2,000 on a bogus deed to the property, with the aid of a woman who said she was the former owner of the house. Dr. McKenzie, of the State Hospital, made an examination of Applegate in 1902 and recommended his release, saying that he was suffering from a disease that would probably cause his death in a few months.

PROSECUTION DROPS THE CASE AGAINST HOFFSTOT
Pittsburg, June 2.—The further prosecution of the counselman graft cases was abandoned formally to-day when James R. Frazer, John D. Shafer and John C. Hays, noble prosquit of all the remaining indictments, sixty-two in number, except those against Max G. Leslie, county delinquent tax collector, and William Brand, former president of the common council. The latter is serving a term in the Western penitentiary.

The court granted the nolle prosequi on application of District Attorney W. A. Blakeley, who said the Commonwealth's case had been weakened by the death of two important witnesses, Otis Hamilton and Charles C. Fitzhimmings, and also that sentiment in the community had veered around as to the graft prosecution.

MOTH PEST REAPPEARS.
Jamaica Boy's Collection Leads to Discovery of Brown-Tail Moths.
Albany, June 2.—Among a collection of butterflies kept by a boy in Jamaica, L. I., an amateur entomologist has discovered two brown-tail moths. They were immediately taken to the State Agricultural Department, and experts sent from the department found a colony of the moths in the boy's locality.

The discovery of the pest is puzzling to R. A. Pearson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, who believes that every avenue to their propagation had been closed. Steps were at once taken to exterminate the moths and to prevent them from obtaining a foothold.

In the last few years the brown-tail moth, which is one of the most destructive of pests, has caused much damage in Massachusetts, where millions have been appropriated to fight the insect. New York State thus far has escaped its ravages, and the authorities have been vigilant in keeping the moth out of the State.
