

that it has been agreed not to accept bond in her case, even if offered, because of the great importance of her testimony.

Detective Scherer, in charge of the case, stated emphatically last night that this stand was not taken because any of the officers believed she was an accessory. He said from her fuller statement he was now convinced that she was not implicated in any way.

Gregory on Scene Again. Commonwealth's Attorney J. M. Gregory is active in preparing the case. With county officers he visited the scene of the killing yesterday and took accurate measurements and made drawings of the location of the blood spots and its surroundings including posts, trees, stumps, fences and other objects that may be mentioned in the testimony.

Judge Gregory said he did not think there was any ground for the rumor that Judge Walter A. Watson, of the Chesterfield Circuit Court, would not sit in the trial of the case. Judge Watson is now holding court in Powhatan county, but will return to his home, near Forest Hill, in a few days. Already the Commonwealth is canvassing the possibilities of securing a jury in Chesterfield county. There are probably few intelligent men in the county who have not read the newspapers and expressed some opinion bearing on the case, and a venire from some other section of the State may be ordered, though the interest in the case has been almost as intense in every other section of Virginia.

New Detective Arrives. Mr. Scherer said last night that the day had produced strong evidence bearing both on the actual killing and the motive for the crime, but that he was not in a position to make it public until the trial. He was much amused yesterday at a visit from the young man purporting to be a newspaper man, who refused to say what paper he represents, and who asked many questions as to measurements and the character of testimony. The Commonwealth expects the new man from Mr. Scherer he got little information, as the detective believes him to be a representative of special detectives known to be working here in the interests of the Beattie family. No one of the army of newspaper people from all parts of the country now in Richmond could identify Mr. Scherer's visitor as the representative of any paper or news agency. It has been known to the detectives for several days that special officers have been working here along independent lines seeking evidence that will clear young Henry Beattie by upsetting the Commonwealth's case and placing the blame elsewhere. Mr. Scherer expected the new man to be in his case, saying that he will stake his reputation both that his theory of the murder and his array of evidence will stand the test of the courts.

Around the Jail. Henry Beattie was visited yesterday at the Henrico jail by his brother, Douglas Beattie, who brought magazines and newspapers. He declined to see other visitors, under advice of his attorney. Jail officials are much amused over the amount and character of mail being received by Beulah Binford. Officers of marriage and of a lucrative business in the city have come, but neither the intended husbands nor the would-be stage managers have come forward with the necessary $1,000 with which to secure her release from jail. Some comment was occasioned at the jail yesterday when Mr. Wendenburg arrived with a man and two women to see Beulah Binford, evidently in an effort to identify her.

While the attorney made no statement, it is believed that the two women were members of a motor car party which had passed the Beattie case some time ago. Mr. Wendenburg, the girl, they were of the opinion that it was not Beulah who was then his companion. In other words, she is not the only young woman with whom Henry Beattie has been "joy riding" while his wife was at home caring for their five-year-old baby.

Has New Witness. Attorney Wendenburg admitted yesterday that he had a new witness whose testimony was material, but declined to give the name, saying that the defense knew too much already of the case being prepared by the Commonwealth, and that newly discovered evidence would be held for the jury. The new witness is believed to be a Chesterfield citizen living not far from the scene of the crime, who testifies to having heard Mrs. Beattie scream for help before the gun was fired. He hastened to the scene, but the motor car had gone, and he did not know of the tragedy until the next morning. He contradicts Beattie's testimony that after the shooting he called for help and sounded his horn before starting help for the body of his wife. The witness heard the motor car help before the shot—not after.

A MOTHER'S DUTY
It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

"The Agadir incident demonstrates that Emperor William's efforts to obtain better relations with Great Britain were pure hypocrisy. The real aim was to separate England and France."
Favorably Received.
Berlin, July 28.—Premier Asquith's declaration is generally favorably received here, and it is believed in most quarters that it will immediately relieve the tension in the Moroccan question. All the newspapers publish Mr. Asquith's statement verbatim on the principal page. The Liberal papers unanimously acclaim the Premier's speech as one tending towards peace.

RIOTING MUST END, DECLARES MAYOR
Chicago, Ill., July 27.—"Rioting in the city must stop if the police have to fill the stations three deep with prisoners," said Mayor Harrison today. "While I am sorry for the peddlers, who are tormented by the new ordinance from shouting their wares on the streets, a majority of the citizens are opposed to the noise."
Following the injury of four policemen in previous battles with the peddlers, the police were ordered to use their revolvers whenever they deemed it necessary to preserve peace.
Outside the municipal court-room, where daily striking peddlers, arrested for rioting, were called for hearing, a crowd of men gathered and jeered at the police. One hundred men and women attacked a peddler within two blocks of the police station, cut the harness from the horse, overturned the wagon and assaulted the driver. One arrest was made. The police responded to a dozen riot calls.

Will Maintain Lower Rate.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, D. C., July 27.—Permission to-day was granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission to manufacturers of cotton sheets and pillow cases at Durham, N. C., to establish and maintain a lower rate on these articles from Durham to Franklin, Lynchburg, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Richmond and Suffolk, Va. The rate will be 3 cents per 100 pounds higher than the present rate on cotton fabrics in the original piece from and to the points named.

TOBACCO TRUST TO BE RE-CREATED
Action Will Be in Harmony With Decision of United States Supreme Court.
New York, July 27.—Steps toward re-creating the American Tobacco Company, out of the elements now composing it, in harmony with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, were taken to-day when announcement was made of the formation of protective committees by holders of the 6 per cent. bonds, the 4 per cent. bonds and the preferred stock. The chairman of the 6 per cent. bondholders' committee is Alexander J. Hemphill, president of the Guaranty Trust Company.
His associates include Albert J. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank, and T. DeWitt Cuyler, of Philadelphia.
The committee's notice refers to the desire of the American Tobacco Company to comply with the order of the Supreme Court, and urges united action on the part of the bondholders.
Similar representations are made by the committee for the 4 per cent. bonds, of which Charles H. Sebin, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company, is chairman, and the preferred stockholders' committee, of which J. N. Wallace, president of the Central Trust Company, is chairman.
The three committees join in requesting that certificates of bonds and stocks be deposited not later than August 28 next.
Lawyers representing the committees to-day expressed the opinion that harmony on the part of the security holders will accelerate the dissolution and reorganization of the tobacco company in the manner prescribed by the United States Supreme Court.
It is understood that the protective committees were not formed until assurances were received that their efforts would not interfere with the holders' will accelerate the dissolution and reorganization of the tobacco company in the manner prescribed by the United States Supreme Court.
His associates include Albert J. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank, and T. DeWitt Cuyler, of Philadelphia.

MAN FOUND LIVING IN HOUSE BOAT
Mystery Surrounding Disappearance of Guy Satchfield Is Solved.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Norfolk, Va., July 27.—The mystery of the disappearance of Guy Satchfield from his home in Berkeley was solved to-day when it was ascertained that he was living on a house-boat off Craney Island. He left home several days ago following a disagreement with his wife, Charley Barber, brother of Mrs. Satchfield, was also found on the boat with him. The woman who disappeared at the same time is believed to be in this city. Satchfield was arrested in Norfolk last Tuesday on a charge of drunkenness, but he gave a reticent name at the police station. His fine was paid by a friend who did not disclose his identity.

ington, Ryan's surveying party was ready in Alaska, and that by November 1, or four days after the order was made, and before the government officials in Alaska had been notified of the order, they had begun a survey of the Ryan claims on Controller Bay.
"The omission of the customary thirty days' notice to the public that the land would be opened to entry gave Ryan what he wanted. It cut off all chance for any competitor to locate on the terminal lands until after Ryan had made his selection. No amount of newspaper notice to the country after the executive order was signed could in any respect interfere with the preparation of Ryan's agents or enable any rival to enter a foot of land on Controller Bay except what was not wanted by the people whom Ryan represented. It was like locking the stable after the horse was gone. If the order had been wholly secret the effect could not have been different."
An Unfortunate Situation.
"It is possible that the protests already made may yet save the situation, but in any case it is unfortunate that the friends of conservation, in their efforts to bring about the development of Alaska for the benefit of the people, are continually obliged to expend their strength against the men who ought to be the protectors of the people's property. It looks to me like unnecessary duplication of work when we must first fight the policeman before we can get a chance to stop the looting."

TABLET UNVEILED AT MOORE'S CREEK
Wilmington, N. C., July 27.—In connection with the annual celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Moore's Creek Bridge, commemorating the first signal victory of the Continental troops in the American Revolution, near Currier, N. C., to-day, there was unveiled a monument with appropriate inscription to mark the old Wilmington and Fayetteville stage road, the route taken by the British and Tory army from Cross Creek, to join Lord Cornwallis and Clinton February 27, 1775. Walter P. Stacy, of the Wilmington bar, delivered the historical address, and there was a large concourse of people from half a dozen Eastern Carolina counties.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST DOCTOR
Philadelphia, Pa., July 27.—Charged with performing a criminal operation which caused the death of Mrs. Minnie Trader, of Onley, Va., Dr. Robert W. White, of Chincoteague Island, Va., was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury by Coroner Ford this morning.
Mrs. Trader died in the Jefferson Hospital July 4. Coroner's Detective Paul testified that he had visited the home of Dr. White, at Chincoteague Island, and that White told him that he had received a letter from Mrs. Trader, asking him to meet her on a train on the way to this city. Dr. White, according to the detective, admitted that he was to receive $25 a day for taking care of the woman.
When Dr. White was called to the stand he admitted that this operation had been performed. He also admitted knowing the woman previously, having treated her husband for tuberculosis, and that the woman kept her appointment and was on the train when he boarded it. When arriving in Chester, Mrs. Trader, the doctor said, said she was ill, but at this time her condition was not serious, until they got to the hotel, where they registered as J. B. Jasper and wife.
Physicians at the Jefferson Hospital testified that Mrs. Trader came to her death as the result of this operation.

EIGHT KILLED AND SIXTY INJURED IN SEABOARD WRECK
Disaster to Excursion Train Crowded With Negroes at Hamlet.
Charlotte, N. C., July 27.—Hearing 912 negroes from Durham, bound to Charlotte for a day's outing, an excursion train on the Seaboard Air Line plunged headlong into a freight train at Hamlet, sixty miles east of here, at 10:40 this morning, killing eight of the excursionists, injuring sixty seriously and twenty-eight slightly. The dead, all of Durham, are:
Edna Hall, Edith Hall, Lisbon Hill, Rosa Perry, Dora Day, Sis Webb, Samuel Miller, John Cameron.
Of the sixty seriously hurt a score or more may die. Four white traffic men were badly hurt. Engineer Ben Koonce, who was running the excursion engine, was mangled about the head and shoulders, and injured internally. Injured internally and badly hurt, Conductor W. H. Bowden, of the excursion train, had his side crushed and several ribs broken, and Albert Gary, fireman of the freight, was badly bruised and cut.
The freight was crapping into the yards at Hamlet from the west, when the excursion train, rounding the curve at good speed, crashed into it.
The engines telescoped, and six of the eleven coaches of the excursion train crumpled like pasteboard. The great carnage was in the third and fourth cars, which were old and frail. Samuel Miller was asleep with his head in a window. The telescoping into the ditch clear of the wreck. Physicians from neighboring towns responded promptly, and a field hospital was established.
Fifty of the injured were brought to Charlotte to-night on a special train and placed in Mercy General and the Good Samaritan Hospitals, while thirty-odd, who were considered too critically hurt to be moved, are being cared for at Hamlet. The property loss to the Seaboard Air Line will be in excess of $100,000. Just five years ago this month, within one mile of the scene of to-day's disaster, a similar wreck occurred, in which twenty-six negroes met death.

James Riddle Thornton Passes Away at His Home at College.
Hampton-Sidney, Va., July 27.—Professor James Riddle Thornton died here to-day. He was in the fifty-eighth year of his age, and had been in the service of the college for twenty-eight years, occupying the chair of mathematics, besides being curator until his death, threw his duties upon others. Several times in the absence of the president, and in interims when the college had no permanent head official, he acted as president, in addition to his other duties.
About two years ago he married Mrs. Maria Edmunds, who survives him. He also leaves one brother, Professor William M. Thornton, who occupies the chair of applied mathematics at the University of Virginia. The funeral will be held from the residence, Park Place, to-morrow at 3 o'clock. The burial will be in the college burial grounds, where a number of his relatives rest.

BEGINS WHOLESALE FIGHT ON TRUSTS
Department of Justice Is Planning Immediate Prosecution.
Washington, D. C., July 27.—The Department of Justice is planning immediate prosecution of all trusts or monopolies which do not dissolve or take other steps to obey the Sherman law as it has been interpreted in the Standard Oil, tobacco and powder trust cases. Attorney-General Wickesham is authority for the statement that all such will be brought before the courts as soon as proceedings can be instituted.
To make the Sherman law effective the department's anti-trust bureau is now being worked to its capacity. Probably 1,000 complaints of existing monopolies, restraints or illegal agreements to control the price of commodities, ranging from feather tasters to telephones, are now being investigated. Secret agents of the bureau have been scattered all over the country, and in many instances an investigation of an alleged trust is going on in a dozen States at the same time. By this practice, the government expects to shorten the period of investigation and get prompt action on the promised results of this policy is that the government will have in the courts before the end of the calendar year probably a dozen anti-trust suits in which the department feels assured of success.

STRIKES HEAD ON ROCK.
Man Bathing in James River Is Victim of Fatal Accident.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Lynchburg, Va., July 27.—While bathing in James River to-night, a short distance above the city, John Walter Carner, aged twenty-six, struck his head on a rock, supposedly while diving, and was drowned before he could be rescued, being rendered unconscious by the impact.
He is survived by his parents, one brother and five sisters, who live in Bedford county.
Unable to Make Report.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Lynchburg, Va., July 27.—The committee named some time ago by the stockholders of the Academy of Music Company to consider a report, a plan if possible, by which the burned theatre might be restored, was unable to make a recommendation to the adjourned meeting of the stockholders this morning, and a further adjournment was taken until August 8.
