GROSSCUP QUITS BENCH. Wants to Do His Part in Belonging About Political Revolution.

Chicago, September 20.—United States Circuit Judge Grosscup yesterday announced that he would retire from the bench the first week in October, after serving nineteen years as a member of the Federal judiciary in the northern district of Illinois. He will send his resignation to President Taft shortly after the meeting of the United States Court of Appeals October 3.

A desire to enjoy more freedom as a citizen and resume the practice of law is given as the reason for his decision. He said:

"The reason for my resigning at all is that I wish more freedom, not only as an individual, but as a citizen. The world politically is trying to catch up with the world's radically changed economic conditions. The formative period is approaching. Next year's presidential election will, I believe, be the last one of the old lines. And the settlement for the future will come not through the courts of law, but through the court of public opinion. I wish no office, but I wish greater freedom than the bench gives to do my part in this court of public opinion."
