

Some People Who Have Been Figuring Largely In the News of the World

Andrew Carnegie in cap and gown snapped while he was taking part in the quinquenary celebration of St. Andrews University in Scotland.

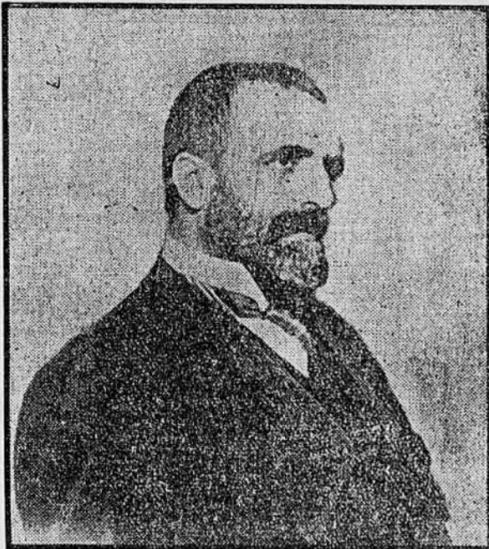

Andrew Carnegie was presented with his portrait on September 12th, at a reception which marked the opening of the fourth day's celebration of the quinquenary of St. Andrews University in Scotland.

Whitelaw Reid, American Ambassador to England, arrayed in cap and gown at the quinquenary celebration of St. Andrews University in Scotland.

King Alfonso XIII of Spain who faces a revolution.

Premier Canallajas of Spain, who by his prompt work prevented a general strike throughout Spain.

Latest picture of M. Jules Cambon, French ambassador to Germany.

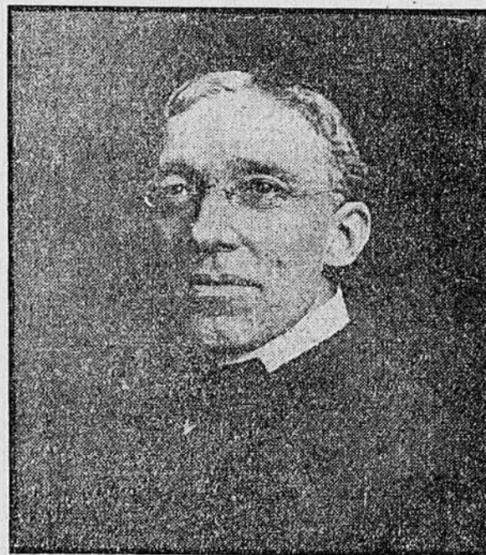

Thomas H. Shipp, executive secretary of the third national conservative congress.

Banker George W. Young, husband of Mme. Lillian Nordica, the opera singer.

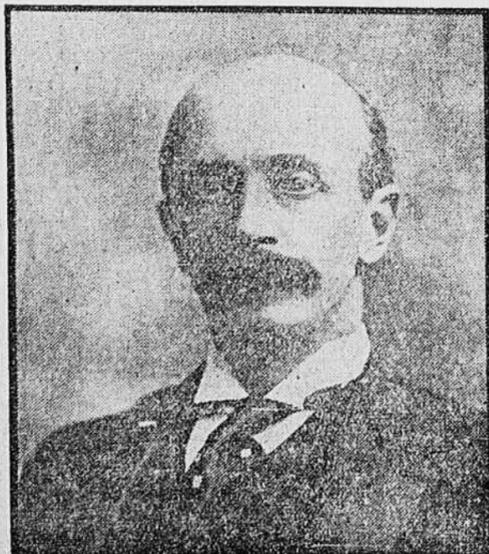

Mrs. Irma Perry, who is soon to marry Richard Le Gallienne, the poet and author.

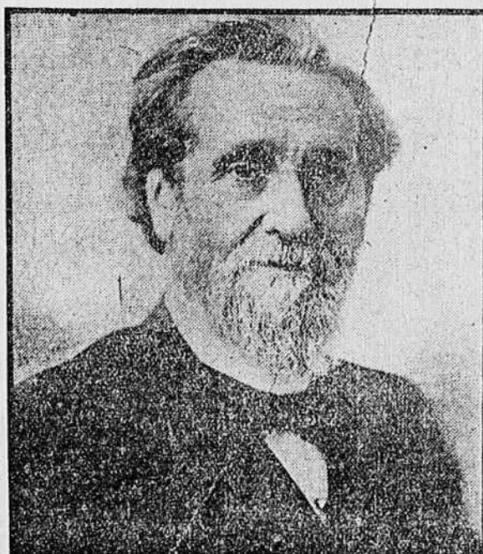

United States Circuit Judge Peter S. Grosscup.

Mrs. Dandridge Spotwood, whose engagement to Count Illo von Schornborn Buckheim, an attache of the Austrian embassy in Paris, is expected at any moment.

Earl Gray, retiring Governor General of Canada.

Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin.

Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan of England, who is to visit the United States, and who will arrive here the end of the present month.

William O. Stillman, president of the American Humane Association.